A temporary aviation field for Petoskey and Emmet county was assured last week, when the aviation committee closed a lease for this year only on the Notestine farm located three miles south of the city on state trunk line M-131.

The property has been rented for one year, and was marked and the fences taken down by a force of men under the direction of the city manager.

CITY TURNS DOWN POWER DAM PLAN

Proposition Fails to Get Majority in Three Wards

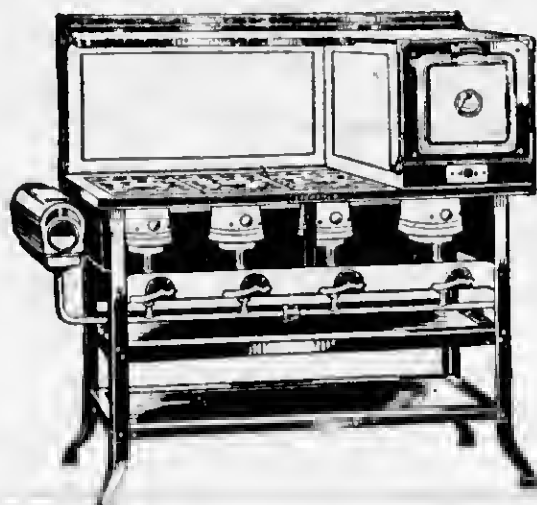

Petoskey's proposition to acquire ownership and control of two very valuable water powers on Bear River and other desirable property in and near the city was turned down in a light vote in last week's special election. The proposition lacked the necessary three-fifths majority in every ward, and in only one ward did it receive a favorable consideration.

The first ward was unfavorable to the plan but not by three-fifths count. The other three wards voted unfavorable to the plan.

The count was as follows:
First ward—Yes 121, No 89.
Second ward—Yes 85, No 107.
Third ward—99, No 15.
Fourth ward—Yes 77, No 141.
Total vote—Yes 383, No 452.

A TRUISM

Seneca, the ancient Roman philosopher, once said "Economy is in itself a source of great revenue," and he spoke truer probably than he knew.

Economy doesn't mean pinching nor does it mean hardship, it simply means good judgment and care in expenditure.

It means the elimination of the purchase of needless luxuries. It means watching the pennies, if you will. It isn't hard work and is the source of a great deal of pleasure.

Economy and saving go hand in hand. Will you permit us to assist you in the economical handling of your money and its systematic saving?

The DAIRY

TELL COW'S AGE
BY HER INCISORS

Although stockmen know that a horse's teeth tell its age, they do not generally know that the teeth of a cow give similar information. That is true even if the cow has no teeth in her upper jaw.

At the time the calf is born it has two temporary teeth and by the time it is one month old all of the eight incisors are visible. As the animal nears two years of age the temporary incisors commence to be replaced by two permanent teeth. When it has attained two years of age these two incisors will be fully developed.

When from two and one-half to three years old the permanent first intermediates are cut and these are full sized by the time the animal is three years old. At three and one-half years the second intermediates appear and become fully developed at the time the animal is four years old.

The fourth pair of incisor teeth, known as the corner teeth, are replaced at four and one-half years. All the permanent teeth are then in wear when the animal is five years old.

The first pair of incisors or pinchers become leveled during the time the animal is between five and six years old. Both pairs of intermediates become partially leveled during this period and the corner commences to show wear.

From seven to eight years the pinchers become noticeably worn; from eight to nine years, the middle pairs; and by ten years old, all the animal's teeth appear to be noticeably worn. After the animal is six years old the arch in the contour of the teeth commences to become less marked. It may be found that in an almost straight line by the end of the animal's twelfth year. From the sixth to the twelfth year the teeth become triangular in cross section, distinctly separated, and show progressive wearing to stumps.

Flies Great Annoyance to Cows During Summer

Flies are so great an annoyance to dairy cows during the summer that milk production often is materially decreased. However, a good fly spray applied correctly will not only quiet the cows but will also sober the temper of the milk.

A good spray for this purpose can be made from the following ingredients: 4 1/2 quarts coal tar dip; 4 1/2 quarts fish oil; 3 quarts coal oil; 3 quarts whale oil; 1 1/2 quarts oil of tar.

Dissolve three pounds of laundry soap in water, add the ingredients of the spray and bring the whole up to a 30-gallon quantity with lukewarm water. This spray will keep flies off the cows and prevent the hair coats from becoming harsh.

The cows should be sprayed twice a day, in the morning after milking and in the afternoon when in the barn for silage or other green feed. With a portable two-wheeled half-barrel cart having a spray pump and nozzle, two men can spray 40 cows in five minutes. Thirty gallons of this mixture will spray 40 cows twice a day for ten days at a cost of 1 cent per cow per day.

Profit in Dairying Will Depend on Proper Feeds

Profitable dairying depends much upon the proper selection of feeds for rations. Since market prices are not a good guide as to the value of different feeds, it is necessary to figure out economical rations, based on local conditions and prices, and the actual feed value of the various feeds obtainable. The best way to determine which of the available feeds are the most economical is to figure out the cost of a pound of total digestible nutrients and of digestible crude protein in each feed. This requires the use of a few simple problems in arithmetic and information regarding the analysis of the various feeding stuffs, but it is the only safe basis for the selection of an economical ration.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS by B. C. Mellencamp

Join a Canning Club
First call for members for Canning Clubs that will be organized within the next three weeks.

Any girls in the county between the ages of 10 and 20 are eligible to join and urged to talk the matter over with their girl friends. In order to have a standard club it is necessary to have at least five members.
Each member cans between 30 and 50 quarts of fruit and vegetables and keeps accurate records of all the costs and expenses.

Last year there were five clubs in the county and great interest was manifested by the many members.
Miss Ruth Featherly, assistant club leader, will visit this county on June 28 and 29 for the purpose of organizing Canning Clubs.

If your community is interested in a Canning Club or you as an individual are anxious to join a club telephone or drop a line to County Agent Mellencamp at Boyne City and he will be glad to discuss the work with you.

Garden Club Organized

The latest phase of boys' and girls' club work in Charlevoix county is the recent organization of a Garden Club in the Tainter district, north of Boyne City. Each of the members have put in a garden covering approximately 400 square feet consisting of their own selection of vegetables and are faithfully tilling with the hoe and cultivator. Needless to say very few weeds are in evidence. They are carefully keeping records of their expenses and other details in connection with the project.

Following is the membership, all being from Boyne City: Louise Tainter, age 14 years; Ida Tainter, age 12 years; Olen Griffin, age 12 years; Everett Griffin, age 10 years;
Melvin Somerville, age 11 years;
Dorothy Somerville, age 9 years.

Calf Club Continues

During the past few days work has been done in reorganizing the Charlevoix Dairy Club.

While smaller membership is evident this year, the dairy animals owned by the members are of high quality and fine type. Several of the members have been in club work for several years and the results are very gratifying. In the next few weeks it is hoped to have additional members.

Following are the members at present time:

cleanse the system
of poisons

Two of the great enemies to youth and vitality are delayed elimination and intestinal poisons. To keep yourself free from both these common difficulties will help you to stay young.

With the use of Nujol you can do it too. For Nujol absorbs body poisons and carries them off, preventing their absorption by the body. Nujol also softens the waste matter and brings about normal evacuation. It is harm-

Jump Rope for Health, Is Sally Blane Advice

"If one would keep that girlish athletic figure and be graceful in carriage and posture, she should jump rope for ten minutes each night and morning. Then, after she has finished the sessions of rope skipping, she should bend down, keeping her knees stiff, and touch the floor at least a dozen times. She should take a few more simple calisthenics, then, shower, starting with warm water and finishing with cold. After that she may eat what she pleases."

That method is not guaranteed to work in every case but it has proved remarkably effective for Sally Blane, dainty film player, who has the leading feminine role in "Fools for Luck," Paramount's W. C. Fields and Chester Conklin team comedy which comes to the Palace Theatre Friday night.

Folks From All Over World In "Tillie" Circus Scenes

For one day only the great circus of "Tillie's Punctured Romance," which will be at the Palace Monday and Tuesday, which was produced by Al Christie in Hollywood, was thrown open to the public, with the result that there were folks sitting on the benches during some of the thrilling chariot race scenes from all over the world.

"Mad Hour" Comes at Nightfall, Says Eleanor Glyn

"The love hour—or the mad hour, if you want to call it such—comes naturally in the evening, and not only because the atmosphere of night is more emotional. Through all the generations of man the day has been devoted to work, requiring the undivided energies of the mind and the senses." Her drama, "Mad Hour," comes next Wednesday and Thursday to the Palace Theatre.

Dix's New Leading Woman Is Nearly "Perfect" Type

Being the "perfect motion picture type" is something Nancy Carroll came by naturally. This "perfection" standard is arrived at by average. Miss Carroll, who is Richard Dix's new leading woman in his latest farce comedy, "Easy Come, Easy Go," which will show at the Palace Theatre, starting Saturday for 2 days, is just five feet four inches tall and weighs 118 pounds.

A STATEMENT

RELATING TO THE FUTURE OF THE CHRYSLER CORPORATION and DODGE BROTHERS, INC.

The widespread public interest in recent events affecting the Chrysler Corporation and Dodge Brothers, Inc., deserves an authentic and official statement and an assurance regarding the future of these two corporations.

Subject to the approval of stockholders, Dodge Brothers, Inc., will be acquired by the Chrysler Corporation, the plan of amalgamation having been recommended by their respective boards of directors.

Each of these great institutions will retain its identity, and will continue, as heretofore, to produce and market its own product in accordance with the high and progressive standards from which motor car buyers the world over have previously benefited.

Each will benefit from the consummation of a plan which unites such tremendous resources in material, manufacturing facilities, financial power and manufacturing genius.

Dodge Brothers will continue to be Dodge Brothers, and Chrysler will be Chrysler. Their products will be separate and distinct and will be continued to production without interruption. Their sales organizations will be unrelated except as they shall mutually share in the advantages of the consolidation.

Both public and dealers may look forward to the greater benefits which the consolidation of such tremendous resources will produce—and the men identified with these businesses may be assured of a stable and definite future, inspired by the progressiveness which has been responsible for the uplifting of two great companies.

LOST BOY WAS FOUND BY HIS MOTHER

Spends Five Hours Wandering Over
Section of Land

Buddy, the four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Milo Clute, was lost in the section of wooded land which extends four miles beyond his father's farm.

Seventy-five people answered the call for help and assisted in the search for the lost boy. He was found at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, by his mother and Mrs. Kurchinski.
When found he was sitting under a bush about two miles from his home and calling for his mother. He seemed to be none the worse for his experience, aside from being tired and hungry.

He started out in the morning to pick flowers and thus strayed further and further into the woods. As soon as his absence was discovered a call was sent out for help with the result that in a very few minutes 15 ear loads of people were in the woods conducting a section-wide search, which lasted several hours, until the child was finally found by his mother.
Buddy has wisely decided that in the future, it will be much better to pick flowers in his own back yard.—Boysie Citizen.

CLARENCE WOOD NAMED MEMBER SCHOOL BOARD

Annual Meeting Held at Gymnasium
Monday Evening

Ninety-five Charlevoix citizens and taxpayers were in attendance at the annual meeting of school district No.
1, Charlevoix city and township, held at the gymnasium Monday evening.

Reports of the school treasurer and the librarian were heard with interest. In the election of trustees, Clarence Wood was elected to fill the expired term of Mrs. Brayton Saltonstall, president of the board for the past year. Other nominees were
F. J. Fessenden, Mrs. Saltonstall and John Bugbee.

The question of paying compensa-

SMALL BOY KILLED BY "NOT LOADED" PISTOL

Aunt Picks Up Pistol and Fires at Little Fellow

The pistol that wasn't loaded has accounted for another life.

Glenn Bennett, five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bennett of Echo township, was shot and fatally wounded Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Lyle Smith of East Jordan, an aunt of the boy, was at the Bennett home and was playing with the children. She picked up a revolver the children had been amusing themselves with and playfully snapped it at one after another of the children.
One chamber had a cartridge in it, and this was discharged, entering the little boy's chest. He died half an hour later.—Mancelona Herald.

1928 ASSOCIATED TOURS GUIDE FOR MOTORISTS

Motorists who plan to take a vacation tour this summer, will be interested to know that The Automobile Club of America has just published the fourteenth edition of its annual road book, the 1928 Associated Tours Guide, which is now ready for distribution.

The guide in its one hundred and twenty-eight pages, contains a wealth of useful information for exactly planning where to go on your vacation trip and how to get there. The motor maps, mileages and itineraries shown in the guide, covering the vast area of the United States east of the Mississippi and eastern Canada, as well as the more popular transcontinental and trans-Canadian routes, afford the motor vacationist a wide range of touring fields from which to select.

CHARLEVOIX COURIER

VOLUME 33. NUMBER 25.

TEN PAGES

COURIER, CHARLEVOIX, MICH., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 20, 1928

PRICE $2.00 PER YEAR

LOCAL AIRPORT BEING PREPARED

FIELD MARKED AND CITY IDENTIFIED FOR AVIATORS

Word "Charlevoix" Will Show City
Name From Roof of Northern Auto Company Garage

Recognizing the important part aeroplanes are playing in the transportation of resorters from the city to their homes at summer resorts, Charlevoix is providing a marked landing field within the city limits and is also having the name "Charlevoix" painted on the roof of the Northern Auto Co. garage here to identify the city to aviators.

The field located south of Garfield avenue and west of May street, more commonly known as the school property is being used for this purpose. Through the aviation committee of the Association of Commerce arrangements have been made with Leo Powers to have a circle 100 feet in diameter marked out in white at the field, and the name "Charlevoix" painted in large letters as permissible on the roof of the Northern Auto Co. garage with an arrow pointing out the direction of the airport from the city. The dimensions of the field are 40 by 80 rods, and, although small, has served as a landing place for many years. Charlevoix has no lack of landing places for water planes, as any place along the shores of Lake Charlevoix is suitable for this purpose.

Airports and identification marks in any resort city are an absolute necessity. Almost any aviator of experience has a story to tell about being lost, with no place to land, and no hint from the ground to his own whereabouts. There may be a town in sight but he never saw it before and does not know its name. He has a map but he cannot learn from it where he is. One thing is lacking. The aviator needs to know the name of the town.

Many an aviator has ventured too close to the ground in an effort to learn the name of the town he was over. The only place it is sure to be found is on the railroad station. Even there the letters are not large. The sign is nailed to the outside station wall, sometimes back under the eaves of the roof. To see it the flyer must venture dangerously close to earth, take chances with telegraph wires and poles and even then he may not be able to read it.

Naturally it is the small town that needs the markers most. Big towns have distinguishing features discernible from the air. Besides, most cities have landing fields now. But it is the town of 1,000 to 20,000 population that needs marking. It is one of these that an aviator is likely to sight first after drifting off his course, due to wind or fog. It is then that he wonders how far he is from a landing field.

It is hoped that within the near future Charlevoix may be able to purchase an airport of larger dimensions than the one now in use. The present one is suitable for smaller planes but the run is too short for the larger ones to take off.

Other nearby resorts including Petoskey, Hurob Springs and Cheboygan have official airports and Charlevoix needs to get in line and provide a larger field.

JUNE 13 UNLUCKY FOR NORWOOD RESIDENTS

One Injured in Runaway and Two While Doing Road Work

Last Wednesday, June 13th, was an unlucky day for several Norwood residents.

R. E. Stafford suffered severe bruises on his face and legs when a team he was driving hitched to a lumber wagon ran away. Stafford was thrown beneath the wheels and run over. Dr. Armstrong was called to dress his wounds.

The very same day Marion See received two broken ribs when he was struck with the handle of a wheel scraper. Chas. Greeley also was struck in the jaw while working on a wheel scraper.

SUPERVISORS CONVENE AT COURT HOUSE MONDAY

The Charlevoix county board of supervisors will convene for their June session at the court house Monday morning, June 25th, at 9 o'clock. A chairman of the board will be chosen at this time, committees for the year appointed, and work of the board of equalization taken up.

GREEN'S PETITIONS BEING CIRCULATED

Will. Seek Re-election at Comlag Primary Election

Petitions which will place the name of Governor Fred W. Green on the ballots this fall for re-election as governor of Michigan are being sent out this week to every part of the state as the first general move in the gubernatorial campaign.

The initial group of petitions is being sent from Lansing and Ionia to a list of 6,000 persons. This list is made up almost entirely of those who have requested they be furnished with the blanks.

Friends throughout the state have literally swamped the executive office with requests for parts they might take in the campaign and more than enough requests have been received for petition blanks to complete the gathering of signatures without sending any others.

Although no strong opposition to the governor's election is anticipated his friends are preparing an aggressive campaign which will present the facts regarding his administration to everyone in the state.

STATE AUTO TEST ON HERE

INSPECTION GARAGES APPOINTED MONDAY NIGHT

Cars Carrying Official Marker Will Not Be Halted for Road Tests
By Police

The state's official late spring automobile test opened in Charlevoix this week with the appointment of garages for inspection stations by the mayor and council Monday evening. All Charlevoix garages are named on the list and will be provided with stickers.

Car owners are instructed to take their cars in at once for testing of brakes, lights, horns, etc. Where found working well each car will have the sticker placed on it. This is an official notice that the car has been tested and found O. K.

Cars found with defective brakes, lights, horns, etc., will be sent to the repair shop for remedying of these defects and the owner will foot the bill.

State and city police will not stop cars carrying the marker of approval but any car without such a marker may be halted any time, any place and inspected.

Owners also are warned that a campaign of inspection of drivers' licenses is now on and every driver must have his license with him or be subjected to prosecution for violation of the Michigan state automobile law. Chief Weikel says this is good medicine "Get your car tested; carry your driver's license."

LOWELL J. SMITH DIED AT HOME HERE SUNDAY

Was a Graduate of Charlevoix High School—Active in Athletics

Charlevoix is called to mourn the loss of another of its residents in the death of Lowell J. Smith, who died Sunday, June 17, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Smith.

Lowell J. Smith was born February 10, 1889, being 39 years old at the time of his death. He graduated from the Charlevoix high school in the class of 1906 and was identified with the athletic activities of the school during his high school years. After graduation he moved to Grand Rapids and became a mechanic in the Cadillac garage. He was married December 1, 1913, to Miss Ruth Van Winkle, who survives him.

During his residence in Charlevoix, Mr. Smith attended the Baptist church and Sunday school and laid the foundation for a Christian character of patience and fortitude which helped him so much to bear the long illness with which he was afflicted during the last eleven years of his life.

Besides the widow he is survived by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Smith of Charlevoix, his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Smith of Grand Rapids, and nieces, Jane and Betty Smith.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon from the home on Antrim street, Rev. George H. Pye of the Church of God, officiating. Interment in Brookside cemetery.

The latest in training is to train a dog not to bark. Now if that could be worked on people what a world this would be.

MANY NEW CRAFTS HERE THIS YEAR

S. S. PINGREE AND JULIUS GILBERT BRING SPEED BOATS

Addition of Two New 6-Meter Class Sailing Craft Gives Charlevoix
Largest Fleet

If the number of new pleasure craft is any criterion, Charlevoix will see unusual activity among boating fans here this summer. Several new boats, both motor and sailing, have been added by resorters on the Belvedere and Chicago Club.

S. S. Pingree of St. Louis, who is occupying the "Log Cabin" on the Belvedere Club, has a new 26-foot Chris-Craft runabout. The boat is powered with a 150 h. p. Kermath motor, turning 2000 revolutions and is capable of making 35 miles per hour. This is the first season Mr. Pingree has had a boat at Charlevoix.

Another new boat is a 29-foot Hacker-Craft brought here by Julius Gilbert, who has been long identified as one of Charlevoix's most enthusiastic boating fans. The new boat has a 150 h. p. Sterling Petrol motor, turning 2300 revolutions. Gilbert expects his craft to make between 38 and 40 miles per hour.

The addition of two new 6 meter sailing crafts gives Charlevoix a fleet of seven boats of this type, the largest at any port on the Great Lakes. The new boats added to the fleet this year are owned by John Tytus, a member of the Belvedere Club and John Stuart of the Chicago Club of Charlevoix. The five others are owned by Chicago Club members, viz: Joe King, Mrs. A. H. Whiting, Mrs. Johnson, J. P. Wilson and Fred Scott. The latter named boat was built for the King of Sweden and was purchased by Mr. Scott at Chicago.

Three other new smaller sailing craft have also been added to the fleet at the Chicago Club this season. George Schwab, Jr., of the Belvedere Club has a new outboard speedster, shipped here from the Arconia Car Co., of Arconia, N. J.

The work of getting the many boats owned by summer resorters ready for use before their arrival is keeping the local boat yards in a hum of activity at the present time.

MANY ATTENDED CHILD- REN'S DAY PROGRAM

Church of God Filled to Overflow Last Sunday Evening

Last Sunday, June 17th, was observed as Children's Day at the Church of God. In the morning the service was conducted by Mrs. Pye, Rev. Pye being absent. This service was well attended. The sermon was of interest to parents as well as the children. The text used was from 2 Kings, 20:15, "What have they seen in Thy House." The church was prettily decorated with flowers and potted plants.

In the evening a large crowd was present, the church being filled to overflowing. The program was well rendered, each part being carefully carried out. The children were a credit to those who had so faithfully and patiently worked to this end. The flower drills were beautiful, especially the "Poppy Drill," and brought forth a round of applause.

The offering for the evening will be used to purchase flags for the church.

LIGHTNING HITS SMOKE STACK

DURING ELECTRICAL STORM WEDNESDAY

East Jordan Lumber Co.'s Shingle Mill Struck and Destroyed by Fire Following

The East Jordan Lumber Company's shingle mill in this city was struck by lightning and destroyed by fire at an early hour Wednesday morning, June 13th.

Probably one of the worst electrical storms, accompanied by a heavy downpour of rain, visited East Jordan in the early hours of Wednesday morning. One of the bolts of lightning evidently struck the high smoke stack and started a heavy blaze in the boiler and engine room, which quickly spread to the adjoining frame structure.

At practically the same minute that lightning struck the shingle mill, another bolt hit a tree near the East Jordan Electric Light & Power Co.'s power dam, landed into the high-tension wires, and put the power out of commission. Electric service was resumed within fifteen minutes. Owing to the power being off, our telephone central was unable to operate the fire siren, necessitating the calling out of the various members of the fire department by telephone.

Considering the delay, our fire department got into action in a remarkably short time. As the shingle mill was beyond the fire hydrant extension, the newly-acquired fire-fighting apparatus received its first real try-out and proved itself adequate. A feed line was laid into Brown's creek, and for over two hours water was pumped into two fire hose at the rate of over 500 gallons per minute, the water being delivered from the nozzles at a high pressure.

Loss About $9,000
The loss on the shingle mill will run probably from $8,000 to $9,000 in replacement value. A comparatively small amount of insurance was carried.

At the present writing the management of the East Jordan Lumber Co., is undecided as to the matter of re-building. They have considerable cedar timber yet to be cut and manufactured into shingles. The season's cut was completed about a month ago and the plant closed until more stock could be secured.

A Landmark Is Destroyed

The shingle mill, located at the head of the South Arm of Pine Lake (now Lake Charlevoix,) was among the structures erected during the early life of East Jordan's lumber milling industries. It was erected over thirty years ago, and for many years boats navigating the Great Lakes, passed through a draw-bridge (now torn down and filled in) and docked at the shingle mill for cargoes of their product. With the gradual receding of waters, navigation became prohibitive, and of late years the product has been shipped by railroad.—East Jordan Herald.

LA FRANCE SHOP WILL OPEN HERE JULY 1ST

The La France Shop of New York City, owned and managed by Mr. Khouri, will open in the Alhambra building July 1st. Preparations are now in progress for the opening. The shop will handle the latest in sports togs, evening gowns, sports clothes and novelties.

CHARLEVOIX GIRL IS MARRIED IN FLORIDA

Miss Helen Masoo Becomes Bride of Joseph P. Privett of Sarasota

Charlevoix friends will be greatly interested in the announcement of the marriage of Miss Helen Masoo of this city, which occurred recently at Bradenton, Florida. The following item, sent to Mrs. A. E. Masoo of this city, covers the event:

"A marriage of great interest to their many friends was that of Miss Helen Masoo and Joseph B. Privett, Jr., which occurred yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The ceremony took place in Bradenton with Dr. White officiating. Only the immediate family and a few friends were present.

Mr. Privett is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Privett of Sarasota. He is at present manager of the Triangle Drug store. Miss Masoo is formerly of Charlevoix, Michigan. For the past three years she has been teacher in the local high school and has made her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Privett will make their home in Katahdin Court. They expect to take a trip to Charlevoix later in the summer."

ANNIVERSARY PARTY LAST THURSDAY NIGHT

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Heise Honored at James Block Home

Mr. and Mrs. William Heise were very pleasantly surprised last Thursday when a party was given them at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Block of Barnard in honor of their 17th wedding anniversary.

After spending the evening playing progressive bridge a delightful pot luck supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Heise were presented with a fine magazine rack from their friends.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Withers, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Heise, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heise, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heise, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Nowland and Mr. and Mrs. William Heise.

The party was voted a great success and Mr. and Mrs. Block delightful entertainers.

NEW TRAFFIC CODE IS BRINGING DESIRED RESULTS

Michigan's experiment with its new traffic code for highways received one of its first real tests over the week-end. Despite jammed roads as tourists left the cities for the wide open spaces, and visitors from out of state began the trek northward, accidents reported were surprisingly few. Several persons were killed in traffic mishaps but six of those died in Detroit or vicinity.

BOULDER PARK IS GROWING RAPIDLY

TWO NEW COTTAGES ARE NOW UNDER CONSTRUCTION

Water System from Flowing Wells Being Installed—Telephone Line to Park Completed.

Continued operations at Boulder Park, Earl A. Young's growing subdivision on Lake Shore Drive, mark this development as one of the most active in Northern Michigan. In fact, there has been no time, with weather permitting, that work has not been in progress. This condition has marked it as a growing resort development, very much unlike others that spring up with a spurt and die down within a short time.

Visiting the sub-division on Tuesday of this week, the Courier representative found a large force of men at work, including plumbers, painters, electrical workers, masons, carpenters and whatnot. The place was fairly humming with activity.

Two cottages are under construction at the present time. Work is rapidly nearing completion on a new home for E. L. Morgan, one of the managers of the Miller Rubber Company of Akron, Ohio. The house is being built of brown quarry stone, trimmed with green mortar and will have a roof of green composition shingles. The color scheme is very effective. A large living room 14x28 feet with vaulted ceiling and balcony running its full length is one of the attractive features of the bungalow, which will have seven rooms including three bedrooms, kitchen, bath and built-in garage. A huge stone fireplace in the living room is very beautiful and a stone porch running the full length of the front portion of the house is quite a novelty.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Williams, of St. Louis, Mo., will arrive in Charlevoix on Saturday of this week to occupy their new cottage at Boulder Park, located near the first stone entrance gate. The grounds surrounding the Williams cottage are being landscaped at the present time. Over $200 worth of shrubbery is being planted and the lawn seeded. The bungalow is now furnished and final touches in the decoration work being completed.

What will be the largest cottage on the sub-division when completed is now under construction for J. J. Hallett of this city. John Leigl & Son of Bay Shore, who have the contract for the stone work, are making rapid progress with the basement and foundation. Mr. Hallett's cottage will be of the bungalow type, built of brown quarry stone, trimmed in rose, and will have a large living room with cut stone fireplace, three bedrooms, kitchen, two bath rooms and built-in garage.

Surveyors were on the grounds Wednesday morning laying out lines for the new water system. An unusual feature at Boulder Park is that all water now being used in the several cottages is obtained from flowing wells driven within the boundaries of the sub-division. The Michigan Bell Telephone company recently completed their line to Boulder Park and the first telephone has been installed in the Williams cottage. Electric lights, ranges and water heaters are now installed in every cottage.

Work on the breakwater started last fall and landscaping the grounds on the Lake Michigan side of the Lake Shore Drive are in progress.

EAGLE ATTACKS FIFE LAKE MAN

Old Baldy Pays for Trick When He Falls Victim to Fisherman

An eagle swooped down from over the Fife Lake state forest in Grand Traverse county Tuesday morning and attacked John Tyler, 51 year old resident of the village of Fife Lake, who was setting out turtle traps from his row boat.

Tyler succeeded in knocking the eagle into the water with his oar and escaped with only a few scratches. He succeeded in tying the eagle with his anchor rope while it was struggling in the water, and brought it alive to the village. The Fife Lake chamber of commerce will ask the conservation department for permission to keep it as a tourist attraction. It has a six foot wing spread.

According to David E. Hill, editor of the weekly Fife Lake Reporter, it is the third bald eagle captured at Fife Lake in recent years.

ADVENTURES IN THE KITCHEN!
LIKE a great many women, Mrs. Alden was inclined to resent the interference of any outsider into her kitchen affairs. Her kitchen was her own; and while she attended the meetings of the Kitchen Club, and was glad to give suggestions, she decided to make her improvements without calling the Club in.

However, when the job was done, Mrs. Alden invited the Club in to see it; for, after all, she had been inspired to dress up her kitchen by seeing what was done for other women.

"Girls," she said to the Kitchen Clubbers before they went in to look at it, "My kitchen might not suit anybody else in the world but me. But I have made it remind me of the thing I love most—the sea—and now it makes me happier just to go into it. I was born on the coast of Maine, as you may know, and I never got over missing the water with its marvelous blue and green and white. Come and see how I have reproduced it in my kitchen!"

"O a life on the ocean wave!"

LEAVES FROM NANCY'S KITCHEN CLUB NOTEBOOK

Mrs. Alden's kitchen is a dream! It has all the cool, restful effect of the sea itself! Washable paint walls of the palest blue-green; dark blue and white "marbled" linoleum; jade green chairs and kitchen cabinet; white shelves lined with jade green; white porcelain enamel oil range; jade green table with white porcelain enamel top. Dark blue woodwork. A beautiful print of the ocean, hung right above the sink! It's surprising to see pictures in the kitchen; but, after all, why not? And why shouldn't a woman make her kitchen a picture of the thing she loves best, if it will make her happier?

Refinishing Furniture

Mrs. Alden did all her furniture herself, and it looks like a professional's job. She gave us these directions for using lacquer on old pieces:

Clean the surface. Sandpaper, if furniture has had glossy finish. Wipe off with cloth saturated in benzine, gasoline or alcohol. Wait until surface dries. Brush lacquer on lightly; for a heavy stroke will soften any remaining varnish on the piece, and make it "bleed through". Three coats of lacquer should be used, and more if you wish a more satiny surface than the three coats give. Do your painting in a room away from the fire, or outdoors if the weather permits. Lacquer dries almost instantly, but should be aired before using.

"Wet Paint. Come back in half an hour."

New Heat Indicator

Mrs. Alden's new range has a heat indicator which she says is the most accurate she has ever seen for an oil stove. It is built into the side of the oven.

We got some recipes for excellent imitation sea dishes this afternoon. Here they are:

Beef Oysters

Beat one pound of round steak. Cut it into pieces the size of an oyster. Soak for ten minutes in water with a teaspoon of baking soda in it. Take out, dry, salt and pepper. Dip in meal. Fry in hot fat until very brown. This process makes the steak taste very much like oysters, and it can be eaten at any time of year.

Tomato Oysters

Slice half-ripe tomatoes. Salt, pepper, and dip into cracker crumbs. Fry in deep fat. This dish also tastes like oysters, and many like it better.

Salsify (Oyster Plant)

Scrape the salsify. Boil it tender. Remove from fire; mash well and mix with cracker crumbs, butter, salt, pepper and a beaten egg. Make into patties the size of an oyster, roll in cracker dust and fry in hot fat.

"Treasure Chest" Salad

"Ye ho ho and a slide of salad!"

Take curved leaves of lettuce. Wash and arrange on plate. Halves of fresh or canned peaches. Scoop out center of both halves. Set one half on lettuce leaf. Fill with grated pineapple. Cover with other half. French dressing and paprika over the top. Makes a beautiful salad, as curved lettuce leaf resembles a sea shell; and the peach, of course, is the treasure chest.

ATWOOD MERCHANT DIES IN HOSPITAL

Henry Klooster Succumbs to Ailments June 12th

Ellsworth and Atwood mourn the loss of a highly esteemed citizen in the death of Henry Klooster who passed away at the Blodgett hospital, Grand Rapids, Tuesday afternoon, June 12, about one o'clock, after an illness of several months. Mr. Klooster entered the hospital four weeks ago for an operation, seeking relief from a cancerous tumor of the stomach, and for a time hope was strong for his recovery, but suffering from complications which later developed, and his weakened condition caused grave concern, and during the last week little encouragement was given the family who were constantly at the bedside.

The deceased has been a resident of Atwood for years, being the senior member of the Klooster & Co. Store of that place. He was a member of the Atwood Reformed church and it is from this church the funeral was held on Friday afternoon, June 15, 1928.

Besides the sorrowing wife, six children, Edward, Mrs. John Bos, Alice, Rose, Conrad and Sarah are left to mourn his passing, also other relatives and many friends.

The family have the sincere sympathy of the entire community.—Ellsworth Tradesman.

METHODIST CHURCH

John E. Lockyer, Minister

The big event for next Sunday is a Children's Day Pageant, "Gretchen's Wonderful Adventure," given by about forty children. When Gretchen played truant and ran off into the woods that day she had no idea that the fairies and gnomes would find her and teach her a lesson that she would never forget, but they did. They came to her in all their woods finery and brought all their assistants with them. And when the queen assembled her court for Gretchen's benefit it was one of the prettiest pictures you can imagine. If you like unusually pretty children's programs you will find this one above expectations. This will occupy the 10:30 church hour.

All other meetings as regularly scheduled and no time changes until July 1st.

A PARTNERSHIP IN THE TROUT BUSINESS

(By D. J. Walsh)

GRANDFATHER BROWN, who walked on four legs, two of them being canes, and eleven-year-old Leslie, were great chums. They would wander down the hill and along the brook and into the woods, and grandfather would tell about when he was a boy; how then more than half the country was woods; how his grandfather had told him of wolves coming up to the very door of the log cabin in the night, and how, one one occasion, when his mother was in the best room talking with a neighbor, a bear had ambled into the kitchen and eaten all the Thanksgiving dinner. And Leslie would listen with her round eyes full of wonder, and try to picture to herself the almost unbroken forest, with bears and wolves and all sorts of wild animals roaming about in the shadowy depths.

On the Brown place was a "live" spring where the water bubbled up merrily, and from which the overflow went dancin' and sparkling down to the brook at the foot of the slope.

One day grandfather stopped at the spring and said musingly:

"John an' me used to have good times round here. To think o' the trout we raised in this spring! Seems like it was only yesterday."

"Raised trout?" queried Leslie, skeptically.

"Yes, we were boys then. John was your great uncle—died more'n sixty years ago. Long time, isn't it?"

"But how did you raise them, grandfather?" persisted Leslie.

"Oh, just caught 'em in the brook with nets an' put 'em in the spring. Then we stopped up the outlet with wire nettin', so they couldn't get out. Used to feed 'em with grasshoppers an' bugs an' things. Time an' time ag'in I've been to St. Hopkins, the butcher, for chunks o' liver an' such meat as he'd give away. My! but didn't they eat."

"How old were you, grandfather?" asked Leslie, the glow of a sudden resolution beginning to form in her brown eyes. "Older'n me?"

"Lemme see. I guess I was 'bout nine an' Johnny ten. Shirlin' chaps we was then. Didn't have to go round with two canes."

He laughed regretfully and moved away toward the brook.

Leslie walked soberly by his side, evidently trying to solve some problem which his words made complex. But as they went on her face cleared and presently she was racing on ahead in pursuit of an unusually pretty butterfly.

Every afternoon grandfather took a long nap and then Leslie played with the chickens or kittens or Towser or went down the slope to gather flowers. But this afternoon she had something more important in view. She slipped into the woods, got the net he had made for her to catch butterflies, went down to the brook and tried to dip out some of the fly fish that were darting about in the water.

But the holes in the net were too large and as often as she caught them they slipped through, so that at the end of an hour she returned empty-handed. The next day, when grandfather was asleep again, she tried the net once more. And the next, and the next. Then she hung the net on its peg in the shed and tried to think of some other plan. She was not going to give it up this way; not she. She was eleven and grandfather and Uncle John had been only nine and ten. Grandfather shouldn't know a word about it until the fish were safe in the spring and the door shut so they couldn't get out.

But in spite of this thoughtful look on her face and her tightly shut lips, two whole days went by and she was no nearer solving the problem. Then a late spring freshet came tumbling down the valley and helped her.

It commenced to rain on Sunday and poured down with scarcely a break until Friday and, in addition to this, there was a rumor of a dam giving way somewhere up in the country. Anyhow, the water came rushing and roaring down the valley, "higher'n he'd ever seen it afore," grandfather declared. The brook became a river; its water rose up to the very edge of the spring, and the ledge of rock where they had been accustomed to go after mosses and lichens was entirely submerged. It took three days for the water to go down and two more for the ground to become dry enough for Leslie to visit the spring. Grandfather had the rheumatism and said he guessed he wouldn't go along; he'd look over the almanac until she got back.

But he had scarcely got his spectacles on his nose when she came racing up the hill with glowing cheeks, and an exultant expression in her eyes.

"Why—why! What's the matter, child?" grandfather asked.

But Leslie only pressed her fingers against her lips and shook her head. A few minutes later he saw her hurrying back to the spring with what appeared to be a piece of wire netting and some bits of boards. At first he thought of following her, then something in the almanac engaged his attention and he forgot all about it.

The next day the sun came out bright and warm and after breakfast grandfather proposed a walk. It was just the proposal that was trembling on Leslie's lips, and she caught up her hat and went racing down the slope.

Leslie was standing demurely at the spring when he caught up with her and he was about to chide her for running away when his glance fell upon the water.

"Small fry—little trout!" he ejaculated, wonderingly; "an' hundreds of 'em! Land sakes, child; where did they come from?"

"I s'pose the freshest brought 'em down," Leslie answered gleefully. "Anyhow, I found 'em here and shut them in. See, grandfather," pointing eagerly to a piece of wire netting placed clumsily in the outlet of the spring.

"Yes, I declare! I see it. You're a keen one. Maybe I can fix the nettin' a bit for ye, though. But what ye got to do with 'em, Leslie—raise 'em?"

"Yes, you and I—in partnership, you know," triumphantly.

"So we do, so we do—in partnership," he assented. "I guess you an' I will make a pretty sound firm, eh, Leslie? What I can't do in catchin' grasshoppers I'll make up in buyin' liver an' givin' advice. But s'pose we fix this wire door first."

As the weeks went by fish-feeding became one of their regular occupations, and it was a question which of them derived the most pleasure from the task. By next spring many of the trout were four or five inches in length, and grandfather began to get in the habit of shaking his head as he looked at them.

"Too many of 'em, Leslie," he said gravely. "When hot weather comes the spring will not be large enough an' lots of 'em will die. We'll likely be obliged to let half of 'em out; but we won't yet. Folks do say as trout fetch a big price nowadays, an' I'd like to fatten 'em up good, now we're partners."

Before the summer was over the story of Leslie's trout began to get about the neighborhood and there were many visitors who wished to see the spring. Not far away was a summer resort, and one day a gentleman drove in and asked to see the trout. It was near feeding time and as he stood by and watched them he espied that he had a small pond on his place which he wished to stock with trout.

"Your fish seem to be strong and healthy," he said, briskly, as they walked toward the house. "I am anxious to get good stock, and if you can spare me a few dozen I will be glad to pay you fifty cents each for them."

Fifty cents! Even grandfather's mild blue eyes opened wider than usual at the offer. But only for a moment; then he regained control of himself and gravely closed the bargain.

What do you suppose they did with the money? Why, enlarges the spring and had a smaller one dug nearby, which was to be fed by the old one. Then they rammed the outlet and caught more fish, and went into the business in earnest.

"For I believe there's money in it," said Grandfather Brown, sagely. "Leastways, I hear trout's worth a dollar a pound at some hotels right now an' in my days they wasn't scarcely worth givin' away."

Then there came a "mink-better" far-off look into his eyes, and he said, just as though Leslie were not there to hear: "Some o' these days a little girl I know will want a sure 'nough education, an' fish money will come in handy."

The term "coolie" or "cooly," says the Pathfinder Magazine, is from the Hindu "trull" or "quill," meaning laborer. The coolies are unskilled laborers from India, China and the Orient in general. They were first imported into Western countries under contracts according to which they bound themselves to a certain term of service.

In the United States Chinese immigrants in general are sometimes called coolies.

Seneca, the ancient Roman philosopher, once said "Economy is in itself a source of great revenue," and he spoke truer probably than he knew.

Economy doesn't mean pinching nor does it mean hardship, it simply means good judgment and care in expenditure.

It means the elimination of the purchase of needless luxuries. It means watching the pennies, if you will. It isn't hard work and is the source of a great deal of pleasure.

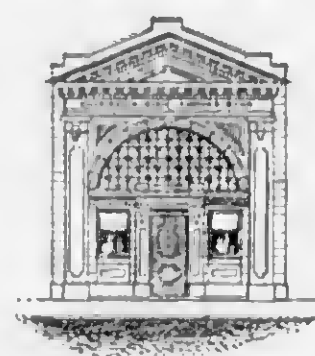

Economy and saving go hand in hand. Will you permit us to assist you in the economical handling of your money and its systematic saving?

Hipparchus Known as Father of Geography

Hipparchus was the first astronomer on record to make systematic observations and to leave behind him a digested body of astronomical science. Neither the year of this Greek's birth nor that of his death is recorded, but according to Strabo he was born at Neeu and his observations, preserved by Ptolemy, show that he was alive during 190-145 B. C.

Hipparchus discovered the precession of the equinoxes, calculated eclipses, determined the main period of the planet's revolution, catalogued the fixed stars and in general laid the foundation for a true science of astronomy. Moderns, however, owe much more than that to this sage. Every time a watch is consulted and upon every occasion for marking a position on a map, the spirit of this scientist is at hand, true again, as he did the first time for mankind these relative lines on the globe that are called degrees of latitude and longitude. He got this idea for mapping the position of towns on maps from his experiments with maps of the heavens, and his drawing of circles through the poles perpendicular to the equator makes him the father of geography.—Kansas City Star.

LEGAL NOTICES

Ordinance No. 157

An ordinance to provide for and appropriate several sums of money necessary to defray the expenditures and pay the liabilities of the city of Charlevoix for the fiscal year beginning March 1st, 1928.

The city of Charlevoix ordains:

Section 1. That to defray the expenditures and pay the liabilities of the city of Charlevoix, for the fiscal year beginning March 1st, 1928, payable from the several funds provided by the charter of said city and duly created, it is necessary to appropriate to such several funds for the several purposes for which the same were created, the following sums of money:

Contingent fund $10,791.40
Health fund 250.00
Cemetery fund 3,500.00
Police fund 3,800.00
Fire fund 3,500.00
Park fund 2,000.00
Street fund 9,000.00
Sewer fund 1,200.00
Advertising fund 2,500.00
Belvedere avenue paving fund 1,120.00
Auto Camp fund 500.00
Interest and sinking fund 3,287.40

Section 2. That there shall be raised by tax upon the July tax roll of the year 1928, to be assessed upon all the taxable real and personal property in said city, a total sum equal to eleven mills on each dollar of the assessed valuation of such property as shown by said tax roll and assessment roll for said year.

Also, the further sum of one mill on each dollar of such valuation for the purposes of the interest and sinking fund and to be used for the purpose of paying the funded indebtedness of the city and interest thereon as the same shall mature. Such taxes shall be entered on said roll under the heading of city taxes and the amounts so assessed and levied when collected, shall be apportioned to the said several funds in the amounts described in section 1 of this ordinance, and the amounts prescribed in said section 1 are hereby appropriated to the said several funds as therein specified.

Section 3. That the city assessor shall assess and spread the total of the amounts specified in section 1 of this ordinance on the said July tax roll in the manner provided by the 15th day of July, 1928, and as much oftener as may be necessary to prevent them going to seed, and if any owner, possessor or occupier of land, or any person or persons, firm or corporation having charge of any lands in this state shall, knowingly, suffer any Canada thistles, milkweed, wild carrots or other noxious weeds to grow thereon or shall suffer the seeds to ripen, so as to cause or endanger the spread thereof, he or they shall, on conviction in any court of competent jurisdiction be liable to a fine of ten dollars, together with costs of prosecution for every such offense and he or they shall pay the cost of cutting and destroying such weeds.

Failure to comply with notice on or before the date mentioned or within ten days thereafter shall make the parties so failing liable for the costs of cutting, same to be levied and collected against the property in the same manner as other taxes are levied and collected.

Dated this 16th day of June, 1928. Albert Elliott, Highway Commissioner of the township of Marion, county of Charlevoix, state of Michigan.—Adv. 25-13.

Ordinance No. 158

An ordinance to prohibit and regulate the placing of signs, bill-boards, placards or other advertising devices along any street or property adjacent to any public park within the city of Charlevoix.

The city of Charlevoix ordains:

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, corporation or partnership to place, keep, or cause to be placed or kept, any sign, bill-board, placard or other advertising device of any kind along or upon any street, or upon any property or building adjacent to a public park within the City of Charlevoix without first obtaining a permit therefor from the common council of said city.

Section 2. Any person desiring to place any sign, bill-board, placard or other advertising device upon any place described in section one of this ordinance shall make application to the common council of said city, in writing describing the kind of a device intended to be installed, the place where the same is to be installed, and the size of such device.

Section 3. All permits granted under provisions of this ordinance shall be upon such terms and conditions as the common council shall prescribe, and shall be effective for the period of one year from and after the date of granting such permit.

Section 4. Any person, corporation or partnership violating the provisions of this ordinance shall upon conviction be liable to a fine of One hundred Dollars and costs of prosecution, or by imprisonment in the county jail not more than thirty days, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Each and every day any such sign, bill-board, placard or other advertising device shall remain upon any place in this ordinance described shall constitute a separate and distinct offense and punishable as such.

Section 5. This ordinance shall take effect twenty days from and after the date of its adoption.

Hay-Making Demonstration Big Event for Farmers

Many tons of choice alfalfa hay are being cut annually by Charlevoix county farmers, who are using the Dain system of curing hay. This is the system of hay-making to be demonstrated soon in this county.

In order to get the good price which alfalfa should demand it must have quality. It is the experience of many farmers that this new system of hay making is a labor saver and delivers the best quality of hay.

Farmers like the simplicity and efficiency of this system of hay making. For instance, they start the side delivery rake soon after the mower. This prevents letting the leaves get too dry, which will mean a loss of color and shattering. In a short time the windrows are turned by the use of the side-delivery and after a few hours it will probably be turned again. By turning the hay two or three times, it hastens the drying and preserves the color, as the same part of the windrow is left exposed to the sun only a short time.

By the use of this system it is the experience of some twelve farmers in Charlevoix county that hay can be handled, and put in the mow with about one half the time and labor necessary under the old system, besides saving more green leaves, color and making better quality hay.

There will be a demonstration of the system of hay curing, which has been so effective and which is now widely used by farmers all over the state at the Coulter Farm, just south of the Charlevoix Co-Op Co., on Friday afternoon, July 6.

Watch the paper for later information next week.

Thrilling Comedy Situations in

Johnny Hines' New Special
Johnny Hines' latest First National picture, "Chinatown Charlie," produced by C. C. Burr, which has been declared by New York and Hollywood critics to be the comedian's biggest and funniest production to date has been secured for the Palace Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, and is expected to draw capacity audience.

"Chinatown Charlie" is a screen adaptation of the old melo-comic extravaganza from the pen of the prolific playwright, Owen Davis, and it scored a great success on the speaking stage at the time "McFadden's Flats" was on the boards. The film adaptation of the picture has been treated in a highly humorous manner, burlesquing New York's underworld, and at the same time retaining the thrills of the original play.

Bright Future Predicted for Lloyd Leading Lady

Not many months ago, Ann Christy, who resided in Logansport, Indiana, had an ambition to enter upon a motion picture career, and with the moving of her parents to California, she decided to achieve that ambition.

Miss Christy is a type which is typical of the modern girl, and coupled with a personality which easily reflected itself on the screen, it was not long before she gained the attention of producers. She was engaged in small parts in Christy comedies, which are released by Paramount, when she was seen by Harold Lloyd, the famous bespectacled comedian. It so happened that he was in quest of a new leading lady, and he decided that Miss Christy best fitted the type he was seeking. A few tests were made of Miss Christy, with the result that Mr. Lloyd assigned her to the role as his leading lady.

This was a decided good stroke of fortune for Miss Christy, inasmuch as Mr. Lloyd has successfully introduced to the screen (and subsequent successful screen careers), such stars as Bebe Daniels, Mildred Davis and Jobina Ralston. These three stars were launched on their successful careers by appearing opposite Harold Lloyd, and it was born out more strongly, that to work opposite the comedian means climbing the ladder of screen fame, when Miss Christy was chosen a Baby Wampus Star for 1928 recently. There is little doubt that her role in "Speedy," Harold Lloyd's latest comedy which comes to the Palace theatre Saturday and Sunday, won't her this distinction.

Film Beauty Was Discovered Twice
Loretta Young, who plays an important role in "The Whip Woman," which comes to the Palace Theatre on Friday, is said to be the only girl in Hollywood who was discovered twice.

She was originally discovered by Colleen Moore during the filming of "Naughty But Nice," when she was playing extra, and was given a small role in that picture and a long-term contract. She later appeared in small roles in "American Beauty" and "The Stolen Bride."

Cleo Had Nothing On Billie Dove
Cleopatra, legend tells us, surrounded herself with beautiful women in order that her own superlative charms might outshine them. Now we have Billy Dove, star in First National Pictures, doing the same in films.

In "The Heart of a Follies Girl," which is to head the cinema bill at the Palace Theatre, next Wednesday and Thursday, Miss Dove is supported by nearly fifty of Hollywood's youngest, prettiest and most shapely dancing girls. They compose the chorus in scenes of the famous girl-show, and take part in intimate backstage scenes.

Cool June weather.
Mr. and Mrs. John Parsons of Atwood, were visitors at the Lawrence Boss home on Sunday.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. John Ross died on Friday last. The family have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

The band concert on Friday evening was a success, the fine program being much enjoyed by all. About $28.00 was made for the band.

We hear that all of Barnard's seventh and eighth grade pupils passed the examination and Carl Beattie won the county agriculture contest which entitles him to a trip to the State Fair in Detroit.

Let the government contribute $325,000,000 to help a few states produce food and let the Mississippi run where it pleases. Just as much sense to one as to the other. But army engineers must be respected, whether they possess common sense or not. What do we pay 'em for?

ATWOOD MERCHANT CALLED BY DEATH

HENRY KLOOSTER A PIONEER OF THIS REGION

Successful in Mercantile Business and Prominent in Advancement of Atwood District.

Residents of the Atwood district mourn the loss of one of their early pioneers and highly respected citizens in the death of Henry Klooster, who passed away Tuesday, June 12, at Blodgett Hospital, Grand Rapids, from a complication of diseases.

Henry Klooster was born in the Netherlands, August 7, 1868. At the age of 11 years, he with his parents and three brothers, came to America, locating at Jamestown, Michigan, where he lived until 1888. In that year he came to the Atwood district and had since made it his permanent home. In the early years of his residence in Northern Michigan, Mr. Klooster engaged in lumbering and farming, being greatly interested in the advancement and prosperity of his home district. For 24 years he was engaged in the mercantile business and during his career made many friends and acquaintances.

In 1889 Mr. Klooster was united in marriage to Miss Fannie Elzinga. To this union were born nine children, three having died in infancy. Those surviving him besides the widow are two sons, four daughters, three brothers and a host of other relatives and intimate friends.

Funeral services were held Friday, June 15, from the Reformed church at Atwood, of which Mr. Klooster was a charter member and active supporter. Rev. J. Brouwer of the Emmanuel Reformed church of Grand Rapids, officiating. Interment in the Holland cemetery.

Henry Klooster was very well known in Charlevoix, where he had many business connections. He will be missed by a multitude of friends.

In Memoriam

In memory of our loving Bruce, who died 5 years ago today, June 25, 1928.

In the grave yard softly sleeping
Where the flowers gently wave,
Lies the one we loved so dearly
In his lonely silent grave.

The flowers we lay upon your grave
May wither and die,
But the loving and remembrance
Of our dear one will never fade.
Mrs. Frank J. Smith and children.

DR. QUINTON S. WALKER DEAD AT BATTLE CREEK

Was Former Pastor of Charlevoix
Methodist Church

Dr. Quinton S. Walker, former pastor of the local Methodist church and for the past six and one-half years pastor of the First Methodist church of Battle Creek, died last Wednesday morning at 1:30 in the Battle Creek sanitarium, where he had been receiving treatment for a heart malady.

Dr. Quinton S. Walker was born in Scotland, his birthplace being Glasgow and his birth date September 3, 1869. He came to America with his parents, when just a lad, settling first in the state of Illinois, and then coming to Jackson, Michigan. There he received his education, later engaging in the grocery business.

But the call to enter the Christian ministry was great and he entered Albion College and later the Methodist ministry, this following the birth of his three children.

In the little village of Leonidas, he had his first pastorate, going from there in quick succession to Lawrence, Clare, Charlevoix, St. Joseph and Hastings, whence he removed to Battle Creek. It was in the town of Clare that the death of his first wife occurred, the spring of 1912, and July 21, 1915, he wedded Miss Lula F. Fisk, who has been a most efficient helpmate during the years when he has been climbing ever upward in his chosen work, each change finding him in a larger city.

Dr. Walker's passing was a distinct shock to residents of Battle Creek, where he was a recognized factor in the civic betterment activities of that city. During his pastorate in Charlevoix Dr. Walker made many fast friends who will greatly regret his death.

All these committees are to report at a meeting of the executive committee to be held at the Evangelical parsonage, Horton Bay, Friday, June 29th, at 7 p. m. central standard time.

A. B. STAFFORD DIED NEAR ATWOOD SUNDAY

Was One of the Early Pioneers of the Norwood District

A. B. Stafford, age 75, one of the early pioneers of Norwood township, died last Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Parsons, near Atwood, following an illness of two weeks. Both Mr. and Mrs. Stafford had been very ill and only last Friday moved to the home of their daughter, where his death occurred.

Mr. Stafford was born in New York state and came to this region with his parents when a lad of 15 years.

He had watched this country transform from a land of endless woods to its present state. Mr. Stafford successfully followed farming and worked hard in the interests of his family and the district in which he lived. He is survived by his widow, one daughter and one son.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Norwood Methodist church, with interment in the Norwood cemetery.

Announcement

To the Electors of Charlevoix County:

I am a candidate for Register of Deeds on the Republican ticket at the primary election, September 4th, 1928. In seeking another term I am deeply sensible of the fact that you have treated me very generously in the past. I am grateful for these evidences of your confidence and good will. I have been led to believe that the hundreds of patrons of the register of deeds' office during the past four years are satisfied that the business has been well performed. I believe I am better qualified today to serve your interests than ever before. I desire to say that if nominated and elected I shall continue to give the office my very best efforts and to conduct it in a business-like and efficient manner. I most respectfully solicit your support for re-nomination. Frank F. Bird.—Adv. 25-14.

CO. CLUB WOMEN ANNUAL MEETING

HELD AT HOTEL HALLETT LAST WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

Boys City Woman Head Federation for Coming Year—Mrs. A.
J. Knapp Gave Fine Address

The 11th annual meeting of the Charlevoix County Federation of Women's Clubs was held at the Hotel Hallett on Wednesday, June 20th.

A reception for Mrs. A. J. Knapp of Cass City, president of the State Federation, and guest speaker for the meeting, and Mrs. Erwin of Harbor Springs, vice president-elect of the northwest district, was held preceding the luncheon. Mr. Hallett served one of his fine meals with excellent service, pleasing and satisfying to all at 12 noon.

Purple and yellow iris, featuring the colors of the Shakespeare Study Club, hostesses of the Federation, were effectively used on the tables, under the direction of Mrs. Helen Paddock.

Mrs. Marguerite Swinton played a march while the guests were being seated.

Following the luncheon the program of the afternoon was carried out with Mrs. Adah Beeman, president, presiding. Mrs. Mattson gave a fine report of the district convention held at Traverse City in April, the keynote being service. Mrs. Shans-han, chairman for the northwest district on applied education, gave an excellent report from her department. The reports from the clubs in the federation showed varied and valuable work done and a fine social spirit.

The address by Mrs. A. J. Knapp was characteristic of her regime throughout her presidency—placing before the club women high ideals and christian background. Mrs. Knapp said that club work should tend toward better homes and a higher standard in community work. She urged clubwomen to measure up to the high privilege that is theirs—not to be on the side that elected men to office by staying home instead of voting, as many did in the last election.

She called the attention of the club members to their "collect," asking that they make a daily study of it. She commented on the wonderful human side that is represented and a challenge to all thinking women.
Mrs. Knapp emphasized one point,
"Let us take time for all things," not merely for the things we like and care to do, but take time to help others to strengthen and uplift those less fortunate, and in that way give a chance and not charity to those who need it.

She spoke briefly of the work of the biennial and her wonderful trip to San Antonio. She spoke of the fine courtesies shown the delegates and the love and loyalty that was dominant in the meetings. She added that she was seeing through Michigan eyes, and that Michigan looked good to her upon her return, especially the attractive beauty of this northland.

Finely fitting at this time, "Michigan, My Michigan" was sung by the assembly, with Mrs. Stelter accompanying.

Mrs. Erwin gave a report on the scenic highway between Harbor Springs and Cross Village, in the interest of which Emmet county clubwomen are working. She asked that all clubwomen use their influence to induce the state highway department to preserve this road in its natural beauty, thereby preventing speeding on it and making a standardized road of the upper driveway. A motion was made and carried by the club to aid in this work.

The musical numbers graciously contributed were a piano solo by Miss Bashaw of East Jordan, who responded to encore, also a group of songs by Mrs. Lyle White of Boyne City, accompanied by Mrs. W. H. White.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were: president, Mrs.
Mary Baker, Boyne City; cor. sec.,
Mrs. Wm. Boylan, Boyne City; 1st vice, Mrs. Mattie Palmer, East Jordan;
rec. sec., Mrs. Maude Porter,
East Jordan; 2nd vice, Mrs. Marguerite Swinton, Charlevoix; treas., Mrs. E. J. Hiller, Charlevoix. A conservation committee named included
Mrs. Marion Bridge, chairman, and
Mrs. Ethelyn Edwards, Charlevoix;
Mrs. W. C. Naylor and Mrs. J. A.
Niver, Boyne City; Mrs. Roy Webster and Mrs. W. H. Sloan, East Jordan.
The federation adjourned to meet at Boyne City in 1929.

CHARLEVOIX BAND NOW MEMBER OF ASSOCIATION

Invitation Extended for Association to Meet Here Next Summer

The Charlevoix City Band became a member of the Northern Michigan Band Association through Merritt Miller of this city, who, with his wife and son, attended a picnic and concert held by the association at Gaylord last Sunday.

Bands from Alpena (where the next picnic will be held), Rogers City, West Branch, Gaylord, Rose-mon and Cheboygan were the former members of the association. Two picnics are held each year, when the combined bands gather for an outing and concert.

Mr. Miller estimated there were in the neighborhood of 5,000 people in attendance. He said the concert and parade of the combined bands was worth going many miles to attend and expressed his intention of going to Alpena for the next gathering August 26. He also extended an invitation to the association to meet in Charlevoix next summer and received a promise that the invitation would be given favorable consideration.

NEW STATE AUTO FERRY IN SERVICE JULY 1ST

The new state car ferry Straits of Mackinac carried several hundred St.
Ignace and Mackinaw City residents on a special free excursion trip across the straits last Thursday, her first day on the straits. The St. Ignace folk made the round trip while the Mackinaw City people returned on the ferry Mackinaw City. Captain Stufflebeem, commodore of the ferry fleet, was in charge of the new ship which has a capacity of from 60 to 65 cars per trip. The Straits of Mackinac is so constructed that minor changes will be necessary at the loading-docks before she can be placed in regular service on July 1.

fire works display at 9:00 p. m. There will be dancing during the evening and music throughout the day by the Charlevoix city band.

The Str. James B. Stafford has changed her time for the Fourth to accommodate visitors to the island.
The boat will leave Wilbur's dock at 7:00 o'clock in the morning, and on the return trip to Charlevoix will leave St. James harbor at 11 o'clock in the evening.

REBEKAH CONVEN- TION HELD HERE

CENTRAL LAKE WOMAN HEADS
DISTRICT FOR NEXT YEAR

Over 180 Delegates Were Present at Sessions—Boys City to Entertain Meet in 1929

The 3rd annual district convention of Rebekahs of Northern Michigan was held in the gymnasium at Charlevoix last Thursday, June 21, with twelve lodges represented.

The attendance far exceeded all anticipation. The visitors were loud in their praises of Charlevoix's new school building, which was fittingly decorated with the Rebekah colors ferns and flowers, presenting an appearance altogether like a real convention hall.

In behalf of the local lodge, E.
Ruby Gimble, Noble Grand, presented beautiful bouquets of sweet peas to Stella McClymont, assembly president, Etta Smith, assembly secretary, and Sarah McDonald, district president. These outside officers assisted in the ritualistic work exhibited by the different lodges.

The address of welcome was given by Mary C. Bird of Charlevoix, and response by the district president.

The fine degree team from Harbor Springs put on the Rebekah degree in a most pleasing and efficient manner. The draping of the charter by the East Jordan members, and the memorial service as exemplified by Boys City Rebekahs, was very beautiful and impressive.

The evening session was interspersed by musical numbers and a play entitled "Why I Am a Rebekah," presented by the Petoskey lodge. The entire program was greatly enjoyed by all, as was the music by the Charlevoix city band.

Officers elected for the ensuing year at the afternoon session were:
pres., Adeline Upthegrove, Central Lake; vice pres., Mary C. Bird, Charlevoix; sec., E. Ruby Gimble, Charlevoix; treas., Rachel Osborne, Harbor Springs.

The Literary and Sewing Club of the Methodist church served a delicious dinner to 181 Rebekahs and won the praise of their guests. The tables were beautifully decorated in the lodge colors, pink and green.

The local Rebekah order wish to thank the Literary and Sewing Club for their part in making the meeting so successful, also the Chamber of Commerce and local merchants for their cooperation.

The next convention for this district will be held at Boyne City in

ELLSWORTH MERCHANTS HAVE CREDIT BUREAU

A credit bureau has been formed in Ellsworth which will cooperate with similar organizations in our nearby towns.

The object of this bureau is to help establish creditable ratings for those who meet their obligations and insure accommodations during a period of misfortune.

An organization of this kind is of great value in improving a community's credit as has been proved by many villages the size of Ellsworth.

CHRISTMAS SEAL CHEST CLINIC

TO BE HELD AT COURT HOUSE
ON JULY 2ND AND 3RD

Dr. J. W. Toan, Chest Specialist,
Will Have Charge of Clinic—
Charlevoix's Hostesses

Hostesses who will assist in the Christmas seal chest clinic which the Michigan Tuberculosis Association will hold in the court house at Charlevoix July 2 and 3 are: Mrs. B.
Beaudoin, Mrs. W. Widdfield, Mrs.
W. E. Parmelee, Mrs. John E. Lockyer and Miss C. Geiken.

This clinic, which will give to the residents of Charlevoix county the opportunity for a free chest examination is financed by the annual sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals. Dr.
J. W. Toan, chest specialist, will be in charge of the examinations.

Tuberculosis is a curable disease if found in the early stages. At the present time, however, over 80 percent of the cases entering sanatoria are in the far advance stages of the disease when recovery is very doubtful. It is because of this fact that an intensive campaign for the early diagnoses of tuberculosis was conducted this spring and will again be conducted in the spring of 1929 by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. An attempt is made in this campaign to acquaint the people with the early symptoms of tuberculosis which are: a continued tired feeling, afternoon fever, indigestion, presistent cough and loss of weight. Persons having any one of these symptoms should attend the clinic.

As tuberculosis is preventable as well as curable persons who have come into contact with a case of the disease should have a chest examination. In early diagnosis lies the chance for cure.

Family Picnic

The VanDusen family had a basket picnic Sunday, on the William Richardson lawn at Norwood. Guests from Charlevoix were: Mr. and Mrs.
James O'Brien and Mr. and Mrs.
George Eagleton and daughter.

partment in which we have installed ing equipment. Expert work and will coach students in grade of high school subjects. Call at the above

GOLF COURSES OPEN FOR PLAY

BOTH ARE IN BEST CONDITION
IN SEVERAL YEARS

William Watson to Act as Professional at Both Clubs Again This Season—Other Employees Here

With the opening of the Charlevoix Golf course last Saturday, June 16, and the Belvedere course on Monday, June 25th, reporters at Charlevoix and surrounding resorts were given access to the two best eighteen-hole courses in Northern Michigan.

William Watson, who has acted as professional at the Charlevoix Golf Club for 15 years, will be in charge again this season. Cleveland Reo is caddy master again this year and will have his brother, George Reo, as assistant. Miss Lila Heise is bookkeeper, with Miss Mary Krullik as assistant office girl. Billy Supernaw is back at the club again this season as club maker and repairman. As yet there has been no course patrolman employed, this matter being delayed until conditions demand.

Several changes and many improvements have been made on the course. Three holes have been lengthened, the 1st, 15th and 16th, and at the same time the greens made modern and trappings changed in the most up-to-date fashion. Mr. Watson stated that the course was in better shape now than it has ever been so early in the season. James Gaskin is caretaker of the course and has spared no effort to make playing conditions ideal for the many patrons.

The Belvedere Club course opened Monday. Mr. Watson is professional at this club again this season and has Frank Krulik as his assistant. Mrs. Clarence Henshaw has been employed as bookkeeper and Miss Ida Ingalls as assistant office girl. Milton Converse of Mt. Pleasant, Michigan, is the new caddy master at the Belvedere Club. He comes here very highly recommended and has had several years' experience in the work.

The Belvedere Club course, which is one of the most picturesque in the state, has been brought into prime condition through the efforts of Frank Supernaw, superintendent of the grounds. In fact, Mr. Watson states the condition of the course is far beyond his expectations for one so recently completed.

FORMER CHARLEVOIX GIRL DIED IN LANSING

Mrs. C. F. Crampton Only Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Srigley

Charlevoix friends were deeply grieved to hear of the death of Mrs.
C. F. Crampton, a former Charlevoix resident and only daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. W. W. Srigley of this city, which occurred Sunday, June 10, in a Lansing hospital. Mrs. Crampton's death, which resulted from a complication of diseases, was a severe shock to her parents, who learned of her illness and passing on the same day.

Edna May Srigley was born in Grand Rapids, November 28, 1893.
At the age of 4 years she came to Charlevoix with her parents. She was educated in the Charlevoix high school, graduating with the class of 1913. The following year she graduated from the county normal and then spent two years teaching, one at the McGeagh school and another term at the Hopyard school.

In October, 1917, she was married to Cleo F. Crampton at Charlevoix.
The couple made their home in Charlevoix, Petoskey and Cheboygan for three years and then moved to Lansing, here they had since resided.
Besides her husband and parents,
Mrs. Crampton is survived by five children, one son and four daughters.
Funeral services were held at Lansing last Tuesday with burial in the Mt. Hope cemetery in that city.

Announcement

I desire to announce to the electors of Charlevoix county that I am a candidate for re-election for the office of County Clerk at the primary election September 4th. If nominated and elected I will give the office my personal and careful attention.
Your support both at the primary and general election will be greatly appreciated. George A. Roderick.

You Save from the Start

From the very day you take delivery, ownership of a Pontiac Six is an experience in economy. You save in first cost because the Pontiac Six gives you those advanced features usually found only in higher-priced cars.

You save in upkeep, because of its generously oversize dimensions. And you save in resale value; buyers everywhere are willing to pay more for every available Pontiac Six.

If you value your dollars, you will drive a Pontiac Six and learn the full meaning of motoring economy.

2-Door Sedan, $745; Coupe, $745; Sport Roadster, $745; Phaeton, $775; Cabriolet, $795; 4-Door Sedan, $825; Sport Landau Sedan, $875; Oakland All-American Six, $1045 to $1265. All prices at factory. Check Oakland Pontiac delivered price—they include license handling charges. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

Keep youth longer!

cleanse the system of poisons

Two of the great enemies to youth and vitality are delayed elimination and intestinal poisons. To keep yourself free from both these common difficulties will help you to stay young.

With the use of Nujol you can do it too. For Nujol absorbs body poisons and carries them off, preventing their absorption by the body. Nujol also softens the waste matter and brings about normal evacuation. It is harmless; contains no drugs or medicine. It won't cause gas or griping pains, or affect the stomach or kidneys. Every corner druggist has Nujol. Make sure you get the genuine. Look for the Nujol bottle with the label on the back that you can read right through the bottle. Don't delay, get Nujol today.

PROSECUTORS TO ASK LAW CHANGES

RE-CLASSIFICATION NEEDED TO INSURE PROPER PUNISHMENT

Will Urge Action by Governor to Compel Giving of Life Terms to Old-Timers

When A. L. Fitch of Charlevoix county joins with other county prosecutors of Michigan counties in conference in Lansing the last of this week, he is expected to lend his aid in a move to compel all prosecutors to work under the new criminal code. It is said that some prosecutors are not having fourth-term criminals sent up for life as is provided by law. By not properly informing the court as to the previous criminal record of the prisoner this part of the law is made inoperative. Mr. Fitch said today he was in complete harmony with the provision of the law for handling habitual criminals.

Arthur D. Wood, parole commissioner, will have an important part in the conference and will ask the prosecutors to work for a re-classification of criminals under the code, making the Michigan classification conform with the federal classification.

Wood Has Message

Michigan's criminal code act can be made an excellent crime deterrent, it is an excellent law, with some minor exceptions, and must be properly enforced, Commissioner Wood will tell prosecuting attorneys.

Judge Wood will insist that prosecuting attorneys get behind the code and enforce it. He will bring before them names of some fifty convicts who should be serving life terms for fourth felonies committed since the code became effective, but who were not sentenced under the code law, and will ask them to re-arraign these men so that they may receive life sentences.

Judge Wood does not believe, however, that the code should bring life sentences upon men convicted of such crimes as liquor law violation, failure to pay alimony and issuing short checks. Such crimes, he pointed out, are felonies in Michigan, but only misdemeanors by federal law. He is in accord with Gov. Green's declaration that the code law should not include such crimes, but he offers a different solution.

"The code law itself should not be tampered with," Judge Wood said. "Instead, the legislature should change the classification of crimes." He advocates changes which would nearly conform with the federal classification, and not place a man's entire lifetime in jeopardy for minor crimes. Under existing statutes, he said, a man might serve life sentence for four failures to pay alimony, four short checks, etc. This he believes contrary to the intent of the law.

Move Not Costly

The state can with comparatively small expense confirm past felonies of criminals, Judge Wood said, since the United States supreme court has upheld action of a Flint, Mich., jury, in confirming previous convictions by fingerprint records. Otherwise it would be necessary, in event the accused denied he was the man who had served past sentences, to bring witnesses from far points, at heavy expense, to confirm previous convictions.

"What will you do if a prosecutor is advised of the past record of a man properly coming under the code, and yet refuses to prosecute?" Judge Wood was asked.

"In that event," he replied, "I would have to advise the governor of the prosecutor's refusal to prosecute, and he would be in a position to ask the attorney to show cause why he had not done his duty. Of course if the prosecutor had a valid reason, it would be accepted. We do not want to make life prisoners of criminals of the less dangerous type. "But we are going to insist that the others are incarcerated permanently, and I think we will have little difficulty in getting the sincere co-operation of all or nearly all the prosecutors in the state."

All Up to Prosecutors
Judge Wood admitted that to date the criminal code has not been as effective as a crime deterrent as it should be, and attributed the partial failure to laxness of many prosecutors in hunting up past records. He believes, however, that when this is all gone over in a meeting of the prosecutors, a different attitude will develop, and all habitual criminals will get their dues. He recalled that even before the criminal code was adopted there was a maximum of life imprisonment for habitual criminals, but this was a "dead letter" because only once did a judge mete out the maximum punishment.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

by B. C. Mellencamp
Don't Forget the "Hay Day"

At Coulter Farm, Friday, July 6th, at 1:30 o'clock.

All roads lead to the Coulter farm, first farm south of the Charlevoix Co-operative Association, on Friday, July 6th, at 1:30; for nearly all farmers will want to see the "Hay Day" demonstration to be conducted there.

The demonstration will be in charge of Duane Rainey, farm crops specialist from M. S. C., who has charge of some twenty hay making days throughout the state. Several different lines of machinery will be on display and operated in the hay field by representatives of the companies for your inspection and scrutiny. This will be one of the few times that farmers can actually see different makes of machinery at work at the same time and laboring under the same conditions.

The demonstration will show you, by modern machinery the hay can be cut, raked immediately in fluffy, loose windrows, and without losing its high feeding value drying quickly, and to put in the barn on the second day with favorable weather conditions carrying all of its leaves, and fully as important that, deep green color that makes alfalfa so valuable.

With the increase of alfalfa acreage and the difficult problem with respect to securing efficient help in this new system of curing and handling hay will no doubt be a life saver.

Mark the date on your calendar right now and plan to be at the Coulter Farm at 1:30 o'clock p. m., fast time on Friday, July 6.

Septic Tank Demonstrations
Farmers of Charlevoix will have the opportunity during the three days of July 9, 10 and 11 to actually see three tanks of the latest design constructed by specialists from Michigan State College, one on each day.

A sewage disposal system is fundamental to the installation of other conveniences on the farm home. Before running water can become possible or at least practicable, it is necessary to provide some means of removing the waste water. A septic tank and tile system provides that means, and at the same time provides the best possible methods of safeguarding the water supply against contamination from these wastes.

The septic tank and tile system is to the farm home what the sewer system is to the city. It provides a satisfactory means of disposing of the wastes from the kitchen, laundry and bath room.

Its cost is not prohibitive and its construction is little more difficult than the building of a concrete water tank. You will be interested in attending your nearest demonstration during one of the three days and see how simple a matter it is to construct one of these tanks. Watch the next paper for further details and places where demonstrations will be held.

VETO A PROPER CHECK

One of our well-known congressmen in discussing the presidential veto said: "The veto is the voice of autocracy, not of democracy." But the veto power of the president is found in the constitution, and it was put in there by wise men, and their wisdom has been demonstrated many times by the usefulness of the veto. When a horse runs away it is a good thing to have some means of checking him.

CORRESPONDENCE

ATWOOD

Thanks for the much needed rain. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Busch of Chicago, are visiting their father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Busch. Several from here are planning to attend the Republican banquet next Thursday, June 28th, at Fisherman's Paradise, two miles south of Bel-laire.

Frank Brown went to Detroit last week to see his brother, Cliff. He expects that he is planning to return to his home in Atwood in the near future.

A heart stirring play, "Mother Mine," will be given by the young people of the Reform church of Atwood, in the town hall, July 10th, at 7:30 standard time.

M. E. SUNDAY SCHOOL
PRESENTED PAGEANTChildren's Day Program Last Sunday
Was Greatly Enjoyed

On Sunday, June 24, the Methodist Sunday school presented one of its most charming pageants, under the direction of Mrs. John Lockyer.

"Gretchen's Wonderful Adventure," while it was a fanciful production and it's personnel almost entirely children, was a strong appeal for the future needs of, perhaps, those very people who participated. The Methodist board of education maintains its student loan fund by the contributions made on Children's Day. Gretchen, in her wonderful adventure, learns the lesson of life and ambition from the fairies, and elves, the birds and insects, and other wood creatures. But poverty discourages her. The pageant goes on to show how college is possible for her through the help of the church.

The decorations were unusually clever and beautiful. Rev. Lockyer is to be congratulated on the material effects which he achieved. Upon a base of heavy grass rugs, great swamp ferns formed a dense foreground and trees a background. Bright paper butterflies on the ferns and two enthusiastic canaries in cages completed the setting for the rustic throne around which the action of the scene centered.

The director wishes to express her appreciation of the splendid cooperation of the assistants, the children, their mothers and for the contribution of Mr. Lou See's rugs, Mrs. Chas. Winder's canaries and Mrs. Ada Beeman's rustic bench.

ALBA LAD INJURED IN JUMP FROM AUTOMOBILE

Robert Junior, four years old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. L. Nichols of Alba, jumped from the family car Saturday evening when going at about 20 miles an hour, and was picked up unconscious.

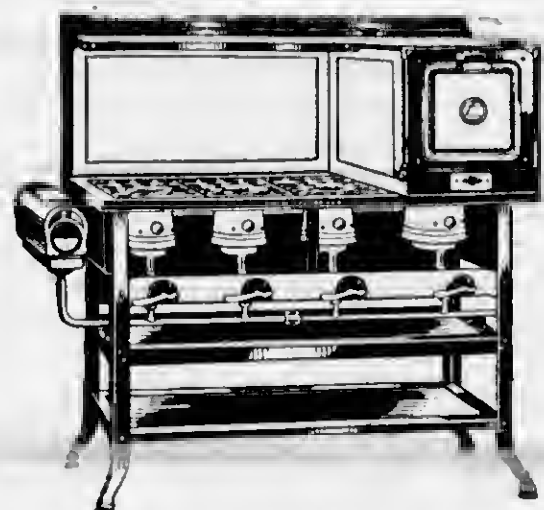

A slight concussion of the brain was caused by the fall, together with several skin abrasions. He is coming along nicely.

The little lad was riding home from Alba with his mother, and within 40 rods of home they overtook Mr. Nichols driving the team. The boy had been accustomed to going down the road to meet his father and ride home with him, and on this occasion saw the same opportunity to ride home on the wagon.—Mancelona Herald.

OBITUARY

Ammerdon B. Stafford was born in West Chazy, New York, November 4, 1852, and departed from this life June 17, 1928, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George S. Parsons of Norwood township.

In the spring of 1864, at the age of 12 years, he came with his parents, three brothers and two sisters, to Michigan, settling at Antrim. In the fall of the same year the family moved to the homestead at Norwood, where he lived until the week of his death with the exception of a few years' residence in the village of Norwood while his son occupied the farm.

In 1876 he was united in marriage to Elizabeth Webster, who died the following year. To this union was born one daughter, now Mrs. George S. Parsons.

In 1881 he was united in marriage to Almira Robinson of Waltham, Canada, who survives him. To this union were born two children, viz: Inez, deceased, and Harold of Lansing, Michigan. Seven grandchildren also survive.

Mr. Stafford was a most kind and loving husband and father and a good neighbor, a man whose word was trusted and respected throughout the entire community.

To the Electors of Charlevoix County:

I am a candidate for Register of Deeds on the Republican ticket at the primary election, September 4th, 1928. In seeking another term I am deeply sensible of the fact that you have treated me very generously in the past. I am grateful for these evidences of your confidence and good will. I have been led to believe that the hundreds of patrons of the register of deeds' office during the past four years are satisfied that the business has been well performed. I believe I am better qualified today to serve your interests than ever before. I desire to say that if nominated and elected I shall continue to give the office my very best efforts and to conduct it in a business-like and efficient manner. NASH presents a New and Finer Motor Car

New Twin Ignition Motor New Salon Bodies

"The three new Nash Series, which are being introduced everywhere today, achieve the ambition of my manufacturing career.

"They represent an entirely new type of motor car, priced moderately, but offering you all the beauty and quality and performance heretofore exclusive to very expensive automobiles.

"To create such a car we had to develop an entirely new type of design and invest over $2,500,000 in dies and machinery alone.

"Both the Salon bodies and the high compression motors which power these new models exemplify the most radically modern advancement in body craftsmanship and engineering.

"Naturally space precludes the full listing of all features but I do want to draw your attention to a number of the outstanding attractions such as:—

"—Twin ignition, high compression, Bohnalite aluminum alloy pistons with Invar-struts, 7-bearing crankshaft with hollowed crankpins, Bijur centralized chassis lubrication, Hondaille and Lovejoy shock absorbers, Biflex-Nash bumpers and bumperettes, chrome plating over nickel for all exterior metal ware, double-drop frame, one-piece Salon fenders and longer wheelbase lengths.

"This new-type engineering of the '400' motors makes them by far the best performing cars I have ever built.

"I don't think anyone will ever want to use all the speed and power they deliver.

"Equipment is absolutely complete at the factory list price and you need buy no extras except a spare tire.

"If my judgment is worth anything you will find it well worth while today to examine this new automobile development with the greatest care."

STATE ACQUIRING ADDITIONAL TIMBER TRACTS
Island Lake Forest is Recently Added to Fife Lake Forest
Michigan has launched an intensive campaign that has for its goal the material expansion of state-owned forests. The conservation department has approved work on several projects that will be sizable links in the forest chain that the Wolverine state is welding.

The so-called Island Lake Forest located in Kalkaska and Grand Traverse counties, which was offered to the University of Michigan forestry department but which was not accepted, is now to be considered an annex to the Fife Lake Forest and development will start immediately. Fire towers, telephone lines and fire lines will be installed here at an approximate cost of $4,750. Planting should get under way this fall.
In Oscoda county, the commission ordered that a tract of 112,000 acres be brought under administration before next winter. This means the erection of headquarters buildings at once, the running of fire lines and the laying of groundwork for other protective measures so that planting may be started in 1928.
Planting of trees is to be started on a 9,000 acre tract in Presque Isle county this fall. It will be administered from the Black Lake Forest. Fire towers, telephone lines and fire lines will be installed this summer at a beginning cost that should not exceed $3,500.

Announcement
I desire to announce to my friends and all voters in Charlevoix county that I am a candidate for nomination and re-election for County Treasurer on the Republican ticket at the primary September 4, 1928. I feel that my past experience has fitted me better than ever before to discharge the duties of the office. If nominated and elected I shall continue to give the same service and effort as in the past. Joseph William Flanders.—Adv. 26-14.

FUR BUYERS FACE ACTION BY STATE

Roundup of Those Who Buy Pelts Illegally Taken, Is Started

The conservation department has instituted proceedings against approximately 400 fur dealers in Michigan, charging them with buying, transporting and selling furs illegally caught.

The department believes it has broken up the largest illicit fur trade ever attempted in years, and will demand that all offenders turn over their total receipts from the illegal furs, in addition to payment of fines.

Evidence is said to be so strong that all will probably plead guilty. Total revenue to the conservation department, to go into the game protection fund, is expected to be from $10,000 to $25,000.

Warrants for arrest followed months of investigation and tracing of hundreds of illegal shipments of furs. These ranged from $5 to $3,000 each.

All but the leader of a large ring of beaver trappers in the upper peninsula were said to have been apprehended in the cleanup on illegal fur vendors.

A TRUISM

Seneca, the ancient Roman philosopher, once said "Economy is in itself a source of great revenue," and he spoke truer probably than he knew.

Economy doesn't mean pinching nor does it mean hardship, it simply means good judgment and care in expenditure.

It means the elimination of the purchase of needless luxuries. It means watching the pennies, if you will. It isn't hard work and is the source of a great deal of pleasure.

Economy and saving go hand in hand. Will you permit us to assist you in the economical handling of your money and its systematic saving?

NORTH'S OLD SETTLERS ENJOYED DAY

ANNUAL MEETING AT BENZONIA LAST WEDNESDAY

Petoskey Man Is New President—
Mrs. R. B. Armstrong Vice President of Charlevoix County

Upwards of 400 old settlers heard Judge Parm C. Gilbert of Traverse City give a convincing assurance Wednesday afternoon that youth isn't so important, even in this modern age.

The period of greatest usefulness always comes later in life, the judge said in his address at the 47th annual picnic of the Grand Traverse Region Old Settlers association, held on the campus of the old Benzonian academy, an institution that stood for many years as one of the finest works of the pioneers in this region. It was fitting that Judge Gilbert should be chosen to give the principal address. He was a student at the academy years ago and worked for his board at one of the farms of the neighborhood.

Judge Gilbert's talk dealt principally with good citizenship, but he took an opportunity to pay his tribute to age.

Petoskey was chosen as the meeting place in 1922, and a Petoskey man, E. E. Gilbert, probate judge of Emmet county, was elected president to succeed W. L. Case of Benzonian. A Petoskey woman, Mrs. Joseph Greensky, one of Northern Michigan's best known Indian women and always a prominent figure at the old settlers gatherings, was elected secretary. Elmer E. White of Traverse City was re-elected treasurer, and Mrs. White was elected historian.

The new county vice presidents are: Antrim, Frank Martinek of Elk Rapids; Benzie, John Herren of Beulah; Charlevoix, Mrs. R. B. Armstrong of Charlevoix; Grand Traverse, William Montague of Traverse City; Emmet, Nathan J. Stone, of Petoskey; Kalkaska, John Gillet of Rapid City; Leelanau, Ernest Voice of Empire.

Judge Gilbert was not the only speaker; in fact the program was slightly longer than usual and the large crowd listened to many interesting recollections of the days long gone.

Mr. Herren, the village president of Beulah, gave the address of welcome, and one of the other newly-elected vice presidents, Mr. Martinek, also spoke. Talks were given by State Representatives J. M. Harris of Boyne City, and B. B. Spelman of Boyne City. Miss Ethel Huntington of Benzonian, secretary, read her report of last year's picnic, and the historian's report was given by Mrs. William Love of Traverse City.

The printed program devoted two of its four pages to a tribute to Hon. Frank Hamilton of Traverse City, the man whose early efforts hastened the good roads over which the picnic crowds came. The Benzonian choir sang among its several numbers a song to Mr. Hamilton, to the tune of "Michigan, My Michigan." Excellent music was furnished during the day by the choir and the Benzonian-Beulah young people's band.

The twin villages, Beulah and Benzonian, proved great entertainers.

CHILDISH PRANK CAUSE OF FATHER'S INJURIES

Floyd Sprague, Bellaire farm hand employed at the Durbin farm in the Clam Lake neighborhood, is in a Traverse City hospital as a result of his one-year-old son putting his car into gear as he cranked it by hand, a week ago.

The engine started just as the baby, who had been left sitting in the front seat, shifted the gear. The car struck Mr. Sprague with such force that the spring embedded itself in his right leg and broke it in two places.

After being given emergency attention Mr. Sprague was taken to the Traverse City hospital. Poisoning was feared, but physicians at the hospital state it has been averted.—Mancelona Herald.

NANCY'S own kitchen had been undergoing improvements, along with the others. And, as might have been expected, its color scheme was a little out of the ordinary. For Nancy, as you may remember, was an artist, and not at all afraid to experiment with color.

Her house was Colonial in style, and the woodwork throughout was white, with mahogany trim. In her kitchen, the door and window frames were of mahogany color, with all the built-in furniture, white. Walls, lavender-gray, very light. Curtains, sea blue, bordered with French blue and lavender. Floor, light gray linoleum. Oval rugs of French blue, with bands of sea blue and lavender. Breakfast table, sea blue trimmed with French blue. Chairs, French blue, trimmed with sea blue. Oil range, pots and pans, snow-white.

"I got stage fright at the thought of cooking for you experts," she told the assembled Kitchen Club. "But I have some good sandwich recipes I'm going to give you."

"I always break the first rule of sandwich making—to use day-old bread. It does make much neater sandwiches, but they are not nearly so good as those made with fresh bread. I have a very sharp knife, and use it with the lightest pressure possible."

LEAVES FROM NANCY'S KITCHEN CLUB NOTEBOOK

These are the recipes I gave the Club:

Toasted Nut Sandwiches

Toast over a slow fire pecans, English walnuts or blanched almonds in butter and salt, constantly stirring. Slice fresh bread and spread thinly with olive oil mayonnaise. Sprinkle with the nuts, using the toasted butter as part of the spread. Are best if served immediately.

Cheese and Nut Sandwiches
Run fresh American cheese through a food chopper until it is puffy. Mix with enough evaporated milk to make a paste. Do not use fresh milk. For this recipe, the evaporated is far better. Season with salt and red pepper. Mix with nuts and spread on fresh bread without mayonnaise. While this sandwich is better if eaten at once, it can stand for hours, if necessary, and still be good.

Cheese and Pimiento Sandwiches

Run American cheese through food chopper until it is puffy. Mix with chopped canned pimiento and enough olive oil mayonnaise to spread nicely. This filling will keep for days, but is better eaten at once.

"Pick Up Supper" Sandwiches
Toast bread on one side. On soft side spread mayonnaise. Lay on this a lettuce leaf, two slices of tomato and two of crisp, hot bacon. Salt and pepper. Serve at once.

Chicken Salad Sandwiches
Chopped chicken, sweet pickle, chopped hard-boiled eggs. Pepper, salt, celery salt. A little chopped celery. Moisten with mayonnaise and spread on bread.

Cheese Dreams
These are hard to digest, but oh, so good on cold nights! Crumble fresh American cheese on fresh bread. Salt. Cover with another slice. Toast in frying pan with butter. When brown on one side turn and toast on the other. Serve at once.

Cake and Bread Box

I showed the Kitchen Club these combination cake and bread boxes I found at Green's yesterday. It has two compartments. Comes in half-a-dozen different colors. I got one. But, as I already had a cake box, I'm going to put silver in the top compartment of mine.

Vanishing Garbage Bucket

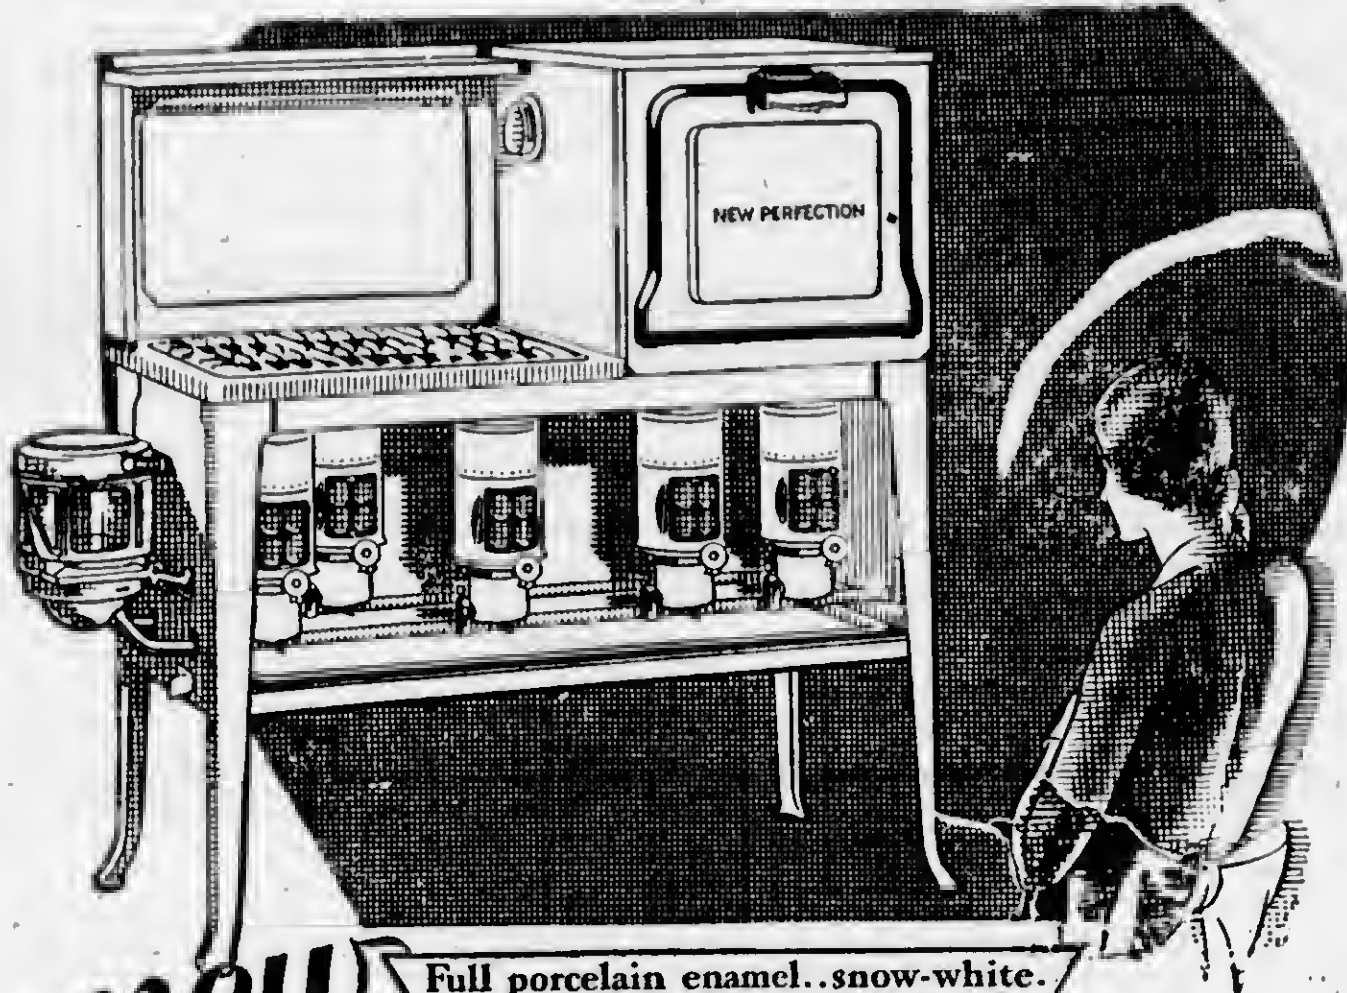

One store showed me a garbage bucket with an attachment to fasten it to the pipe under a kitchen sink. It pulls out on a lever to fill and is pushed back out of sight when one is through with it. It comes in beautiful, bright colors, though, and it seems a shame to hide it.

Vegetable Bin

I found a wonderful new vegetable bin to tell the Kitchen Club about. It has three "stories," each ventilated. The bottom one could hold potatoes, the next, apples, and the two small ones at the top, onions and beans. The bin comes in tin, all different colors.

Hens Often Injured by Toenails of Male Bird

Hens are often injured by the long toenails of the male birds ripping open the back. When this happens, cleanse the wound, apply a healing ointment, and cover with a pad of antiseptic gauze fastened down with adhesive tape. It is economy to have a large spool of the adhesive tape in the medicine closet. It tears as easily as muslin and is about as useful. Of course the feathers about a wound should always be pulled. If it is necessary to sew a wound, use surgeons' needles and white silk floss. The nails of the offending cock or turkey gobbler should be manicured with a file.

A foot adhesive for which the gauze pad and adhesive tape are useful is known as "foot-aid" and is a brace to the sole of the foot from flying down on a hard surface. For this, if there is pus in the bruise, make two criss-cross cuts like an X. Press out the pus gently, and apply salve, a pad and the adhesive.

Shade Is Necessary

Shade is very necessary for chicks, especially if they are late hatched, for they are stunted by the hot, dry weather and are more liable to be affected by disease and worms, than if hatched early. Plenty of grit and charcoal should be within easy reach of chicks when on range unless sand or gravel is present in large enough quantities to make it unnecessary to furnish it extra. Plenty of fresh water should be within easy reach of the growing chicks.

You could go shopping with your eyes shut

You could turn your back to the counter and yet be perfectly sure of getting the things you want. The exact quality of sheeting, or talcum powder, or candy, or soap, or furniture polish that you like best is handed to you instantly when you ask for it by name.

You don't have to look, because you know that advertised brands will be precisely the same today as they were yesterday. The fact that they are advertised guarantees that their quality will be maintained. Their makers have placed themselves on record.

Advertised products are honest products. It is the unadvertised things—the "just-as-good" and the "almost-the-same" that are likely to vary in quality.

You save money and you save time when you make a habit of buying standard goods—as advertised.

BOYNE CITY MILL DESTROYED LAST SUNDAY

Structure a Complete Loss—Damage Estimated at $25,000.00

The big saw mill operated for many years by the Boyne City Lumber company at Boyne City was completely destroyed Sunday forenoon with a loss variously estimated at from $25,000 to $40,000. The fire was first discovered at about 10:15 o'clock and at that hour had gained big headway. Within two hours the structure walls had fallen in and the one time pride of Northern Michigan lumber days was gone forever, a victim of the flames. It was reported that the mill recently had been sold to W. H. White, a prominent Boyne City lumberman.

The mill was located about two and a half blocks south along the harbor front from the Boyne City opera house. It covered quite a bit of ground, the boiler room being separated from the mill proper by an alley way where sawdust was loaded from the saws. It was in this alley that the flames are believed to have started in on their deadly work.

The mill was erected about a quarter of a century ago and completely equipped, the cost being near $40,000.

For about twenty years the mill was operated quite successfully and steadily, but during the past five years the plant had been idle.

BARNARD TO CELEBRATE ON FOURTH

PROGRAM OF SPORTS AND MUSIC HAS BEEN ARRANGED

Special Invitation Extended to Former Barnard Residents to Enjoy Home-Coming and Fun

While East Jordan and Beaver Island are busy with their preparations to accommodate and entertain visitors July 4th, an announcement comes from Barnard of a big Fourth of July celebration and home-coming to be held there the same day.

Committees in charge have arranged a fine program and have invited all to come, especially former residents of the Barnard district. The following program has been announced by those in charge, with all events taking place on standard time:

9:30 a. m., boy's ball game, Barnard vs. Ellsworth.

10:30 a. m., horse-shoe pitching tournament.

11:00 a. m., music by Barnard band and quartette.

11:45 a. m., speaker of the day.

12:30, big picnic dinner. It is rumored the ladies will serve coffee.

1:30 p. m., carnival races and sports—potato race, sack race, three-legged race, fat men's race, pie eating race, egg race by the ladies, tug-o'-war, Barnard vs. former Barnardites, tug-o'-war, ladies, freak automobile race, music by the band and ball game.

It is further announced that there will be red hats, fire crackers, lemonade, peanuts and everything that goes to make a Fourth of July celebration.

AUTOISTS ARE ASKED TO BE MORE CAREFUL

Chief Marshall Warns That Fire Traffic Law Is to Be Enforced

Fire Chief Marshall has issued a special warning and instruction to automobile drivers using Charlevoix streets to fully observe the Michigan state rules and laws governing traffic to fires. The state law provides severe punishment for those who fail to obey.

The state law provides that cars must be run to the side of the street on approach of the fire engine, and also that cars must not follow the fire engine to fires at a distance closer than 500 feet. This rule, provides the firemen an opportunity of stopping their machine, unloading and coupling of hose, etc. The rule has been persistently violated in Charlevoix.

Another rule provided in the state law and which will be enforced is that providing that cars may not park within 500 feet of a fire. Parking near a fire interferes with the fire department getting to and from the scene, stringing additional hose, etc.

OLD BAY SHORE RESIDENT DIES

Reuel Dickerhoff Taken With Pneumonia After Ten Day's Illness

Reuel Dickerhoff, well known farmer of Charlevoix county, near Bay Shore, passed away at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon with pneumonia, following an illness of ten days. Mr. Dickerhoff was 69 years old.

The deceased was born in Elkhart, Indiana, on January 12, 1859, and first came to Petoskey about 46 years ago. He homesteaded on what is known as the J. W. Hoper farm in Hayes township, Charlevoix county, later returning to Indiana. He came back to Bay Shore 44 years ago and married Miss Ada Murray of that place. The first 16 years of their married life was spent in Indiana. They moved to the farm they now own 28 years ago.

Surviving him are his widow and four children, Mrs. Elmer J. Hanna of Harbor Springs, George and Earl of Bay Shore and Ray of Detroit, four grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Lavina Weaver of Elkhart, Indiana.

The body was laid to rest in Greenwood cemetery, Petoskey, Friday afternoon. The funeral was held from the farm home, one and one-half miles west of Bay Shore at 2 o'clock standard time, Friday afternoon.

VOLUME 33. NUMBER 27.

EIGHT PAGES

COURIER, CHARLEVOIX, MICH., WEDNESDAY, JULY 4, 1928

PRICE $2.00 PER YEAR

THE INN IS NOW OPEN FOR SEASON

PRACTICALLY SAME OFFICERS IN CHARGE THIS SEASON

Bookings Considerably Larger Than Former Years—Hotel and Properties in Prime Condition

The Inn, Charlevoix's largest hotel, opened Tuesday, July 3rd. There was an informal opening on June 30, a few tourists desiring to be there at that time.

The Inn has been operated under the ownership of the Pere Marquette Railway Company for many years. Mr. A. I. Creamer, who is senior partner in the ownership of the Highland Pines Inn, Weymouth Heights, Southern Pines, N. C., will again have charge of The Inn and its properties, which include, besides the hotel, several cottages used for summer homes.

Practically the same corps of efficient officers and help will assist Mr. Creamer in the management of the hotel this year, viz: William E. Flynn, assistant to the manager and chief clerk; Frank L. MacDonald, assistant to the manager and in charge of maintenance and grounds; Alton M. Creamer, assistant to the manager and in full charge of the culinary department; Lee MacDonald, cashier; Leon M. York, head waiter; Mrs. W. E. Flynn, housekeeper; A. Montesanti, doorman; Miss Alma Creamer, private secretary; James Flynn, porter; Eddie McCaffigan, manager of the garage; Jack Flinn, head bellman; Richard S. Ryan, who has long been with the railroad, is custodian of the property. Mr. Ryan is well known at Charlevoix as being one of the old employees and has general supervision of the farm and garden work. John Withers continues in full charge of the engineering department of the building and C. Y. Marshall will again have charge of the five tennis courts. Through Mr. Marshall's knowledge and fine work, the tennis courts at The Inn are maintained in excellent condition for the tournaments held there each year. Gerald Ash, who has been arranged for through the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce, with Mrs. Ash and Mary Jane, will be guests at The Inn during the summer to help the organization in the work of entertaining with tennis, swimming, boating, etc. Mrs. Virginia Tubbs is located at the hotel during the summer and will give lessons in auction bridge to those who desire this particular line of pleasure. Miss Blood is hostess.

It has been credible that the entire organization at The Inn has remained intact for so many years. Mr. Creamer stated that he knew of no body of men who could place a big piece of property like The Inn and cottages, in condition for an opening in the short time which has always been necessary. He also stated that courtesy and optimism had been great factors in the hotel's success among his assistants in the operation of this piece of property.

A feature at The Inn is that the service in the main dining room is given by college and school girls, almost all from the state of Michigan. These young ladies are directed by Mr. Leon York. In addition to The Inn farm, Knollwood, owned by Creamer and Flynn, and operated by R. S. Shapton, will furnish vegetables for the hotel. Most all of the vegetables used at the hotel are furnished by these two farms and this year a large amount of chickens are being raised at Knollwood, there being already about 2500 being reared there for latter use. John Martin, owner of Fernwood Dairy, supplies milk and cream for the hotel.

A large crew of painters and carpenters have been working at The Inn, getting the hotel and other properties ready for the summer. Extensive repairs have been made on the bathing pier opposite the P. M. station, made necessary by damage from shifting ice last winter. Frank H. Alfred, president and general manager of the Pere Marquette, has expressed himself as being very pleased with the fine conditions the buildings have been placed in this year, especially the groves and grounds.

Mr. Creamer stated that prospects of the summer were better than for a great many years and that he intended to have the same service and food for which the hotel has been recognized during the time he has had charge of it. An arrangement with the Pere Marquette Railway Co. for week and two-week visits has resulted in a great many bookings. Almost all of these people are young ladies coming here for their vacation to enjoy golf, tennis, dancing and other pleasures the hotel affords.

MODEL PLANE CHAMP AT CAMP CHARLEVOIX

Will Show Other Boys How to Make Planes That Fly

Albert Mott of Detroit, the new National Model Indoor Airplane champion at the recent flying meet held in Detroit, arrived at Camp Charlevoix Tuesday morning. Albert, who is seventeen years old, flew his model indoor plane for 341 seconds which exceeds by far the best previous record. Competing with over 175,000 boys who are members of the Airplane Model League of America, sponsored by the American Boy magazine, this young man won the coveted honor of spending the summer at Camp Charlevoix.

At camp he will teach the other boys how to build the model planes that fly. He will assist Merrill Ham-burg, the secretary of the league, and Frank Reiss, handicraft director at the boys' camp.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX ACTIVITIES BEGUN

FROM EIGHT DIFFERENT STATES

Camp Circus, Horse Show and Play
"Hiawatha" Among Events
Planned For the Summer

Camp Charlevoix, "the character camp for boys," located on Lake Charlevoix near Ironton, opened its season June 28 with an enrollment of sixty boys from eight different states.

A staff of 20 counsellors are in charge of the activities. Lewis C. Reiman, a former U. of Michigan football man, who has been directing camps for twelve years, is assisted by LeRoy Dahlberg, a U. of Michigan man, as director of activities; Mrs. Reiman, camp mother; Prof. E. V. Jetter, U. of Mich., forestry and conservation; Prof. J. R. Nelson, U. of Mich., supervisor of dramatics; Earl Oldham, U. of Mich., aquatics; Andrew Barlock, U. of Mich., athletics; Malcolm Langford, Amherst college and U. of Mich., music and tutoring; Jerry White, U. of Mich., empire program; Doan Ogden, Mich. State College, horsemanship; Frank Reiss and Merrill Hamburg, Detroit, handicraft, airplane and boat making; Clarence Dykema, U. of Illinois, fencing and art; Walter North, U. of Mich., dramatics; Edward Dupernell, U. of Mich., business assistant; George Miller, U. of Mich., navigation and overnight hikes; Mrs. Emma White, U. of Illinois, dietician; Dr. Neelick, U. of M. hospital and Dr. C. B. Pillsbury of Ypsilanti, camp physicians.

Tim Neal of Birmingham, Michigan, was elected president of the Junior council.

Many boys whose parents summer in Charlevoix have enrolled as "Day campers." The camp bus calls for them each morning, takes them to camp and returns them each evening.

Among the special events planned by the staff are the camp circus and horse show; athletic tournament and Hiawatha pageant directed by Prof. Nelson.

Visiting hours at the camp are Saturday and Sunday afternoons. The public is invited to inspect the camp at this time.

BOYNE CITY CONCERN BUILDS BRADY BOATS

Quantity Production Started on Monday of This Week

Quantity production of Brady-built speed boats was started on Monday of this week in the Boyne City mill of the W. S. Shaw Company, according to M. Roy Brady of the Brady Boat Company of Charlevoix.

Mr. Brady stated that increased sales has made it impossible for him to take care of outstanding orders and that steps toward greater production were needed at once. According to present plans, Mr. Brady will work with the men at Boyne City until they become thoroughly acquainted with the work and then go on the road selling.

IMPROVEMENT AT PINE LAKE GOLF CLUB

Install Fine Porches, Lounges and Shower Baths

The additions and betterments to the club houses that have been in progress for more than a month will be completed Thursday night, as reported by the president W. H. White. Fine porches, shower baths and lounges have been provided for both ladies and gentlemen. A water system with a supply tank is another part of the equipment. The management extends an invitation to everyone to drive to the grounds and spend at least enough time to examine the play ground. If you are not a golf player it may be interesting to see what there is about the game that attracts the multitude from one end of the world to the other.

In the near future there will be an opening day which will include a tournament and there will be players and visitors from 19 clubs to add to the occasion and give voice to their opinion as to whether Boyne City's greatest summer attraction is or is not the Pine Lake Golf Links.

P. M. BRAKEMAN FELL BENEATH CAR WHEELS

Accident Last Saturday

Frank Holsington, 36, of Muskegon and a brakeman on the Pere Marquette local freight between Traverse City and Petoskey, had his right leg cut off above the ankle and most of his left foot also amputated last Saturday morning when he stepped a handhold and fell under the train at Phelps, a station between Ellsworth and Charlevoix.

According to Conductor T. H. Dobson of Traverse City, in charge of the train, they had been unloading ties at Phelps and the accident occurred as the train was getting under way.

A portion of the train was cut off, the injured man was placed in the caboose, and after a brief stay at Central Lake to pick up Dr. D. H. Duffie of that place, who attended the injured man on the journey, a fast run was made into Traverse City.

The train was met by a physician and an ambulance, and the injured man was hurried to Munson hospital. His condition is critical.

Holsington is married and is the father of two children.

FREIGHT ASSOCIATION MEMBERS COME FRIDAY

Convention at The Inn Will Call Between 100 and 150 Visitors

Friday, July 6, will see the opening of Charlevoix's first convention of the summer season, when members of the Central Freight Association gather at The Inn hotel for their annual meeting.

According to A. I. Creamer, manager of the hotel, there will be a large body of men interested in freight movement on railroads here from all over the Middle Western states. They will be accompanied by their families, and it is expected that from 100 to 150 will be in attendance. Their stay in Charlevoix will be about a week.

Preparations are being made for their entertainment while in the city. An automobile sight-seeing tour of Charlevoix and vicinity will be one feature and in this respect local merchants are asked to lend their co-operation by donating cars for the tour.

Announcement

To the Electors of Charlevoix County:

I am a candidate for Register of Deeds on the Republican ticket at the primary election, September 4th, 1928. In seeking another term I am deeply sensible of the fact that you have treated me very generously in the past. I am grateful for these evidences of your confidence and good will. I have been led to believe that the hundreds of patrons of the register of deeds' office during the past four years are satisfied that the business has been well performed. I believe I am better qualified today to serve your interests than ever before. I desire to say that if nominated and elected I shall continue to give the office my very best efforts and to conduct it in a business-like and efficient manner. I most respectfully solicit your support for renomination. Frank F. Bird.—Adv. 26-14

MAN SO NERVOUS GETS SORE WHEN SPOKEN TO

"It actually irritated me to have anyone talk to me, I was so nervous. Vinol ended this and I feel wonderful now."—Wm. Eddy.

Vinol is a compound of iron, phosphates, cod liver peptone, etc. The very FIRST bottle makes you sleep better and have a BIG appetite. Nervous, easily tired people are surprised how QUICK the iron, phosphates, etc., give new life and pep. Vinol tastes delicious. F. J. Fessenden, Druggist.

BANKERS PROVIDE STUDENT LOANS

American Bankers Association Completes Plan to Award 167 College Economic Scholarships Throughout Nation.

AWARDS TO START THIS FALL

Students in Agricultural Economics to Be Helped in Farm States—Will Also Facilitate Entry into Business Life.

One hundred and sixty-seven college loan scholarships will be provided by the American Bankers Association, 98 of which are now being proffered to 71 selected colleges and universities in 34 states. It has been announced by John H. Puelicher, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Association's Foundation for Education in Economics. The foundation fund of $500,000 was started in 1925 to commemorate the Association's fiftieth anniversary and its aim is to stimulate and aid worthy men or women students to pursue courses in banking and economics in collegiate institutions throughout the country.

The scholarship awards will be available for the scholastic year beginning this fall and will provide recipients with unit loans of $250, to be repaid on easy terms following their entry into earning business life. In several farm states, it is provided, scholarships shall be specifically awarded in agricultural economics.

A special feature of the plan in addition to its educational advantages is that scholars, upon discharge of all their financial obligations connected with their loans, will be given certificates of honorary membership in the foundation signed by the members of the board of trustees, which will be available as evidence of financial reliability for their use in starting their business careers.

Colleges Awarded Scholarships. Professors of one or more scholarships have been made to the following institutions:

Alabama, University of Alabama, Birmingham-Southern College, Arizona, University of Arizona, Arkansas, University of Arkansas, California, University of California, University of Southern California, Stanford University, Connecticut, Wesleyan University, Yale University, Delaware, University of Delaware, District of Columbia, George Washington University, Georgetown University, Florida, University of Florida, University of Miami, Hawaiian Islands, University of Hawaii, Idaho, University of Idaho, Illinois, University of Illinois, University of Chicago, Knox College, Northwestern University, Kansas, University of Kansas, Kansas State Agricultural College, Washburn College, Louisiana, Louisiana State University, Tulane University, Maryland, Johns Hopkins University, University of Maryland, Michigan, University of Detroit, University of Michigan, Michigan Agricultural College, Minnesota, Carleton College, University of Minnesota, Hamline University, Mississippi, University of Mississippi, Montana, State University of Montana, Nebraska, University of Nebraska, Doane College, Nevada, State University of Nevada, New Jersey, Princeton University, Rutgers University, New Mexico, New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts, North Carolina, University of North Carolina, North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering, Oregon, University of Oregon, Oregon State Agricultural College, Pennsylvania, University of Pennsylvania, Dickinson College, Lafayette College, Gettysburg College, Franklin and Marshall College, Allegheny College, University of Pittsburgh, Lehigh University, Swarthmore College, Pennsylvania State College, Rhode Island, Brown University, South Dakota, University of South Dakota, Tennessee, University of Tennessee, University of Chattanooga, Vanderbilt University, Utah, University of Utah, Vermont, University of Vermont, Virginia, University of Virginia, Washington and Lee University, University of Richmond, William and Mary College, Washington, University of Washington, State College of Washington, West Virginia, West Virginia University, Wisconsin, University of Wisconsin, etc., Lawrence College, St. John's College.

Plan of Operation

The general plan allots scholarships to higher institutions of learning in states where the banks have completed the subscription quotas assigned them in the foundation fund. Institutions are selected on the basis of type of school, educational standards, geographical distribution and desire to co-operate in the plan. A scholarship committee is to be created in each selected institution, to consist of members of the faculty and a prominent banker. All scholarship applications must be made formally through the college committees and not direct to the foundation. Three home-town references are required of each applicant, at least one of whom must be a banker. Only students of junior or higher grade in banking and economic courses are eligible and those who have also attended American Institute of Banking courses will be given preference.

Easy Terms

Scholarship payments will be given only to those whose means of education are dependent in whole or part upon their own efforts and will continue only during satisfactory scholastic standing or conduct. The loans are at five per cent beginning the first day of the second January after the date the scholar leaves school, with no interest on repayment made prior to that time. Loans may be paid off in monthly installments of $10 or more. After three installments have been promptly met payments may be placed on a quarterly basis until the loan is wiped out which must occur within three years. In cases of delinquencies, consideration will be given to special circumstances, such as ill health or unavoidable unemployment.

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY ON BUILDING AN INCOME

As Aunt Emmy came out of the savings bank she met young George Oliver.

"Well, well," he said, "it's funny to see you coming out of a savings bank, Aunt Emmy. I thought only poor folks like me had money in savings banks—people like you just clip coupons!"

"Have you a savings bank account?" countered Aunt Emmy.

"Well, er—I suppose I haven't," he admitted. "You see, it's hard to save money when you're first married. Somehow there never seems to be enough money to go 'round—let alone to put in a savings bank."

"You never will have it if you don't get started," interrupted Aunt Emmy.

"You should make your weekly savings deposit, no matter how small, the first claim on your salary after paying your bills. I make my weekly deposit in this bank faithfully—I put away a certain sum regularly."

"You can!" Nat commented.

"It is more a habit than you would suppose," Aunt Emmy continued.

"Any one can do it who is willing to let other things wait. I began putting a little money in a savings bank years ago when it was no joke to save a few pennies. I remember what a wonderful thrill I got the first time I saw my interest entered in my bank book."

There was money that my money had earned all by itself. After that it was a sort of game with me to put a certain sum in the bank, even if I had to do without things I would have enjoyed having. Now I realize what it means to keep your money busy earning all the time so I continue to put a little in the savings bank regularly and, after it accumulates, I draw some out and invest in safe securities that pay a higher rate of interest than savings. All the time, you see, the money is working for me."

"Of course, when the sum is small, it earns little, but if you start young, as you and Molly are, it is almost like magic the way it mounts up after a few years—then when your savings get grown up into a real investment they earn a real income."

"I never thought of it in that light," said George.

"Try it—and see for yourself how it works," urged Aunt Emmy. "Have you ever thought how nice it would be to have a few dollars ready for use in case of an emergency? Accidents and illnesses do happen. Or suppose you had an opportunity to buy something you knew you could sell at a profit and you had to let the opportunity slip for the lack of a few hundred dollars. You and Molly would never miss five dollars a week—and if you keep at it, it will work wonders!"

"You're right, it would!" exclaimed George. "I'll talk to Molly tonight, Aunt Emmy, and see if we can't revise our expenditures."

"There would be a whole lot less family trouble and worry over money matters if every young couple did this same thing early in life," Aunt Emmy said. "Start young; is the magic slogan."

Carries you faster and farther--costs no more

Full mileage from every gallon of Shell Gasoline—and what pleasant miles they are! Acceleration which gives you the jump on the other fellow. Reserve power which seems to level out the hills. . . New smoothness and flexibility at all speeds.

Such performance is the natural result of the improved refining process by which "Extra Dry" Shell Gasoline is made. All the sluggish, greasy elements have been removed—nothing but the most volatile parts remain. Vaporizing instantly, burning cleanly and completely, no wonder Shell Gasoline is so quick-acting and responsive.

AT THE MOVIES

No End of Thrills in Mystery Movie "Cat and Canary"

The Palace Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday presents one of the most fascinating, thrilling and interesting pictures it has been our pleasure to see in many a day. "The Cat and Canary" adds another success to the list of Universal Special productions, produced in the past year.

Firemen "Drafted" for "The Street of Sin"

If you don't enlist in the movies you are liable to be drafted any day when you live in Hollywood.

The latest draft list for the screen included a score of firemen who were called upon to act in a sequence of Emil Jennings' new Paramount starring production "The Street of Sin" which will be seen at the Palace Theatre Saturday and Sunday.

Do You Know—

That Florence Vidor was educated in a convent in Houston, Texas?

That she entered motion pictures without previous stage experience?

That she is five feet, four and a half inches tall, weighs 188 pounds and has brown hair and eyes?

That her outstanding pictures are nearly all Paramount pictures?

That her latest success, "The Magnificent Flirt," will be on the bill at the Palace Theatre for 2 days, starting July 11.

Palace Theatre, Friday, July 13th.

The world ablaze in a fury of hate. Peaceful villages trampled and destroyed. The whole social structure turned topsy-turvy. Chaos. Confusion. A beautiful maiden desired by a power-drunk Russian prince. A girl who held her honor dearer than her life. But her refusal meant obliteration to her whole people. A tremendous awe-inspiring drama. An emotional feast. A magnificent spectacle. See it.

Announcement

I desire to announce to my friends and all voters in Charlevoix county that I am a candidate for nomination and re-election for County Treasurer on the Republican ticket at the primary, September 4, 1928. I feel that my past experience has fitted me better than ever before to discharge the duties of the office. If nominated and elected I shall continue to give the same service and effort as in the past. Joseph William Flanders.—Adv. 25-14.

ENGLAND STILL SUFFERS

Dispatches from London say that the coal trade depression is causing great anxiety and very acute distress in some large colliery centers, notably South Wales, Scotland and Northumberland. Coal experts are again languishing, and efforts to regain the market loss during the trouble of 1926 have been only partially successful. The loss of the Scandinavian trade, largely to Portland, is particularly regrettable. The coal output for the week ended May 12 was 4,685,400 tons, a decrease on the week of 185,800 tons, and comparing with an average weekly output of more than 5,000,000 tons in the first part of 1927. Wage earners in the collieries now number only 984,000, a decrease of 700 for the week. The total was 1,028,000 at about this time last year and 1,106,200 two years ago before the coal strike.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP

Reappearing every so often is the proposal of government ownership. The power companies of the country have been fighting government ownership, and some of their methods have been revealed in the recent investigation. The plans of the power companies are now being made to look sinister, simply because they wanted to conserve their property rights and prevent confiscation. It is for the public to judge when the record is finally written. Government ownership is lurking in the background all the time, and it has its apostles and disciples active and proselyting all the time. Watch it.

SAFEGUARD YOUR HEALTH

Michigan traffic officers are attempting to cut down the death toll in this state from automobile accidents by sponsoring an accident prevention campaign. The Michigan Tuberculosis Association is endeavoring to cut down the ravages of tuberculosis in Michigan by urging that all citizens undergo an immediate health check-up and see if there are any symptoms of the dread disease lurking around. You can help in this work by having yourself and members of your family examined by a competent physician. Tuberculosis if discovered in time, is curable. Don't take any chances—see your physician today. Let him decide.

CHARLEVOIX GIRL MARRIED IN FLINT

Has Many Charlevoix Friends Who Extend Congratulations

An impressive marriage ceremony was solemnized at St. Matthew's church, Flint, Mich., Tuesday, June 19th at 9 o'clock, when Miss Florence Coates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Coates, became the bride of Louis D. Bergeron Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bergeron, Sr. of Minneapolis, Minn. Rev. Fr. Sullivan officiating at the Nuptial High Mass, the double ring ceremony being used.

The bride was becomingly attired in a white crepe dress, and the long drape which hung from the neck was caught at the shoulder with rhinestones. Her veil was of beautifully embroidered tulle and was held in place by a band of pearls and rhinestones. The bridal bouquet was a combination of roses and lilies of the valley.

The bride chose her sister, Miss Veronica Coates to assist as maid of honor, who was attractively gowned in orchidorgette over pink, wearing a picture hat to match. Joseph Coates, brother of the bride, assisted as best man.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to the immediate members of the family at the home of the bride's parents on 331 Forest street. After a two weeks' honeymoon through the east and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Bergeron will make their home in Flint.

TEN CHARLEVOIX COUNTY MEN NOW ENROLLED

Will Attend Military Training Camp at Fort Brady

By exceeding the quota of eight by two, Charlevoix county's ten applications for enrollment in the Citizens' Military Training Camp at Fort Brady brings the county's percentage to 125 or third highest in the Grand Rapids district. The camp opens July 26, and the following young men will report on that date:

Lawrence Parmelee, Charlevoix; Everett C. Barnett, East Jordan; Frank Chew, East Jordan; Robert Pray, East Jordan. These four completed the basic course of training last year and this summer will go on in the advanced course. The following will take up the work for the first time:

Edwin Madill, Charlevoix; Paul S. Sloan, Charlevoix; Harry F. McHale, Roderick; Muma, Karl Rosenthal and George N. Secord, East Jordan.

FINE NEW CRUISER IS ADDED TO LOCAL FLEET

54-Foot Great Lakes Boat Brought Here by Irving Cline

The latest addition to Charlevoix's rapidly growing fleet of pleasure boats is a 54-foot Great Lakes cruiser recently purchased by Irving Cline for many years a summer resort here.

The new boat was delivered here last Saturday and will make Charlevoix her home port. It is equipped with two 250 h. p. Sterling motors and has a cruising speed of 28 miles per hour, according to Clarence Rumik, who will be in charge.

Forward and aft cabins have sleeping accommodations for a party of six, not including crew's quarters. The boat is finely appointed, having lavatories in both the cabins. The aft lavatory is equipped with shower bath.

Mr. Cline plans several long cruises in his new boat during the summer months.

TRAVERSE, CHARLEVOIX DIVIDE RACING HONORS

M. Roy Brady Won Free-for-All—Second in Class B Event

Gene Zimmerman of Traverse City and M. Roy Brady of Charlevoix ran off with the first prize money in Class B and free-for-all events in the Grand Traverse Boat Club outboard races on Boardman Lake last Friday afternoon. Zimmerman's time the first heat was 6.37 and in the second 6.35 over the three-mile course, while Brady did 6.20 in the single heat of the second event.

Nine class B boats were entered, but of these, two did not start due to engine trouble and one, Red Apple-sauce, piloted by Harold Brown of Traverse City did not finish, due to the loss of the propeller in a collision with a log. Nine boats also were entered for the second event but four of these never nosed over the finish line because of engine trouble or losing arguments with logs.

Second and third places in the class B event were won by Brady and William Sladek, the latter piloting Grand Traverse Baby owned by his brother, Dr. E. F. Sladek, vice commodore of the boat mariners.

Second and third places in the free-for-all race were taken by Gene Zimmerman and Frank Hoard, both of Traverse City.

The officials of the race were Commodore W. G. Kinyon, chairman, vice commodore, E. F. Sladek, scorer; R. J. Price, starter; A. W. Bruce, assistant starter, and Ben Samuelson, timer.

Thirty dollars was awarded in prizes.

Under State Supervision

A TRUISM

Seneca, the ancient Roman philosopher, once said "Economy is in itself a source of great revenue," and he spoke truer probably than he knew.

Economy doesn't mean pinching nor does it mean hardship, it simply means good judgment and care in expenditure.

It means the elimination of the purchase of needless luxuries. It means watching the pennies, if you will. It isn't hard work and is the source of a great deal of pleasure.

Economy and saving go hand in hand. Will you permit us to assist you in the economical handling of your money and its systematic saving?

Long Distance Rates Are Surprisingly Low

For Instance:

for $1.25

or less, between 4:30 a. m. and 7:00 p. m.

You can call the following points and talk for THREE MINUTES for the rates shown. Rates to other points are proportionately low.

From Charlevoix to:

Day	Station-to-Station	Rate
Albion, Mich.		$1.25
Alma, Mich.		.90
Benzon, Mich.		.55
Birmingham, Mich.		1.25
Clare, Mich.		.90
Flint, Mich.		1.10
Grand Haven, Mich.		1.05
Grand Rapids, Mich.		1.00
Lansing, Mich.		1.10
Saginaw, Mich.		.95
Seo, Mich.		.70
Manistee, Mich.		.65

The rates quoted above are Station-to-Station Day rates, effective from 4:30 a. m. to 7:00 p. m.

Evening Station-to-Station rates are effective from 7:00 p. m. to 8:30 p. m., and Night Station-to-Station rates, 8:30 p. m. to 4:30 a. m.

A Station-to-Station call is one that is made to a certain telephone rather than to some person in particular.

If you do not know the number of the distant telephone, give the operator the name and address and specify that you will talk with "anyone" who answers at the called telephone.

A Person-to-Person call, because more work is involved, costs more than a Station-to-Station call. The rate on a Person-to-Person call is the same at all hours.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

by B. C. Mollenkamp

Why Not Beautify Your Farm Home

Beautiful and attractive farm surroundings mean a more enjoyable and contented life. Everyone loves a neat and attractive farm. The Michigan State College employs a specialist who spends his entire time in assisting farmers with plans for beautifying their homes. Arrangements have been made to have O. J. Gregg, specialist in landscaping, to visit Charlevoix county on July 20th and 21st for this purpose. If you wish to have your farm beautified and will promise to carry out the plans left by Mr. Gregg in the near future, your county agent will be glad to hear from you and arrange a schedule. Only six visits will be made, so inform him immediately.

Septic Tank Demonstration

The second opportunity for Charlevoix farmers to actually see these tanks erected will be possible on July 9, 10 and 11th, when three actual demonstrations will be conducted by specialists from Michigan State College cooperating with B. C. Mollenkamp, county agent.

The first demonstration will be at the farm of W. K. Straw, one mile south of new Belvedere golf links near Charlevoix, on Monday afternoon, July 9th at 1:30 fast time.

The second at farm of Ben Smatts, five miles north and west of East Jordan on west side of South Arm, on Tuesday afternoon, July 10th, at 1:30 fast time, and the third demonstration at the farm of David Smith, one and one half miles west of Horton Bay, on main road, on Wednesday afternoon, July 11th at 1:30 o'clock fast time.

During the forenoon of each day the forms for the tank will be constructed and the other materials assembled and everything in readiness for the demonstration in the afternoon when the tank will be erected.

In order to receive the maximum benefit everyone interested in the demonstration should be present by 1:30 fast time and watch the various operations necessary for the complete installation.

The septic tank and tile system is to the farm home what the sewer system is to the city. It provides a satisfactory means of disposing of the wastes from the kitchen, laundry and bathroom.

Its cost is not prohibitive and its construction is little more difficult than the building of a concrete water tank.

Don't fail to mark your calendar right now for these demonstrations and attend your nearest one.

First Annual Guernsey Field Day

Plans are all set for the first annual Guernsey summer show and picnic to be held in the city of East Jordan on Friday, July 13th. This red letter event for Guernsey breeders is sponsored by the newly organized Charlevoix Guernsey Breeders Association, with the splendid assistance of the Business Men's Club of East Jordan, who have donated freely to make the show possible.

The big feature of the day will be the exhibit of some 20 head of the highest type and quality Guernseys owned by the 23 charter members of the new organization. There will be calves, yearlings, 2-year-olds, 3-year-olds, 4-year-olds, mature cows and purebred sires of various ages shown. W. D. Burrington, Guernsey fieldman for Michigan, will judge the exhibit and give the points that we look for in the best type of Guernseys. Suitable ribbons will be awarded the winners of the various classes, donated by East Jordan.

A very interesting and instructive program has been arranged, featured by the appearance of W. D. Burrington, who will give you an inspiring discussion of Guernsey progress in Michigan, as follows on fast time:

Noon—Picnic dinner at the city park. Coffee will be furnished.

1:30—Business session of association.

2:00—Address of welcome, Mayor Dicken.

2:10—Response by president of association, Chas. Murphy.

2:20—Remarks, Dr. F. C. Pillsbury.

2:30—Speech, W. D. Burrington.

3:00—Judging of Exhibit, W. D. Burrington.

4:00—Amen! Homeward bound. The above program, if weather permits, will be given at the new city park. The exhibit will be bounced in the sheds across from the Northern Auto show room. If interested in buying or selling Guernseys this is your opportunity of making contracts. Learn what is the correct type and quality in Guernseys. See the best representatives in our country. Come early, bring a well filled lunch basket, hear the program, see the exhibits and stay late.

British Columbia Plans Building of New Roads

Construction of new highways at an ultimate cost of $10,000,000 will be undertaken by British Columbia, according to an announcement by Hon. W. H. Sutherland, minister of public works.

"Projects in the new road-building program," said Mr. Sutherland, "include a main automobile highway connecting British Columbia with Jasper National park in the Canadian Rockies, a motor road from Vancouver to Prince Rupert, a new highway through the coast mountains from the Chilcotin country to Bella Coola and a road following the course of the Columbia river.

Best-Lighted Rural Road in the United States

The Hlynu boulevard on Staten Island claims the distinction of being the best-lighted rural highway in the country.

The highway is used extensively by farmers, who find it convenient to bring their products to the city during the night.

There are 166 lamps per running foot of road. The lights are placed on high posts along the sides of the road. Formerly three 100-candle power lamps were used on each post but they are being replaced with a single 250-candle power unit which gives more efficient lighting.

Tax Boosts Roads

Highway improvement and road construction have received a great impetus in the Middle West due to increased funds available for this purpose from license fees and gasoline taxes. From a survey made of 14 states' reports on last year's highway activities, it is shown that these territories licensed 8,950,000 passenger cars and trucks, and from the revenue derived from this traffic the state governments were able to either pave or improve 9,000 miles of roads.

We have often wondered why a blasted rooster crows at 2 a. m., and about a thousand times more before daylight.

THE LAST CONGRESS

The last session of the 70th congress, so far as the senate was concerned, was not an edifying spectacle. Legislation was passed which should not have been passed, and legislation failed which should have been enacted. There seems to be a semi-panic in the higher house of the congress and much that was ridiculous was mixed with much that was well done. Something must be done which will prevent filibustering.

It is a reflection on the sanity of a senate that such artificial methods should have to be resorted to to prevent undesirable legislation. During the consideration of income tax the senate ordered that every man's income tax returns should be available to the public. In other words, every business man's returns should be open to his rivals, and every man's private affairs should be practically available to every crook and swindler in the country. Nothing could be gained from this amendment to the law and much danger would result. Why did the senate in the first instance pass this amendment?

Reports are beginning to show that the surplus which might be available for tax reduction will be larger than the estimates, and the present figures are that the public debt last year was reduced by much more than a billion dollars. Possibly all of these things are consonant with good administration, but, in the meantime, the present generation is bearing a burden of taxation which would scarcely seem to be necessary. These are things the average voter might think about during the calm of the summer and the political turbulence of the fall.

EUROPEAN TOURISTS

Most people only take a casual interest in the high tide of tourists going abroad each year to Europe. But they all take money with them and spend it abroad. It is pointed out that American tourists' expenditures abroad, remittance by immigrants in the United States to their relatives at home, American charitable contributions to foreign delegations and payments to other countries for freight in combination, almost exactly offset the net amount paid this country by foreigners for interest on their private debts and upon their war debts to the United States government. Thus do these seemingly inconsequential trickles of money abroad really amount to a serious total.

WHY WASTE VACATIONS

The long school vacation will soon be here. Mothers will be glad to get their children out of the school. Many children will get to organized camps. This is very good. Many will simply have a larger freedom. This, too, is good. But freedom can only too easily degenerate into wasteful or evil idleness.

Why not plan a few simple activities for vacation which are unlike those of the school year, or handled differently?

Vacation is above all the time for music study. In a term of six weeks, with two lessons a week, with daily practice in the morning when the world and all the energies are fresh, the student will often accomplish as much as in a whole year of lessons and practice when the energy has been exhausted by the school day.

It is time for handicrafts. Let the girls—even rather young ones—make a simple dress or two, taking it easy and not doing enough in one day to get nervous over it. Can't the boys paint the porch floor or help with the washing? It never hurt a boy yet to hang out a few clothes—and it sure helps mother's back. Why can't the boys learn to cook? They'll have much better time on fishing trips later on if they know a few food principles and can add occasional appetizing variety to the usual bacon, fried potatoes and bad coffee.

Why can't girls put up a few shelves? It never hurt a girl yet to know how to use a hammer, a saw, and a screwdriver properly.

When it comes to reading, why must it all be desultory? Some easy-going reading, some purely idle time, is desirable. Otherwise, what are vacations for? But why not plan a little reading about one subject, whether it be fishing or Peter the Great?

And cannot the family get together a little more, do things on shares, talk things over, have some family good times without anybody else along?

STRAIGHT FORWARD ADVERTISING

When business puts itself publicly on record in the matter of its purposes and ideals, it lifts itself by its spiritual bootstraps. Such a public declaration of decency and honesty enlists the entire community as a cloud of witnesses. The advertiser must produce as advertised or he will surely fail.

Then when a business has a genuine story of sincere service to tell, it must tell it simply and persistently.

Two men delivered speeches about sixty years ago at Gettysburg. One man was the greatest orator of his day, and he spoke for two hours and a half. No one remembers a single sentence of his oration today. The other man spoke less than five minutes, and every school child has at some time learned Lincoln's Gettysburg address and remembered more or less of it all his life.

Advertising should be as simple and direct as the Gettysburg speech, the Lord's prayer and the twenty-third psalm.

Advertising men are constantly being called on by the heads of industries that are in a jam, who want advertising to accomplish for them in three months what they should have been working on for ten years. No thoughtful advertising man will be responsible for the results of such an effort. This business of public relations is a constant business. The fact that his story was told yesterday should not lead any business man into the delusion of believing he does not need to tell it today.—Bruce Barton in the Nation's Business.

GET YOUR STICKER

Michigan's special accident-prevention campaign will come to an official end on June 30. In the meantime, there is already an opportunity for every owner of an automobile to have his car examined for faulty mechanism, brakes, lights, or anything likely to make safe and careful driving impossible. Not only is an official sticker on your car a sign that you are a careful driver, willing to abide by the rules of the road, but it is a badge of good citizenship as well. Don't let the end of the campaign come without complying with this simple request.

STRIVING IN EVERY WAY

Entire responsibility for grade crossing mishaps cannot be laid on railroad companies; most of them must be ascribed to the inexperience or carelessness of drivers these days when vehicular traffic has reached such an enormous volume. At most of the more perilous crossings the railroad companies have flagmen to safeguard the public, and are striving in every way to eliminate these fatalities, as well as those among their passengers.

MONEY IN FEEDING LAMBS AND STEERS

Financial results of feeding lambs and steers during the winter of 1925-26, have been released in a preliminary report by the department of economics and sociology, Colorado Agricultural College.

The figures upon which this report is based were secured from detailed farm records kept by 19 operators in the Greeley area. In making a four-year comparison of lamb feeding and a three-year comparison of cattle feeding it is shown that the man who handles 1,000 lambs per year and 100 steers per year would have $550 total net income from lambs and $170 from cattle, or a total of $720, thus giving a return of approximately $200 per year.

Upon the face of the returns this does not appear to be a very profitable business, but it should be remembered that during the four years each operator had a home market for his alfalfa, barley and other farm raised feeds at prices as high as the local market would offer. This enterprise also provided labor for the operator and his helper during the winter. It was also possible to provide some work for the horses during a slack season of the year.

In addition to these advantages the manure produced was available for soil improvement. No credit was given to either sheep or cattle in these reports for the value of the manure. It is certain that the systematic application of farm manure to the land will result in securing larger crop yields. Larger yields increase the farm income.

When a long-time point of view is taken, and losses are set against gains, the general opinion will tally with the results shown in this report, namely, that the farmer who feeds sheep or cattle, or both, will be ahead at the end of the period. His farm will be in better condition, his crop yields will be greater and his bank account to better shape than the man who relies upon crops for his income.—R. T. Burdick, Associate Economist, Colorado Agricultural College.

Pigs on Big Pastures

Most Likely to Thrive

Among the valuable sidelights on profitable pork production that have been brought out in the swine sanitation work pushed throughout Illinois during the past few years by farm advisers and the college of agriculture, University of Illinois, is the fact that pigs raised on large pastures do better than those confined to a small area.

The average area of pasture allowed for one sow and litter on 100 farms which reported was nine-tenths of an acre. Many sows were kept on a still smaller plot of ground.

Altogether 9,421 pigs were raised in pastures of less than one acre a litter. The number of rafts in these small pastures averaged one runt to each 71 pigs. In pastures a little larger, ranging from one to two acres a litter, there were 2,527 pigs raised and the number of runts was one to each 77 pigs. In pastures of two or more acres a litter there were 1,204 pigs raised and the number of runts was only 1 to 100 pigs.

These figures bear out the common observation that infestation of pigs with worms or germ disease is usually worse when they are confined to small areas, according to E. T. Robbins, live stock extension specialist of the college. Where pigs have a considerable range to roam over they are more likely to keep healthy. Probably in such cases any infestation which may be present is so scattered that the pigs do not get much of it.

Live Stock Facts

Sheep can use profitably a lot of waste feed around the farm.

Alfalfa hay is one of the best feeds available for breeding ewes.

The young hog will make better gains if he gets shade during hot weather.

The size of the hog crop has a pronounced influence upon hog receipts and prices.

The inso who feeds his mother right will have no trouble in feeding the young litter of pigs.

Common salt, lime, phosphorus and iodine are minerals most commonly lacking in live-stock rations.

The cattle feeder who doesn't grow alfalfa hay is 100 years behind the times.

The addition of chopped alfalfa hay and oilmeal to a ration of yellow corn and tankage for hogs greatly increases the efficiency of the ration.

Brood sows should not be fed for at least 24 hours after farrowing. If fed, the sow may become restless and trample on the pigs and the little pigs may scorch or acquire other digestive disorders.

TRAVELING PLUMBING EXHIBIT HERE SOON

Exhibition Car Will Be On Clinton Street, July 12

Home owners and prospective builders in Charlevoix will have an opportunity of seeing the remarkable traveling exhibit of plumbing materials which will visit us on Thursday, July 12. In a big special body built on a motor truck of 223-inch wheelbase will be shown a varied and interesting display of the most modern ideas in bathroom, kitchen and laundry equipment.

Many thousands of people have examined this free exhibit along its route from coast to coast, and have carried away many practical ideas and suggestions for the improvement of their homes.

Within the car is installed a modern built-in bath tub complete with overhead shower and Aqua silk curtain. An attractive combination kitchen sink and laundry tray, a popular fixture which saves space, time and steps is also displayed. Lavatories, closets and other bathroom fixtures and accessories help to make this exhibit complete, in addition to the "Premier" automatic storage gas water heater, Crane Electro-Matic water softener, and for rural sections and suburban towns beyond the reach of city water mains, the efficient Crane automatic water system.

WILL DISPLAY SKILL AT STATE CLUB WEEK

4-H Club Members to Compete for Places on State Fair Contest

Michigan club girls will show their skill with needle and thread at a style show to be held during club week at Michigan State College, July 9 to 13.

The garments which will be exhibited were made as a part of the clothing project in girls winter club work. In addition to this show, there will be judging and demonstration contests in both boys and girls sections which will determine divisional winners who go to Detroit to compete at the State Fair.

The East Lansing camp is one of three club camps to be held in the state. Northern peninsula youngsters gather at Chatham, August 6, and a third camp will be held at Gaylord, August 13.

State club leaders expect 300 club members at the East Lansing camp. For the first time, two local leaders accompany the members from each county, and a leaders training school will be given during the week.

Branches of club work in which contests will be held to determine representatives to go to Detroit are: canning, food study, hot lunch, clothing, livestock, poultry, handicraft, and health.

ALBA BOY KILLED BY FRIGHTENED HORSE

Had Tied 6-Foot Halter Rope to His Hand

Robert Gay, 12-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Gay, living 3 1/2 miles east of Alba, was dragged 65 rods to his death Tuesday afternoon of last week by the horse he was caring for.

The lad's skull was fractured badly, his neck broken, his right arm broken in three places and twisted several times, his right ear torn nearly off, and the skin abraded in many places. The clothes were torn from his body.

The horse had cut her leg badly on a barbed-wire fence, and the veterinary had counseled a little exercise each day. The boy had been leading the horse around, and had sat down on a plow in the yard while he let her graze. He had taken off one shoe, and evidently had the halter rope in a half-hitch around his right hand, while unlacing his shoes.

What frightened the horse is not known, but when the lad screamed an older brother, William, who was hoeing potatoes on the opposite side of the road, saw the horse plunging wildly west on the inside of the farm fence, kicking at every leap. The boy's body was flying in the air and at times was the full length of the halter rope above the horse's back—Mancelona Herald.

BAPTIST CHURCH

The usual services will be held the coming week.

The pastor will discuss the present political situation in the pulpit editorial in the morning service Sunday, and in the evening will conduct a popular service in which the young people will report the Trout Lake Assembly, which closed last Sunday.

There were eight of our young people in attendance and they furnished the program on Saturday evening. They were highly complimented and certainly captured the audience. The pastor, Dr. Burns, gave two addresses, one of them on Sunday morning. This meeting was held at Birch Lodge Hotel with a capacity for three hundred guests, near the village of Trout Lake, on a beautiful lake in a locality so wild that several wild deer and bear were seen and one delegate took home with him a pike that weighed almost fourteen pounds.

The classes were conducted by prominent college professors and their work was of a high order. We hope many more of our young people may be able to go another year.

Rev. Herman Burns, D. D. of this city, spoke at Big Rapids Sunday evening, June 24th, after which two young men students at Ferris Institute accepted the Christian life.

METHODIST CHURCH

John E. Lockyer, Minister

It is earnestly desired that our Sunday school members will keep in mind the new time for church school, 9:30 a. m. and try to attend and so get your religious instruction even if you have other plans for the day.

The church service is at 10:30 and the pastor preaches on "Discovering God."

At 7:30 special features are always added to the service and the topic will be "Giants and Grapes."

The Epworth League meeting convenes at 8:30 p. m. prompt with a program that will appeal to our visiting youth.

Each Tuesday evening at 8 p. m. a social program will be arranged that offers a Get-acquainted opportunity to the young people now in Charlevoix. All are welcome.

Thursday at 7:30 is the weekly church Bible study and prayer hour.

Evolution of Pockets

Man's trousers pocket is said to be just 300 years old, says the Los Angeles Times. Before that time the citizen was wont to carry his petty valuables in a little bag of cloth, which might be tied about the waist. But thieves would slip up behind some fat party in the crowd around the score board and slit the string with a knife—thereby making off with the treasure. So a thoughtful Frenchman sewed the bag in the lining of his garments and thereby instituted the first regular pocket. Now there are 15 pockets in the average suit of clothes and the wife can find them in the dark. What wonderful progress the world has made.

SWINE SANITATION BRINGS RESULTS

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Practical tests in the South of the system of swine sanitation, developed by federal zoologists in McLean county, Illinois, have yielded encouraging results. The purpose of the system is to control swine parasites by a series of preventative measures based on current knowledge of the life history of swine parasites. Records obtained in southern Georgia by Dr. E. M. Nighbert, of the zoological division of the bureau of animal industry of the United States Department of Agriculture, have shown some striking results from the use of the system. In one contrast between two pigs, the animal raised under sanitary conditions was marketed at four months and twenty-three days of age, weighing 173 pounds and topping the market. The other pig was not sold until ten months of age, and even though more than twice as old as the "sanitary" pig, it weighed only 165 pounds.

Doctor Nighbert reports that a number of farmers are using the sanitation system and are making their herds and farms available for experiment and demonstration. One farmer, in commenting on the results, stated: "It is easy to pick out from my herds the pigs that were raised under parasite control. They all look thrifty and smoother and are much larger for their age and period of feeding than the others. Of course, that means much better profits from those so handled."

Ear Diseases of Swine Said to Be Incurable

Pigs and sometimes hogs become infected and inflamed in the middle ear just as children and grown people have infection and pus in the middle ear where the little bones connect the outer drum with the inner drum of the ear. The middle ear of the pig is connected with the pharynx by a tube—the air tube. Pus forms and may press on each ear drum and sometimes ruptures the other drum. At other times it may pass through the inner drum and infect the middle ear. When a pig holds its head tilted to one side and the ear is sensitive and hurts when you catch it by the ear—just as a dog does when it has caker of the ear—it may be due to inflammation of the middle and internal ears. When the outer drum bursts open and lets out the pus temporary relief from pain may come. A graduate veterinarian may open the drum and give temporary relief. No permanent curative operation has been found for the pig. It is best to fatten an affected pig or hog and make pork out of it. Little pigs so affected from an economic point can be destroyed.

Deficiency in Feeding

Is Cause of Paralysis

The causes of paralysis of swine are said to be: (1) Fractures of the loin or back vertebrae; (2) deficiency feed that causes rickets or lack of development of bones in pigs; (3) osteomalacia or removal of bone in grown sows; (4) kidney worm or kidney fat worms; (5) kidney diseases; (6) injuries to the nerve centers; (7) injuries to the loin and back muscles.

The most common cause is deficiency feeding. Feeding brood sows on corn alone, peanuts alone, velvet beans alone, soy beans alone. This means that vitamins is lacking that makes the lime and phosphorus soluble or digestible or assimilable and deposits them in the formation of bone. This vitamin is found in milk, in cod-liver oil, and not in white corn, peanuts, in velvet beans or cottonseed oil.

Swine Sanitation Plan Interesting to Greece

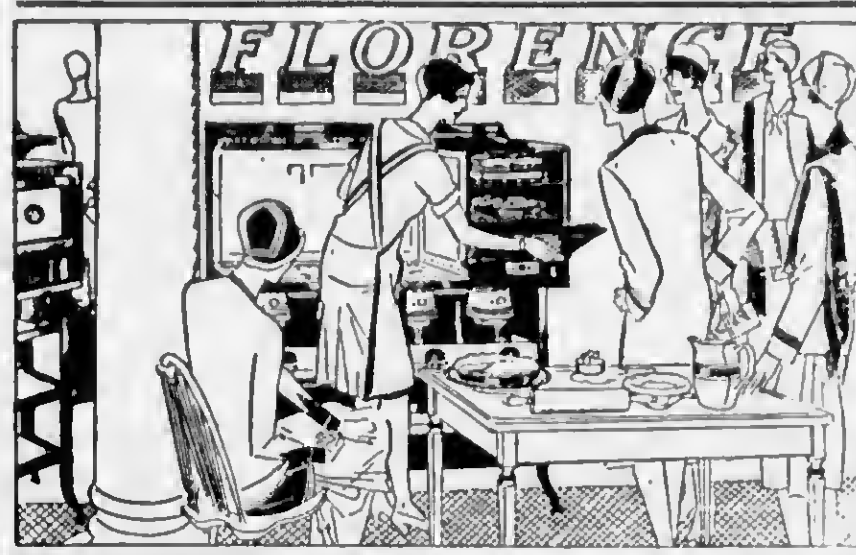

The success of raising pigs in the United States by a method developed by the United States Department of Agriculture for keeping pigs free from intestinal parasites has resulted in requests from foreign sources for a description of the method. One of the most recent letters of inquiry received by the department came from Salonica, Greece.

This demand is one result of the cordial relations which scientists of the zoological division, bureau of animal industry, have with foreign parasitologists. The constant exchange of information and preserved specimens has enabled the United States scientists to build up an index catalogue of animal parasites believed to be the largest in the world.

Hogging Off Peas

The Canadian field pea is a very suitable variety of peas to grow for hog feeding. In a good many localities they are grown and pastured off by hogs during the month of August after they have ripened pretty well. They will provide from four to six weeks of pasture during this part of the year, and if a little corn, barley or mill feed is fed to the pigs while they are pasturing peas, they will do very well and one will get a pretty fair return.

SWIMMING CHAMPIONSHIPS SET FOR SUNDAY, JULY 22ND

Annual Regatta, Charlevoix Open Tennis Tourney, Michigan Riviera and Golf Follow

Jerry Ash, Charlevoix recreational director, has prepared the following list of dates and events covering Charlevoix's annual summer sports activities, the events being planned on a larger and more elaborate scale than in any previous season:

Sunday, July 22—Charlevoix First Annual Swimming Championships.

July 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28 and 29—2nd Annual Charlevoix Open Tennis Tournament.

July 30, 31 and August 1—Charlevoix District Inter-Boys' Camps Tennis Championships.

August 3, 4 and 5—Charlevoix Boat Club 3rd Annual Regatta.

August 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12—Michigan Riviera Tennis Championships.

August 14, 15, 16, 17—Charlevoix 1st Annual Open Golf Tournament.

The first event of the season for 1928 will take place Sunday, July 22nd, at 2:30 p. m., at The Inn pier. The following classes and events in each class will be run off in the Charlevoix Annual Swimming championships. The winners of each event will be declared Charlevoix champions in that event for 1928:

Men's class—Open to those who have passed their eighteenth birthday since January 1, 1928. Events—50-yard swim; 100-yard swim; 50-yard back stroke; plunge for distance; fancy diving (2 set and 3 optional dives); 220-yard swim; 1/2-mile swim.

Ladies' class (same age requirements as men's class)—25-yard swim; 100-yard swim; 50-yard back stroke; fancy diving (3 set and 2 optional dives).

Junior boys' class—(age requirements, 15 to 18 years, inclusive) 50-yard swim; 100-yard swim; 50-yard back stroke; fancy diving (4 set dives).

Junior girls' class (same age requirement as junior boys' class)—25-yard swim; 50-yard swim; 50-yard back stroke; fancy diving (4 set dives).

Boys' class (up to 15 years of age)—50-yard swim; candle race; tin cup race; fancy diving (4 set dives).

Girls' class (same age requirement as boys' class)—25-yard swim; 50-yard swim; tin cup race.

There will also be competitive aquaplane riding to decide the champion aquaplane rider of Charlevoix, and suitable prizes awarded to winners in all events.

The Charlevoix Annual Open Tennis tournament, inaugurated last year, will start Monday, July 23. There will be events in men's singles and doubles, ladies' singles, girls and junior girls' singles, boys' and junior boys' singles. This will decide the tennis champions of Charlevoix and vicinity for 1928 and is open to any player. The tournament will be held (Continued on Page 8)

THIS REPORT, IF TRUE, IS ALMOST BEYOND BELIEF

Complaint has been made to the Courier regarding a certain practice among berry dealers, that if continued, will result in both prosecution and the ruin of their business. We have been told that in several known instances dealers in the fruit such as berries, cherries, etc., have gathered up boxes previously used, carted them home, re-filled them with fruit, and placed them on the market again. If this report is true, the guilty parties should be not only prosecuted, but forbidden the sale of their product to citizens of Charlevoix. Charlevoix dealers in food supplies should do their utmost to stop this practice. Cleanliness in the handling and sale of all food supplies should be the most important factor in our dealings with all local consumers.

PAROLED INDIAN AGAIN IN TOILS OF THE LAW

Isaac Denemy in Jail for Throwing Rocks Through Car Window

Isaac Denemy, local Indian Ind, is the guest of Sheriff Vaughan at the county jail, charged with throwing a stone through the window of Harold Dutcher's coupe last Wednesday night.

The incident occurred while Dutcher was returning from Petoskey with a lady friend. A car following closely behind saw the Indian, so after leaving his friend here, Harold returned to the scene, picked Denemy up and turned him over to the Sheriff.

Denemy was recently released on parole after an automobile stealing escapade, and it is likely he will receive a prison term when he appears before Judge Parin C. Gilbert this week.

CENTRAL FREIGHT ASSN. MEET HERE

REPRESENTATIVES OF LEADING RAILROADS AT THE INN

Sessions Will Last Until Friday—Members and Families Enjoying Hospitality of City

The Central Freight Association with headquarters in Chicago, is holding their 105th annual meeting at The Inn, Charlevoix.

The C. F. A. is a rate making body made up of representatives of all railroads having rails in what is known as the central territory. This organization meets the first Tuesday of each month and this is the first time in its history that a meeting has been held away from its headquarters in the Transportation building, Chicago.

L. E. Oliphant, vice chairman, is presiding over the meeting with the following in attendance: E. D. Austin, W. J. Kelly, F. R. Garrison and C. E. Hochstetle, members of the auxiliary committee; S. J. Witt, A. C. & Y. Ry.; Edward Hart, Jr., E. B. Tullis, B. & O. Ry.; J. J. Clark, C. & E. S. Ry.; F. J. Vanderblue, C. & O. Ry.; A. C. Tully, C. I. & L. Ry.; W. B. Ferguson, C. C. & St. L. Ry.; A. I. Mattson, D. & M. Ry.; F. J. Lantz, Erie Ry.; Jas. Carmon, G. T. Ry.; Ira W. Morris, H. V. Ry.; A. L. Wilson, I. C. Ry.; J. K. Dent, L. & V. Ry.; E. W. Brunch, M. C. Ry.; J. P. Patterson and W. J. Keller, N. Y. C. Ry.; J. H. Day and R. A. Williamson, Nickle Plate Ry.; H. G. Rardin, N. & W. Ry.; W. H. Johnson, P. W. Nash and E. T. Reynolds, P. M. Ry.; C. E. Simpson, P. & L. E. Ry.; R. M. Paisley, P. & W. V. Ry.; A. W. Gill, A. Connor, Southern Ry.; G. G. Early, Wabash Ry.; H. A. Eberhart, W. & L. E. Ry.

It is expected the meeting will last until Friday, as there is a large number of subjects on the docket for consideration.

Many of the members are accompanied by their wives and families, and the party are enjoying all that Charlevoix, and the wonderful hospitality The Inn has to offer. A. J. Creamer, manager of The Inn, is personally looking out for the comforts and pleasures of the visiting freight men and their stay here is being made a pleasant one.

SMALL LOCAL GIRL WAS INJURED LAST THURSDAY

Alice Meyer Burned When Left-Over Firecracker Exploded

Little Alice Meyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Meyer of Antrim street, suffered severe injuries last Thursday morning when a firecracker exploded near her face.

Alice, along with some other children, found a few firecrackers they had overlooked the Fourth and were setting them off in the back yard. One did not explode as soon as the little girl thought it should, but went off in her hands when she picked it up to re-light. Luckily her injuries are not thought to be dangerous.

MOST MODERN PLANT IN UNITED STATES WILL BE STARTED ON NEWAGO PORTLAND CEMENT CO. PROPERTY WITHIN SHORT TIME

Will Bring $25,000.00 Monthly Payroll Into Charlevoix—Channel to Cost $500,000.00 Part of Program Announced by J. B. John

The Courier has been authorized through Robert Bridge, president of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce, and J. B. John, president of the Newago Portland Cement Company, to announce that at least $1,000,000 will be spent for construction of a cement plant on the Newago Portland Cement Company property south of this city within the next 15 months.

We regret that there are few details available at this time concerning the actual dimensions and nature of the plant to be constructed. However, through J. B. John, who conferred with several Charlevoix business men this morning, we have learned the following facts. The plant will be dustless and the most modern in the United States. A channel to cost approximately $50,000 will be dredged in from Lake Michigan to the factory. The finished product will be loaded directly into boats by a blower system and unloaded in the same manner. It is estimated a half million tons of crushed rock will be shipped yearly, part to the plant at Manitowoc, Wis. The monthly payroll will be in the neighborhood of $25,000.00. Building operations are to be started within a short time. Further details will be published as soon as available.

KELLY BROS. STOCK CO. HERE NEXT WEEK

Played to Packed Houses While Here a Year Ago

The Kelly Bros. Stock Co., Michigan's own, will pay their annual visit to Charlevoix next week under the big tent theatre for a six day engagement. They will present plays that are all brand new, peppy, clever vaudeville between acts, and a complete change of program each and every night.

Among the seven plays are "The Awakening of John Slater," a pleasing mixture of pathos and comedy. "The Push," a gem of dramatic construction with a happy blend of comedy. "Sainted Hypocrites and Honest Sinners," a truly great, all powerful play. "The Vulture," super mystery thriller. "The Call of the Pines," a story of the north woods, and the big feature farce comedy and New York success, "In the Wrong Bed."

This season's cast are all capable artists of ability. The leading man and lady, George and Bess Henderson will be remembered as last season's favorites. Wilful Myll, the juvenile man, formerly with the Bonstelle Co. of Detroit, Harry Hague, the villain last season with the Wright players of Toledo, Ohio, Will Wright, formerly of the Woodland Players, Elwood Benton and Mae Clarke, musical comedy favorites of the original Bringing Up Father company, Madalin Louebert, dainty ingenue, last season with National Players, and Larry Nolan, comedian, round out the well balanced company of artists.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly, Miss Pat Kelly and Master Ted Kelly will greet their patrons at the door and each night will be a treat to the lovers of the best spoken drama. Don't forget they open here Monday night, July 15, at 8 o'clock.

ANNUAL PICNIC AT WHITING PARK

COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOLS GATHER THERE NEXT THURS.

Basket Dinner, Program of Games, Sports, etc., and Prominent Speakers to Take Part

Every Sunday school in Charlevoix county is invited to participate in the basket picnic at Whiting Park (just across the ferry from Ironton) next week Thursday, July 19th. Parents, relatives and friends will be welcome.

It is planned to have dinner at 12 o'clock, central standard time. Bring plenty of sandwiches, a potluck dish of food to pass, also lemons and sugar for lemonade, plate, cup, spoon etc. There will be ice cream for sale on the grounds.

After dinner there will be music, addresses, competitive games, a tug of war and a Treasure Hunt. Prizes are offered for the following races and stunts:

50 yard race for boys and girls from 8 to 10 years of age.

75 yard race for boys and girls from 10 to 12 years of age.

Three leg race for boys over 12.

Relay race for girls over 12.

Obstacle race for boys and girls over 12.

Wheelbarrow race for boys of 10 years and over.

High jump for girls of 10 years and over.

Discus throw for men.

Rolling pin hurl for women, etc., etc.

The picnic is under the auspices of the County S. S. Association with the following committees in charge:

General—Rev. and Mrs. Pye, Rev. Miller, Rev. Hufton, Mr. Walker.

Games, stunts and races—Miss Seccord, Rev. Lockyer.

Treasurer Hunt—Miss Black, Rev. Mattson.

Singing—Rev. Miller.

Band Music—Mr. Kirby.

Judge Gilbert, Rev. Burns and others have been invited to speak, but the committee is unable to report at present just who is available for the addresses.

FAMOUS STARS BURNED CLOTHING FOR FLARES

Party Marooned in Motorboat Returning From Beaver Island

Bennie Oosterbaan is minus a perfectly good shirt and Frank Harrison a pair of trousers as the result of their being marooned 3 miles off Charlevoix in a motor boat last Wednesday night.

The article of apparel were burned in place of flares to notify local coast guards of their predicament when their motor stalled, and Bennie said if they had been freed to signal much longer it would have been necessary for the whole party to wear life preservers home.

Harrigan and Oosterbaan, Phil Northrup, Ernest Ray and Dr. Carthart, all noted U. of M. athletes, were returning from Beaver Island in John Knight's motorboat when the motor stalled. At the island, Bennie pitched Charlevoix to a 14 to 0 victory of the island team, while Harrigan and Northrup starred in the field and hit bat. All of the party, with the exception of Knight, are connected with the staff of a boys' camp north of Petoskey.

NEW DEPARTMENT OPENED AT FESSENDEN STORE

Latest Equipment Installed in Photographic Room—Other Additions

Probably the most up-to-date photographic department in Northern Michigan has recently been installed and is now open for business at Fessenden's drug store.

The dark room has been built in the basement, and the latest equipment installed for the work. The room is electrically ventilated, has electric drying plates, in fact has been equipped and arranged so as to handle an unlimited volume of work in the shortest possible time. Oscar P. North is in charge.

Another noticeable addition at the store is a new electrical illuminating system in the show cases. A large electrically illuminated pen case and a large addition to the candy display have been installed.

OUTBOARD BOATS HAVE BUSY WEEK

RACES AT EAST JORDAN AND FRANKFORT DRAW CROWDS

M. Roy Brady's C.U-Later Places in Money in Three Events at the Two Regattas Staged

Northern Michigan outboard speed boat fans have not been lacking for entertainment during the past week. Thousands saw the races at the Fourth of July celebration at East Jordan last Wednesday and last Friday. Frankfort staged a very successful regatta on the final day of their 4-day celebration.

Rough water made it hard going at East Jordan last Wednesday and few of the ten boats there for the races were able to finish. The first contest was a walk-away for the C-U-Later, entered and driven by M. Roy Brady of the Brady Boat company, Charlevoix. Grand Traverse Baby, driven by Bill Sledak of Traverse City, took second, and Lt. driven by Frank Hoard of Traverse City, was third.

The second race was to have been a class C event, but owing to lateness was made a free-for-all. C-U-Later, driven by a youth of Walloon Lake, held a comfortable lead until she tipped over rounding n'buoy. Three other boats, the Grand Traverse Baby, Smith-Craft of Charlevoix and Miss Petoskey of Petoskey, did not finish. First and second places were taken by the Barbara Jane and Mary Louise, both owned by H. D. Smith of Fisherman's Paradise.

Ten class B and eight class C boats were entered in the regatta at Frankfort last Friday. First place in the B event went to the Grand Traverse Baby, 2nd to Zim and 3rd to C-U-Later, M. Roy Brady's entry. In the class C race three Brady-built boats took 1st, 2nd and 3rd places. Miss Petoskey led the way and was followed closely by the C-U-Later and My Baby of Cadillac, in the order named. These three boats started an exciting race, running closely to the finish. The other boats had nearly a lap to go when the Brady boats finished.

MAYOR MADE APPOINTMENTS MONDAY EVENING

No Change in City Officials—Appointments Were Confirmed

The following appointments of city officials was made by Mayor Bergeon and confirmed by the common council at their regular meeting Monday evening:

City Attorney, Arthur L. Flteh. Chief of Police, W. J. Weikel. Street Commissioner, Archie L. Alcock.

Health Officer, Dr. R. B. Armstrong.

City Surveyor, Robert F. Sloan. Harbor Master, Sam Hamilton. Fire Chief, Henry Marshall.

All night garage service during the resort season. Benj. Brown garage.—Adv. 28-tf.

Wexstaff's Barbecue now open for the season.—Adv. 28-t2.

REGATTA PLANS ARE BEING MADE

BOAT CLUB OFFICERS ELECTED AT MEETING LAST FRIDAY

Regatta Program Laid Out, Officials Chosen and Details for Event Discussed Tuesday

If the enthusiasm of members of the Charlevoix Boat Club is any criterion, Charlevoix's 3rd annual regatta, dates of which have been set for August 3, 4 and 5, will be the greatest ever held in Northern Michigan.

The first meeting of the club was held last Friday morning at the Charlevoix State Savings Bank. A general discussion of plans for the coming event was held and new officers elected for the year as follows:

Commodore, Julius Gilbert, Detroit.

Vice Commodore, John Knight, Kalamazoo.

1st rear Commodore, S. S. Pingree, St. Louis, Mo.

2nd rear Commodore, Hamilton Moses, Chicago.

Treasurer, Robert Bridge.

Secretary, Maude E. Brady.

The club met again Tuesday morning, with all officers present, and the serious business of laying out the regatta program was taken up. First, it is important to know that Charlevoix's 3rd annual is officially sanctioned by the Mississippi Valley Power Boat Association with which the local club is affiliated. An official of the M. V. P. B. A. will act as starter and all records made will be recognized the world over. Three world's records were set here last year, and one, made by the 725 class hydroplane, Miss Charlevoix, still stands.

The first question taken up at the meeting Tuesday was that of using The Inn pier for contestants only. It was decided that only those wearing official competitor's ribbons would be allowed on the pier this year, thus giving the racing men a place to dock, leave their extra motor and supplies. In this way considerable confusion and inconvenience will be avoided.

Gerald Ash, city recreational director, was named a committee of one to take complete charge of tickets sales previous to and during the regatta. A set admission charge of 25 cents will be charged this year, although the charge is not compulsory. It is hoped that our citizens and summer visitors will gladly buy tickets and programs to help finance the affair, which, in all intent, is put on for their entertainment.

It was also decided to publish a special edition, to be known as the Regatta Edition; previous to the event for publicity purposes. The special edition will be similar to the Polar Bear number issued last winter to stimulate interest in winter sports. The speed boat program for Sunday, August 5, will be made up of the following events:

Free for all displacement race.

150 h. p. runabouts, 2 heats, 3 laps each.

Surf boat riding contest.

SAFE AND SANE FOURTH COSTS 239 LIVES IN THE U. S.

Fourth of July accidents in the United States claimed 239 lives, a United Press survey of casualties has revealed.

Driven to bathing beaches and the open country by the intense heat, scores of men, women and children lost their lives by drowning, the premature explosion of fireworks, prostration, and in airplane and traffic accidents.

The totals, as reported by the United Press correspondents throughout the country, show the greatest toll. There were 115 drownings.

Traffic accidents claimed 76 lives, fireworks 18, prostration 20 and airplanes 5.

CORRESPONDENCE

BARNARD

Haying time. . .
John Smith and Mr. Dhaseler spent the Fourth at Beaver Island.
Mr. and Mrs. Russell Alger and son, Eugene of Lansing, are visiting a few days with their uncle, Howard Cornell and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Scofield and son, Kenneth of Detroit, and Mrs. Timmer and daughter, of Wilson, visited their cousins, the Clyde Smith family, on Friday last.

Mr. Dougherty and son, Robert, and John Clark went to Grand Rapids Saturday night, returning Sunday, to bring Clara Dougherty home after her recent operation. She is feeling much better and we hope she will be completely recovered soon.

Barnard certainly celebrated the glorious Fourth in fine style. The speech by Rev. Rosebaum of Atwood and the band music were much enjoyed and the ball games, races and sports in general were all partaken of with much enthusiasm. The freak auto race was one of the most amusing features. Verne McGhan was the winner. Several hundred people were present and all voted it a most enjoyable day.

ROAD RIGHT OF WAY CHANGED

Side Streets and State Routes Share, Neither Having Preference

"Through highways" have the right-of-way over side roads only when proper stop signs are erected on the side roads, Attorney General Wilber M. Brucker informed the state highway department in an opinion.

By this ruling cars traveling on recognized arterial highways, both state and national, must share responsibility for crashes equally with cars coming from side roads, unless proper markers are erected on the side roads.

Hundreds of intersections in Michigan are not designated so as to give the right-of-way to the through highways, under this opinion, and it is expected action will be taken at once to mark all unmarked intersections so that the through traffic will be protected in accordance with general understanding and practice.

GROESBECK MEN TRY COMBACK

GEORGE LORD TO OPPOSE SENATOR VANDENBERG

Opposition Group Endorse Fred
Woodworth For Lieutenant Governor

The foundation for a campaign battle against state administration Republicans was laid in Detroit last Thursday at a meeting of about 125 men, mostly members of the Detroit Republican club, of which State Senator Arthur E. Wood is president.

George Lord, former chairman of the state tax commission was designated as the candidate to oppose Senator Arthur E. Vandenberg for re-nomination, and George Welsh, of Grand Rapids, was named to oppose the re-nomination of Governor Fred W. Green.

Senator Wood, who was present but denied he had called the meeting, said that Fred L. Woodworth, collector of internal revenue at Detroit, would be a candidate for lieutenant-governor, opposing the probable administration choice, Senator Seth Q. Pulver, of Owosso. At Wood's suggestion, Woodworth's candidacy was endorsed.

Lord was an appointee of Governor Groesbeck. Welsh was lieutenant-governor under Groesbeck and his right hand man in the state senate. He was defeated for re-nomination in 1926 by Luren D. Dickinson, who had support of the Green forces.

The suggestion of his name as a senatorial candidate came as a big surprise, and Lord stated, adding it would take several days before he could make a decision on acceptance. Neither Welsh nor Woodworth would indicate their stand.

Woodworth conferred recently in Lansing with Governor Green, supposedly regarding announcement of his candidacy for the lieutenant governorship. The governor has been said to favor Pulver's candidacy, which he refuses to deny of affirm.

The candidates who are in the hands of their friends, often get into more trouble than when they are under the feet of their enemies.

EDITORIALS CONTINUE THE SAFETY CAMPAIGN

Michigan has just concluded a state-wide campaign for safe driving upon the highways. Motorists were asked to see that their cars were in perfect mechanical condition, that they obey the simple rules of the road, to take every precaution that safety and good judgment demanded.

This policy closely adhered to, will result in cutting down automobile accidents to a minimum—it will be the means of saving many human lives.

Now that the campaign is ended much is left to each individual motorist. Brakes soon get out of order, lights have a faculty of suddenly growing dim, a car without attention becomes dangerous when driven upon the roads. The campaign will have been unusually successful if we remember some of the essential things it has taught us.

OUR NATIONAL HOSTESS

Just as the hostess in each home determines the comfort or discomfort every guest feels in that home, the first lady in the land in the White House becomes an important figure, typifying the national hostess. If through personal endowment and social experience, she is well qualified for her big task, our nation may well congratulate itself.

In considering the possibilities of feminine occupants of the White House, the gifts and training of Mrs. Herbert Hoover stand out prominently. As head of the National Girl Scouts, she has shown herself a skilled executive. She writes cleverly and intelligently and is the author of a charming biography, "When Mrs. Coolidge Was a Girl." Her travels have carried her into far places as the companion of her engineer husband. The knowledge gained in those travels of manners, laws, literature, customs and climates that are strange to most of us, has led Mrs. Hoover's sympathetic understanding of international problems and peoples. This understanding would be particularly precious in the President's wife with world conditions as they are today.

A person of real individuality, social charm, and wide experience, Mrs. Hoover is outstandingly fitted to act as partner in the exacting social and diplomatic duties that fall to our chief executive.

Dishes, Cottage sets, Dishes. See our windows. Charlevoix Hardware Co.—Adv. 28-11.

INDUSTRY AND POLITICS
During the past year, as well as in preceding years, industry has progressed steadily and because of conservation management set-backs have not been serious and the country continues to enjoy a good measure of prosperity. Has any of this prosperity been due to politics? The fact is that it has all been due to management and whatever defects there may have been in our prosperity have been due to politics.

Shall we encourage absurd legislation which will hamstring all business into a condition where panic and depression are inevitable? On several occasions President Coolidge has pointed out the danger of political interference in the business affairs of the nation. He has stood foursquare for a wider expression of individual initiative as against government bureaucracy and paternalism. Only in the present Republican nominee is the country assured a continuance of the Coolidge policies. We do not believe the people are going to be deceived into voting any other way.

SMART AFFAIR AT THE BELVEDERE PARTY ROOM

Mrs. G. E. Redpath Entertained With Bridge-Dinner Party

Mrs. G. E. Redpath of Chicago, former Charlevoix resident, entertained with a bridge-dinner party last Thursday evening, it being the opening social function in the party room at the Belvedere Hotel.

The room was very prettily decorated with snap dragons and baby breath for the occasion. Place cards of an unusual design were used and we learn the favors were a distinct novelty. Guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bridge, Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Partridge, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lewis, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Wilkinson, Dr. W. W. Mitchell, Mrs. Lillian Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Livingston, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bridge, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence F. Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Cooper.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Sacrament" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, July 8.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Jesus saith unto them, Come and dine. And none of the disciples durst ask him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord." (John 21:12.)

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "This spiritual meeting with our Lord in the dawn of a new light is the morning meal when Christian Scientists commemorate. They bow before Christ, Truth, to receive more of his reappearing and silently to commune with the divine principle, Love." (p. 35.)

AEROPLANE IN CRASH AT EAST JORDAN

Pilot and Two Passengers Are Slightly Injured

East Jordan had its first airways accident Tuesday evening of last week. A Michigan Airways plane, piloted by Elmer VanSickle, and with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Nowland of East Jordan as passengers, attempted a take-off from the field next to the Fair Grounds.

Owing evidently to light wind, the plane failed to rise properly and Pilot VanSickle saw that the plane was about to crash into a high tension electric light wire. In attempting to turn, one of the wings caught the ground and the plane's motor dug in to the ground leaving the plane upright with motor in the earth.

The impact threw the occupants about and they sustained minor injuries. Mrs. Nowland fainted and it was several hours before she recovered. The pilot received a broken tooth and other minor face injuries.

It is estimated that it will cost about $1,000 to make repairs on the plane. At present it is stored in one of the fair ground buildings.

Pilot VanSickle and mechanic, have returned to their Lansing headquarters.

SIX SOUND REASONS

why every business man, business woman and housewife should have a checking account:

1. Convenience.
 2. A check is a legal receipt.
 3. A constant record of your funds—an automatic bookkeeping system.
 4. Appearance—a business-like method for handling financial affairs.
 5. Always available to meet emergencies.
 6. One of the best of all references.
- Your checking account with this bank will be keenly appreciated, and we will serve you as we would be served were conditions reversed.

City Clerk.

AT THE MOVIES

This Goose Not Such a Goose!

"Bozo," heralded as the world's only trained goose, has an important role in "Lady Be Good," First National's farce comedy coming next Friday to the Palace Theatre.

Bozo's amazing display of intelligence at following orders and performing tricks keeps him working constantly in pictures, and he supports his owner in comparative luxury.

Bozo is his owner's only visible means of support, but does so well at it that no other occupation seems necessary.

Helen of Troy An Ideal Beauty

In one respect, at least, the role of "Helen Troy" is an impossible one to enact.

So declares Maria Corda, noted European dancer and actress, who is introduced to the American screen in the title role of First National's spectacular picturization of "The Private Life of Helen Troy," coming to the Palace Theatre on July 16 and 17.

"Helen has always been accepted as the ideal—the epitome of beauty," Miss Corda says. "From our earliest school days we have read and studied of Helen and her matchless beauty."

Screen's Best Villain Imagines His Characters

William Powell, who won recognition in the film world by his work in "Beau Ceste," in which he portrayed the sneaking renegade, hopes to surpass that performance in "The Lost Command," which reaches the Palace Theatre for 2 days, beginning Wednesday. Mr. Powell supports the great Emil Jannings in this picture, and it was his good work in the Legion picture that won for him a role in the cast of Jannings' newest picture for Paramount.

Mix Chose Western Wilds for Shooting

Some of the most dangerous and rugged spots in America were chosen for the locale of the new Tom Mix vehicle, "Tumbling River," to be shown at the Majestic Theatre Saturday and Sunday.

Milton Sills Has Great 2-in-1 Role in "The Hawk's Nest"

Milton Sills, without resorting to a dual role, enacts two distinct characterizations in his First National starring production, "The Hawk's Nest," which will open at the Palace Theatre Saturday and Sunday.

Announcement

I desire to announce to my friends and all voters in Charlevoix county that I am a candidate for nomination and re-election for County Treasurer on the Republican ticket at the primary September 4, 1928. I feel that my past experience has fitted me better than ever before to discharge the duties of the office. If nominated and elected I shall continue to give the same service and effort as in the past. Joseph William Flanders—Adv. 25-24.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The Sunday services begin with the session of the church school at 9:30 a. m.

The morning worship is at 10:30 with sermon by the pastor on the subject: "The Self Written Record."

The evening meeting of the Endeavor Society is at 6:30. The leader will be Marian Tyler. An announcement of special interest is that Miss Helen Armstrong will speak, giving an account of the recreation work with which she has been connected with the schools and social settlements in Chicago. These meetings are attended by adults as well as by young people and all who are interested and especially many friends of Miss Armstrong will want to hear her message.

Our summer attendants at the morning service are returning in goodly numbers. We give them most hearty welcome. Their presence is always an inspiration. Dr. Jones of Evanston, assisted last Sunday in conducting the service of the Lord's supper.

For next Sunday morning, July 15, it is expected that a solo will be rendered by Mr. Rogers, one of our summer visitors. Other special music will be announced week by week.

Tronten service at 2:30; Charlevoix midweek service, Thursday, 7:30.

Washing, Polishing and Tire Repairing is a part of the all night garage service at the Benj. Brown garage—Adv. 28-1f.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH

Holy Masses: Sunday, 6:00 and 9:00 a. m.

Saturday and Monday, 7:00 a. m. Father Odillo, Pastor.

Dodge Brothers Standard Six is the fastest car, with the fastest pick-up, under a thousand dollars.

HOWEVER

That is only HALF the story. The IMPORTANT point is that this exceptional speed is made practical by Dodge ruggedness of chassis and body construction

OTHERS

Might succeed in building a car at this price with equal SPEED, but to do so successfully they would also have to build a car with equal STURDINESS . .

AND

That is where Dodge Brothers, with years of experience in building a dependable low-cost product, are years ahead of the field.

YOU

Week's Outing at Belvedere Hotel
Looked Forward to With Great Pleasure by Assembly

The following article, taken from The Michigan Councillor, official mouthpiece of Detroit Assembly, Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus, who plan a week's outing at the Belvedere Hotel starting July 16th, speaks in glowing terms of everything Charlevoix and the hotel has to offer for their entertainment. The article follows:

"Members of Detroit Assembly and their ladies contemplating joining us for our week's outing at the Belvedere Hotel at Charlevoix, Mich., July 16 to July 23, have in store for them one of the greatest vacations ever offered."

That from William A. Sloan, faithful navigator of Detroit Assembly, Fourth Degree, who, with John Wagner, Jr., faithful comptroller, returned a few days ago from an inspection trip of the Belvedere Hotel, its facilities and the surrounding territory.

"It is positively a steal, what we are receiving for our $35 per person," Sloan continued stating that that is the price per person for the outing including room, meals, and the privileges of the hotel facilities. Situated as it is in the heart of the vacation land of Northern Michigan, the Belvedere is ideally located for such a party as we plan. It is on the shores of three lakes—Lake Michigan, Lake Charlevoix and Round Lake.

"Boating, fishing, and swimming facilities are the best and anyone attending can rest assured that we will make the best use of all the hotel offers in that respect," Sloan said, with no little enthusiasm.

The faithful navigator was particularly impressed with the beautiful golf course that is maintained for the hotel guests.

"It is one of the sportiest and best courses I have ever played on, and devotees of the game in our party can rest assured that hours of pleasure are ahead of them when they tee off on that course. It is magnificent and no words of mine can suitably and adequately picture it to your mind," he said.

Edward Charron, faithful captain, is delighted with the number of reservations that have been turned in to the faithful comptroller, John Wagner.

"When announced, we hoped that the outing would meet with favor with the members of the Detroit Assembly," Charron said Sunday, adding that there is no doubt as to the assembly's taking all of the limited 100 reservations.

The dead line on reservations was originally set at June 30, but such has been the response that Charron and the other officers of the assembly, after communicating with officers of the Belvedere, are able to announce that rooms and accommodations will be available until almost the day of the affair.

"That gives us a wide range, but it is our advice to the members and their ladies that they make their reservations now in order to assure accommodations," Charron said.

It is expected that most of the party will drive to Charlevoix, but for those who have not cars, Charron stated, that the trip could be made over the Pere Marquette railroad, which has a depot opposite the hotel.

Faithful Navigator Sloan said the Fourth Degree members throughout the state had been invited to join the party through their navigators.

under the auspices of the Charlevoix Tennis Club. Suitable loving cups will be posted for the winners. The last year's winners in the open were Gordon Parker of Charlevoix, men's singles; Mrs. S. P. Frankel of New York City, ladies' singles; Miss Freda Birge of St. Louis, Mo., girls' singles; William Connett, St. Louis, Mo., boys' singles; M. Alexander, Chicago, junior boys' singles.

The 3rd annual regatta of the Charlevoix Boat Club is set for August 3, 4 and 5. If the interest now being shown is any forerunner, it will be the biggest event of its kind in the northern states this summer.

Following the regatta we will have what is known this year in tennis circles as Michigan's Riviera Tournament, which takes the place of the Western Michigan Championships, played here for the last two years, and this year at Battle Creek.

A large entry list of the foremost players in the country has already been received and other entries are coming in daily. John Hennessey, previous winner for two years of the Western tourney held in our city, has sent in his entry from London, England. It will be his first appearance in America after the Davis cup matches in Europe. He may bring George Lott, Jr., with him, another member of the Davis cup team. An effort is being made to get William (Big) Bill Tilden, perhaps the most famous of any in the tennis world today, to come to the Charlevoix tournament.

The full details for the First Annual Open Golf tournament are now being prepared and will be published at an early date.

All entries to any of the above events may be made with Jerry Ash, The Inn, Charlevoix; Charlevoix Association of Commerce, or Charlevoix Courier.

NEW CRUISER AT THE CHICAGO CLUB

OSCAR W. JOHNSON HAS ELCO FORTY-TWO MODEL

Craft Delivered Here Last Week From Bayonne, New Jersey—Has Excellent Appointments

Newest among the pleasure craft at Charlevoix is a 42-foot Elco cruiser delivered here last week for Oscar W. Johnson at the Chicago Club of Charlevoix.

The new craft, which is known as an Elco Forty-Two, is of the raised deck type with trunk cabin aft and enclosed deckhouse between. A powerful and seaworthy boat with splendid protection and good tank capacities, she is well able to make extended cruises under any conditions. While the boat is entirely under the control of one person, she is large enough to warrant carrying a paid hand and quarters are fitted for him in the engine room.

The Forty-Two is altogether a most comfortable and livable boat. Her deckhouse and below deck arrangements make cruising as enjoyable in bad weather as in pleasant. The deckhouse itself is a particularly desirable feature of the boat. Sashless sliding plate glass windows can be adjusted to give the effect of an open deck, or closed to afford complete protection against cold and wet weather.

A companionway from the deckhouse leads directly to the forward cabin, an attractive, livable room finished in white with mahogany trim, attractive upholstery and tastefully chosen curtains and carpet. With two comfortable berths and a completely equipped lavatory, the cabin provides commodious sleeping quarters for two.

The after cabin, entered from the deckhouse, is also roomy and comfortable. There are two berths, with mattresses and box springs. At the after end a bureau with a large mirror and ample drawer-space is provided. There is a connecting lavatory on the port side, and opposite is a full length clothes locker. This cabin is finished in white with mahogany. Large windows provide a desirable amount of light and air. Upholstery, curtains, lighting fixtures and similar fittings have been carefully selected.

The galley is of a size usually found only on much larger craft. It is separate from the forward cabin and accessible through a hatch on deck so that meals may be prepared without disturbing the occupants of the cabin. It is equipped with a white enamel gas range with oven. Over the stove is a metal warming cupboard. There is unusual storage space for provisions. The combination hatch and skylight makes loading stores and ice easy, and provides additional light and air.

The deckhouse is entirely enclosed and fitted with large plate glass sliding windows and adjustable roller shades. There is a comfortably upholstered divan, also plenty of floor space for chairs. Side decks are amply wide to allow passage. The after deck is large enough for four chairs, an excellent lounging place. An awning extends from the deckhouse to the after end of the vessel, sheltering both the stateroom and the after deck.

The boat is regularly equipped with 9 1/2 ft. dinghy carried in chocks on the after cabin trunk and easily launched or taken aboard by means of davits.

The engine room is directly beneath the deckhouse. It has full headroom at the after end, which makes it practical as a living space for a paid hand, and has working headroom throughout the remainder.

The engine room bulkheads are double planked and very strong. Ventilation is unusually well provided for by louvers on each side of the deckhouse and an uptake at the after end. A full length hanging locker is fitted which, with the lockers under the seat, provides space for the paid hand's clothing. A folding wash basin and toilet have been installed.

The Elco 6-cylinder Marine engine, especially developed for Elco boats, gives a speed of 12 to 13 miles per hour. It is characterized by its simple and dependable operation.

Grover Geneit is running the new craft. The Johnsons now have two boats at Charlevoix, a 6-meter sail boat named "Question" and the new cruiser which they have named the "Answer."

FREIGHT RATE MAKERS CLOSE SUCCESSFUL MEET

C. F. A. Members Laid in Praise of Charlevoix and The Inn

The Central Freight Association closed their 105th annual meeting at The Inn last Friday. Members were unanimous in their opinion that the meeting at Charlevoix was one of the most successful and enjoyable ever held by the organization.

One of the closing events of the convention was a banquet given in honor of the visitors and their families Thursday evening by Andrew I. Creamer, manager of The Inn, with several Charlevoix business men as guests. E. T. Reynolds, representative of the Pere Marquette Ry., was master of ceremonies for the evening. He first called upon Mr. Creamer, who gave a short talk in which he emphasized Charlevoix as Michigan's greatest resort and ended by extending an invitation to the C. F. A. to hold their meeting at Charlevoix each summer. In response the association's secretary thanked The Inn management for the wonderful service the organization had rendered them during their stay. He also stated that every possible pressure would be brought to bear to have the annual July meeting in Charlevoix in the future. This announcement was greeted with enthusiastic applause by members of the association.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT TO OPEN TUESDAY

CHARLEVOIX 2nd ANNUAL MEET ATTRACTING ATTENTION

Advance Entries Include Many Prominent Players Summering to the North—Cups to Winners

More than ordinary interest is being shown in the 2nd Annual Charlevoix Open Tennis tournament, which opens at The Inn clay courts next Monday, July 23. While few of those players prominent in last year's tournament are in Charlevoix this year, advance entries promise a large field and plenty of competition.

There will be events in the men's singles and doubles, ladies' singles, girls and junior girls' singles, boys' and junior boys' singles. This tournament will decide the tennis champions of Charlevoix and vicinity for 1928 and is open to any player. The event is held under the auspices of the Charlevoix Tennis Club and suitable loving cups will be posted for the winners.

The last year's champions were: W. Gordon Parker of Charlevoix, men's singles; Mrs. S. P. Frankel of New York City, ladies' singles; Miss Freda Birge, St. Louis, Mo., girls' singles; William Connert, St. Louis, Mo., boys' singles; M. Alexander, Chicago, junior boys' singles.

Those wishing to enter the tournament are asked to make entries with Mr. Fox at the Belvedere, Archie L. Livingston at the Charlevoix State Bank, or Jerry Ash at The Inn. Entries close at 6:00 p. m. July 23rd. The tournament closes Sunday, July 29th.

K. OF C. MEMBERS ARE ENJOYING THEIR OUTING

Golf and Cards Most Popular Entertainment—Take Several Trips

Members of Detroit Assembly, Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus with their families are having the run of the Belvedere Hotel this week while on their week's summer outing.

Wednesday thirty members of the party made the trip to Mackinac Island, remained there for lunch and had dinner enroute home. Thursday morning at 9:30 a group picture will be taken of the visitors and the usual round of golf follows. A motor trip to Cross Village is on the program for Thursday with a basket picnic. A daily golf tournament is in progress with three prizes posted for the winners. Another popular entertainment is bridge with prizes awarded the winners.

Members of the Knights of Columbus say they are having the "time of their life," and spare no praise for Charlevoix and the Belvedere Hotel and management.

MAIL CARRIERS GO TO E. JORDAN

ANNUAL CONVENTION THERE THREE DAYS NEXT WEEK

Splendid Program Arranged For Both Men and Women. City Will Assist in Entertaining

Rural mail carriers of Michigan—the men who work their way through the snow filled roads of Northern Michigan and the cold wind-swept regions of Southern Michigan each winter—the men who come in contact with Michigan's great rural population each week-day of the year are coming to this city on Lake Charlevoix on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, July 24, 25 and 26, for their annual convention. At the same time their auxiliary will hold its convention there.

H. Thrall, president of the Five county society of Northern Michigan, will extend a welcome to the visitors to open the two conventions. Then the men will go to their convention ball and the women to the place for their sessions for their official business. Mayor H. W. Dicken of East Jordan, is to extend that city's welcome and L. G. Blackman of Lansing, is to respond. Postmaster W. A. Stroebe of East Jordan, also is to welcome the visiting members of Uncle Sam's great army of mail distributors. W. G. Armstrong of Niles, is the president of the state society and will take part in the opening day's program. C. C. Wenrich of the division of rural mails at Washington headquarters, is a first day speaker. A tour of the region and a social session complete the first day's doings.

Speakers for the second day include Mrs. Dora Stockman, lecturer of the Michigan State Grange, and Rep. F. P. Bohn, Newberry and Francis G. Blair, Illinois state superintendent of public instruction. Election of officers is the big business of the third day.

Mrs. Edith M. Josenhans of Owosso, is president of the auxiliary and will have charge of that convention. Reports of officers, committees, resolutions, etc., will come up at both conventions as a big part of their convention work.

WINDER DENTAL SUITE ROBBED OF VALUABLES

Part of Stolen Gold Sold at Potosky Jewelry Establishment

A part of the gold stolen from Dr. C. J. Winder's dental offices last Tuesday evening when a robber entered the suite, has been located at Little Will's jewelry shop in Potosky, where it had been sold by the culprit.

Besides a round $65 worth of scrap gold and some finished work, Dr. Winder reported the loss of about $100 worth of dental broaches and a quantity of cocaine. Many other articles of great value had not been touched. It is thought the robber was a dope fiend, for it is also believed he entered Dr. Armstrong's offices the same day of the evening of the Winder robbery.

Although no definite clues have been found at this time, officers are working on the case and hope to apprehend the robber within a short time.

MANCERONA TO BOND FOR SCHOOL BUILDING

Proposition Carried at Special Election Last Monday

Monday's school election on the proposition to bond for $38,000, and to use $13,000 already voted and on hand, for an addition to the main building, carried by a vote of nearly 2 to 1. The vote was 106 to 57.

The board of education had already made all the plans possible for forwarding the work if the proposition should carry, and immediately got busy. It is expected the building can be completed and ready for use by the end of the year.

The plans call for an addition 90x78 feet in size, two stories high. The center portion will be a general purpose room and gymnasium. This will be 60x43 feet, with a chair sitting for 450, balcony chairs 75, corridor chairs 75—total seating capacity, 600. There will be a commodious stage, girls' and boys' locker rooms, showers, etc.

On the same floor will be rooms for Household Arts and Manual Training.

On the second floor, surrounding the general purpose room, will be a class room, music room, fourth grade room, janitor's room, etc.—Mancelona Herald.

TWO TICKETS IN FIELD THIS FALL

COUNTY DEMOCRATS FILE PETITIONS LATE TUESDAY

Two Republican Candidates Seek Register of Deeds Job—Other Incumbents Have Opponents

For the first time in many years of its political history, Charlevoix county has practically a full ticket of Democratic candidates seeking nomination for county offices at the September primary.

Persistent rumors that all present office holders would have opposition when they came up for re-nomination for another term this fall have proven true. The Democratic group worked under cover, however, and their intention to seek political berths did not become known until shortly before the time for filing nomination petitions closed at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Frank F. Bird, present register of deeds, is the only incumbent who will have Republican opponent, there now being three in the field for the register's office.

Following is the complete line-up of both tickets:

Republican

Judge of Probate—S. A. Correll.

Prosecuting Attorney—Rollie L. Lewis.

Sheriff—David Vaughan.

Clerk—George A. Roderick.

Treasurer—Joseph William Flinders.

Register of Deeds—Frank F. Bird, Charlevoix; Glenn Bulow, East Jordan.

County Drain Commissioner—James Simmins.

Coroners—F. F. McMillan, Charlevoix; S. B. Stackus, Boyne City.

Surveyor—E. A. Robinson, Boyne City.

State Representative—J. M. Harris, Boyne City.

Democratic

Judge of Probate—Benj. L. Severance, East Jordan.

Sheriff—Frank H. Crowl, East Jordan.

Clerk—Charles A. Hamlin.

Treasurer—Elbert Fryberg, East Jordan.

Register of Deeds—Leo Powers.

Surveyor—Robert F. Sloan.

LOCAL WOMAN ROBBED BY PURSE-SNATCHER

Mrs. S. J. Ulrich Attacked by Robber Saturday Evening

Mrs. S. J. Ulrich, resident of the south side, had her purse containing over $16 taken from her last Saturday night at about 9 o'clock by a purse-snatcher when she was returning from a shopping trip.

The incident occurred when she was passing the alley running west from Bridge street just south of the W. J. Weikel residence. After grabbing the purse the robber ran down the alley and out of sight. Officers were called at once but could find no trace. Inasmuch as it was dark, Mrs. Ulrich could only give a meager description of her assailant.

LIQUOR LAW VIOLATORS SENTENCED

WOODWARD AND LLOYD TO SERVE TERMS AT JACKSON

Orville Mahoney Given 1 Year at Ionia State Reformatory—Court Closed Friday Afternoon

The adjourned May session of circuit court was held at the court house here last week, ending Friday afternoon. Numerous cases held over from the previous term were completed, with Judge Parm C. Gilbert of Traverse City presiding.

In the case of the People vs. Hiram Woodward of Boyne Valley township, violation of the liquor law, Woodward was found guilty by a jury. He was sentenced to serve from 6 months to a year at Jackson.

James E. Ackley of Boyne Valley township pleaded guilty to violation of the liquor law. He was placed on probation until the 1st day of the August term, 1929 and must pay costs of $300 on or before that date.

William Lloyd pleaded guilty to violation of the liquor law and was sentenced to serve from 6 months to one year at Jackson prison.

Orville Mahoney, local man, pleaded guilty to a liquor law violation. He was sentenced to serve one year at the Ionia state reformatory at Ionia.

John Pesek, who has been confined in the county jail for several weeks since his arrest on a liquor law violation, pleaded guilty to a second offense. He will be sentenced July 20th.

The cases of Joe Gingel and William Anthony, liquor law violators, were continued until the first day of the October term, 1928. The case of Joseph Edward Burke, Beaver Island resident, who is charged with a liquor law violation, was continued until the first day of the August term.

The case of the People vs. John Yell and Edith Sumner, charged with lewd and lascivious cohabitation, was dismissed.

The case of Donald T. McHugh vs. Earl A. Young and Irene Young, accounting, was dismissed. The case of May P. Knight vs. Donald T. McHugh, dismissal lein, was transferred to the law side by the court.

The case of Adolph A. Young vs. Albert F. Bridge, et al, was taken under advisement. Parties must file statement of accounts by July 20, 1928, and the court will decide the issue at that time.

ELLSWORTH ANNUAL BARBECUE AUG. 2ND

Annual Event Will Be Featured Stronger Than Heretofore

At a meeting of the Ellsworth C. of C. last Thursday evening plans for this year's barbecue were made and committees appointed that will do their utmost to make the 1928 barbecue an affair that will be long remembered by those attending.

There will be enough free barbecued beef, buns and pickles to serve everyone.

There will be races, ball game, good speakers from the conservation department and Agriculture College, Band and other entertainment.—Ellsworth Tradesman.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY TO MEET NEXT WEEK

Plans for Annual Tag Day to Be Made at This Time

Attention is called to the approaching meeting of the Charlevoix hospital auxiliary, which will be held Friday evening, July 27th, at 7:30, in the basement of the Congregational church.

Plans and arrangements for the annual Hospital Tag Day will be made at this time, and it is very important that all Charlevoix women interested in the annual drive for funds be present at the meeting.

MICHIGAN AS IT REALLY IS

ADVERTISEMENTS WILL SHOW STATE AT HER BEST

Michigan Bell Telephone Company Starts Unique Advertising Campaign in This Issue

First of a series of advertisements in which the Michigan Bell Telephone Company calls attention to the advantages of Michigan as a vacation land, appears in this issue of the Charlevoix Courier. The second is scheduled for publication a week from today and others will appear during the remainder of July and the first part of August.

The series is being published in more than 250 newspapers throughout Michigan. According to C. L. Johnson, manager of this area for the Michigan Bell company, it is felt that no part of the continent offers so many advantages to the tourist and vacationist as does Michigan, with its excellent highways, myriad lakes and rivers, vast stretches of forests, hundreds of miles of coast line, unequalled opportunity for summer sports, its well equipped camp sites and its hotels, and its wonderful climate.

The first announcement is illustrated with an outline map of the upper peninsula, popularly known as Cloverland, showing the principal cities. Following announcements will carry similar maps advertising the principal sections of the lower peninsula. The announcements also show long distance telephone rates to the principal cities in the section advertised, from each city in which the advertisement is published.

This advertising, C. L. Johnson says, is in line with other activity conducted by the Michigan Bell company designed to create a better knowledge of the state and its cities. During the past year, the telephone company has been showing a series of window displays in downtown Detroit, advertising the principal cities of the state and calling attention to their manufacturing and other advantages. These displays, which have been viewed by thousands of persons daily, have been assembled in co-operation with the local telephone managers and the chambers of commerce of the cities benefiting from the publicity.

GUERNSEY SHOW A BIG SUCCESS

TWENTY-NINE BLOODED ANIMALS WERE EXHIBITED

Charlevoix County Guernsey Breeders' Association Are to Be Congratulated on Event

The first Annual Guernsey Summer Show and picnic held at East Jordan last Friday was a decided success and even exceeded the fondest expectations of its sponsors. Twenty-nine head of the most representative Guernseys owned by some twenty-five dairymen of Charlevoix county, were exhibited and made the most complete Guernsey show ever displayed in the county and one that reflects the progress and development of this breed of dairy cattle in the last three years.

The Charlevoix County Guernsey Breeders' Association should be heartily congratulated on their efforts in this first project, and who, in their business session recommended hull associations, calf club projects and belonging to cow-testing associations as a means of improving the Guernseys locally. The success of the show was largely due to the East Jordan Business Men's Club, who generously contributed funds with which to furnish transportation for the animals, to purchase ribbons for the winners, and in furnishing coffee and its accessories to the picnicers.

W. D. Burrington, state Guernsey fieldman, gave a most inspiring and instructive talk on items of great interest to Guernsey breeders and judged the exhibit.

Mr. Lounsbury, managing editor of the Guernsey Breeder's Journal, was also present and cited statistics indicating the progress that the state of Michigan has made in Guernseys.

Following are the result of the judging:

Junior Calves

1st, Carl Stevens, Walloon Lake.

2nd, James Nice, East Jordan.

3rd, Carl Grutsch, East Jordan.

Senior Calves

1st, Ray Loomis, East Jordan.

2nd, Murphy Bros., East Jordan.

3rd, Basil Crawford, East Jordan.

Yearling

1st, Murphy Bros., East Jordan.

2nd, James Nice, East Jordan.

3rd, Carl Stevens, Walloon Lake.

2 Year Olds

2nd, Walter Heildeman, East Jordan.

3rd, Oakley Saunders, Charlevoix.

3 Year Olds

1st, Murphy Bros., East Jordan.

2nd, Carl Stevens, Walloon Lake.

3rd, Oakley Saunders, Charlevoix.

4 Year Olds

1st, Walter Heildeman, East Jordan.

2nd, Carl Grutsch, East Jordan.

3rd, Oakley Saunders, Charlevoix.

5 Year Olds

1st, Orvie Gunsolas, East Jordan.

2nd, Orvie Gunsolas, East Jordan.

3rd, Oakley Saunders, Charlevoix.

4th, Wm. Chaddock, East Jordan.

Bulls—Under 1 Year Old

1st, Clyde Clute and Lawrence Fineout.

2nd, Murphy Bros., East Jordan.

3rd, Oakley Saunders, Charlevoix.

4th, Bert Lumley, Boyne City.

Plans are already under way for next year's show. The members of the association were highly elated over the first show and all went home with the satisfying realization that they had received much useful information and that their time was indeed well spent.

Barbecue for sandwiches and drinks.—Adv. 28-12.

DO YOU KNOW THAT WE HAVE A COMMUNITY OF WHICH WE MAY WELL BE PROUD?

Well, we most certainly have. We have a most liberal supply of all the essentials that go toward making this happy, prosperous community.

Let us pause a moment and list a few of the many business and social activities in which all may share.

Charlevoix has two banks, seven churches, nine grocery stores, two drug stores, three hardware stores, two furniture stores, six garages, two plumbing shops, three dry goods stores, two tailor shops, two exclusive shoe stores.

And there are many more opportunities for those who seek them—both social and business. With such a line-up to consider and with so many chances to exercise our freedom, we may well be more than anxious to boast of our home community to outsiders, and make them yearn for a chance to share our prosperity and happiness.

To such outsiders we extend the hearty hand of welcome to come live here with us, and join our community of satisfied, but ever progressive people.

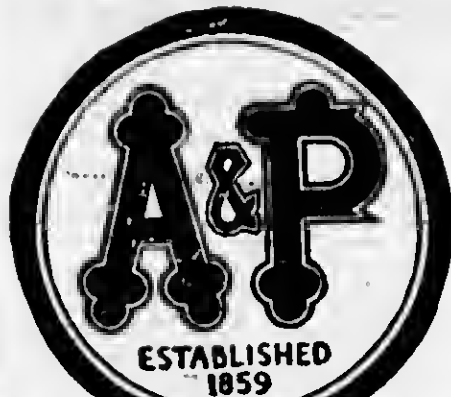

TEAM WORK NEEDED

This is a year when the farmers and industry must work closely together. There is an intimate relationship between these two great divisions of the nation. Industry has rid itself of radical advisors and cleaned its house thoroughly. The old days when the errors of industry furnished excuses for political reprisal have passed.

The farmers should be equally careful in the selection of their advisors and should have confidence only in men who have their best interest at heart—men who are not seeking political honors as farm relievers. The farmers of the county have a serious problem which undoubtedly can be solved, but not by the politicians. Political aid may be necessary, but it should be governmental aid, not tinged with political ambitions.

WHAT ARE WE WORTH?

What are we worth? By that we mean—what are we worth to the community.

We realize that we exist only through community patronage. We realize that we are in fact a public institution, depending upon the public liking and confidence for our very existence, and if we are to succeed we must maintain that liking and confidence, and it can be retained only through serving just a little better.

Permit us to demonstrate our desires and willingness to extend a service particularly fitted to your needs. We believe you will find it worth while.

Large Engine - Long Wheelbase and above all else - Big Value

It runs to big proportions... this All-American Six. In size... in quality... and, above all else... in value... Beneath the hood... a big, clean brute of an engine. With 212 cubic inches piston displacement. Powerful as the driving wind. But smooth and silent at every speed... Then there's its wheelbase... 117 inches in length. The source of the All-American's riding ease. That and its long springs... Its oversize tires... And its handsome Fisher bodies. Deep seated... luxurious... comfortable. Unique in the leg-room and head-room they combine with swank and style... Larger throughout than any other six selling for as little as $1045. And with its size comes the quality which makes it the biggest value offered in its field.

3-Door Sedan, $1045; Sport Roadster, $1075; Phantom, $1075; 4-Door Sedan, $1145; Cabriolet, $1155; Landau Sedan, $1265. New Series Pontiac Six, $145 to $185. All prices at factory. Char. HIGH HERD OWNED BY FLOYD BLACK

COUNTY COW TESTER REPORTS FOR MONTH OF JUNE

Class Winners Are Listed With Amount of Butterfat and Milk
Produced per Cow

Cecil G. Dobbin, county cow tester, made the following report on work of the D. H. I. association of the county for the month of June:

High herd in the association for June is owned by Floyd Black, Charlevoix. The herd consists of six Jerseys, Guernseys and Holsteins averaging 870 pounds of milk and 39.80 pounds of butterfat per cow. R. J. Strigley, Charlevoix, was second high in the small herd class (1-6 cows) averaging 531 pounds of milk and 33.76 pounds of butterfat.

Murphy Brothers, East Jordan, is high in the medium herd class (7-15 cows) averaging 793 pounds of milk and 37.13 pounds of butterfat. John W. Brock, Charlevoix, is second high with 791 pounds of milk and 35.95 pounds of butterfat.

High herd in the large herd class (16 or more) is owned by the Allen McDougall Estate with 877 pounds of milk and 37.98 pounds of butterfat average. Elmer Murray, East Jordan, is second high with 771 pounds of milk and 35.40 pounds of butterfat average. With the exception of one, these members fed grain on pasture.

High cow in the association for June is owned by George E. Nichols, Elsworth, a grade Guernsey making 1725 pounds of milk and 72.3 pounds of butterfat in the thirty days. This is a record figure.

The average production for the 323 cows on test was 809 pounds of milk and 32.70 pounds of butterfat, including dry cows.

The three high cows in the 2-year old class are owned by:

Owner Milk B. F.
Elmer Murray, Gr. F. 1158...61.4
Elmer Ingalls, Gr. H. 1224...49.0
Al Balch, Gr. H. 1191...48.8

The three high cows in the 3-year old class are owned by:

Owner Milk B. F.
Murphy Bros., Gr. J. 1023...53.2
Elmer Murray, Gr. J. 864...43.2

The three high cows in the 4-year old class are owned by:

Owner Milk B. F.
George Nichols, Gr. G. 1725...72.3
S. Ulvund, Gr. H. 1425...64.1
Elmer Murray, Gr. G. 1308...57.5

The three high cows in the mature cows class are owned by:

Owner Milk B. F.
Elmer Ingalls, P. B. H. 1155...60.1
Floyd Black, Gr. J. 1122...57.2
Floyd Black, Gr. H. 1410...53.6

There are 24 cows producing over 50 pounds of butterfat and 26 over 1250 pounds of milk in the 30-day month. There are 15 members of the 26 feeding grain on pasture, and nine that weigh their milk and keep a daily milk sheet.

AT THE MOVIES

Freak Actor Does Disappearing Act
Human albinos make good ghosts in motion picture production, but beyond that, they're a total loss to the films!

That fact developed during the filming of "Three Ring Marriage," the first National picture's circus drama featuring Mary Astor and Lloyd Hughes, coming next Friday, July 27, to the Palace Theatre.

Charlie Murray Fools with Lions
Charlie Murray toys with wild lions, falls in love with Venus, inter-luces U. S. Marines to Ancient Greece and otherwise makes merry in his newest comedy, a feature from First National Pictures, at the Palace Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

dramatic effort of the flaming-haired flapper of the screen, Clara Bow, since her work in "Wings," will show at the Palace Theatre Saturday and Sunday. It was Wellman who directed Miss Bow in the aviation epic.

Richard Arlen, also remembered for his splendid work in "Wings," played opposite the star in the story by Ernest Booth.

Thomas Meighan Has Strong Role in Film, "The Racket"

Thomas Meighan, filmdom's popular frisk star, is presented in the most logical and picturesque role of his screen career in "The Racket" thrilling underworld melodrama which opens Wednesday, July 25, at the Palace Theatre for 2 days engagement. Meighan has drawn what is known in film circles as a "natural" in his role of Captain McQuigg, hard-boiled metropolitan police captain.

"The Gay Retreat" A New Kind of War Comedy Made by Fox

"The Gay Retreat," something new in the way of war comedies, produced by Fox Films under the direction of Ben Stollhoff comes to the Majestic Theatre for a 2 day run beginning Wednesday.

It is a hilarious picturization of some of the many funny situations the boys found themselves in when they took leave without asking permission during the late unpleasantness.

Keep youth longer!

cleanse the system
of poisons

Two of the great enemies to youth and vitality are delayed elimination and intestinal poisons. To keep yourself free from both these common difficulties will help you to stay young.

With the use of Nujol you can do it too. For Nujol absorbs body poisons and carries them off, preventing their absorption by the body. Nujol also softens the waste matter and brings about normal evacuation. It is harmless; contains no drugs or medicine. It won't cause gas or griping pains, or affect the stomach or kidneys. Every corner druggist has Nujol. Look sure you get the genuine. Look for the Nujol bottle with the label on the back that you can read right through the bottle. Don't delay, get Nujol today.

COUNTY PULLET SHOW JULY 25

EVENT TO BE HELD AT WHITING PARK, NEAR BOYNE

Event to Be Held Under the Auspices of the "Grow Better Chick Project" of County

As a final meeting of the "Grow Better Chick Project" carried on in Charlevoix county this spring, a big pullet show will be held at Whiting Park, on Wednesday July 25th. The entire public is cordially invited and urged to attend as this will be the red letter day for all people interested in poultry. A picnic dinner will be enjoyed at noon and the program will start at 10:00 o'clock.

The Grow Better Chick Campaign has been carried on with eight different organized groups in the county, giving them the latest information in the incubation, feeding, caring and management of baby chicks. The most important baby chick diseases were also discussed and the control measures given. In order to show the poultry farmers the benefits of this project in the development and growth of the baby chicks reared this spring and to show those interested in poultry what points are looked for in the high quality and type birds, this show is dedicated.

There will be several classes of pullets in the show, classed according to breed and variety, as White Leghorns, Barred Rocks, etc. A pen of six pullets will constitute an entry. Coops will be furnished at the park. Ribbons and special prizes will be awarded to the winners. All poultry raisers are urged to select a pen of six pullets and enter them in this show. Please inform your county agent that you will enter a pen.

Following is the highly instructive and interesting program: (The time in each instance is fast time.)

Forenoon

10:00—Arrival of Pens.

11:00—Judging of show by Leon Todd, poultry specialist of M. S. C.

Noon

Picnic dinner.

Afternoon

1:30—Talk, "Why I Keep Poultry," by Wm. Sanderson, East Jordan.

1:45—Talk, "Winter Eggs, How to Get Them," by J. A. Hannah, poultry specialist of M. S. C.

2:30—Talk, "The Poultry Flock as a Profitable Cash Crop," by Prof. C. G. Gard, head of poultry department.

With this fine program, you cannot afford to miss this opportunity of entering a pen of six pullets, of hearing the splendid program, and of finding out how to judge properly the birds of different breeds. Don't forget the date—July 25th—and plan to spend the day at Whiting Park.

No one can resist eating food after run over by ants. Hours of painstaking labor are spoiled. Delicious dishes are tainted, made uneatable. FLY-TOX kills ants. VAUDEVILLE ACTS FEATURE STATE FAIR

Will Have a Program Never Before Equalled

Twenty-one well-known acts from "big time" vaudeville will be featured on the entertainment program at the Michigan State Fair September 2-8, a program never before equalled in the Fair's previous offerings, according to the management.

The list is made up of a large variety of attractions and will be presented twice daily, afternoons and evenings, in front of the grand stand, from Monday to Saturday, inclusive.

Harness racing, by some of the best known stables and owners in the racing world, will also be given in conjunction with the vaudeville program in the afternoon from Monday to Friday inclusive. In the evening, the spectacular fireworks display and Oriental pageant—"A Night in Bagdad" will furnish additional thrills.

Al Sweet's band, known to thousands for its snappy and original playing of popular themes, will furnish musical accompaniment for the vaudeville program, in addition to special numbers of its own.

The maximum of thrills and amusement for both adults and children will be provided in the program which contains practically three times the number of acts ordinarily presented in the largest vaudeville houses.

BEWARE MAIL PIRATES

We hear much these days about crime, of holdups, of robberies, of racketeers, of thugs, those who prey upon society demanding a toll that annually reaches into millions. We hear more of this kind of crime because of its availability as newspaper information.

But there is another class of crime of which we hear very little, yet according to Postmaster General New the people of this country are robbed of more than a billion dollars a year in mail-fraud schemes alone. How much more is lost through other frauds cannot be estimated.

Promises of large returns, the urge to get-rich-quick, with that bait they lure their victims. And the pity of it is the hardest blows generally fall upon those least able to bear them—on men past the age of self-support, on women with no business experience, on young people trying to get a start in the world.

There is a definite danger line in investing money and that line is located today at about 6 per cent. This does not mean that everything below 6 per cent is sound, nor that everything above is speculative, but money's red flag of warning appears at this level.

Without study and experience the average person cannot know the difference between safe investments and dangerous speculation. There is but one safe course for the person with money to invest to follow. Go to a bank and ask to be directed to the best man to advise you about investment. Every banker will try to protect you against fraudulent investments because general prosperity, which includes yours, helps the bank's prosperity.

ANNUAL OUTPUT OF NEW LAWS

During the first session of the 70th congress, 14,143 bills were introduced of which 993 became laws and resolutions. There were 624 public laws and 302 private laws. During the 69th congress, 1423 laws and resolutions were enacted. With the exception of the 69th congress, the laws and resolutions enacted in the first session of the 70th congress were higher than at any time since the 59th congress. In the 59th congress there were 6940 laws and resolutions passed. It would be interesting for law students to look up the record of congressional legislation so they may know what they are confronted with in the annual output of new laws so far as the performance of their profession is concerned.

NATIONAL LEGISLATION

No legislation by a Republican congress has been sectional or has profited one class of people to the injury of any other. No legislation by the Republicans in congress has torn anything down, destroyed any values, threatened any business, discouraged any investments, brought about any unemployment. Legislation of the Republicans in congress has been helpful, progressive, and constructive.

Political Announcement

To the Electors of Charlevoix County:

I am a candidate for Register of Deeds on the Republican ticket at the primary election, September 4, 1928. I believe I am fully qualified to handle the duties of the office, and, if nominated and elected, will give it my entire time. I most respectfully solicit your support. Three Ships Bearing Scientists, Doctors, Looking for Trace of Prehistoric Men

Three ships comprising the Isle Royale expedition, bearing scientists, doctors and equipment left Chicago at noon Saturday for the western end of that island in northern Michigan, where it is hoped some trace of prehistoric man and his methods may be uncovered.

The expedition sets forth under the auspices of the Milwaukee Public Museum and is financed by Commander E. F. McDonald, Jr., president of the Zenith Radio Corporation of Chicago, and B. A. Massee, vice president of the Palm Olive Soap Company, Chicago. Heading the group of scientists is George A. West, president and founder of the Wisconsin Archaeological Society and who is president of the Milwaukee Public Museum. He will be aided by George R. Fox, director of the Edward K. Warren Foundation of Three Oaks, Mich., and Prof. Baker Brownell of Northwestern University, Evanston, who now holds the chair of Professor of Contemporary Thought. He is also a former editorial writer of The Chicago Daily News and The Chicago Tribune, a graduate of Harvard and has studied also in Tuebingen, Germany.

The scientists will be assisted by Dr. Alvin W. LaForge, Chicago diagnostician, who is accompanying the expedition to satisfy a hobby of Archaeological study. Others include John Kellogg, Chicago, whose greatest interest will be in pursuit of fish, he claiming the Great Lakes championship in casting.

The expedition headed by the ship Naroc in charge of Commander McDonald, the ship Margo in charge of Commander Massee and the Swastika in charge of U. J. Herrmann, Chicago, made a stop at Milwaukee Saturday evening, where Mr. West joined them. They left Milwaukee Sunday at noon for Isle Royale, heading for the west end where their exploration and excavation will be pursued for the next two months. Commander McDonald with the Naroc stopped in at Charlevoix Monday afternoon to greet friends, send telegrams and take on supplies. U. J. Herrmann stopped over Tuesday night and continued on Wednesday morning. Both are very well known in Charlevoix and make this port several times during the summer season.

It is the contention of the scientists and the financiers that some men of the prehistoric age mined copper there ages before the Indians and French are known to have inhabited the island. To establish this belief the expedition proposes to search for graves and other evidences of their having lived on the island. Whether the expedition will be able to get a full start on its work this summer remains to be determined, it being the anticipation of some members that additional special equipment may be necessary before they can fully develop their plans. If such is the case then equipment will be prepared this fall and the work renewed next spring.

No commercial activities are attached to the expedition, Commander McDonald emphasizing the point that any prehistoric mines that may have been operated are no longer profitable, as the French and Indians long ago mined them for their small value as well as later day companies which have found it unprofitable to pursue such operations there.

William Ferguson, editor and publisher of the Franklin, Pa. Herald, is one of the original promoters of research on Isle Royale, and has conveyed the expression to the local expedition that they may uncover archaeological finds of great scientific value.

During the absence in Isle Royale the expedition will use radio communication with the mainland, the same call for letters 9XN being used as when Commander McDonald made his trip into the Arctic with Commander McMillan in 1925.

Director Fox of The Warren Foundation is nationally known for his archaeological work. He is a native of Long Island, Kansas, and was formerly curator of the historical museum in Nebraska. He is the author of several books of explorative value and was formerly president of the Michigan State Archaeological Society, and secretary of the Central Section of the American Anthropological Society. Largely thru the efforts of Mr. West the exploration was launched in behalf of The Milwaukee Public Museum. Mr. West was suggested to Commander McDonald as a man fitted for the work by Governor Fred A. Zimmerman of Wisconsin.

POMONA GRANGE MEETS WITH IRONTON GRANGE

Granges of County Will Meet There August Second

Charlevoix County Pomona Grange No. 40 will meet with Ironton Grange on Tuesday, August 2nd.

A good program is being prepared and it is hoped that a large crowd is present. South Arm Grange will put on a play in the evening.

Ironton Grange is small, and for this reason all grangers are asked to attend and help boost them. A pot luck dinner and supper will be served.

At this meeting plans will be made for attending state grange at Cadillac in October.

BIG SAILING RACE EVENT NEXT WEEK

INTEREST HIGH OVER CHICAGO-MACKINAC ISLAND CLASSIC

Charlevoix Represented By Two Boats—Ray S. Hamilton to Chicago to Sail the "Malabar"

Charlevoix will be represented by two boats in the annual Chicago-Mackinac Island race, greatest fresh water sailing event in the world when the start is made from Chicago Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

A local man, Ray S. Hamilton, leaves here Thursday evening to sail the "Malabar," 53-foot schooner owned by W. D. Randall of Cincinnati, Ohio. This boat took third place in the cruiser division last season and is always a strong contender. The crew of the "Malabar" includes the following: W. D. Randall, Sr., W. D. Randall, Jr., Herbert and George Randall and Allen Sawyer of Cincinnati; Ernest Windgard of Charlevoix; Franklin Gray of Philadelphia; Jack Richie of Chicago; Norman Chase of Detroit; and Ray S. Hamilton, this city. The schooner left Charlevoix, her home port, Sunday afternoon for Chicago. The other boat is the "Flight," owned by Clarence and Harold Shaw of Boyne City. She will fly the flag of the Charlevoix Yacht Club and is sailed by Clarence Shaw, who is vice commodore of the Club. The boat was outfitted at Hamilton's yards for the annual classic and left here Sunday afternoon.

More than usual interest is manifested locally in the Chicago-Mackinac Island race. Many from Charlevoix expect to see the boats as they pass off Charlevoix early next week. Plans are now being made by Captain Smith of the coast guard station to meet them as they pass. Efforts are also being made by members of the Chicago Club to have some of the boats take part in the Charlevoix regatta August 3, 4 and 5. It is probable a race from Mackinac Island to Charlevoix will be arranged.

BURNED TO DEATH IN WRECK OF FORD

Central Lake Boy Meets Death in Auto Accident

Jack De Forest, 22-year-old Central Lake youth, burned to death under the wreck of his Ford roadster on U. S. 31 a mile and a quarter south of Torch village about midnight Tuesday night of last week.

Two girls from Camp Waukegan, on the other side of Torch Lake, drove by and saw the flaming car and hurried to Torch Inn for help. Richard Bence, the proprietor, was the first to reach De Forest's body. The youth had been dead for some minutes. The body was badly charred and both limbs were burned off to the knees. It was 12:50 a. m. when Coroner John Dockery was summoned at Elk Rapids.

The verdict of an inquest this morning described death "due to burns received in an auto accident in Torch Lake township."

WOMAN DRIVER REGATTA ENTRY

FLORIDA WOMAN TO DRIVE IN ALL OUTBOARD EVENTS

Plans for Annual Regatta Taking Shape—Course Markers Placed On Monday This Week

One of the early entries for Charlevoix's fourth annual regatta was received last Saturday from Mrs. Atwood, of Lakeland, Florida, who has entered all three classes in the outboard events.

Mrs. Atwood is one of the few successful women drivers of outboard boats and Charlevoix may congratulate herself on being fortunate enough to attract this woman of national reputation in motor boating circles. The outboard field so far is new even to men and very few women have taken up the game, although where they have done so they are making very successful drivers.

Preliminary plans for the regatta which will be staged Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 3, 4 and 5, are now practically completed. A committee of the Charlevoix Boat Club met the latter part of last week and picked a handsome lot of trophies which will be awarded the winners. For the free-for-all, outstanding events for outboards, $175 in cash prizes is being offered for winners of 1st, 2nd and 3rd places in the event.

Jack King of the Chicago Club, will have charge of the sailing events. Races for the R class, 6 Meter, Manchester 17 and Prunee will be held on Friday and Saturday with finals on Sunday. All speed boat events will be staged on Sunday, the final day of the regatta. Efforts are being made to have participants in the annual Chicago-Mackinac Island race stop off at Charlevoix on their return to take part in the sailing races here. Oscar F. Johnson and Dr. Eugene S. Talbot, members of the Chicago colony at the Chicago Club of Charlevoix, are using their influence to have the Chicago boats stop here.

John Knight and M. Roy Brady put out the permanent buoys marking the officially measured course on Monday morning of this week. R. F. Sloan of the Charlevoix Abstract & Engineering Co., measured the course before the buoys were set. The Standard Oil Co., through their local agent, Clair Webster, painted the buoys, which are small pickle barrels donated by Mr. Stetler of the Charlevoix Pickle & Produce Co. The course markers will be left in Lake Charlevoix throughout the summer.

RESORTERS FLY HERE TO SPEND WEEK-END

Chicago Men Set Precedent in Mode of Travel to Charlevoix

Oscar W. Johnson and W. A. MacMurray, president of the Acme Steel Co., Chicago, established a precedent in week end travel to Charlevoix when they flew from Chicago to spend the week end with Mrs. Johnson at the Chicago Club.

The party arrived here around 2:30 Sunday afternoon and left again Monday afternoon. Their plane landed at the city airport which has been recently marked with a white circle 100 feet in diameter. The word "Charlevoix" painted in letters on the Northern Auto Co. garage were plainly visible from a high altitude, thus insuring the city's identity to visiting planes.

LOCAL GIRL TELLS OF PLEASURE TRIP

MISS ELOISE TILLOTSON MEM-BER DETROIT TIMES TOUR

Twenty-three Boys and Girls See All Interesting and Beautiful Spots in State of Michigan

Below we are publishing an account of the Detroit Times Tour written by Miss Eloise Tillotson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Tillotson, this city. Miss Tillotson had the privilege of making the tour as a reward of winning an essay contest on the subject "Greater Michigan," sponsored by the Detroit Times. Following is her account of the trip:

The tour for the twenty-three boys and girls began Sunday, July 1st. The day was filled by seeing the important spots of Detroit. Among them was Ford's airport in which we saw a few of the famous planes used by Stinson and Bird. We also visited Belle Isle, the Soo, Detroit Times offices and buildings and passed by the Library and Art Museum. During this tour of the city we were escorted by two of the city's best police.

Monday noon our trip started in earnest when we started for Lansing. We were cordially received at the capitol and were introduced to the governor who shook hands with each one. While there we saw the best senate chamber in the world. At Owosso, our next stop, we visited the late James Oliver Curwood's home. It was one of the prettiest spots in our trip.

While at Flint, we went through the Chevrolet motor car factory. There were five or six different plants and we could watch the car being built stage by stage. We also visited the General Motors school of Technology, where men who are working in the factories may attend school and fit themselves for a higher position. It is a rapidly growing institution.

In Bay City we were guests at Wenonah Beach. Tickets were given us for the concessions which followed a wonderful fish dinner.

Mr. Don, owner of the Don Chemical Works, at Midland, opened his lovely estate to us and acted as a guide over the grounds himself.

At East Tawas we saw the nursery which supplies most of the Normandy pine for reforestation. Many millions of trees are grown there and are then transplanted. After seeing this we went to the National Park where the trees are being planted each year.

The quarry at Alpena was a very interesting part of our trip. It is perhaps one of the largest in the United States. In the evening the fireworks at the fair grounds were immensely enjoyed by every person on the tour.

Perhaps Mackinac Island was the most recreational spot we spent our time in. Besides this it was a place of much historical value for us. The party stayed here all of one day. Swimming, bicycling and driving gave everyone a fine time. Those of us who went around the island saw many historical sights and also many of nature's artistic works.

The boat ride to and from the island was splendid and the weather was ideal. On landing at St. Ignace we were surprised to see a line of girl and boy scouts who gave us a royal welcome.

While in St. Ignace we had breakfast in the most delightful place imaginable. It was Birchwood Arbor. As you entered all the furniture seemed to be made of birch bark. Parts of the chairs were and other parts were not. They were painted so realistically that until you felt of them you believed them to be made of real birch bark. The walls were divided into panels. On each panel was an Indian scene which tells a story in itself. At the rear of the room are two tiny cabins built of birch logs which are equipped with table and chairs for those who wish privacy. If anyone is in St. Ignace it would be worth their while to visit Birchwood Arbor and also to try the wonderful food which is served there.

On the outskirts of St. Ignace is a small village known as Indinn Village. It is a very unique spot. Several tepees and log cabins making up the village. Each one is made entirely by hand and without the help of nails and spikes or other modern necessities. The only modern thing used is wire, which holds the bark on the roof of the cabins. Each tepee is used for a part of the basket making. In one a man is pounding logs with a certain stroke which make

ANNUAL CARNIVAL CAMP CHARLEVOIX

BIG EVENT SET FOR SATURDAY OF THIS WEEK

Allie Moore and His "Pirate Ship"
At Camp—McDonald, Archery
Expert, Giving Instructions

One of the big events of the summer season at Camp Charlevoix character camp for boys located near Ironton, is the 2nd annual carnival to be staged Saturday afternoon.

A big parade will be staged Friday afternoon and the carnival starts Saturday afternoon at 1:30 with the side shows and grand opening. The main performance begins at 2:30 including horse show, tumbling, pyramid building, fencing, human statues, clown acts and model airplane flying if weather permits.

Side show attractions are: hit the nigger baby, ring the pins, spinning wheel, archery shooting gallery, cove or horrors, the midged bearded lady, etc. The public is invited to attend the carnival.

Albert L. McDonald, Ann Arbor Michigan's premier archer, arrived at Camp Charlevoix, Saturday, to teach the boys how to make their bows and arrows and how to shoot.

Mr. McDonald, who is the president of the McDonald Ice Cream Co., has developed archery as a hobby. He teaches the art at the University of Michigan and at the Michigan State Normal college, Ypsilanti. A new archery-golf course has been laid out at Camp Charlevoix and the boys will develop an archery team.

Another important announcement is that the "Pirate Ship," the Golden Rule, captained by Allie Moore, has been chartered by Camp Charlevoix for the balance of the season to take the campers on sailing trips.

Mr. Moore will teach the boys sailing and navigation. Knot tying and rope splicing will be included.

Some of the special trips the camp will take are to the beaver dams on Jordan River, accompanied by Ed Ward Deuel, district game and fire warden, a three day trip to the University Biological and Engineering camps, Indian River and Cross Village; Sears' Silver Black Fox Farms trips with the fishing boats into Lake Michigan and a hike to the "outpost" cabin on the Jordan River.

The Camp senior baseball team took the bus to Camp Sherwood, Saturday, and defeated the Detroit boys 15 to 8.

Annual Ellsworth Barbecue
Ellsworth is having their annual barbecue on Thursday, August 2nd this year. Free barbecued beef, pickles, coffee and buns as usual. The Ellsworth Chamber of Commerce extends a hearty welcome to every body.

A heart-stirring play, "Mother Mine," in three acts, will be presented by the young people of the Atwood Reformed church at the Burnard M. E. church, Friday evening, July 27, at 7:30. Music between acts. Admission 25c and 15c.—Adv. 30-t1.

Notice
Parties who stole female Collie dog are known and if the dog is not returned at once, prosecution will follow. Mrs. Allen Ulrich, Charlevoix Light Plant.—Adv. 30-t1 pd.

CHARLEVOIX RESIDENT DIED THURSDAY NIGHT

Remains of Mrs. W. H. Francis to Be Buried Here Thursday

Word was received here this morning of the death Tuesday evening of Mrs. W. H. Francis, who passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Plank of Rockford, Mich., whom she had been visiting for the past month.

The remains will be brought to Charlevoix and funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock Thursday morning at Brookside chapel, with Rev. Norman Burns of the Baptist church officiating. Interment will be at Brookside. Mrs. Francis is an old resident of this city, having made her home here over 40 years.

Washing, Polishing and Tire Repairing is a part of the all night garage service at the Benj. Brown Garage.—Adv. 28-tf.

Among the list of passengers on the Str. Sanford last Saturday were: Rev. A. J. Wilson, Chicago; Thomas Lee Wilson, Chicago; Nelson J. Edwards, Cincinnati, Ohio; Rev. Melvin Riddle, Pittsburgh, Pa.; and Lee Hawes of Covington, Kentucky. They like the island and plan to return some time in September for a more extended visit.

The most enjoyable social event of the season was a surprise party on Mr. and Mrs. Gus Milke, which took place at the Belfy Hall on the evening of July 23. The occasion marked the anniversary of Mrs. Milke's birthday. There were about fifty married couples present. All the ancient and modern dances were indulged in until midnight when dinner was served at the Milke home. All present enjoyed an enjoyable time.

Last Friday, July 20, was a big day at St. James in the way of receiving visitors. At 11:30 a. m. the Str. Sanford steamed into the harbor and saluted the people of St. James, having on board twenty-four young ladies who are camping on Lake Charlevoix. They had their picnic dinner out at the portage and were very much taken up with the island, leaving at 1:30 with a large number of citizens at the dock to bid them farewell and wished them a hearty welcome to return again in the near future.

In a few minutes' time the entire home can be freed of mosquitoes. With an improved FLY-TOX Hand Sprayer, spray FLY-TOX directly toward the ceiling, also on the draperies, in the closets and on the screens. It will not leave a stain on the most delicate of wallpapers, hangings or fabrics. Spray upwards until all parts of the room are filled with the finely atomized spray. Within a few minutes all the mosquitoes in the room will be dead, regardless of whether the windows and doors are open or closed. In addition to being stainless, FLY-TOX is fragrant, is absolutely harmless to people but sure death to all household insects. Every bottle guaranteed. F. J. Fessenden, druggist.—Adv. 30-41.

Northeastern MICHIGAN

(In the Lower Peninsula)

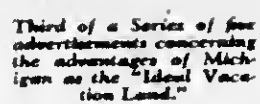

Wave-washed air, cleansed by Lake Huron's crystal waters, sweeps across the altitudes of Northeastern Michigan, giving that section an invigorating summer climate.

The well-shaded, broad beaches of scores of beautiful inland lakes are joined by excellent highways, making this vacation land quickly accessible to the entire population of the Middle West. Important industrial, banking and trading centers dot the district.

Rivers, too, contribute to the attractiveness of the section. The far-famed Au Sable courses its way 250 miles through forests, between high bluffs and past green meadows. To this region, the visitor always will feel the urge to return.

Dairyman's Picnic August 2nd

The annual Charlevoix County Dairyman's picnic will be held at Whiting Park, Thursday, August 2. The big feature of the day will be the awarding of diplomas to twelve members of our cow-testing association who have successfully met the requirements and had over 300 pounds butterfat average herds for the year 1926-27. These diplomas are given by the National Dairy Association of America as recognition of their achievement in developing a herd of cows to a yearly average of 300 pounds of fat or more.

Another feature will be the annual meeting of the members of the Charlevoix Cow-testing Association, who will re-organize and develop an even better dairy program than any year previous. Some twenty-seven of the leading dairymen of the county have been members of last year's association and are highly pleased with their results.

The main speaker of the day will be A. C. Baltzer, dairy specialist of M. S. C., who has been directly in charge of cow test work for the past several years, and who is splendidly qualified to discuss Charlevoix's big industry. As added attractions there will be a ball game between the single men and the married men, who aspire to fill Babe Ruth's shoes. Other sports will be incorporated in the program. Several speakers of local fame will give short talks. Bring your picnic lunch. Tell your neighbors and friends about the big day and let's all come prepared to enjoy a real old fashioned picnic. We urge you to join with us in congratulating the following men who will be awarded these diplomas:

Arthur Shepard, East Jordan, 7 cows, 465.5 fat.
Geo. Meggison, Charlevoix, 13 cows, 435.0 fat.
Ben Smatts, East Jordan, 7 cows, 421.6 fat.

Orchard Bay Farm, Charlevoix, 27 cows, 420.9 fat.

Elmer Murray, East Jordan, 8 cows, 394.3 fat.

Breezy Point Farm, Ironton, 11 cows, 348.2 fat.

Fred Wurn, East Jordan, 9 cows, 334.5 fat.

Bert Elliott, Charlevoix, 7 cows, 331.9 fat.

Peter Jensen, Boyne City, 5 cows, 327.0 fat.

Edward Jensen, Walloon Lake, 10 cows, 325.5 fat.

Elmer Ingalls, Charlevoix, 41 cows, 21.6 fat.

Sverke Ulvund, East Jordan, 24 cows, 309.8 fat.

These kinds of herds pay dividends—why not develop a herd as good? It can be done and ought to be done. Come to the picnic on Thursday, August 2nd, and find out how these men have accomplished their success. Hear and enjoy the fine program which will commence after the picnic dinner. Come early.

Large Increase of Certified Seed Potatoes This Year

The year of 1928 shows a splendid increase both in numbers of growers and in acreage of seed. A total of twenty-six farmers are applying for certification as compared with ten last year. Over 100 acres of certified seed has been planted this, as compared with 48 last year. More and more, Northern Michigan is gaining in importance as a high quality certified seed potato section and is an industry that is especially adapted to our climate and soil conditions. Certified seed has, in the past, averaged approximately 75¢ more per bushel than ordinary table stock and has paid larger profits per acre than any other single crop that Charlevoix farmers raise, over a span of seven years.

The prospects for a good yield are exceptionally favorable and potatoes in general are looking as fine as one can remember. The certified seed growers are already spraying and roguing their fields in preparation for their inspection.

Following is a list of growers in this county, with name, address, acres and variety:

Louis Brown, Charlevoix, 1, R. R.

Joseph Lew, East Jordan, 1 1-3, R. R.

Geo. Meggison, Charlevoix, 2, R. R.

Frank Fox, Boyne City, 6, R. R.

Henry Korthase, Boyne City, 1, R. R.

Edward Jensen, Boyne City, 11, R. R.

Zell Bricker, East Jordan, 6, R. R.

Harry Behling, Boyne City, 5, R. R.

W. J. Petts, Boyne City, 7, R. R.

C. Vandenberg, Ellsworth, 5, R. R.

Carl Grutsch, East Jordan, 1 1/2, R. R.

Lee Sneathen, Boyne City, 5, I. C.

SWIMMING MEET A BIG SUCCESS

HUGE CROWD SEE EVENTS AT INN PIERS LAST SUNDAY

Summer Visitors Carry Away Major Portion of Honors—Winners
Show Class in All Events

Charlevoix's 1st Annual Swimming Championships, held Sunday afternoon at the Inn piers on Lake Charlevoix, held the interest of hundreds of spectators throughout the entire program of events. Jerry Ash, city recreational director, who had charge of the meet, expressed satisfaction in the interest manifested in the event, which was the first of a program of sports activities to be staged in Charlevoix this summer.

Winners in a majority of the events were Charlevoix summer visitors. Shirley Shattuck, who we understand is a Florida champion hailing from Venetian Pool, Coral Gables, Florida, was by far the class of the women swimmers. She went out of her class to win the 100 yard swim for ladies with comparative ease and repeated again in the 50 yard dash for girls from 15 to 18 years. Geo. Dunlop of Cincinnati, Ohio, member of the staff at Camp Sherwood on Walloon Lake, won the men's 1/2 mile swim and 50 yard dash handily.

LAD ADMITS THAT HE RAISED CHECK

Bay Shore Lad Tried to Cash one and Comes to Grief

Fred Disheimerer, of Bay Shore, 13 years of age, was taken into custody yesterday by Chief of Police Henry Harter and Herman W. Kays of the Northern Michigan Protective Agency, the lad admitting that he raised a check of $1.61 to $125.00. He was taken before Judge of Probate Gilbert of this county, who referred the case to the probate judge of Charlevoix county, on account of Disheimerer being a resident of that county.

The youngster had been paid off by Earl Thiel, berry farmer, and after the check was raised attempted to cash the same at a local department store. He admitted that he had previously committed small thievery acts, and also confessed to taking money from Tillotson's store at Bay Shore.—Petoskey Evening News.

ENDS ENGAGEMENT IN SYDNEY THEATRE

Bob Jarvis Will Appear in Carlton Theatre, Haymarket

A letter from Grand Haven contains the following information that will be of interest to parties therein mentioned: "Charlevoix friends will be pleased to know that Bobby Jarvis, Sr., returned June 24th from Sydney, Australia, where he enjoyed a ten months successful season at the Empire Theatre (the longest season any American comedian has held the boards in that city, by the way.)

Mr. Jarvis canceled his engagement to accept a position with "Good News," an American company and sailed on the S. S. Lamaria, Saturday, June 14, for London, England, to play in the Carlton Theatre, Haymarket, for an indefinite season's run. While in Sydney young Bob attended the Canebrook school for boys, learned to play cricket and incidentally picked up a bit of the accent."

EDITORIALS

WILL NOT MOVE IN

We complain of political and party bosses. But a business must have a boss, so politics must also have the man to direct things.

The Republican party has its bosses—Mellon, Hillies, Hays, who is going out of the picture, and others who tell still others what to do on a nation-wide or state-wide basis.

The Democrats have plenty of bosses. In fact, in the democratic party nearly everyone is a general and privates are very few.

Most people do not take very kindly to the democratic bosses. Their record of bossing is good, but their achievements are small.

The successor to Tweed, Croker and Murphy is George Olvany, head of tammany. Olvany is assisted by the Ahrens, Ryans, McCues, Bradys, Hoeyns and Flynns. George E. Brennan bosses Chicago. He is assisted by the McInneys, Sullivan, McDonoughs, Quinlans, Wheelans.

Tammany will never get closer than a telephoning distance of the White House.—Grand Rapids, (Min.) Herald.

OUR NEW CAPITALISM

The boss constrictor of government ownership is still very much alive and although it has been frozen by public opinion during the past few years, attempts are being made to thaw it out and make it active (and vicious) again at the present time. There is a continuous trend toward socialistic legislation both state and federal. In the meantime there is a different kind of public ownership steadily growing. The country cannot afford ownership by the state. It can afford ownership directly by the people through stocks and bond holdings. It is capitalism of the finest sort.

Americans right now are investing $1,000 per second of every business day. A total of 35 billion dollars was invested in different issues of stocks and bonds between the years of 1923 to 1927. When we speak of capitalization we speak of pretty much everybody these days. It is a healthy sign of growing independence.

Sea Lions Rule Island

That sea lions reign in the Auckland Islands and Snares Islands, is the report of Dr. Du Rietz of the Royal University of Upsala, Sweden, who has just visited there. He says that the only path through the dense brush are made by the huge seals, and as his party went along these paths they found the sea lions in the way. Ignorant of their great strength and good tempered, they paid little attention to the visitors. They were to be found everywhere, said the doctor, 65 being counted in one group on Enderby Island.

INAUGURATE DELIVERY SERVICE THIS WEEK

Traverse Man Has Started Residential Ice Cream Delivery

A novelty in the line of house-to-house deliveries has been inaugurated in Charlevoix by Merle Lanaway of Traverse City.

Mr. Lanaway has placed a truck in commission at Charlevoix to make a circuit of the residential district selling McCool's ice cream products. Edwin Kling will have charge of the truck. The venture has proved very successful in Traverse City and will no doubt be popular with local citizens.

a "spender" or a "saver?" But even though you spend freely, the important thing is to SAVE SOMETHING REGULARLY, no matter how small the amount may be.

For if a man only earns twenty dollars a week and saves TWO, regularly, he will be far ahead of the man who earns five times as much and saves NOTHING.

And doesn't the truth of this fact suggest the wisdom of opening a Savings Account today?

FUNERAL FOR FORMER LOCAL GIRL FRIDAY

Mrs. S. J. Polinsky, Daughter of Mrs. Archie McNeill, This City

Funeral services for Mrs. J. S. Polinsky, daughter of Mrs. Archie McNeill of Charlevoix, who passed away last Tuesday at her home in Detroit, were held last Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from her mother's home on State street.

Mary Christine McNeill was born at Charlevoix, September 19, 1876. She spent her early life here and attended the local schools. She was married 26 years ago to S. J. Polinsky, and since that time they had resided in Grand Rapids, Traverse City and Detroit for the past 8 years. She is survived by her husband, mother, two children, Wilma and Franklin, and several sisters and a brother.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. John E. Lockyer of the Methodist church, with burial in the family lot at Brookside cemetery.

COMMUNICATION

There may be some raspberry growers not acquainted with the raspberry cane borer which is now on the job and quite industrious. Although not generally very visible, it is a slim black beetle about half an inch long, horned with some yellow near its head. It circles the tips of new raspberry shoots, also blackberry, and lays its eggs near the griddles made. When eggs hatch the young borer tunnels to the root of the cane, then goes into the ground. Affected tips should be cut off below the griddles and burned soon after wilting is noticed. By doing this you lose the tip but not the bush. This procedure also makes less borers for next season. There seems to be enough different styles, sizes and shaped insects now, so that the grower can fight or fail, or perhaps both. I hope this may be of some use to someone. Ed. H. Newman.

MISS ESTHER POWELL MARRIED AT CHICAGO

Word comes to Charlevoix friends of the marriage of Miss Esther Powell, daughter of Mrs. Lizzie Powell of Charlevoix, to Thomas R. Goley of Columbia, S. C. METHODIST CHURCH

We take pleasure in announcing Dean Robert Williams of Albion College as the preacher for Sunday morning at 10:30. Dean Williams is one of the special Bible lecturers at Bay View this summer and is in much demand in the southern section of the state where he lives.

The church school at 9:30 studies "The First Foreign Missionaries." At 7:30 the pastor will conduct a music and song half hour; at 8 the address on "Our Changing Morals" and at 8:30 the Leaguers hour on "Grenfell of Labrador." Our visitors are cordially invited to each of these services.

Next Tuesday at 8:30 the Leaguers entertain the visiting youth of the city. The pastor conducts prayer and Bible study hour at 7:30 each Thursday and is helped always by increased numbers.

History of Silver Dollar

The original coinage of the silver dollar was authorized in 1792. By the act of January 18, 1837, the weight and fineness of the coins were changed. The act of February 12, 1873, provides for the discontinuation of the coinage of silver dollars. The acts of February 28, 1876; July 14, 1890, and March 3, 1901, authorized the recoinage of silver dollars. The silver purchase under the act of 1891 was consummated in 1904. There was no further authorization to purchase silver for dollars until the passage of the Pittman act of April 23, 1918. From that time on, silver dollars have been issued each year.

the bark peel into strips. In another the woman is dying the strips. Others are used for the weaving of baskets. In the largest of the cabins the baskets, birch canoes, and souvenirs are sold. It is a very exciting spot.

At Sault-Sie Marie we visited the locks and also had a ride through them on a government boat. This trip was arranged by one of the girl's father.

We were given a great many privileges on this trip which were out of the ordinary. One of these was the opportunity to visit Marquette Prison. We saw just the outside rooms. Furniture was on display that had been made by the prisoners.

We took the delightful trip around Presque Isle. It is a very beautiful drive.

On arriving in Houghton we took an additional trip about 100 miles to the northern most town in the upper peninsula, excluding Isle Royale. This is Fort Wilkins where soldiers were kept during the war of 1812. Copper mines are prominent in this district.

The tour then took us south into the iron country. At Ironwood many mines were seen. We went over the boundary into Hurley, Wisconsin while here and saw another large mine.

At Iron Mountain we went down 1600 feet into the Capin mine. It is the deepest mine in the United States. Also while in Iron Mountain we went through Ford's plant. This plant just makes the wooden parts of the car.

We were taken through the bird's eye veneer factory at Escanaba. We saw the logs as they came in and followed them through until we saw the finished product in large strips.

After reaching Menominee we took an evening boat to Frankfort. So we left the upper peninsula and came back into the lower.

Although coming to Frankfort we went north as far as Northport and then came back to Traverse City where we were entertained at the Country Club.

We arrived at the small town this side of Manistee where we had dinner and later a marshmallow roast. Some of the boys and girls enjoyed swimming here.

The salt factory proved to be very interesting here and something different than we had seen before.

At Ludington we were taken through the Watch Case factory, which we found highly interesting and instructive.

The party stopped for about a half an hour at Grand Haven on the shores of Lake Michigan. Leaving there we arrived at Grand Rapids, but only took a bird's eye view of the city as it was Sunday.

At Battle Creek we met Dr. Kellogg and enjoyed a trip through the sanitarium. Dr. Kellogg lectured to us. A luncheon was served to us here which was unique in that it was the same as is served to the patients.

This being our last day we drove through Ann Arbor and Kalamazoo, in somewhat of a hurry. We arrived at Ypsilanti for dinner after which we returned to Detroit, escorted by two police. We went to the Michigan theatre where the pictures were shown which had been taken en route.

Our cars were of the best and better drivers could not have been chosen. They spared no expense and our comfort was always thought of first and I know each and every one of us enjoyed it to the utmost and will always thank the Detroit Times.

Keep youth longer!
cleans the system of poisons

Two of the great enemies to youth and vitality are delayed elimination and intestinal poisons. To keep yourself free from both these common difficulties will help you to stay young.

With the use of Nujol you can do it too. For Nujol absorbs body poisons and carries them off, preventing their absorption by the body. Nujol also softens the waste matter and brings about normal evacuation. It is harmless; contains no drugs or medicine. It won't cause gas or griping pains, or affect the stomach or kidneys. Every corner drugist has Nujol. Make sure you get the genuine. Look for the Nujol bottle with the label on the back that you can read right through the bottle. Don't delay, get Nujol today.

When the Victory Six was announced six months ago it was the talk of the town.

What would it look like? What would it do? Would it be different from other cars? In what way? And so on.

Then the public saw the Victory Six!

Its freshness of design was a revelation. It was different. Like no other car.

Rakish and trim—low and graceful—smart hued and colorful—it captured the eye. Immediately.

Look again. Wider seats—more leg space. Big! Roomy!

Then it proved, in operation and performance, the promise suggested by its beauty.

Swift pick-up—smoothness—speed.

Dodge Brothers dependability again!

It was a great car then; it is an even greater car now.

It has stood the test.

Each month has seen a substantial increase in Victory Six sales.

Not because of what we have been saying for six months. Or because of what we say now.

But because of what the Victory Six is.

The snappiest, best looking, speediest car in its class.

A car you should try out—now—yourself at the wheel

SUMMER SEED- ING IS OVER

SEEDING
EAR

An Acre Per Cow is a Good Rule to Follow in Estimating Your Farm Needs

During the next three weeks Charlevoix county farmers will see the end of the summer seeding of alfalfa, the most valuable protein-producing plant that can be grown on Michigan farms, according to the Blue Valley Creamery Institute.

Planting this high-yielding hay now will help local farmers overcome any national protein-feed shortage predicted for next year.

Ordinarily about 20 per cent of Michigan alfalfa seeding is summer sown, but this year's summer planting can well be doubled or tripled, the institute believes, and advises all dairymen and stockmen to communicate with their county agent or state agricultural college to secure cultural directions and advice on the best and latest methods of sowing alfalfa under local conditions. Only a few weeks are left for planting this year in order to insure a good stand for cutting next year. An acre per cow is a good rule to follow in estimating needs.

Alfalfa is the most profitable forage crop grown in the state, the heaviest yielding, the best soil enricher, weed destroyer and drought resistor. Pounded for pound, it has a feeding value equal to bran. When corn and alfalfa are grown on the same farm it is an easy matter to reduce feed costs because alfalfa provides the protein which corn lacks to make milk, pork, beef and mutton most economically and at greatest profit. Recently the Wisconsin experiment station found that one acre of alfalfa would produce as much protein as three acres of clover or nine acres of timothy.

FORMER LOCAL RESIDENT DIED WEDNESDAY

Chester Hall Was Well Known Here Where He Resided 12 Years

Chester Hall, who was a Petoskey summer resident, passed away there last Wednesday evening. He had been in ill health for about two years.

Mr. Hall was born in 1872 at Elk Rapids where he spent his boyhood days. In 1892 he was united in marriage to Miss Bertha L. Woodruff, a Mancelona young lady, in Kalkaska. For 12 years he was a resident of Charlevoix where he enjoyed a large circle of friends, later moving to Detroit where for eleven years he was employed at the Ford factory being superintendent of one of the plants there.

Because of his failing health Mr. Hall left his home in Detroit and went to Petoskey last summer and partially regained his health. Being advised by his physician that a change of climate was necessary to restore his health he went back to Petoskey early this spring and purchased the store and cottages at Magnus State Park which he was operating at the time of his untimely death.

Surviving him besides his wife are three daughters and two sons, Mrs. V. C. Bruce and Mrs. D. L. Sawtelle, both from Flint, and Mrs. F. Hawley of Traverse City. The sons are Clare Hall and Jack Hall of Petoskey. Brothers are H. Hall of Detroit; Ray Hall of Detroit, and Homer Hall of Flint; sisters are: Mrs. Gene Swartout of Kalkaska; Mrs. Will Case of Elk Rapids. Other relatives who remain are John Owens, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Peterson, Flint; Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Thomas, of Petoskey; Mr. and Mrs. George Harrington of Bellaire; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Brunges of Bellaire, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Harrington of Bellaire.

The funeral was held from the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Thomas at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon with Rev. Carl Berger in charge of the services. Mrs. Roy McArthur, an old friend, sang during the services. Burial was at Charlevoix.

* CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY *

Sunday service: 10:45 a. m. Subject, "Love." Sunday school: 12:00 o'clock. Wednesday service: 7:45 p. m. Reading Room: Tuesdays and Saturdays, 3 to 5 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"Truth" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, July 22.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust; his truth shall be thy shield and buckler." (Ps. 91:4.)

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christian Science brings to light truth and its supremacy, universal harmony, the entireness of God, good, and the nothingness of evil." (p. 293.)

Mid week service: Wednesday evening prayer meeting.

The Church of God camp meeting begins August 3rd, and continues to the 13th. Three great preaching services daily. Rev. and Mrs. B. E. Warren of Florida are the evangelists. Rev. Warren is a noted song writer and evangelist. Do not fail to hear him. At the Church of God camp grounds 2 1/4 miles south of Belvedere station.

* CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH *

At the morning service 10:30, the pastor will preach on the topic "Thou Art Peter," a study of humanity from the view point of Jesus Christ.

The Sunday school meets at 9:30 a. m. The Christian Endeavor meeting at 6:30 will hear an account of the "Greater Michigan" auto trip, given by Eloise Tillotson, our Charlevoix representative.

Iron ton service at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Thompson, Sequanota Club, will sing at the Congregational morning service.

COUNTY S. S. PICNIC WAS GREAT SUCCESS

Over One Hundred Were in Attendance From Charlevoix

Over one hundred Charlevoix people attended the County Sunday school picnic at Whiting Park last Thursday and the rest of the county was also well represented.

The day was ideal up to 3:00 o'clock when a shower came and cut short the games and hurried the people home. The names of the prize winners in the stunts and contests are as follows:

Treasure hunt, Junior fleize; boys' race, Emil Kercheck; girls' race, Fraida Greiner; Three leg race for boys, Dan Geneit and Alcedo Hamlin; relay race for girls, Marian Tuny; obstacle race, Alcedo Hamlin; wheel barrow race, Bertram Poirier and Arnold Tillotson; rolling pin hurl, Mrs. Rena Edwards; discus throw, Will Shaw.

The speakers were Rev. Geo. Weaver of Petoskey and Rev. Linnell of Boyne City. Mr. Weaver is the missionary of the American Sunday School Union and told of his work organizing and ministering to many union Sunday schools in this part of the state during the past forty years and more.

Rev. Linnell is president of the Charlevoix County Sunday School Association and told of some of the objectives of that organization asking for the cooperation of the people. There should be a Sunday school in reach of every child.

The next meeting of the executive committee of the association will be held at East Jordan September 7th.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Church of God will hold a Bake Sale on Saturday, August 28th, in the window of Staley Bros'. Hardware store. Come there for good eats.—Adv. 30-t1.

Cossacks Ready to Fight Again for Fatherland

Picked soldiers of an "invisible army," men who in several wars battled under the banner of the Czar, and who, disbanded by revolution, are in many lands waiting the call to once again take up arms for their Fatherland; these are the men who ride with John Gilbert in "The Cossacks," spectacular new drama of Russia, coming Wednesday and Thursday to the Palace Theatre.

Film Actresses Learn Many Trades to Fit Their Roles

Mary Astor, one of the screen's most beautiful read-heads, does almost everything that may be required for the "business" of her film roles, from cooking to motor cycle riding.

But she had to add to her stock of acquisitions for the filming of "Heart to Heart," the latest Astor-Lloyd Hughes screen romance from First National, coming Tuesday, August 3 to the Palace Theatre.

Finds Slinky Vampires Are Quite Pleasant

Despite the general impression, slinky vampires are really quite pleasant and interesting!

At least, so they have been found by William A. Seiter, director of Colleen Moore's new picture, "Happiness Ahead," which comes to the Palace Theatre Saturday and Sunday. During his career, Seiter has directed many pictures including characters who were beautiful but heartless—invariably played by actresses who were most likable.

Silk-Cushioned Parlor Dirtiest Kitchen in World

The dirtiest kitchen in the world! And a silk-cushioned room adjoining! Such is the strange, contrasting set used in the filming of "The Wheel of Chance," Richard Barthelmess' starring feature which comes to the Palace Theatre next Monday and Tuesday.

The set, which plays an important part in this film version of Fannie Hurst's story, is where Margaret Livingston, in the role of Winnie Ross, plies her feminine wiles on unsuspecting manhood. The silked room is the one that captivates Barthelmess in the role of Jason, the other twin brother, and the kitchen is the place that crumbles his illusions and brings about the break between himself and the woman who was dragging him down.

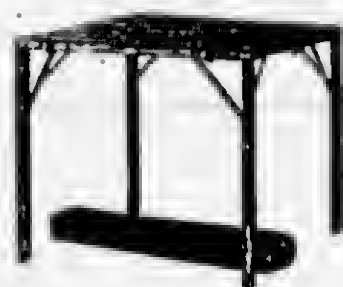

MISS OLIVE NIXON WEDS GERALD REYNOLDS SUNDAY

A wedding of interest to Charlevoixians was that of Miss Olive Nixon, former Charlevoix girl now of Flint, to Gerald Reynolds, also of Flint. The ceremony was performed last Sunday morning at 9 o'clock in the Church of God parsonage by Rev. George H. Pye. Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Sheldon attended the young couple, who left immediately after the ceremony for Flint, where they will make their home. The former Miss Nixon is very well known in Charlevoix, being a graduate of the local schools,

ATTRACTIONS FOR THE COMING WEEK

Saturday and Sunday, July 28-29

Colleen Moore in "HAPPINESS AHEAD" with Edmund Lowe. Colleen's latest and one of her most thrilling pictures. Happiness born of laughs, romance and even tears. It's real! It's big! It's life! You'll never know how much real joy one motion picture can give until you see "Happiness Ahead."

EXTRA—Educational Comedy, "PAPA'S BOY."

Monday and Tuesday, July 30-31

Richard Barthelmess in "WHEEL OF CHANCE" by Fanny Hurst. See hundreds of horsemen swoop through a little Russian town leaving fire and destruction in their wake. See how an unfaithful woman's wiles brings two lost brothers together, fighting each other, one for Fame, the other for Life. See a drama that you've never seen before. See Richard Barthelmess in two great characterizations. It's as powerful as "The Patent Leather Kid," as gripping as "The Noose."

EXTRA—Pathe Comedy, "LOVE LANGARD LIVE."

Wednesday and Thursday, August 1-2

John Gilbert in "THE COSSACKS" with Renee Adoree and Ernest Torrence. The greatest stars of "The Big Parade" together again. Here is one of the big pictures of any season. Another stupendous spectacle of love and war. The thunder of gallant hoofs runs on to a stirring climax. Never has Gilbert crowded so many thrills as in the moments of wild untamed love. Note: "The Cossacks" is packing them in the Capital and in New York City.

EXTRA—Pathe News.

Friday, August 3

"HEART TO HEART." One hundred big laughs. A big time comedy of a small town romance with Mary Astor, Lloyd Hughes and Louise Fazenda.

Women Delight in its marvelous handling ease

Offering smartness and distinction never before attained in any low priced car and reflecting exceptional good taste in appointments and upholstery, the Pontiac Six is a car which invariably wins feminine admiration. And that admiration turns to sheer delight when they leave the back seat and drive the car themselves.

They know the Pontiac Six is a dependable car. And they quickly discover an ease of handling that makes every mile a pleasure. The powerful four-wheel brakes answer the lightest touch. The big motor is smooth, quiet and responsive, and the clutch and transmission are exceptionally easy acting.

Every day you see more and more women at the wheels of Pontiac Sixes—because Pontiac provides at a price within reach of almost every purse, everything that women demand in a motor car of their own.

ALL NEW CHAMPIONS CROWNED AT CHAR- LEVOIX TOURNEY

DICK DEITRICK, MEMBER CORNELL COLLEGE TENNIS TEAM; WON MEN'S SINGLES EVENT

Mrs. H. S. Lion, Cincinnati, New Woman's Champ—Other New Title Holders are Esther Chichester, Petoskey; Tim Gibson and N. E. Steenrod, Cincinnati—Tourney Great Success

Five new champions were crowned Monday afternoon at The Inn courts as the 2nd annual Charlevoix open tennis tournament was brought to a close. They are Mrs. H. S. Lion, Cincinnati; Dick Deitrick, St. Louis, Mo.; Miss Esther Chichester, Petoskey; N. E. Steenrod, Cincinnati; and Tim Gibson, Cincinnati.

After being postponed for two days on account of rain and resultant wet courts, the tournament got under way again Monday. The final matches brought out some excellent tennis.

The women's singles title went to Mrs. H. S. Lion of Cincinnati, Ohio, who defeated Esther Chichester of Petoskey, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-1. Miss Chichester won the first five games of the match in order and it looked like another victory for this promising young tennis player, who, by the way, was playing in her first tournament at the age of 15 years. In the sixth and set game, the younger player had the score at 40 love, but then lost her stride, the game and finally the set and match. While Miss Chichester played with superior stroke and better pace, she lost because of inexperience and inability to cope with the machine-like steadiness of the winner.

However, in her second match of the afternoon for the junior girls' singles title, Miss Chichester won easily from Jane Connitt of St. Louis, Mo., in two straight sets, 6-3, 6-4. The youthful Petoskey racket wielder showed occasional spurts of fine tennis in her second match, but did not come up to the quality of play which carried her through the earlier games of the tournament and marked her as one of the best woman players on the courts. Sideline critics unanimously predict a great future for Miss Chichester in the tennis world. She plays with the easy swing of an old-timer at the game, has a strong fore-hand and back-hand stroke and handles her placements accurately. She is 15 years old and this is her first year at the game.

Tim Gibson, Cincinnati youth, won the boys' singles title by taking the measure of Irving Kaufman, Detroit, in two sets, 6-4, 9-7. The match developed some fine tennis, especially in the final set when Kaufman made a strong bid to win.

N. E. Steenrod, Cincinnati youth, broke even in his two final matches of the afternoon. He won the junior singles title easily from his fellow-townsmen, Joseph Rauh, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-1, 6-1. However, he met in equal in the finals of the men's singles and went down to defeat before the strong driving game of Dick Deitrick of St. Louis, Mo., who won 6-2, 6-4, 6-2. Deitrick, a member of the Cornell college tennis team, was by far the heat of the tournament in the men's singles. He displayed a strong serve, played a sizzling driving game and pulled his opponent out of position repeatedly by his accurate placements.

The tournament which closed Monday may be marked down as one of the great success. Entries exceeded those of last year in spite of the fact that very few players of the previous tournament were entered. None of last year's champions were at Charlevoix to defend their titles.

SCHOONER VIKING MACKINAC VICTOR

SHOWS CLEAN STERN TO OTHERS FROM PORT HURON

Siren of Chicago Fleet is First to Finish—Time Allowances May Make Another Craft Winner

The following two accounts are the latest advices on the results of the annual Mackinac Island race, the world's greatest fresh water sailing event. The first was taken from the Petoskey Evening News, issue of Tuesday, and the other from the Chicago Daily News of the same day:

"The schooner Viking, Detroit Yacht club entry crossed the finish line shortly after four o'clock here this morning, (Tuesday) winner in the 240-mile race started Saturday from Port Huron. T. B. Farnsworth is owner of the Viking. Suez II, was first to cross the finish line, but she was the highest rated boat in the contest with no time allowance. Eighteen boats started in the race.

The Fanshaw and Typhoon were forced out of the race, but all of the other boats are expected to finish. The Grace, Eric, Pa., ketch was second and the yawl Charlyn, Bayview Yacht Club, third. Corrected times of the other finishers will be announced late today by the committee in charge of the race.

The Viking's victory was the first ever won by a schooner, yawl having won in previous years. The Viking was actually fifth across the line, the boats finishing in the following order:

Suez II, Barbette Charlyn, Grace, Viking, Chibiev, Bimesa, Nawanna, Meleodie, Kittwake, Pienaroon and Sauk."

The Chicago Daily News says: "With only seven of Chicago's twenty-three entries in the annual Mackinac Island race reported at noon today (Tuesday), the race for the international trophy was conceded to the Michigan sailors who started from Port Huron simultaneously with the Chicago fleet.

Siren First to Finish
The Siren racing sloop, flying the colors of the Chicago Yacht club, was the first Lake Michigan boat into port and was followed within a few hours by six others. Members of the judging committee were busy seven Chicago boats and were not prepared to say which won the Lake Michigan section of the race.

Viking Wins Other Leg
The Port Huron leg of the race was won by the schooner Viking, which crossed the line a few minutes after four o'clock this morning. The Viking, with an allowance of nearly seven hours, won the race on corrected time. The Suez, an entry of the Detroit Yacht club, led the Viking into port by two hours and was followed closely by the Barbette and Charlyn, Bay View entries. The Viking's corrected time was 62 hours 16 minutes and 28 seconds, almost five hours faster than the time made by the Barbette last year."

John Ellis Sedman, C. S. of Cambridge, Mass., will give a free lecture on Christian Science, in the Van Pelt Hall (over the Charlevoix Courier Office) on Tuesday evening, August 7th at 8 o'clock, central standard time. The public is cordially invited. —Adv. 31-tf.

Charlevoix's mid-season sports program is now in full swing. The opening event, the Charlevoix 1st Annual Open Swimming Championships, held Sunday, July 22, was in every way a success and will gain in prominence in future years. The swimming events were followed the next day by the 2nd Annual Charlevoix Open Tennis tournament, which, true to predictions, far eclipsed that of last year. A larger list of entries took part and local officials saw the successful conclusion of the second annual event Monday afternoon. The players were nearly 100 per cent Charlevoix summer visitors, proving conclusively they respond to entertainment features provided for them. The 4th Annual Regatta August 3, 4 and 5, and the Michigan Riviera Tennis tournament the week following, August 6 to 12, inclusive, will far eclipse any previous events of like nature, and the 1st Annual Charlevoix Open Golf tournament, to be played off August 14, 15, 16 and 17, is now the talk of the resorts. Without boasting we believe Charlevoix is taking the lead in Northern Michigan in tourist entertainment.

SPECIAL MEETING FOR S. S. WORKERS

EXTENSIVE PROGRAM PLANNED
FOR WEDNESDAY, AUG 8TH

Many Visiting Speakers to Be Heard at Church of God Camp Grounds
South of Charlevoix

Wednesday, August 8th, is Sunday school convention day at the Church of God camp meeting in progress at the camp grounds south of this city.

The program on that day will include subjects of interest to every Sunday school worker. Mrs. R. Bowman of Welland, Ont., Canada, will speak on "The Superintendent, His Qualifications and Work." Other addresses are: "Worship in the Church School," by Mrs. George H. Pyc; "Getting and Holding Attention of Beginners," Mrs. Cora Holly, East Jordan; "The Teacher's Task," Rev. L. E. Foudy, Cadillac; "The Pastor's Relation to the Church School," Mrs. House of Farrell, Mich.; "The Purpose of the Church School," Mrs. E. Warren, Lakeland, Fla.

The last half hour will be given to William C. Palmer, Charlevoix county school commissioner, for a special service for children. This half hour will be of great interest and benefit, and a special invitation is extended to all children of the county.

A special invitation is also extended to all Sunday school workers and ministers of the gospel in this, and adjoining counties, to attend the convention day at the camp grounds. First session is at 10:00 a. m. and the second at 2:00 p. m. The evening service will be evangelistic.

PROMINENT SPEAKER AT
M. E. CHURCH SUNDAY

Dr. Fleming of the National Reform Association, will speak at a union service to be held at the regular evening church hour in the Methodist church next Sunday evening. His subject will be "The Bible in the School or Chaos in the Nation." The public is cordially invited to hear this eminent speaker.

REGATTA PLANS ARE COMPLETE

EVENT WILL BE BEST EVER STAGED AT CHARLEVOIX

Coast Guards Will Patrol Course
During Races—Strict Regulations to Force This Year

Charlevoix's 4th Annual Regatta, which will be staged under the auspices of the Charlevoix Boat Club and Pine Lake Yacht Club on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 3, 4 and 5, has been fully covered in an extra edition carried on pages 5 and 6 of this issue. Besides being carried in our regular issue copies have been distributed over the entire city outside of our regular mailing list and to the surrounding resorts.

The regatta promises to be the largest ever staged at Charlevoix. Entries in every event prove this conclusion for the reason that they are far larger than in any former year. Besides the list of boats carried in the extra edition, entries are now being made daily. The regatta committee of the Charlevoix Boat Club has been unusually active under the leadership of the club's new commodore, Julius Gilbert, and its secretary, Maude E. Brady. They have the program well in hand and are offering the finest lot of trophies this year than for any previous regatta. The Pine Lake Yacht Club, Chicago Club organization, are handling their end of the regatta with great enthusiasm.

The Charlevoix coast guards, under Captain Oscar Smith, will again patrol the race course. It is planned by the regatta committee to have all parties viewing the regatta from yachts anchor their crafts either inside or outside the race course. Last year yachts dropped anchor between the shore and the course, cutting off view of the events for spectators on the shore. They should not need be asked to refrain from this practice on shore as a matter of courtesy.

Another point we are asked to mention is that admission will be charged to view the races. There is

MICHIGAN REVIERA TOURNEY TO OPEN HERE NEXT MONDAY

JOHN HENNESSEY, INDIANAPOLIS, ONE OF WORLD'S FIVE RANKING PLAYERS, IS OUTSTANDING ENTRY

Other Tennis Stars of State and National Ranking Have Entered Newly Inaugurated Michigan Riviera—Walter T. Hayes, Secretary Western Association is Official

Entries for the newly inaugurated Michigan Riviera Tennis Championships, which take the place of the Western Michigan Championships, played here for the past two years, are growing daily in both number and importance. Play begins Monday, August 6, at The Inn clay courts, which will be in the pink of condition for the event.

Without doubt the most outstanding player in the Charlevoix tournament this year will be John Hennessey, winner of the Western Michigan championships at The Inn courts the past two years. Latest word received by local officials was that Hennessey was to sail from Cherbourg, France, on Tuesday of this week for New York City, coming directly from there to Charlevoix. He is expected to arrive for play Thursday.

True to predictions of tennis critics Hennessey's fame in the tennis world has grown by leaps and bounds since his first appearance in Charlevoix two years ago. After taking part in the Western Michigan events here last August he left directly for Forest Hills for the Davis cup qualifying play and in an eastern tournament prior to that beat Cochet, 2nd ranking player on the French team. As result of last year's play he was ranked 5th in the United States and has since that time beaten every man ranked above him, and is now one of the five outstanding players of the world. At the Davis cup training camp at Augusta, Ga., last spring, in which the ten best tennis players of the United States took part, Hennessey was the only player to beat every man in the camp, including Tilden. In the American inter-zone Davis cup play, Hennessey was the individual star against the Mexican team at Mexico City, Chinese team at St. Louis, Mo., and Japanese team at Chicago. His appearance in local courts will mean a great drawing card for the Charlevoix tournament.

Other outstanding entries include George O'Connell of Chicago, former Michigan State champion and winner Michigan State champion and winner 1925. Karl Hodge, St. Louis, Mo., 8th ranking player in the Missouri Valley association, is expected. Gustave Feuer, of Miami, Fla., twice runner-up in the National junior championships and a popular performer here last year, is also expected. Young Bill Irwin of Grand Rapids, one of Michigan's most promising tennis players and winner of the junior title here last summer, has made his entry. Others include T. L. Sherburne, captain of the West Point team; Ellis Klingeman and Jack Harris of Chicago, who recently won the United States inter-city doubles title for Chicago. Klingeman won the men's singles title at the annual Muskogean Resorts' tournament last Sunday. The above are only a few of the prominent players who will take part in the Michigan Riviera at Charlevoix next week.

Prominent players in the ladies' singles will be Clara Louise Zinke of St. Louis, Mo., who won the Western Michigan championship here last year. Miss Zinke is the second ranking girl player of the United States. Others are Mrs. Ruth Reise of Saginaw, who was the 1926 Chicago city and Illinois state champion. Marion Pearson of Detroit, former Michigan state champion, is expected and Mrs. Curt Tree, also of Detroit, a tennis performer of ability.

Walter T. Hayes, secretary of the Western Lawn Tennis association, will be the official referee at Charlevoix. Hayes will also play in the tournament. Last year he reached the semi-finals in the men's singles and with his partner, J. Chappel of Chicago (now deceased) won the doubles event. Hayes' doubles partner for the year to replace Chappel is not known at this time.

The five courts at The Inn are being groomed for the tournament and will be in their usual excellent condition. The Charlevoix Golf Club has again extended the use of their course to tournament players and special rates are being offered at The Inn. Charlevoix will witness the greatest array of tennis notables ever gathered here and the event promises to be the greatest ever held in the state.

Final word regarding efforts to have William Tilden or George Lott come to Charlevoix with Hennessey has not been received as yet, and there is still a good chance that one of the two may also appear in the Charlevoix tournament.

SPECIAL AUGUST SER-MONS START ON SUNDAY

Eminent Visiting Church Leaders
Speak at Congregational Church

Dr. Bernard G. Mattson, pastor of the First Congregational church, publishes in this issue an interesting announcement of the annual August series of Sunday morning sermons by distinguished preachers, sojourning for the summer in Charlevoix.

Appreciation of the generous services and inspiring messages of these eminent church leaders will be shown as in other years by large congregations. Special music, aided by visiting talent, will be provided under the direction of Mrs. A. J. Stelter, organist and choir director. The services are at 10:30 a. m. See the Congregational church notice elsewhere in this issue for next Sunday's announcement.

The annual harvest dinner and bazaar of the Ironton Community Church will be given by the Ladies' Aid Society on Wednesday, August 8, beginning at 12 o'clock Central Standard time. The abundant menu of these famous cooks will draw a capacity patronage at the Grange Hall and the church. Dinner at 75c a plate, 50 cents for children. Many attractive articles for sale in the bazaar.—Adv. 31-tf.

ELEVEN PENS WERE EXHIBITED

IN CHARLEVOIX COUNTY PUL-LET SHOW WEDNESDAY

Big Feature of the Day Was the Judging by Extension Specialists Hannah and Card

The Charlevoix County Pullet Show, the concluding event of the "Better Chick" campaign, carried on this spring was held at the Whiting County Park last Wednesday with 11 pens of this year's pullets entered for competition.

A splendid day greeted the poultry enthusiasts and all the plans were carried out as per schedule. Many

Can't Talk To Wife, Too Cross and Nervous

"Even my husband couldn't talk to me, I was so cross and nervous. Vinol has made me a different and happy woman."—Mrs. N. McCall.

Vinol is a compound of iron, phosphates, cod liver peptone, etc. The very FIRST bottle makes you sleep better and have a BIG appetite. Nervous, easily tired people are surprised how QUICK the iron, phosphates, etc., give new life and pep. Vinol tastes delicious. F. J. Fessenden, Druggist.—Adv. 31-t1.

were on hand for the picnic dinner and all were present when the program commenced at 1:30 in the afternoon. Wm. Sanderson favored the group with a few appropriate remarks, emphasizing that most people engaged in the poultry game, due to dreams of wonderful profits accruing from them, but finally from due necessity get down to business and must gather all the information available and use efficient methods in operating the farm flock.

Professor C. G. Card, head of the poultry department at M. S. C., gave the main talk and spoke to some length on the present day poultry problems. He feels that if poultry will be a great industry in Michigan a very few breeds should be developed, advocating the White Leghorns for egg production and either the Barred Rocks or the Rhode Island Reds for dual purpose fowls.

The big feature of the day was the judging of the pens by Extension Specialist J. A. Hannah and Prof. Card, who explained in detail the points to be considered in judging young chicks. Following are the results:

Barred Rocks
1st, Roy Kane, Charlevoix, 91%.
2nd, Wm. Sanderson, East Jordan, 91.
3rd, Ecklund Bros., Charlevoix, 88.
4th, L. W. Manley, Charlevoix, 87%.
White Leghorns
1st, Lyle Wilson, East Jordan, 91%.
2nd, Archie Murphy, East Jordan, 90.
3rd, Chas. Mascho, Charlevoix, 89.
W. Wyandottes
1st, Albert Balch, Charlevoix, 89 1/2.
2nd, W. S. Dickinson, Charlevoix, 88 1/2.
Rhode Island Reds
1st, Mrs. Nellie Drost, Charlevoix, 90%.

Brown Leghorns
1st, James Addis, East Jordan, 93.
The pen owned by James Addis was the highest scoring pen of the show and the highest in the five county shows held previous to our own. Why shouldn't we have a pullet show every year and set aside a day for the benefit of our poultrymen?

John Ellis Sedman, C. S. of Cambridge, Mass., will give a free lecture on Christian Science, in the Van Pelt Hall (over the Charlevoix Courier Office) on Tuesday evening, August 7th at 8 o'clock central standard time. The public is cordially invited.—Adv. 31-t1.

Club Leader Visits Canning Clubs
Miss Ruth Featherly, assistant state club leader, in company with the county agent, spent Tuesday the 24th in inspecting the progress of the five canning clubs now in operation in the county. In the neighborhood of 48 girls are enrolled in the above clubs and are showing much interest and enthusiasm in the work. Miss Featherly advised the club how to organize demonstration teams for the competition at Gaylord, during the Northern Michigan Boys and Girls Club Camp, which will be held on August 13th to 17th inclusive.

Each of the clubs are planning to have demonstration teams and compete for the trips to the State Fair at Detroit.

Potato Roguing Schools
On Tuesday and Wednesday, July 24th and 25th, three roguing schools were conducted for the benefit of the growers of certified seed potatoes to acquaint them with the diseases that should be taken out, spraying problems, and other requirements necessary for certification. Mr. Trafelet, who will be the inspector in this county, was present and conducted the meetings. The three meetings were held at the farm of Harry Behling, Wilson township, Geo. Meggison, Marion township, and Howard Stephens, Hayes township. All the potatoes visited were looking fine and apparently are making a splendid crop for this year.
O. I. Gregg, Landscaping Architect.

Visits Four Farms
In order to have a definite plan outlined for the beautification of several farm homes, the services of Mr. Gregg, specialist of M. S. C., was secured of recent date. He is spending his entire time in visiting the counties and making landscape plans for those farmers who wish to beautify their surroundings and make their farm homes more attractive.

The following four farms were landscaped: W. K. Straw, Charlevoix; Wm. Shapton, Charlevoix; Bert Lumley, Boyne City; and Ben Gardner, Boyne City. Of the above it is planned to make the homes of W. K. Straw and Ben Gardner, demonstrations and sometime in May of next year Mr. Gregg will personally supervise the planting and the entire public will be invited to attend.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: Confess your faults one to another and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much." (James 5:16.)

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "We walk in the footsteps of Truth and Love by following the example of the Master in the understanding of divine metaphysics. Christianity is the basis of true healing. Whatever holds human thought in line with unselfed love, receives directly the divine power." (p. 192.)

AUGUST 11, HOSPITAL TAG DAY

Annual Drive for Hospital Benefit on This Day

The annual tag day drive for the benefit of the Charlevoix Hospital has been set for Saturday, August 11. Workers will organize to carry the drive to a successful issue as in past years, and both home people and summer residents are asked to be as liberal as possible.

Again we call your attention to the fact that few, if any hospitals, unless conducted as private enterprises, do the volume of business necessary to pay running expenses. This is true with the Charlevoix Hospital, which, for the past five years, has from its earnings, paid an average of 75 per cent of its running expenses. The remaining 25 per cent must be raised by tag day drives, local benefits and donations.

Charlevoix has one of the best equipped hospitals in the state, and its resident and home people are loyal boosters and donors. But we must keep in mind at all times that the above deficit must be met if the hospital continues. Buy a tag on Tag Day—and be liberal in the amount you give.

The Norwood Ladies' Aid Society will hold their annual bazaar the afternoon and evening of August 8th, at the Norwood town hall. Quilts, fancy articles, aprons, home-baked goods and home-made candy will be on sale.—Adv. 31-11.

AGED BEAVER ISLAND RESIDENT DIED HERE

James Hamrock Passed at James Wyers Home Last Friday

James Hamrock, age 72, died last Friday, July 27th, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James Wyers on Antrim street, after a brief illness.

Deceased was born in New York state in 1856. He moved to Beaver Island with his wife 45 years ago, and had made his home there continuously up until last October, when, after the death of Mrs. Hamrock, he came to Charlevoix to live with his daughter. During his many years of residence on the island, he was highly respected by his fellow citizens as a man of honesty and kindly nature. Surviving his are three daughters, Mrs. James Wyers, Mrs. W. T. Driggett and Mrs. Oscar Richards.

Funeral services were held at Beaver Island last Monday from Holy Cross church, Fr. McMannon officiating.

BEAVER ISLAND PIONEER DIED SATURDAY

Death Caused from Injuries Received in Recoot Team Runaway

John S. Gallagher, a resident of Beaver Island, died last Saturday morning, July 27th. Death was caused from injuries received when a team he was driving became frightened and ran away, throwing him from the vehicle.

Mr. Gallagher was born in Pennsylvania on March 1, 1856, and was 72 years old at the time of death. He was one of the oldest residents of Beaver Island, having come here with his parents when but a small child. He operated a large farm near St. James, was very successful in his profession and was a highly respected citizen of the island.

Mr. Gallagher is survived by three brothers, Thomas Boyle of Beaver Island, Peter and Hugh Boyle of Chicago, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Proctor of Cheboygan.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, July 30, from the Holy Cross church, Fr. McMannon officiating.

CONGRESSMAN BOHN HAS NO OPPOSITION

Only Candidate to File is on Democratic Ticket

Congressman Bohn will not have opposition for nomination to congress at the primaries this fall as no one filed against him in his party. Lawyer Henry of Alpena, however, filed petitions for the democratic nomination for congress and Congressman Bohn will be without a contest at the fall election if Mr. Henry means to stick in the race. Congressman Bohn will have no trouble to be re-elected as he is a most pleasing and popular fellow and has made good in his first year at Washington. A strong republican district will give him a very flattering vote this fall.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Hours of Sunday appointments are as follows: 9:30 a. m. Sunday school. 10:30 morning worship. 6:30 p. m. Endeavor meeting.

At the morning services during August the pulpit will be occupied by ministers of distinction, a different preacher for each Sunday as announced week by week. The preacher for the coming Sunday, August 4, will be the Rev. Carl Stuckman of Lansing. Inspiring music will be furnished under the direction of Mrs. A. J. Stetler, organist and choir director. The general public and all interested summer visitors are cordially invited.

SWIMMING INSTRUCTOR COMING HERE IN AUGUST

Swimming lessons will be given for both beginners and advanced students by Earle H. Berg, who will be at Charlevoix after completing his summer assignment as water safety director for the American National Red Cross at Brainerd, Minn., where he had charge of the water program for the northern counties of Minnesota. The classes will begin August 9th.

BIRTHDAY PARTY HELD FOR BOBBIE HAMILTON

Mrs. Ray Hamilton gave a birthday party last Thursday afternoon at her home on Belvedere avenue in honor of her son, Bobbie's, second birthday anniversary. The little guests present were Helen Jean Hammond, Buddy Webster, Benny Johnson, Virginia May Ranger and David Hamilton, accompanied by their mothers. Delightful refreshments were served and Master Bibbie was presented with many fine presents.

Contaminated Soil

The soil where chicks are ranging is not as easily contaminated if it contains a thick mat of green clover sod when the chicks are first turned out in the summer. The grassy growth of that type is not easily killed out by the scratching and feeding of the chicks. It furnishes plenty of green feed and brings some insect life and it does not become caked with fertilizer as quickly as bare ground, or ground covered with a very sparse growth of vegetation.

Place for the Chicks

We do not know of a better place for growing chicks than out in the growing corn fields. Their colony houses can be placed alongside the cornfield and if a good clover alfalfa patch happens to be alongside the cornfield also, so much the better. Then they would have both sunshine and shade, grass and raw dirt if which to plow, hunt bugs, fresh, green vegetable, etc. All they would need in addition would be a hopper of good growing mash.

After constantly talking about the necessity of industry, Cal. Coolidge declines to work four years more as president.

CHARLEVOIX ANNUAL REGATTA TO BE GREATEST IN NORTH

ENTRIES IN CLASS B AND C OUTBOARD EVENTS NUMBER THIRTY-FOUR WITH MANY MORE EXPECTED

Official Sanction by Mississippi Valley Power Boat Association is Drawing Magnet for Many Out-of-State
Crafts Seeking World's Records

With an entry list far exceeding that of any previous year, Charlevoix's 4th Annual Regatta, August 3, 4 and 5, promises to be the largest and most successful ever held here. The event is sanctioned by the Mississippi Valley Power Boat Association and is being staged jointly by the Charlevoix Boat Club and the Pine Lake Yacht Club, an organization composed of members of the Chicago Club of Charlevoix.

Many Entries in Outboard Events

Present indications are that the number of outboard entries will be the largest in any regatta in Northern Michigan this year. Thirty-four boats have entered the Class B and C events. Most of this number and several others will compete for the $75, $50 and $25 first, second and third prizes offered for the free-for-all. Following are the entries up to the present time:

Class B—"Orange Blossom," Mrs. Genevieve Atwood, Lakeland, Fla.; "Pal," Albert Vater, Detroit; "Diz," Harry Vreeland, Detroit; "Wings," William Wessel, St. Louis, Mo.; "Red Devil," Richard Hart, Northport, Mich.; "Just Foolin'," Chester Olson, Traverse City; "Chief," Frank Board, Traverse City; "Miss Spider Lake," Eddie Olson, Spider Lake; "Zim," Eugene Zimmerman, Traverse City; "Why-Not," Bill Doak, Detroit; "Is-It," Harold Brown, Traverse City; "Grand Traverse Baby," Bill Sledak, Traverse City; "Dad's Folly," Wellman Hardesty, St. Louis, Mo.; "Carrom," C. G. Hollinger, Ludington; "Gaddy," Chas. Beiger, Ludington; "Miss Chicago," Joe Barnhart, Ludington; "Bob-Cat," Don King, Jackson; "Miss Petoskey," No. Name; F. Meyers, Petoskey; "No Name," Ray Darrow, Traverse City; "Yellow Kid," J. Tremaine, Traverse City. Class B entries are: "Miss Petoskey,"

"Red Devil," "Orange Blossom," "Diz," "Pal," "Bob-Cat," "Bill O' Detroit," "Speedy Boy," Marcus Smith, Charlevoix; "Mary Louise," H. D. Smith, Fisherman's Paradise; "C-U-Later," M. Roy Brady, Charlevoix; "Baby Whale," C. P. Higgins, Detroit; "Empty," Max H. Thurnauer, Cincinnati, O.; "My Baby," Clyde C. Wilcox, Cadillac. Most of the above named boats will compete in the free-for-all with other entries including "Bellaire," C. L. Bailey, Bellaire; "Quad Hopper," Dean Smith, Cadillac.

Runabout Entries

Competition in the runabout classes promises to be keen. Nearly all local boats of this type have been entered and several others are expected from Harbor Point and other surrounding resorts.

Following are the entries at this time: 150 h. p. class—"Flora," H. Horwin, Las. Chenoux; "Jay-Gee," Julius Gilbert, Detroit; "Miss Tennessee," Geo. Shwab, Jr., Nashville, Tenn.; "Nana-Ping," S. S. Pingree, St. Louis, Mo. 100 h. p. runabouts—"Holly-Hoo," G. L. Hollingsworth, Kinslar, Ind.; "Marywin," John Knight, Kalamazoo; "Jessie W., John W. Webb, Chicago; "Alamo," Richard Lowenstein, Chicago; "Punk," J. Morgan Baker, Traverse City. It is expected many of the above entries will compete in the free-for-all for displacement boats.

Recomar III Will Be Judge's Boat

R. E. Olds of Lansing, Charlevoix summer resort, has again very kindly offered the use of his private yacht as judge's boat, which is in favor very highly appreciated by those in charge of the regatta. Unfortunately the committee has been unable to secure the services of J. W. Sackrider, M. V. P. B. A. official starter, to act in that capacity here. Illness has prevented his coming. Invitations were also sent to Gordon C. Gilles, president of the M. V. P. B. A., and N. T. Griffith, secretary, but on account of business reasons neither will be able to be here. Mrs. Maude Brady, secretary of the Charlevoix Boat Club, has been appointed as official of the race committee of the M. V. P. B. SAILING EVENTS BIG FEATURE OF ANNUAL REGATTA

AMERICA'S FINEST FLEET OF 6 METER BOATS FROM CHICAGO CLUB ARE GROOMED FOR COMING EVENT

Races for R Class, 6 Meter, Manchester 17 and Prune Class Are Scheduled—Sailing Craft from Harbor Springs Will Compete and Other Smaller Local Boats

The first event of the Charlevoix 4th Annual Regatta, sponsored by the Charlevoix Boat Club and the Pine Lake Yacht Club, will take place Friday afternoon, August 3rd, at 2:00 o'clock, when the first of the three-day series of sailing races gets underway.

The fleet of local sailboats, owned largely by members of the Chicago Club of Charlevoix, will be augmented by entries in the R and Prune classes by several boats from Harbor Point. Prominent in sailing-at the Chicago Club are Miss Ellen Stuart, commodore of the Pine Lake Yacht Club, Brad Whiting, chairman of the regatta committee, and Jack King, one of the club's most active members, who has taken charge of the sailing events in the regatta.

6 Meter Boats Big Class

Perhaps the keenest competition during the regatta will be between the local fleet of seven 6 meter boats entered, which include the following: "Question," Oscar W. Johnson; "Sandpiper," Mrs. Adele Whiting; "Dauphin," John P. Wilson; "Firefly," Jack King; "Grebe," Miss Ellen Stuart; "Oslo," Fredrick H. Scott; "Betty," John and Francis Titus, Belvedere. Manchester 17 entries are: "Binx," Cynthia Wilson; "Bubbles," William B. McIlvaine; "Kumalong," Alice Babst. The list of entries in the Prune and R classes, largely boats from Harbor Point, is not available at this time.

The sailing races will cover all three days of the regatta, beginning at 2:00 p. m., Friday, 2:00 p. m., Saturday and 11:00 a. m. Sunday. Winners are chosen on a point basis covering the series and any ties will be sailed off Monday.

6 Meter Boats Famous

The fleet of 6 meter boats at the Chicago Club this year has been increased to seven, the largest, we understand, in this country. All have history in the racing world and many have represented the United States in the international races in former years. The Grebe, owned by the Stuarts, was built in 1921. She was the first boat picked for the American team that year, raced in England and was high point winner. She raced again in 1923 and 24 and is rated the best hard weather boat in the country.

Another famous 6 meter is the Oslo, owned by Frederick H. Scott. She was designed and built in 1923 for the crown prince of Sweden. She won the Scandinavian gold cup in 1924 and was considered the fastest boat on the team representing that country. Oscar W. Johnson's Question was the Long Island champion in 1924 and the Dauphin, owned by John P. Wilson, is considered the best all-weather 6 meter boat ever built in the United States. The Firefly, sailed by Jack King, has no outstanding early performances to her credit, but under the able hand of Jack has shown her heels to other boats in the fleet since being brought to Charlevoix. The Whiting's Sandpiper is considered the fastest drifter of the fleet and held that distinction on the Sound.

DRINKING FOUNTAIN INSTALLED AT INN COURTS

This Small Item of Convenience Is Very Highly Appreciated

Through Mayor Bergeon and the common council, the city has authorized the installation of a public drinking fountain at The Inn tennis courts. This item of convenience has been needed for several years, especially in view of the fact that scores of people use these courts daily and hundreds during tennis tournaments. Previously water had to be carried to the courts in pails.

While The Inn management and local tennis officials are very appreciative of the favor extended, it is deplorable that the fountain was not installed several years ago.

John Ellis Sedman, C. S. of Cambridge, Mass., will give a free lecture on Christian Science, in the Van Pelt Hall (over the Charlevoix Courier Office) on Tuesday evening, August 7th at 8 o'clock central standard time. The public is cordially invited. —Adv. 31-11.

GAMBLING--

Most of us if we were accused of gambling would indignantly deny it.

—But under what other heading can foolish spending come? Isn't it the most serious of all gambling—gambling with the future.

Mull this thought over. See if this statement isn't entirely correct and then throw a spotlight on yourself to determine to what extent you are actually gambling with your future.

Don't do it—it doesn't pay. Save a little as you go.

POULTRY

CULLING CHICKENS AIDS BUILD FLOCK

It seldom pays to raise a weak or crippled chick. One of the secrets of successful poultry culture lies in discarding weaklings as soon as found. Often the owners of chicks are too "chicken-hearted" to kill weak chicks but they should consider that such action is really more humane than raising sick or crippled ones along letting them die later after they have consumed a lot of feed and a lot of labor has been spent on them.

Generally speaking, weak chicks are the result of some specific trouble. Often it is a disease such as white diarrhea or coccidiosis. Both these diseases spread through droppings, and leaving weak chicks in the flock invite further spread of disease. If the trouble is caused by some fault in management or feeding, it is usually best to cull out the weak birds and try and correct the fault.

Culling chicks helps to rid a flock of weak vitality. On several occasions we have had letters from our readers telling about white diarrhea in their chicks this year, and later in the letter they mention that they had a little trouble last year. They have saved birds that recovered from the disease, and they have spread the disease to chicks this year through the egg. These diseased chicks have, in turn, spread the disease to their mates with heavy loss.

Good feeding and management must be combined with culling. Even the best chicks cannot make a satisfactory growth if they do not have the proper feed. Culling helps owners who practice proper feeding and management.

Duck Eggs Incubated in Much Same Way as Hens

Duck eggs are incubated in much the same way as hen eggs. The temperature of the machine should be kept at 101 to 102 for the first five days, after which it should be kept as near 103 as possible. After the first five days the eggs must be turned and watered daily. A great deal of water is used, many people sprinkling so much on that it runs out of the bottom of the incubator. The period of incubation is 28 days.

A good feed mixture is the following: 200 pounds corn meal, 100 pounds low-grade flour, 100 pounds bran, to which is added 10 per cent of beef scraps. If milk is available, the beef scraps may be reduced. Plenty of sand and green feed should be provided at all times.

Of Much Importance to Keep Chick Rations Dry

Each year finds an increasing number using a factory-mixed or home-mixed mash in the starting and growing of their chicks. The use of a feeder or mash hopper is a part of this method of feeding. If the feeder is placed outside the house it is very important to see that the top and sides of the feeder are tight. Keeping the mash or starter dry is very important. There is nothing worse for young chicks than sour, wet mash. It is frequently a cause of digestive trouble that stunts the growth of a large number of chicks, even if no death loss results.

Chick Precautions

Do not crowd at any time.
Avoid moldy litter or feed of any kind.
Kill all weak, crippled or deformed chicks.
Get chicks out on the ground as soon as possible.
Feed sparingly, but often, during the first two weeks.
Be sure chicks are not chilled while being transferred to brooder.
Be sure the house and all equipment is thoroughly clean and kept clean.
Keep brooder house free from visitors until they are at least thirty-six hours old.
Remember that crowding means losses with the youngsters. See to it that they have ample room at all times in their brooders or flocks.

Keep youth longer!

cleanse the system
of poisons

Two of the great enemies to youth and vitality are delayed elimination and intestinal poisons. To keep yourself free from both these common difficulties will help you to stay young.

With the use of Nujol you can do it too. For Nujol absorbs body poisons and carries them off, preventing their absorption by the body. Nujol also softens the waste matter and brings about normal evacuation. It is harmless; contains no drugs or medicine. It won't cause gas or griping pains, or affect the stomach or kidneys. Every corner druggist has Nujol. Make sure you get the genuine. Look for the Nujol bottle with the label on the back that you can read right through the bottle. Don't delay, get Nujol today.

MICHIGAN—The Ideal Vacation Land

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE CO.

Call Your Attention to SOUTHEASTERN MICHIGAN

The 300-mile shore line of Southeastern Michigan, curving northward from the Ohio border on Lake Erie, follows the busy Detroit river, rounds beautiful Lake St. Clair, the Flats and St. Clair river, bounds the mighty waters of Lake Huron and forms the outline of The Thumb by circling Saginaw Bay.

This water-bordered land, cooled by the gentle breezes from two of the Great Lakes, is one of the Wolverine state's ideal vacation sections.

Dynamic Detroit, the automobile and aviation center of the world, with its beautiful suburban development, has many sister cities in this section—Mt. Clemens, frequently of the popularity of its mineral baths; Port Huron, with its sloping white sand beaches at the headwaters of the St. Clair river; Pontiac, the lusty manufacturing center, joined with Detroit by the nation's greatest highway; and many other thriving towns. All hold great educational, scenic and recreational interest.

Whether the visitor to Southeastern Michigan comes from far or near, he is as close to home as the nearest telephone. And Long Distance Rates Are Surprisingly Low! Note the Day Station-to-Station rates for a three-minute conversation between 4:30 a. m. and 7:00 p. m. to representative points in Southeastern Michigan:

MICHIGAN—The Ideal Vacation Land

All services will be at the Church of God camp grounds, located two and one-half miles south of Belvedere

There will be three meetings for the day—10:30 a. m., 2:30 p. m. and 7:30 p. m., central standard time. Rev. and Mrs. B. E. Warren of Lakeland, Florida, will be the speakers of the day.

Rev. Warren is a noted evangelist and hymn writer. Rev. and Mrs. Warren have had a wide experience in evangelistic work and no person should fail to hear them during the ten days they are at the camp grounds, from August 3rd to 12, inclusive.

Sennett Special Strong Drama of Love and Laughter

Mack Sennett has turned from the slapstick, for the time being at least, to offer a feature-length picture that ranks right along with the most brilliant dramatic and romantic works of the motion picture screen.

"The Good-by Kiss," which opens at the Palace Theatre Saturday, is a wonderful tribute to the career of the man who developed so many noble actors, directors and technicians in the motion picture profession.

MANCELONA IS ALIVE SAYS LOCAL EDITOR

Will Carry Its Community Page for Another Year

"For the past year The Herald has been carrying a Community Page and, once a month, paid for by leading merchants and professional men of Mancelona, whose names were appended to it.

"This month, in this issue, we start another year's Community Page, again with the leading interests paying the expenses.

"The past year the page has been scrutinized by readers within town and without. Many readers, in sending in their renewal subscriptions or writing to announce a change of address, have spoken of how the page impressed them with the community spirit that it showed.

"This second year's page ad. carries more names than did that of last year's contract. It took no high-powered salesman to sell the page in Mancelona for the second year. Mancelona business men saw the advantages of the monthly message to each other and to the world, and responded promptly when asked, regarding it.

"Community pages are carried only by live towns, is a fact well known. That Mancelona is starting a second year's campaign in proof that Mancelona's carrying of the page for one year was not a mere flash in the pan.

"Mancelona is a live town."

The Courier along with practically every northern Michigan newspaper has published Community Pages of a like nature during the past year. The above comment is conclusive evidence of the weight they carry, especially in the Mancelona territory. The effect has been about the same in every community where they are published. In Charlevoix, with but few exceptions, merchants and readers alike believe it is worth while publicity and when the present series are completed we hope to carry the campaign through another year.

ELK RAPIDS BANKER SAYS ROAD IS OPEN

Public Now Using U. S. 31 North of Traverse City

Charles B. Carver, Elk Rapids banker, has written the Grand Rapids Press the following information on U. S. 31 to the north: "The last highway map, published July 1, shows a long detour just out of Traverse City and another at Acme running all the way to Elk Rapids. These two detours existed only for a very short time. The public now is using U. S. 31 all the way from Traverse City through to Elk Rapids and on to the straits of Mackinac. From time to time there may be a detour of a few hundred feet, but it will be good and no delays are necessary. We are now making the drive from Traverse City to Elk Rapids in 30 minutes, but still we are getting telephone calls from Grand Rapids and even from Chicago asking whether it is possible to get north of Traverse City on U. S. 31.

STATE POLICE GRAB OFF LOAD OF BOOZE

One Arrest Made and Capture Fine New Reo Sedan

The Cheboygan Democrat comments on a recent raid by the state police as follows:

"The Cheboygan detachment of state police participated in a raid that promised almost as nice a load of wet goods as did the capture of the steamer in the straits a few weeks ago. Tipped off that a boat was making regular deliveries of liquors at Harbor Springs, they laid for it and arrived there in time to catch it unloading some of its cargo. One new Flying Cloud sedan had been loaded full and was just leaving when officers appeared, it made a successful getaway, but another fine big car was caught and confiscated and sent to Lansing. Only one case of gin had been loaded into it. The boat put away from the dock and disappeared down the bay. The state police had no means at hand to give chase. The fellow with the big car that was taken claims to be a resorter from Ohio. He has been coming to Indian River for years. A bond of $1000 was fixed for his appearance.

METHODIST CHURCH John E. Lockyer, Minister

Visitors to this region will find cordial welcome at all our services. Divine worship at 10:30 and Sunday's sermon is "Facing the Facts of Human Nature." We always have special music and a chat to children.

The evening praise service is at 7:30 and the topic is a continuation of last Sunday evening's address. This week's theme is "Grading the Commandments." It will be an attempt to show where the emphasis is today upon moral questions.

Epworth League meets at 8:30 and Miss Beatrice Phillips of Ohio, is to lead with a study of "Francis Willard, A Temperance Pioneer." The social evening is Tuesday at 8:30. A get-together for young folks.

Sunday church school of religion meets at 9:30, with both graded and international Bible lessons.

Prayer meeting Thursday at 7:30. The pastor leads a study of "Some Parables of Jesus."

AT THE MOVIES

One On Johnny!

It's a great joke—when it's on the star comedian!

Even Johnny Hines admits that, because the joke occurred when Johnny was filming his latest First National picture "The Wright Idea," playing at the Palace Theatre August 10.

Wild Horse Rex to Play Strand in "Wild Beauty"

Rex, the King of Wild Horses, the star of Universal's "Wild Beauty," which opens at the Majestic Theatre on Saturday and Sunday is not the only wild horse appearing in this massive production.

Besides the wild horses in the leading roles, there is a herd of 1500 ownerless horses who wander the Arizona hill country without molestation from ranchers. This entire herd was rounded up by cowboys and kept penned in a box canyon until they were needed by Director Henry MacRae, for scenes in "Wild Beauty."

King Vidor, director of "The Big Parade," and accounted one of the ace directors of filmdom, wielded the megaphone on the new Marion Davies production, "The Patsy," which comes to the Palace Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

"Hot News," which will open at the Palace Monday and Tuesday, tells the story of a newsreel girl whose quest for the latest in sensational news events leads her into many difficult situations.

Wonder Dog Does Unusual Stunt in "4 Footed Ranger"

Those who claim there is nothing to write home about when it comes to western movie plays may be due for a surprise when they see "The Four Footed Ranger," the latest Universal feature release, which comes to the Majestic Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

Backed by a capable cast, Dynamite, the wonder dog of the films, stands out in sharp relief against the capable support of the human players in this actionful melodrama of the great open spaces.

Political Announcement To the Electors of Charlevoix County:

I am a candidate for Register of Deeds on the Republican ticket at the primary election, September 4, 1928. I believe I am fully qualified to handle the duties of this office, and, if nominated and elected, will give it my entire time. I most respectfully solicit your support. Glean Bulow, East Jordan.—Adv. 29-14.

ROAD BUILDING

IMPROVEMENTS ON MANY HIGHWAYS

No other class of public improvements has attracted a little of the attention that has been given to the construction of hard-surfaced highways during the last few years. Road building, so long neglected in this country, really began in a serious manner with the general introduction of the automobile as a means of rural transportation, says the Washington Post. Until then the farm owner was more intent in keeping down taxes than in the improvement of roads.

The general use of motor-driven vehicles gave to the city dweller an interest in country roads that he had never felt before. The result was the alliance between rural and urban dwellers in appeals to state legislatures to take over the construction and care of main traveled roads. Later came the movement for federal aid. This was extended at first only to a very small way, but the appropriations made by congress have grown year after year until today there are 55,903 miles of federal aided highways, of which 9,400 miles were constructed during 1923.

Equally important additions to the total mileage of "good roads" through state and county operations have been added, so that today it is possible for the motorist to drive over a hard road from Atlantic City to San Francisco. This is the most important long-distance highway in the country, touching as it does Wheeling, Columbus, Indianapolis, St. Louis, Denver, Salt Lake City and Reno.

Another great transcontinental highway is known as No. 30, from Atlantic City, through Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Wyoming, Utah and on to Portland, Ore. Still another road runs from Boston to Buffalo, thence through Canada, re-entering the United States at Detroit, and on to the western line of Michigan to Lake Michigan, by ferry to Manitowish, Wis., and thence north to St. Paul and Minneapolis. From this route the tourist may branch off over excellent roads to the South as far as New Orleans.

North and South, East and West highways have been created, and diagonals are in course of construction everywhere. Since 1913 the states have added thousands of millions to their bonded indebtedness in the interest of good highways. The taxes necessary to bring about these results seem to be the least burdensome of any that the property holder is called upon to pay. The American people have awakened to the necessity for good roads and are determined to have the best, for gravel and macadam are everywhere being replaced with asphalt, concrete and brick.

North Carolina Roads Earn Large Dividends

North Carolina's road building campaign, extending over a period of five years, has paid huge dividends, according to Frank Page, chairman of the state highway system. More than 1,500 miles of concrete roads have been built, averaging 18 feet wide.

Two thousand buses carry children over these roads. This is one of the achievements the improved roads have made possible, according to Mr. Page. While the number of farms in the country as a whole have been on the decrease the number of North Carolina farms has been increased by 13,000 during the last five years.

Motor registration in the state has increased 200 per cent since 1920, leading the increase in the rest of the country by 60 per cent. And indirectly this increased motor registration has paid for the highways in fees and a four-cent gas tax.

Good Roads Notes

What's the use of having concrete pavements when asphalt costs more?

The Japanese government has under consideration a ten-year road building plan.

Another thing that seems to be needed is less street widening on paper and more between the curbs.

Although some progress is being made, a number of difficulties are being experienced in road improvement and construction in Ireland, according to reports to the Department of Commerce.

The first paved road in the United States is in Alexandria, Va. The stones used were brought as ballast in ships from Europe, and were laid by Italian prisoners during the years of the American Revolution.

Some highways in Peru reach the highest altitude on record for motor roads.

The homing pigeons that beat a British passenger train will meet their Waterloo when they race an experimental American paved road pedestrian.

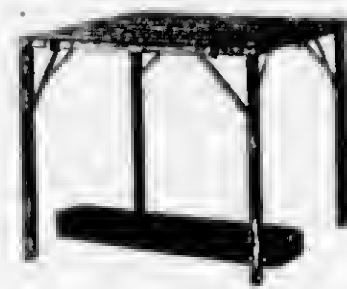

Officials in Washington are planning a great highway, connecting all American republics, starting at Detroit and running through Central and South America to Argentina and Chile.

MICHIGAN RIVIERA TOURNEY NOW ON AT INN COURTS

FIRST, SECOND AND THIRD ROUND MATCHES OF MEN'S SINGLES COMPLETED TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Men's Doubles, Junior Singles and Women's Singles Play Now in Progress—Seeded Players Come Through Early Rounds Unscathed—Well Balanced Tourney

First, second and third round matches of men's singles in the Michigan Riviera tennis tournament, which opened Monday on The Inn clay courts, have been completed as we go to press. Play swung into the men's doubles, junior singles and women's singles Tuesday afternoon, and are in progress at this time. Three remaining third round matches in the men's singles are to be completed today and quarter-finals start Thursday.

While entries in all events are smaller this year than in the Western Michigan championship last summer, the tournament has a well-balanced entry and promises some excellent matches when the quarter-finals, semi-finals and finals are played. Walter T. Hayes, secretary of the Western Lawn Tennis association, who is referee of the tourney, is authority for the above statement.

John Hennessey, Indianapolis, Davis cup player, is seeded No. 1 in the men's singles while the remainder of the seed is as follows: George O'Connell, Ellis Klingman, Walter T. Hayes, Jack Harris, George Neeves, Chicago; Dick Dietrick, St. Louis, Mo.; William Irwin, Grand Rapids.

Sixteen teams have entered the doubles. The seeded teams are, No. 1, John Hennessey and Jack Harris; No. 2, Walter Hayes and Ellis Klingman; and No. 3, William and Earl Irwin.

Monday and Tuesday results follow:

First Round, Men's Singles

Jack Harris, Chicago, d. Robert Evans, Davenport, 6-2, 6-2.

ONE IS MOTTO

Charity Dances and Other Benefit Affairs Scheduled This Week
Along With Drive

The annual tag day drive for the benefit of the Charlevoix hospital will be held this coming Saturday, August 11th.

This annual event is put on for the purpose of raising funds to help carry on the work of the local hospital which is partially dependent upon outside help to defray its operating expenses and the deficit must be raised from other sources.

The Charlevoix hospital has established itself as an indispensable part of the community life. It has been transformed from an impossible and unsightly structure to an institution of beauty and efficient service, and with its beautiful grounds and situation of eminence is one of the beauty spots of our City-the-Best.

When making these statements we do not forget our debt to the summer resorters and town people, whose unselfish and whole-hearted support have made this transformation possible. Every charity affair held to raise funds for the hospital have met with spontaneous response from the people of the town and surrounding country and it is this splendid spirit that has made the institution a success from the very start.

So when we make announcement that the annual tag day will be held on Saturday of this week, it is (Continued on page ten.)

J. H. KING ENTRY WON 6 METER RACE

TWO SECONDS AND FIRST SUN-DAY GAVE LEAD IN SERIES

Whiting and Wilson Boats Took Second and Third Places—Wilson Entry Best in 17 Class

By winning second place Friday, second place Saturday and first place in the final Sunday, J. H. King's 6 meter boat "Firefly" accumulated a total of 19 points to win the three-day series of sail boat races held under the auspices of the Pine Lake Yacht Club in the Charlevoix 4th annual regatta.

Placing 4th, 1st and 2nd, respectively in the series, A. H. Whiting's "Sandpiper" took second with a total of 17 points. Third place went to the "Dauphin," J. P. Wilson's entry. They took 1st, 5th and 3rd places, respectively during the series. Others in order of points scored were:

6 Meter Boat Results
"Firefly," J. H. King	2nd	1st	19
"Sandpiper," A. H. Whiting	4th	1st	17
"Dauphin," J. P. Wilson	1st	5th	15
"Question," O. W. Johnson	3rd	3rd	14
"Betty," J. & F. Titus	5th	6th	8
"Oslo," F. H. Scott	disq.	4th	6
"Grebe," Ellen Stuart	6th	disq.	3

Manchester 17 Results

"Binx," Cynthia Wilson	2nd	1st	2nd	7
"Kumalong," E. D. Babst	1st	dns	3rd	4
"Bubbles," W. B. McIlvaine	dns	2nd	2nd	4

"Question," Oscar W. Johnson; "Betty," John and Francis Titus; "Oslo," Frederick H. Scott; "Grebe," Miss Ellen Stuart.

The Manchester 17 class series was won by Cynthia Wilson's "Binx," which placed 2nd on Friday and first both Saturday and Sunday. "Bubbles," W. B. McIlvaine, and "Kumalong," E. D. Babst, tied for second place.

By winning first place in Saturday's race, the Whiting boat, "Sandpiper," took the lead in the summer series of races for the Charlevoix Yacht Club permanent trophy. The 6 meters will race each Wednesday and Saturday throughout August, the winner to be chosen on a point basis after the final race of the series.

Light wind slowed up the time both Friday and Saturday. With fair breeze Sunday morning, J. H. King's "Firefly" took an early lead and was 5 minutes ahead of the nearest boat at the finish. The real race for position on the final day was between the Whiting and Wilson boats. The Wilson boat led until almost up to the finishing buoy, when the Whiting boat nosed her out and finished ahead by a margin of 11 seconds.

The results of the three-day series for 6 meter and Manchester 17's was as follows:

THOUSANDS SAW ANNUAL REGATTA PROGRAM SUNDAY

RUNABOUT RACES AND OUTBOARD EVENTS HAD LARG-EST ENTRY OF ANY OTHER FORMER YEAR

"Zim" of Traverse City Won Class B, "C-U-Later" of Charlevoix Class C and "Miss Bell-Air" of Bellaire the Free-for-All—Time in Races Was Very Fast

The excitement has subsided. To those who worked the hardest and were instrumental in bringing the event about, Charlevoix's 4th annual regatta goes down in history as the most successful ever held here. Those who took no part and shouldered none of the work necessary to stage the regatta are still grumbling over little minor faults the broad minded person would overlook. As usual the "howlers" and "drones" are having their inning, a disagreeable feature for which more progressive Charlevoix citizens are very sorry.

From an entertainment standpoint, the regatta far eclipsed that of any former year. In the runabout and outboard classes entries were larger and competition keenest ever witnessed here. Thousands of spectators saw the events from the shore, from cars packed along the bluff overlooking the course and from all types of boats anchored within the course.

In the first event of the afternoon program, the 100 h. p. runabout race, John Knight of Kalamazoo, drove the "Maywin" to victory over last year's winner, J. Morgan Baker of Traverse City. It was an exciting race between the two boats in the first heat when they run neck-and-neck for the entire first lap. Knight's speed of a trifle over 34 miles per hour for a five mile heat was fast for this type of boat, and his victory over Baker gives each a win for the John Koch permanent trophy.

The 150 h. p. runabout race, won by Geo. Shwab, Jr., with the "Miss Tennessee," was the closest in the runabout races. "Phantom," entered by William Weiss of Indian River, forced the local boat all the way. Shwab won the first heat with Weiss second, and this order was completely reversed in the second heat, making the two boats even on a point basis. Shwab was awarded the trophy for the best time, thus settling the tie. There were 6 entries in the 150 h. p. event, but the contest was mainly between the two above named boats.

In the free-for-all runabout race, however, the Indian River entry outran the entire field and won both heats handily. It was a pretty race, with the first four boats contesting for position all the way. Shwab and Weiss each have now won a victory for the Charlevoix Boat Club permanent trophy, which goes to the boat winning it three times.

There were 13 starters out of 24 entries in the class B outboard event. "Zim," Eugene Zimmerman's entry from Traverse City, was by far the class of the field. His time of 10 min. 1 2-5 sec. for 5 miles was very fast for class B and may be a world's record. His time has been sent to the M. V. P. B. A. for official recognition.

Eleven out of 14 entries started in the class C race for outboards. This

"C-U-Later," on a point basis. Points allowed according to M. V. P. B. A. rules were 200 for 1st place, 100 for 2nd, 50 for 3rd and 25 for 4th. Brody took first place in the first heat and fourth in the second, giving his 225 points. Smith took one 1st place for 200 points and Thurnauer two seconds for 200 points, thus making a tie. As in the 150 h. p. runabout race the 2nd place winner was chosen on best time. Smith's boat made the fastest time of any entry in the C class and was awarded 2nd place, making Thurnauer third. Unfortunately the fastest boat of the class, Vane Smith's "Smith-Craft," was disqualified for being out of position.

According to officials a driver's meeting was held at 11 o'clock Sunday morning when all drivers met and drew for starting position from the judge's boat according to rules governing the races. Neither driver of a Smith boat appeared for the draw. When the race started the "Smith-Craft" took second position from the pole and was disqualified, which according to rules and decision of officials handling the regatta, was entirely proper. All drivers had previously been given written instructions and there was no excuse for such infraction. In the second heat "Smith-Craft" led the field by a big margin and took second place in the event. "Miss Petoskey," another class C favorite, run into swells from the Reomar as she was pulling out of the center of the course while the race was in progress, giving her driver, Herbert Myers, a bad spill and damaged his boat.

Owing to lateness and results of former races, a large entry in the free-for-all for outboards dwindled down to 6 starters when the event was run off. "Miss Bell-Air," L. C. Bailey's entry from Bellaire, won this event with the remarkable speed of 35.225 miles per hour. The two Smith boats, "Smith-Craft" and "Speedy Boy," finished second and third, respectively, racing class C motors against an Elto Quad D class motor. Bailey's time was over 2 miles per hour better than any previous time made for an Elto Quad and has been sent to the Elto company to compete for the $1000 prize offered for the best time made by an Elto motor during the 1928 season.

Following are the winners in the various races and their best time for one heat:

100 h. p. Runabouts

"Maywin," John Knight, Kalamazoo, 8:43 2-5.

"Punk," J. Morgan Baker, Traverse City, 8:52 1/2.

"Watercar," Benj. Brown, Charlevoix, 9:38.

150 h. p. Runabouts—6 Entries

"Miss Tennessee," Geo. Shwab, Jr., Nashville, Tenn., 11:50 2-5.

"Phantom," Wm. Weiss, Indian River, 11:53.

"Helen I," Robert L. Smith, Indian River, 12:16.

Free-for-All Runabouts—7 Entries

"Phantom," Wm. Weiss, Indian River, 15:11.

"Miss Tennessee," Geo. Shwab, Jr., 15:51.

"Helen I," Robert L. Smith, 16:16 4-5.

Class B Outboards—13 Starters

"Zim," Eugene Zimmerman, Traverse City, 10:1 2-5

"Chief," Frank Hoard, Traverse City, 10:15 3-5.

"Baby Spider Lake," Eddie Olson, Spider Lake, 10:50.

Class C Outboards—11 Starters

"C-U-Later," M. Roy Brady, Charlevoix, 9:23.

"Smith-Craft," Vane Smith, Charlevoix, 8:50 1-5.

"Empty," Max Thurnauer, Cincinnati, O., 9:23 1-5.

Free-for-All Outboards—6 Starters

"Miss Bell-Air," L. C. Bailey, Bellaire, 4:17.

"Smith-Craft," Vane Smith, 4:23 3-5.

"Speedy Boy," Marcus Smith, 4:31 3-5.

In behalf of the regatta committee the Courier wishes to express ap-proposals to the regatta committee.

Kinyon, Dr. Sladak and Ben Samuelson of Traverse City, as regatta officials; Captain George D. Gaw for the use of his yacht P. D. Q. Envelope as judge's boat; Bennie Oosterbaan, Frank Harigan and Phil Northrup for their services as timers and clerks.

Enroll at the home of Mrs. B. L. Harrington, 106 Clinton street, or Friday at the Linda Vista.

See What Red Crown Ethyl Will Do!

Try it once! Performance will tell you more than words. Fill up the tank with Red Crown Ethyl. How fast your car goes away! How quickly it picks up speed!

At once you notice a big difference in driving. Don't have to shift gears so often. The car seems to take at an easy gait whatever you give it to do.

Hills slip under it smoothly on high —and you don't have to rush them either! Any speed seems an easy speed. No knocks from the engine whether you race or crawl!

If you haven't tried Red Crown Ethyl, you don't know what you're missing! No matter what make of car you drive, whether it is old or new—this famous fuel will give it new pep, new speed, new power!

Red Crown Ethyl is the high compression gasoline that made possible the high compression motor —that gives advantages of high compression to other motors. Try it today!

A SUCCESSFUL SIX NOW WINNING EVEN GREATER SUCCESS

QUALITY that is winning new thousands every week

Pontiac Six has long served as an outstanding example of quality—of materials, design and workmanship.
No other six so low in price offers bodies by Fisher—with the high-grade coach-work and materials which Fisher provides. None other offers a 186 cu. in.
engine—altogether with the stamina and long life for which Pontiac is famed. And none other enjoys the advantages of being built in the world's most modern automobile plant.

Why not learn what such high quality of materials, design and construction means to a motor car? Why not drive a Pontiac Six today?

Coupe, $745; Sport Roadster, $715; Phantom, $775; Cabriolet, $795.
4-Door Sedan, $825; Sport Landau Sedan, $875. Oakland All-American Six, $1045 to $1265. All prices at factory. Check Oakland Pontiac delivered prices—they include lowest handling charges.
General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

BLOCK'S GROCERY EMPLOYEES HAVE PICNIC

Beach Party Declared By Participants to Be Great Affair

Have you ever been to a real beach party? Boy! Martin Block's crew sure has. Had a crackin' good time. The swimmers declared Lake Michigan not half bad. Eats? Now what we mean, nothing was lacking! After supper several interesting and eventful hours were spent.

We have added a new butcher to our crew—Mike Hamlin—you all know Mike. Appropriating a table for a stage and "Mike and Uke" for the orchestra, and impromptu program ensued, the like of which has never before been seen or heard. Ask the ladies if there were ever more romantic serenaders than those of Block's grocery (starring Ben Sleder, Armour Packing company salesman, who was a guest of the party); and the song rendered by Mac McCarthy was enjoyed by everyone. We didn't know it was in him. As LaVerne says, "The party sure went over big, the crowd was full of life, and the eats were delicious, especially Ralph's potato salad."

This was the second of its kind this year, the other being held two weeks ago at Pine Point. At ten o'clock the crowd dispersed, giving nine rousing cheers for Mr. and Mrs. Block.—Contributed by a member of party.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday service: 10:45 a. m.
Subject, "Soul."

Sunday school: 12:00 o'clock.

Wednesday service: 7:45 p. m.

First Wednesday in the month, only.

Reading Room: Tuesdays and Saturdays, 3 to 5 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"Spirit" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches Sunday, August 5.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "The Spirit of God hath made me, and the breath of the Almighty hath given me life." (Job. 33:4.)

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spiritual causation is the one question to be considered, for more than all others spiritual causation relates to human progress. The age seems ready to approach this subject, to ponder somewhat the supremacy of spirit, and at least to touch the hem of Truth's garment." (p. 170.)

BIRTHDAY PARTY WAS AN ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

Friends and Relatives Gather to Help John Rodger Celebrate

Monday, August 6th, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rodger was opened to relatives and friends to help John Rodger, a brother of the host, celebrate his seventy-fifth birthday, which occurred on August 5th. The guests, forty-two in number, were seated at a bountifully laden table and did justice to the potluck served by the ladies.

Two large birthday cakes graced the tables and Mr. Rodger received many gifts and flowers, showing the esteem in which he is held by his friends.

There were relatives and guests from North Dakota, Minnesota, Indiana, Hillsdale, Elmira, Alba and Belaire, Michigan, and neighbors and friends from Charlevoix.

After spending a most enjoyable afternoon, the guests departed wishing Uncle John many happy returns of this anniversary.

CATHERINE MACDONALD MARRIED LAST MONDAY

Became the Bride of Mr. Nyle Jessup of Ithaca, Michigan

Miss Catherine MacDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacDonald, was united in marriage to Mr. Nyle Jessup of Ithaca, Michigan, at ten o'clock, August 6. Miss Edith Struthers of Charlevoix and Herman Luce of Petoskey, attended the bride and groom.

Miss MacDonald is a graduate of the Charlevoix high school, 1922, and a graduate of Michigan State Normal college, Ypsilanti. She has taught four years at Central Lake high school. Mr. Jessup is a graduate of Ithaca high school, Ithaca, and a graduate of Central State Normal college. He has taught several years at Central Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessup are motoring to Canada and will make their home in Detroit, where Mr. Jessup is principal in one of the Detroit schools.

EDITORIALSCROSS CROSSINGS CAUTIOUSLY

"Cross crossings cautiously" is the advice of the railroads to those who use automobiles on the highways. "Cross crossings cautiously" is another way of putting the same idea across.

We've been told often enough that many highway accidents are caused by lack of courtesy. Hogging the center of the road, taking the right of way when it belongs to the other fellow, and cutting in and out of orderly traffic are all examples of bad traffic manners that keep the hospitals busy.

Isn't the locomotive engineer entitled to consideration and courtesy just as much as a fellow motorist?

Have you ever had your heart almost hit the roof of your mouth when some fellow cut across at an intersection when you had the right of way? If you have, you will realize how the engineer feels when the pilot of the locomotive just misses the tail feathers of some reckless bird.

The train has the right of way and can back its claim. Of course the engineer doesn't want to hit anyone, but the best he can do when approaching a grade crossing is to toot the whistle and hope that any motorist approaching the crossing will use discretion.

The laws and customs of our country are planned for the convenience of the majority. The engineer can't keep monkeying with the brakes.

motorman. It costs several dollars to stop a train under normal conditions; it will cost many times as much if the train is stopped quickly enough to damage the rolling stock and shake up the passengers.

Showing a little courtesy at grade crossings will not only lessen the wear and tear on the engineer but will also insure you and your car getting across undamaged.—National Safety Council.

MORE HORSES

It is hardly to be expected that so modern a business analyst as Roger Babson would seriously advise people looking for opportunity to go into the business of raising horses. Yet he has just done this very thing.

Horse breeders agree that horses are still needed, and good horses are getting scarce because their breeding has been neglected in the last few years. It will take several years more, one breeder says, to make up the present shortage.

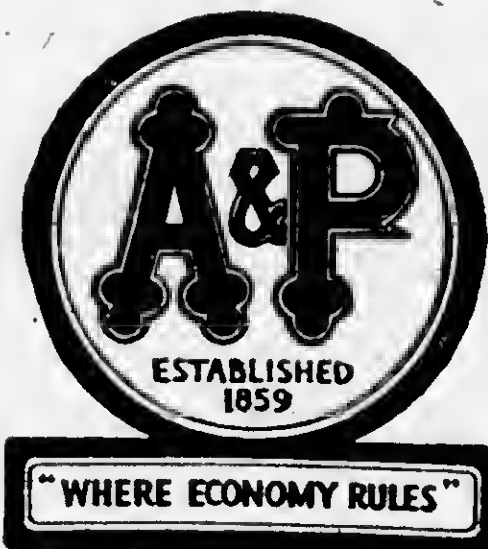

The farmers, it is said, will always need them to supplement the tractor. Carriage companies and some other forms of business still find them useful in the city, and may continue to do so. Horses are increasingly demanded for riding and racing.

Few motorists, however, will grow enthusiastic about any efforts to increase or renew the horse population. Horses are a nuisance on city streets, and little better on country roads. They may be crowned out of all but remote backwoods regions, not because they can no longer serve a useful purpose in the economic scheme, but because they infer with mechanical traffic in an age of high speed.

OUR HOME TOWN

The CENTER of our business and our social activities--The place we call home.

Are we doing, day by day, the many things we should do
To make this Home Town of ours and even better place in which to live--

Do we assume our share of civic responsibility ?
Do we always put our best foot forward . . . ?
Do we boost our home town to outsiders . . . ?

Do we meet adversity with a smile ?
Do we trade with home merchants ?
Do we pay our bills promptly ?

Folks, when we can all answer "Yes" to these few questions, then, and not until then, will we be on the road toward a bigger and a better Charlevoix.

A LECTURE on CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Entitled
Christian Science: The Way of Salvation Which Christ Jesus Revealed

by John Ellis Sedman, C. S. of Cambridge, Massachusetts

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Nether Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

A large and attentive audience from Charlevoix and neighboring cities listened to the lecture on Christian Science in VanFelt Hall, Tuesday evening, August 7th, at 8:00 o'clock. Mrs. Cassie Hart introduced the speaker, John Ellis Sedman, C. S., of Cambridge, Mass., as follows:

"Friends: The Mother Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., maintains a board of Lectureship. We have with us this evening a member of that board, Mr. John Ellis Sedman, C. S., of Cambridge, Mass., who will now address us on the subject, 'Christian Science: The Way of Salvation Which Christ Jesus Revealed.' In the tenth chapter of Luke, it is recorded that Jesus at one time sent forth seventy disciples, with instructions to enter, by twos, into certain cities and villages. Wherever they went, they were to heal the sick, and to say to the people, 'The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.' When these seventy men returned, they reported with joy that they had been successful in their healing work. Thereupon Jesus rejoiced. The gospel records that the great Master said to his students: 'Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see; for I tell you, that many prophets and kings have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not heard them.'"

If at any time prior to the advent of Christ Jesus, one person had said to another, 'Is there anyone who can tell me how I can enter into the kingdom of heaven, how I can come into the enjoyment of all that is good and beautiful, the correct answer must always have been, in effect, 'There is not a person upon earth who can perform that great service for you. But when Christ Jesus began his ministry, the situation changed. Then if one man had said to another, 'Tell me what I must do to be saved, any man, who knew enough, could have answered truly. Follow the teaching and practice of Christ Jesus, who is now preaching and healing in Palestine, and you will enter into the spiritual enjoyment of all good.'"

Christ Jesus understood God. He knew what the race needed to deliver it from bondage; and to usher it into the enjoyment of eternal peace and happiness. St. Paul truly declares, 'Other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ.' Jesus came to show the way of salvation for all men. He succeeded, completely. No sooner or later every man will avail himself of the realization of that great fact, and will work out his salvation in the way Jesus of Nazareth taught.

On one occasion Jesus said, in explanation of the purpose of his great work for humanity: 'I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly.' Again he declared, 'And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus whom thou hast sent.' What more important question can occupy the thought of any man or woman of to-day than this, 'How can I gain, and do all in my power to help others to gain, that understanding of God which is eternal life? We all know with what happy anticipation people journey to a new section of country in order to make their first acquaintance with some beautiful scenery which they have not seen before, or to become still better acquainted with the grandeur and beauty which they have previously enjoyed. We all know what joy has come to men who have lived through association with grand and noble men and women. Sometimes a single hour spent with one of God's noble men or noble women, stands out as something for which to be increasingly grateful down through the years. With what earnestness then, with what eagerness, should we embrace every opportunity to become better acquainted with our heavenly Father, the Giver of all good.'"

Who has not the race given more willing and joyful heed to the Scriptural admonition, 'Acquaint now thyself with him, and he will be at peace?' There are many reasons for this apparent apathy. Prominent among them stands this, that false doctrines have presented God in such an unlovely and unlovable light that they have quite naturally caused people who accepted these doctrines, to turn away from contemplation of the nature and character of the Supreme Being. A young woman was asked how she thought of God before she became interested in Christian Science. She replied, 'Oh, I did not think much about God. I preferred to think of Jesus; because I thought he was so much kinder than God.'"

False doctrines have indeed made that appear to be the case. But Jesus knew and taught something entirely different. He said of the healing power he exerted, 'If I with the finger of God cast out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God is come upon you.' Jesus knew that every instance of healing, every comforting word or deed, which reached humanity through him, but exemplified God's beneficent love for his creatures expressed through Christ Jesus, the Way-shower who came to do God's will. So plain did Jesus make this fact to his students that his disciple, John, declared, 'Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins.'"

The student of Christian Science, studying daily the Bible and the writings of Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, soon learns to trace the goal that comes into his experience to God, with the same unerring certainty with which the sun shines light to the sun. He comes to know with equal certainty that evil of any kind cannot emanate from God. 'The blessing of the Lord,' says the Bible, 'it maketh rich, and he addeth no sorrow with it.'"

Now it is not enough merely to believe in God. God must be understood. It is not enough for us to believe in the law of mathematics. Such a belief will not enable us to solve a single mathematical problem. We must gain an understanding of mathematical law, if we would have practical results in that field of endeavor; and we measure our understanding of mathematical law by our ability to solve problems which fall under that law. Jesus taught his followers to understand God. We must gain that same spiritual understanding.

GOD, THE ONE INFINITE CAUSE
One of the most important things to understand concerning God is that he exists always at the standpoint of causation, and that he alone exists at that standpoint. Man and the universe exist always at the standpoint of effect or creation; they never exist at the standpoint of cause. God is the one and only cause, and creator, who produces, sustains, and governs the one and only real effect or creation, spiritual man and the spiritual universe.

From this great fact, it follows that man can possess no undivided power, wisdom, or ability. The effect can do only what the cause impels and empowers it to do. Jesus recognized this fact, and acted upon it at every turn of the way. He said, 'The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do; for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise.' The nature of God, the cause, must determine the nature of the effect, or creation, which God produces. Like produces like. The first chapter of Genesis says that 'God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him.' That is the only way God could create man—a man in quality and kind like himself. A perfect God can create only a perfect man, and a perfect universe.

Now mankind theoretically admits that God is perfect, but is very slow to grasp what that fact really implies. In the first chapter of Genesis, with its wonderful account of creation, the statement is made five times that God, beholding His creation, 'saw that it was good.' And the last verse of that chapter declares that 'God saw every thing that he had made, and behold, it was very good.' Jesus taught and proved the perfection of the everlasting God. He taught that God is good, and that He produces good. What a joyful note John strikes in the beginning of his first epistle, where he imparts to others Jesus' teaching on this point, that their joy may be full. This then, writes John, 'is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all.' As John goes on with his epistle, he rejoices likewise in the unalterable perfection of the man whom God creates and sustains.

Christian Science completely disavows with the Adamic theory of creation and all its corollaries. Christian Science repudiates the doctrine that the man whom God creates sustains evil, or ever could. Please remember that when we take issue with theological dogmas, long believed, we are not taking issue with anything which Jesus taught, or with any part of the inspiring teaching of the Bible. We agree with all that Jesus taught. We stand squarely on the inspired teaching of the Bible. The first tenet of Christian Science, written by its Discoverer and Founder, Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, reads (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p. 497): 'As adherents of Truth, we take the inspired Word of the Bible as our sufficient guide to eternal life.'"

According to the Adamic theory of creation, God existed without man until some six thousand years ago. This view presents man as a mere afterthought of the creator, an experimental addition to God's earlier creation. And this experimental creature is represented as soon falling into error, and causing his creator trouble.

Christian Science makes clear the fallacy of this theory. It shows exactly why man as created by God is upright and spiritual and absolutely essential to God. The Bible clearly indicates that God is the divine, infinite Mind; and Christian Science explains and amplifies this grand fact. Mind is that which knows. Since God, the divine Mind, is perfect, then the divine Mind must be unlimited or infinite; for any limitation in divine Mind would indicate lack of intelligence, or imperfection. The infinitude of divine Mind renders impossible the existence of other minds, and, therefore, the existence of any cause and creator, is seen to be the one and only Mind, the original all-knowing One. Since the divine Mind is perfect and complete, this Mind must know every good thought, or spiritual idea, which can be conceived by unlimited intelligence. Now God is 'the same yesterday, and to-day, and for ever.' It follows then that God always has known, and always will know every good and beautiful idea. Consequently everything that enters into God's perfect creation, every one of His perfect ideas, always has existed and always will exist. There is no escape from this logic; and it is completely disposed of the commonly accepted but entirely illogical and impossible definition of creation as the bringing into existence of something which previously did not exist. God is the infinite creator, in the sense that He is the one and only cause which produces, sustains, and governs the one and only effect, spiritual man and the spiritual universe; but the entire effect is coexistent with its cause and, like the cause, is eternal. God could no more dispense for a moment with one of His perfect, spiritual ideas than He could cease to be. And man is God's highest idea. Christ Jesus drove home this point of the imperishable, indispensable nature of the real being of man, when he declared to his disciples, 'There shall not an hair of your head perish.'"

The Bible clearly teaches that God's creation completely satisfied

Him; and every idea therein is blessed and is a blessing. When something of this truth dawned upon Abraham, it found expression in his prophecy, 'I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing.' As a single sunbeam manifests all the qualities of light, so the individual, spiritual man, the child of God, manifests the attributes of God, and reveals the quality of God's perfect being. Hence Jesus' declaration, 'He that hath seen me hath seen the Father.' But as it takes the innumerable rays of sunlight to express the full majesty and glory of the sun, so it takes all men to manifest the full glory of God's eternal being.

Recognition of the fact that God is forever governing His perfect creation, and that all contained therein is essential and is in its proper place, brings to the individual a sense of peace with regard to himself and all his fellow-men. It reveals the fatherhood of man as eternal and unalterable facts. It dispels all indifference and all enmity. The loving mother cannot be indifferent to the welfare of her child, because she recognizes that its welfare is inseparable from her own. Similarly, one individual cannot be indifferent to the welfare of any other, when it has become clear to him that where material sense says there exists only an individual, spiritual sense reveals man, made in the image and likeness of God—man who is necessary and dear to God, and who exists to express God's perfect being.

Jesus taught his disciples that all men should call God, Father, as he did, and look upon themselves, in their true spiritual being, as sons of God. John, expounding Jesus' true theology, makes this remarkable declaration concerning the true being of man: 'Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin; for his seed remaineth in him; and he cannot sin, because he is born of God.' Here we have a plain, clear declaration, in the inspired Word of the Bible; that the man whom God creates never sins or falls, but remains forever upright, pure, perfect, spiritual.

By this we do not mean that the human conceptions of man, or in other words mortals, are perfect. We all know that a false concept of something is not that something. Mortals are no more like the real spiritual man than a false human concept of God are like the perfect, eternal Supreme Being. False concepts can be changed and improved; and they need to be. Mortals vary according to the degree of enlightenment they possess concerning the true being of God and man. Plato uttered a great truth when he said, 'What thou seest, that thou beest.' What mankind needs above all else is spiritual enlightenment. The highest type of humanity is the man who knows best what God and man are.

GOD, THE INFINITE PERSON
Frequently the question is asked, 'Is God personal? Now no helpful or intelligent answer can be given to this question, without carefully considering what is meant by the word personal. The question means, is God anthropomorphic? That is, is God like a human being, subject to anger, jealousy, changeableness; does He have a physique like a mortal; is He finite and limited? If such be the meaning of the question, then the answer is 'No.'"

But, on the other hand, if the question means, is God the ever present, ever conscious Supreme Being, who loves and understands all, and who may be loved and understood by all? Then surely the answer is 'Yes.' For, we have already seen, God is the self-existent, self-sustaining, eternal, all-wise, infinite One, who knows all that is knowable, and who produces and sustains, loves and governs, all that has actual existence. Christian Science makes plain the fact that not only is God personal, in the higher meaning of that term, but that indeed God is the infinite Person. On page 116 of Science and Health, Mrs. Eddy writes: 'As we words person and personified are commonly and ignorantly employed, they often lead, when applied to Deity, to confused and erroneous conceptions of divinity and its distinction from humanity. If the term personality, as commonly understood, is applied to God, then God is infinite personality, but not in the lower sense. An infinite Mind in a finite form is an absolute impossibility.'"

The individual who would understand God aright must never lose sight of the fact that God is ever conscious, ever active Supreme Being. Not only does God know; and love, and understand; but true thinking and true action are made possible by the one infinite essence, the all-knowing, all-loving divine Mind, which is reflected by man and the universe. All true thoughts emanate from God, and remain forever under His governing power.

When Solomon became king over Israel he realized that the human mind could find within itself nothing that could be adequate for the solution of the difficult problems which would devolve upon him as ruler over a great nation. He therefore turned to God, the divine Mind, for help. It is recorded in the Bible that 'Solomon said, Give me wisdom, O Lord, my God, for thou art God, and thou art able to give wisdom, and I shall be able to govern thy people.' Solomon's appeal was answered by an inflow of wisdom which not only blessed him and his people, but has blessed us to-day through the pages of the Bible. Centuries later, James, a faithful follower of the Nazarene, gave to all mankind the inspired counsel, 'If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him.'"

Mrs. Eddy's perception of the fact that God is divine Principle has done much to clarify thought concerning the nature of God and concerning the nature and source of true law. Prior to the discovery of Christian Science, the more enlightened portion of the race became accustomed to think of the word 'principle' as relating to that which is obedient to law or sustains law, and which is unchangeable, stable, reliable. But the word 'principle' was not understood to be inseparably connected with divine consciousness or intelligence. Mrs. Eddy was the first to define and to use this grand word in its highest and most exalted sense. She perceived the fact that there is in reality but one Principle, infinite and conscious. She saw that God, divine Love, is the one and only Principle, as surely as He is the one and only Mind. She saw also that, just as the beauty of the sky and the flowers points to the beauty that resides in the divine mind and must be expressed, so the reliability and stability found in the law of mathematics point to the unchangeableness of the one eternal cause, God. On page 224 of 'The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscellaneous,' Mrs. Eddy says, 'What is termed principle, or the principle of harmony, or vibration, the principle of conservation of number in geometry, the principle of the inclined plane in mechanics, etc., are but an effect of the one universal cause, an emanation of the one divine intelligent Principle that holds the earth in its orbit by evolved spiritual power, that commands the waves and the winds, that marks the sparrow's fall, and that governs all from the infinitesimal to the infinite, namely, God.'"

The terms Principle and Love when used together, as they so frequently are in the writings of Mrs. Eddy, to describe the nature of the Mind which is God, convey as clearly as words can the infinite and unchangeableness of the Supreme Being. To an age ready to a certain degree for that revelation, Jesus made known the divine fatherhood of God. To an age which valued more highly than any previous age the grandeur of true womanhood, Mrs. Eddy revealed the divine motherhood of God. On page 332 of her book, Science and Health, Mrs. Eddy writes, 'Father-Mother is the name for Deity, which indicates His tender relationship to His spiritual creation.'"

PRAYER
'Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you,' says the Bible. Prayer plays an essential part in this process of drawing nigh to God. In a broad sense, everyone prays more or less. The words of a well-known hymn express a vital truth:

'Prayer is the heart's sincere desire.
Uttered or unexpressed;
The motion of a hidden fire
That trembles in the breast.
'Prayer is the simplest form of speech.
That infant lips can try;
Prayer the sublimest strains that reach
The Majesty on high.'

A selfish, a petty, a wrong desire is a false prayer. A noble, an unselfish, a grand desire is a true prayer. Every man should devote thought to the subject of prayer, and learn how to pray. Prayer will naturally become more intelligent, and consequently more fruitful, as the individual increases his understanding of God.

Often the question is asked, 'Do Christian Scientists use petition when they pray, as other Christians do, or do they confine themselves to affirmations of truth, and denials of error?' Christian Scientists have confidence in the efficacy of clear, firm affirmations of truth and vigorous denials of the false arguments of error. When such affirmations and denials rest upon spiritual understanding, but Christian Scientists follow Christ Jesus in all things, and the great Master proclaimed in unmistakable terms the importance which he attached to the right kind of petitions. In the Sermon on the Mount, Jesus not only said, 'Seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you,' but he also said, 'Ask, and it shall be given you.'

Since God is perfect, it is impossible for Him to change or to be changed. God is always sustaining and governing His creation aright; and since He knows all that can be known, He needs no information or advice. Prayer, then, can no way change God. But human minds and lives need to be transformed by the divine power. An earnest, sincere turning to God in prayer, asking for His guidance and blessing, plays an important part in this transforming process.

When Solomon became king over Israel he realized that the human mind could find within itself nothing that could be adequate for the solution of the difficult problems which would devolve upon him as ruler over a great nation. He therefore turned to God, the divine Mind, for help. It is recorded in the Bible that 'Solomon said, Give me wisdom, O Lord, my God, for thou art God, and thou art able to give wisdom, and I shall be able to govern thy people.' Solomon's appeal was answered by an inflow of wisdom which not only blessed him and his people, but has blessed us to-day through the pages of the Bible. Centuries later, James, a faithful follower of the Nazarene, gave to all mankind the inspired counsel, 'If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him.'"

THE DISCOVERER AND FOUNDER OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

How did Christian Science come to be discovered, and why was Mrs. Eddy the one who discovered and founded Christian Science? Mrs. Eddy discovered and founded Christian Science, because that was the work which God gave her to do. God equipped her for the great work he did. He protected, sustained, and empowered her when she did it.

It was God's beneficent law that prepared Moses for the work he did. It was God who commanded Moses to lead the children of Israel out of Egypt. Because that was the work which God fitted him to do, and gave him to do, he alone could do it. There are no accidents in the divine order; and there is no chance about the way in which divine truth becomes known to humanity.

When Jesus was visiting many cities and villages, teaching and preaching, and, as the Scriptures record, healing 'every sickness, and every disease among the people,' his heart went out to the multitudes about him because of their great need for spiritual enlightenment. They were like sheep without a shepherd. Then Jesus said to his twelve disciples: 'The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few; pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest.' Jesus knew that no man could help in the gathering of that harvest, unless God equipped him, and sent him to labor there. When the great Master was bringing the work which he did upon earth to its completion, he said to his heavenly Father, 'I have glorified thee, Father, for thou hast finished the work which thou gavest me to do.'

There were many things which played an important part in Mrs. Eddy's preparation for her discovery of Christian Science. Most important of all was the spirit which animated her from the time she was a child. She was imbued with a love for God and a love for mankind. She was brought up in a home where the Bible was constantly read and studied. She was instructed from her early childhood in the principles of the Bible, which she was taught, by her mother, to believe in divine healing; and she had some striking proofs of the power of prayer to heal while she was still a child. As she expanded and deepened, she trusted the tragedy of human life to the full, and was proved to her how helpless are mere human efforts to meet the deeper needs of the race. She was forced ever nearer and nearer to God for comfort, and for surcease of sorrow. She saw the great need of humanity for deliverance, and she longed with a love that was deep, broad, and all-embracing, to see the whole race set free.

In the year 1866 Mrs. Eddy met with a serious accident. All human efforts in her behalf proved futile, and hope for her recovery was abandoned. When death seemed near, she turned her thoughts completely and unreservedly to God for help. She asked her friends to withdraw and to leave her alone with her heavenly Father and His great gift to humanity, the Bible. Then she opened her Bible at the ninth chapter of Matthew. She read there the account, familiar to all Bible students, of the man whom Jesus healed of the palsy. As Mrs. Eddy read, her consciousness was illumined. She grasped the great fact that since God never changes, and since He 'is not like unto men,' the same divine power which delivered the man sick of the palsy was present and operative to deliver her. She perceived this and other great truths so clearly that she was healed.

From the point of vision thus gained, and with the Bible as her only textbook, Mrs. Eddy pressed on until she discovered the Science of Christianity, or in other words, Christian Science. It was revealed to Mrs. Eddy that Jesus did his mighty works not as a supernatural power, which could set aside God's law, but as a scientific worker who understood, obeyed, and utilized God's law, and thereby accomplished naturally the glorious results which made humanity marvel. Mrs. Eddy recognized that all the world needed its complete deliverance was a correct and full understanding of that truth which Jesus revealed and practiced.

After her discovery, Mrs. Eddy's next great task was to found Christian Science. If the truth which Jesus had revealed, and which she could prove that fact by doing the works which Jesus said could be done by those who understood his teaching. This she did. She healed the sick with marked success; and she taught others to heal. Finally she was ready to give her discovery to the world. In order to present her teaching properly, it was necessary for her to express her meaning with scientific accuracy. Moreover, she had to cover the ground with an adequacy sufficient to make plain every point which the student must grasp in order to gain, step by step, a perfect understanding of that Science which Jesus taught and lived and which is destined to redeem the whole human race. This achievement Mrs. Eddy accomplished. Consequently, when she published 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures,' in 1875, she was able to proclaim with certainty in that wonderful book (p. 171): 'Truth is revealed. It needs only to be practiced.'

A few years after the publication of Science and Health, it became evident to Mrs. Eddy that, in order to present the Science of Christianity to the world, she must organize a church of her own. This she did, aided by a little band of followers.

Mrs. Eddy's request, this church was organized, and given its present name, The First Church of Christ, Scientist. Under Mrs. Eddy's wise leadership, this church steadily grew and prospered.

Mrs. Eddy gave to this church the Church Manual, which contains the by-laws under which this church and its many branches are governed. She gave to her church its periodicals, The Christian Science Journal, The Christian Science Sentinel, the Herald of Christian Science, and a great daily newspaper, The Christian Science Monitor. She gave to her church the Christian Science Quarterly, which contains the Lesson-Sermons read in all Christian Science churches. She gave to her church The Christian Science Publishing Society where all these great instrumentalities for good are published.

Christian Scientists realize more fully, with every forward step, the tremendous debt of gratitude which they owe for the manifold blessings of God which have reached them through the work of Mary Baker Eddy. They realize that they can pay this debt only through faithful obedience to her teaching, and through service to mankind. Mrs. Eddy was always known to Christian Scientists as their Leader, and so she will always be known. This is natural and inevitable. Christ Jesus is our only Way-shower, Master, Saviour. He is just as much the Way-shower of every true Christian of to-day, as he was the Way-shower to the Christians of the first century. In a similar way, Mary Baker Eddy is the only Leader the Christian Science movement has ever had, or ever will have.

CHRIST-HEALING

We all recognize the world's great need of deliverance. Humanity needs to be delivered from pain, poverty, strife, grief, sin, sickness, and death. Now no individual can do much towards freeing himself or others from these discordant conditions, so long as he thinks of God as responsible, in any way, for the distresses of mankind. How grateful we should be that the true theology, which Christ Jesus taught and practiced, makes plain the fact that God does not and cannot afflict anyone. A clear indication of this fact has been many a case of sickness and many a case of grief.

Jesus never connected evil in any way with God. He traced discord of all sorts to the opposite of God, in other words, to the devil or Satan. Indeed, John says of Jesus' mission, 'For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil.' When Jesus healed the sick, comforted the sorrowing, raised the dead, he utilized God's redemptive power, and destroyed the works of Satan. His own words leave no room for doubt on this point. When someone objected because he healed a woman on the Sabbath day, Jesus called attention to the fact that people provide for the needs of their animals on that day, and then said: 'It ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound, for eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the sabbath day?'

Now what is the devil whose works the Master came to destroy? As the word 'God' means good, so the words 'devil' and 'Satan' as used in the Bible, simply mean the opposite of good, or evil. Since God is the one infinite cause and creator, who produces all that has actual existence, and since He cannot produce anything unlike Himself, it is evident that God can have no real opposite. This relegates evil to the realm of unreality, and that is exactly where Jesus placed evil in his teaching and in his practice. When the great Master said, 'If ye continue in my word, ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free,' he certainly meant that the truth which he was revealing would set the race free from all evil. He also certainly meant that all those who are illusions, and not facts, for all the truth which a man might learn could never set him free from a single fact.

A chief factor in every case of sickness is fear. In one of his remarkable discourses Jesus said to his disciples, 'Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.' Jesus knew that there is no real reason for fear. He taught his disciples how to free themselves of fear. No man can be afraid who clearly perceives that God is the only power there is and that God is wholly good, or in other words, is divine Love, Truth, and Love. Hence John's declaration, 'Perfect love casteth out fear. He that feareth is not made perfect in love.'

The understanding that God is Love is the perfect remedy for pain. Pain is intimately connected with fear and cruelty. We all know how conducted themselves, what hardships and distress they have imposed upon their subjects. We all know something about the patience, the forbearance, the kindness which benevolent rulers have manifested. There existed a cruel God. He would produce pain and afflict it upon His helpless creatures. But since God, the Supreme Being, is so beneficent and kind that His very essence and nature are aptly described in the phrase, God is Love, the true God could not possibly produce such a thing as pain. This banishes pain to the realm of false belief or delusion. In Christian Science practice it has been proved, and is daily being proved, that a clear realization of the grand fact that God is Love casts the belief of pain out of human consciousness.

A wonderful accession of spiritual enlightenment, health, and freedom will come to the human race whenever it ceases to look upon death as an ancient and honorable institution which has divine sanction. Paul calls death 'the last enemy that shall be destroyed.' He refers to Jesus as 'our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel.' Jesus' teaching and practice indicate beyond question that he regarded death as an error to be resisted and overcome through followers not only to heal the sick, but to raise the dead. At Nain, he stopped a funeral procession, and restored to his widowed mother the young man who was being borne in that procession. He went to the house of Jairus, whose little daughter had just succumbed to the last enemy. On the way he comforting-ly said to Jairus, 'Fear not; believe only.' He said to the mourners who had gathered at that house to grieve: 'Give place; for the maid is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn. But when the people were put forth, he went in, and took her by the hand, and the girl arose. He raised his friend, Lazarus, four days after he had been laid in the tomb. Last of all, he allowed those who persistently opposed and resisted his teaching to take him and crucify him. Three days after, he appeared to his disciples. At intervals through a period of forty days, he instructed them. Then he ascended, or in other words, rose above the human sense of things to the divine. His true spiritual selfhood continues to exist, as it always has existed, in infinite Spirit, the perfect Son of the perfect Father. Thus he furnishes the proof for all time that man in God's image is eternal and indestructible, and that death is a delusion and a falsity which can and must be overcome, that mortality may give place to immortality.

YOUR EMPLOYER

Each of us determines by the quality and the quantity of our work what pay we shall receive. We are our own employers. What we do and how well we do it determines what we get out of life; what we earn and how we spend it determines in a large measure, the comfort, pleasure and satisfaction we enjoy.

If we spend all, giving little thought to the morrow, tomorrow will give us little in return. Be fair to your real employer—yourself. Think before you spend, and save a little as you go.

Enjoy life, but learn that lasting enjoyment comes not by living up to your salary but by thinking, planning, saving.

SOUTHWESTERN MICHIGAN

Thriving in commerce, wealthy in agricultural lands, popular as a summer resort section, and noted for its educational institutions, Southwestern Michigan holds a variety of attractions for the visitor. A shore line lapped by Lake Michigan's sparkling waters, and scores of inland lakes nestled among hills and woods, offer the vacationist many pleasures, reached by rail and local line and bus. Paved highways lead to busy manufacturing towns and through a bounteous agricultural, grape and fruit raising section.

As evidence of its commercial activity, our need but mention the leading industries of a few of the cities of the section. Grand Rapids, furniture center of the world; Kalamazoo, home of paper and stove manufacturing; Muskegon, builder of gas engines; Battle Creek, serving the world's bread; Jackson, producer of automobile accessories; Lansing, auto manufacturer.

One of the largest universities in the country is located in peaceful Ann Arbor. Lansing, maker of automobiles, is the capital city of Michigan. Michigan State College and many other educational institutions dot the section.

Millions of dollars have been expended to provide a highly efficient communication system, and the telephone offers the visitor opportunity to keep in touch with home, easily and inexpensively. Long Distance Rates Are Surprisingly Low.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE TUESDAY

When Christ Jesus instructed his disciples to preach the gospel, he told them also to heal the sick. The record of healing made by Jesus' followers in the first century is a glorious one. A careful study of that remarkable book of the Bible, The Acts of the Apostles, makes plain this fact.

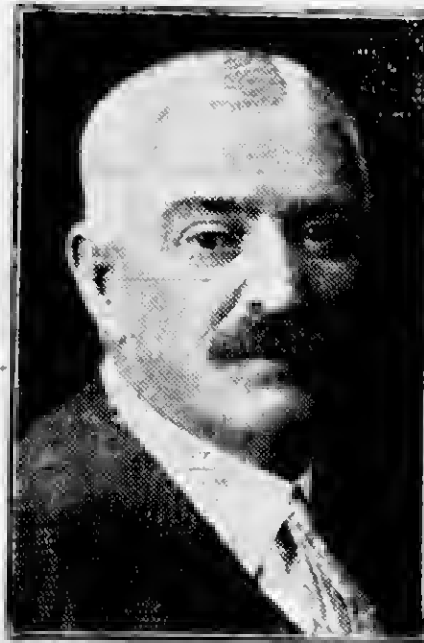

When Mrs. Eddy organized her church, she emphasized the importance of healing by the divine method which Christ Jesus and his disciples practiced. The Christian Science movement has grown, and is growing, because Christian Science heals. Just through reading "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," a host of people have been delivered from bondage, and ushered into a blessed peace and freedom. Daily it is being demonstrated, wherever active, alert Christian Scientists are found that the truth heals to-day just as it did in the days of primitive Christianity. The testimonies given every Wednesday evening in the Christian Science churches, and the well-authenticated testimonies of healing, published in The Christian Science Journal and The Christian Science Sentinel, clearly indicate that the practice of Christian Science is blessing the world to an extent far beyond the ability of any man to measure.

"Whatsoever is born of God," says John, "overcometh the world; and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith." The faith here referred to has no connection with blind belief or mere credulity. Credulity and blind belief are just as apt to cling to evil and falsity as they are to that which is true and good. True faith on the other hand is trust in that which is good and true. True faith is always intelligent. It is always desirable. We can never have too much of it. Faith intuitively feels that the good is real even before the good is understood. It precedes spiritual understanding, and the two are inseparably connected. When the good that the individual has trusted through faith is understood, then faith merges into spiritual understanding. Faith plays an exceedingly important part in spiritual healing. Jesus' most common remark to those he healed was, "According to your faith be it unto you." He healed with certainty and with ease because his own trust in good was boundless. On page 200 of her book, "Miscellaneous Writings," Mrs. Eddy says, "It was the consummate naturalness of Truth in the mind of Jesus, that made his healing easy and instantaneous. Why should we not trust completely and unswervingly in the good? God, the one and only cause, is good; and all that He produces is good. Why should we ever trust in evil, or ever fear it? Evil is always abnormal, unnatural, un-Godlike, and therefore unreal and powerless. Daily we can increase our trust in good, and diminish our false belief in evil. Daily we can increase our understanding of God and the real man. By this spiritual activity we are working out our salvation and aiding others. We are helping to make apparent the nothingness of evil. We are helping to bring nearer the grand day when God will be universally understood, and the perfection of man and the universe will be universally recognized."

ATWOOD

Fruit canning is on. Grain harvesting is in full swing. Paul Veenstra of Grand Rapids, is here on a few days visit.

The young folks of the Christian Reform church held a concert last Tuesday evening.

William and Wesley Jolliffe are negotiating radishes for the Leonard Seed Company of Chicago.

The lice are working in some fields of radish again. Unless the weather changes the loss will be considerable. Mr. and Mrs. Ethel Jolliffe and Miss Georgia Parsons attended church services at Bay View last Sunday.

The L. A. S. of the M. E. church and others gave their pastor, Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Conklin a surprise party last Tuesday evening.

John Boss states that he likes to get away once in a while. Why wouldn't he when he has the opportunity to take 20 fresh air girls over to Arbutus about 40 miles south of Traverse City, on the big track.

Albert Elzinga, who had the misfortune to smash one of his fingers while cranking a pump engine, informs us that the injured member is likely to be saved. He states that Dr. McMillan of Charlevoix wired it up in good shape.

BARNARD

Those who attended the Ellsworth barbecue had a fine time in spite of the rain. The program and sports were enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Beattie of Cadillac, visited his cousins, Mrs. Louis Shapton and Clarence Beattie a few days last week.

Alice Eckund entertained a bunch of school friends on Saturday, the occasion being her ninth birthday. Of course the little folks had a good time.

Mr. Mellencamp took some of the Calf Club boys from this community on a tour through the county on Tuesday to inspect some of the good dairy herds of Charlevoix county.

Every one is invited to the church on Friday evening to hear the Conklin quartette. The program will consist of solos, duets, and quartette numbers, also music with violin, trombone, cornet and piano.

ANTRIM CITY

Wallace Harris will have an auction sale next Tuesday.

Earl Meyers of Rogers City, spent the week end at the Brooks home.

Mrs. Stott and children were visitors at the Harris home Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Stael and children spent Sunday afternoon at the Stott home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Baker of Eastport, were visitors at the Stott home Sunday evening.

Some of the Antrim City folks went to Charlevoix last Sunday to see the boat races.

ELLSWORTH

Thursday, August 2, was a great day for Ellsworth, when hundreds of people gathered in the annual barbecue, put on by the merchants and Board of Trade, despite the rain and inclement weather. Addresses were made by good speakers, and the band music entertained the crowd. The sports during the afternoon were a pleasure to all, the occasion in all being as successful as in former years.

The congregation of the Christian Reformed church had a surprise on their pastor, the Rev. B. H. Einink and his family, Monday evening, in honor of their 35th wedding anniversary. A fine program consisting of singing and speaking was rendered and a good social time had. Light refreshments were served. As a token of appreciation of the pastor's labors, the congregation presented the happy couple an expensive parlor suite.

CAMPBELL OF INDIAN RIVER FOR SENATOR

His Re-election Will Be to Return a Good Man

This paper is this week privileged to print a notice of the candidacy of Senator Cal. Campbell of Indian River to succeed himself for a second term as Senator from the 29th Senatorial District of Michigan, comprising the counties of Alpena, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Emmet, Otsego, Presque Isle and Montmorency.

Senator Campbell will have no opposition on the Republican ticket at the primaries, but that has not deterred him in taking as keen an interest in the primaries as he showed by his service as senator in his first term at Lansing. Senator Campbell is a keen business man, and those who watched and followed his conduct of district and state affairs at Lansing in his first term there, will understand and appreciate that those same practices and good business judgment were par-mount in his political practices and public service. Senator Campbell does not have to make a campaign for re-nomination, but he is keen for a full Republican vote at the primaries, and a united and solid Republican front throughout his district as well as the state and nation. From Senator Campbell's viewpoint there seems a greater need of party solidarity and party unity than ever before, and that good, common sense should prevail at the coming primaries and election instead of political buncumb.

Political Announcement To the Electors of Charlevoix County:

I am a candidate for Register of Deeds on the Republican ticket at the primary election, September 4, 1928. I believe I am fully qualified to handle the duties of the office, and if nominated and elected, will give it my entire time. I most respectfully solicit your support. WORLD'S LARGEST BUILDING

ANNUAL ELKS PICNIC NEXT SUNDAY

BIG TIME PROMISED AT WHITING COUNTY PARK

Elks of Northern Michigan and Non-Members Extended Heartily Invitation to Participate

On Sunday, August 12, will be held the biggest free event of the season, the Annual Elks Picnic and Barbecue at Whiting Park, near Boyne City.

Thousands of people from all over Northern Michigan attend this annual event and a royal welcome is extended to everybody again this year, (whether or not a member of the Elks organization). Don't forget to bring the children and tell your friends.

Whiting Park is beautifully located near the shore of Lake Charlevoix (Pine Lake), between Boyne City and Ironton ferry. For your convenience all roads leading to the park will be arrow-marked with a special Elks picnic sign. Follow the arrow.

Fun for all and all for fun is the ground-work on which this popular summer event is based. There will be something doing every minute throughout the day. Races and contests of all kinds for young and old, ball game (indoor style) between fats and leans. The mirth-producing tug-of-war will again be staged, as well as numerous other interesting events for which prizes will be awarded to successful contestants. Prizes will also be given to the fastest, leanest, tallest, shortest, oldest and youngest Elks present.

Among the feature numbers on the day's program of festivities, which start at 10:00 o'clock a. m. fast time, will be the free barbecue and continuous peppy music by Ramona Park Casino orchestra. Meat, bread, coffee and cream will be supplied free at the barbecue—but please bring your own extras and dishes as is impossible to furnish plates, eggs, cutlery, etc., to the thousands present. Meats will be furnished regular barbecue style.

Through the courtesy of the manager of Ramona Park Casino, it has been made possible to secure the services of the Ramona Park Casino eight-piece orchestra. This popular organization will give a varied line of musical numbers throughout the day—interspersed with vocal and instrumental solos. This feature alone is worth your attendance.

This much looked for event is given annually under the auspices of Petoskey Lodge No. 629 B. P. O. Elks, and is free to everybody. Committees in charge have perfected all plans, and the biggest and best outing in history is looked for. Reserve the coming Sunday for this event at Whiting Park near Boyne City.

Follow the arrow to Elks picnic barbecue on Sunday, August 12th.

ANOTHER FIRE LOSS IN BANK TOWNSHIP

Home of Mr. and Mrs. Slough Burns to Ground

Banks township suffered another fire loss early Monday morning, when the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Slough, Sr., burned to the ground. The fire started in between the walls of the kitchen sometime after the breakfast fire had been started. The local boys not being properly organized, and not having access to the proper equipment, made it impossible for them to save this building.

At the primary election, September 4, the people of this township have the privilege of voting for excellent fire protection at a cost of only $1.50 per thousand valuation three years.

The tax money that Banks township will lose through fires of the past six months would pay for this protection several times over.

Let's all turn out September 4 and vote "Yes" for fire protection which in reality will keep our expenses down instead of raising them.—Ellsworth Citizen.

ADVANCE FARMER FOUND DEAD IN HIS FIELD

Charles Burdett, an aged resident of the district west of Advance was found dead in a field on his farm where he had been working on Friday, July 27 about noon. The deceased had not been in good health for some time and had lived alone having no family. He is survived by a sister Mrs. Henry Kamrad and a brother, Fred Burdett. Funeral was held at the church and interment was made in the German settlement cemetery.—Boysie Citizen.

NEW CONCRETE ROAD IS NOW ASSURED

Bad Cures to Be Eliminated North of Petoskey

The state highway department has put out advertisements asking for bids on the construction of the relocated U. S. 31, from the city limits of Petoskey to Pon-she-waung, thus practically assuring Emmet county of about seventeen miles of concrete highway.

The bidding time will be open three weeks, and calls for twenty foot concrete with 36 inch grade.

Under the new plans for U. S. 31, it will travel a new route from the golf links to Conway, the new course being east of the present route. During construction, the old road will be used as a detour, being in very good shape.

One of the reasons for re-locating it is that higher ground has been found on the new route, which will eliminate the trouble that has arisen in the spring when the water covered the old route in places between Conway and the junction of U. S. 31 and M-131.

The old road from the former junction of M-31 and U.S.-31, at the old brewery location, to Conway will probably be retained as a township road. This is the usual procedure where the state relocates main highway, leaving the old route to serve local needs. The road will be used for enterway to Round Lake resort and fishing grounds and the bathing beach. The junction of M-131 and U. S. 31 will be moved south to a point just north of Kegomie.—Petoskey News.

Sunburn and Sail Cloth Set Off Ralston Charm

Sail cloth and sun burn form the newest exclusive dress model worn by Esther Ralston before the camera. Miss Ralston, who has been heralded as the screen's best dressed woman, is limited in her choice of costume in the important sequences of her latest starring Paramount picture, "Half a Bride," which will be the feature of the Palace Theatre program for Friday.

Baseball Stars Gather for Latest Dix Picture

Surrounding himself with some of the greatest stars and ex-stars of the diamond, Richard Dix, the Paramount star, put on the spikes and warmed up his pitching arm for the baseball sequences of his new production, "Warming Up," the picture hooked for the Palace Theatre Saturday and Sunday.

Silver Buck Shows Great Intelligence in "Blood Will Tell"

Silver Buck, the famous white horse of Buck Jones, plays an important role in the Western star's new picture, "Blood Will Tell," which opens a 2 day showing at the Majestic Theatre. Silver Buck is called upon to use all his "horse sense" in several scenes to save Buck from a gang of thugs. Besides being one of the most beautiful horses in the United States, he is also one of the most intelligent.

Hoot's Horse Does Tail-spin, Nose-dive, Zoom and Side-slip

Hoot Gibson pulled a new stunt on his fan-followers when he put his horse into a "tail spin" in his recent film.

That is the report of a noted aviator who saw the cowboy star in "The Flyin' Cowboy," his latest Universal picture, scheduled to open at the Majestic Theatre Saturday and Sunday.

FULLER OUT FOR AUDITOR GENERAL

Seeks Re-election on Basis of His Good Public Record

O. B. Fuller is a candidate for auditor general to succeed himself.
Mr. Fuller enjoys the distinction of having held the office of auditor general the longest of any person in the state's history. "This fact, of itself, is evidence that there is something to the man besides the mere office holder's ability. If Mr. Fuller didn't have certain qualities that especially fitted him into the position and made his retention of it desirable that fact would have been found out long ago for it doesn't as a rule, get one's number when the spotlight of public office is turned upon one.

Yet, during all of these years of office he has come through with such a clean record that on several occasions no opponent was nominated against him on the Democratic ticket. Mr. Fuller has announced himself a candidate again this year and the upper peninsula takes more than usual interest in his campaign for the position. He is an upper peninsula man and as such has been loyal to his part of the state on every occasion. It is safe to say that Mr.
Fuller will have the unanimous support of the territory above the straits and he deserves it.—Crystal Falls

Our congregation is to be served in unusual ways next Sunday at both morning service and Epworth League hour. The preacher at 10:30 will be the Rev. Ezra F. Baker D. D., Ph.
D. world traveler, educator, preacher and lecturer. Dr. Baker has been several times around the world in the interest of Christian missions;
he has been professor of philosophy and college president as well as church pastor. His interest in science brought him membership in the American Association for the Advancement of Science. His topic will be "Two Fundamental Elements in Personal Success."

Mrs. Baker, who has accompanied her husband on his tours is in splendid position to speak to youth on the personnel of the men and women at work in the wider Kingdom interests.
She will address the Leaguers at 8:30; she may illustrate her talk with slides taken in foreign lands.

Church school is at 9:30 with graded and uniform lessons.
The pastor will continue his talk on "Changing Morals," with the topic "Grading the Commandments" at the 7:30 service.

We are hoping to have a "Going Abroad" party next Tuesday at 8:30 for young folks.

Mid week prayer and Bible study hour is Thursday at 7:30.

* BAPTIST CHURCH *
The church has enjoyed the visit of old time members. It has been a great encouragement to have those who had their training as young people in the local church come back with their testimony of help and inspiration received here that has helped them to fill places of usefulness in the larger places to which they moved from here. We note what the local church has lost by their going, but also note what the local church has done for the Kingdom by training their young lives.
Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Green and family, former parishioners of Pastor
Burns were welcome visitors from Detroit. The morning service last Sunday was the occasion of a Carey reunion.

Deacon Elias, Carey's family were present, coming from Detroit, Flint,
Grand Rapids and other southern Michigan cities. It was a happy time and all enjoyed it.
The usual services will be held next Sunday, Pastor Burns preaching morning and evening.
The B. Y. P. U. will hold a beach party Friday evening, meeting at the church at 8:00 o'clock.

* * * * *

* CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH *

At the Sunday morning service,
August 12, the preacher will be the Rev. John Gardner, D. D., pastor of the First Congregational church, Riverside, California. Dr. Gardner is well known here as a member of the Sequanota Club, but has not been heard in our pulpit for a number of years. His message will be eagerly anticipated by a large congregation.

The Sunday school begins at 9:30
a. m.

The Endeavor meeting is at 6:30
p. m. The leader will be Eloise
Tillotson, Miss Caroline Gelken of Boysie City and Charlevoix, will speak on "A Nurse's Opportunities for Doing Good."

GRUDGE FIGHT SEEN IN ACTIVITIES OF ANDERSON PARTY

Judge Harris Rendering Capable Service to His District—Should Be Re-elected

The Courier for some time has been at loss to know why a few Charlevoix county voters were so interested in the election of a Leelanau county candidate for representative to the state legislature. We could not, and do not now, understand why Charlevoix county is in the same district with Leelanau. No one so far has been able to give us a satisfactory explanation. We have come to the conclusion that politics were the cause, just as they were at the time of the "shoe-string" congressional district with Charlevoix county to the north and Gratiot county to the south. Politics are a funny thing, aren't they?

But what staggered us most was the interest shown by a small coterie from Boyne City, also Charlevoix, in the candidacy of Mr. Louis E. Anderson from Northport. According to the Michigan State Digest, published at Lansing, and from what our inquiries have brought out, we find the Boyne City leader in the opposition against Judge John M. Harris, present representative, was involved in a certain tie up of funds in the local bank in that city, to satisfy a certain claim of an outside oil company. (The Boyne City leader in the Harris opposition is in the oil business in that city.) The oil company seeking settlement with this Boyne City oil dealer employed Judge Harris as their attorney, and from what we hear, the claim was paid. No wonder he has it in for Mr. Harris.

We have been told also that an effort was being made by a few Charlevoix would-be politicians to throw the Bohn followers' influence against Mr. Harris. The Courier did about as much work toward the recent election of Mr. Bohn as congressman as anyone in the county, and we want to say right here that we intend to do our bit toward the re-election of Mr. Harris. We haven't any sore spots, never held a political office, consequently have never been ragged over the handling of county affairs, funds or fees, or criticised along this line. We sincerely hope those who expect to use this Bohn "influence" against Mr. Harris will not depend on us, and at the same time we are expressing the views of over 98 per cent of Mr. Bohn's Charlevoix friends. Again we say, aren't politics peculiar?

Judge John M. Harris has served four years in the state legislature; he has been a resident of Charlevoix county for 47 years; he served the county some 16 years as judge of probate; he has been active in public affairs every one of those 47 years and few men in Charlevoix county are better posted on local needs; his knowledge of general state affairs, his acquaintance with state officers, has made him a valuable man for the district. Gov. Fred W. Green says this of Mr. Harris: "I consider him extremely able and the work he did in preparing the criminal code Michigan now has was that marked Michigan's most forward step in crime control."

Again we ask: Why go to Leelanau county for a state representative?

BAND CONCERT CHANGE TO TUESDAY EVENING

LOUIS E. ANDERSON SPOKE HERE FRIDAY

Addressed Meeting of Voters at Charlevoix Court House

Louis E. Anderson of Northport, who is a candidate for representative of the Charlevoix district, was at the court house here last Friday evening to meet the voters of the county. Leelanau county was districted with Charlevoix in the recent reapportionment of the state, and Mr. Anderson, who has resided there for many years and held many positions of trust, has been persuaded to run for the primary election against J. M. Harris of Boyne City, the present representative, who has held the office for two terms.

Mr. Anderson is well recommended and seems to be well qualified for the position, which is almost entirely honorary as the salary is too small to offer any inducement. He believes in law enforcement and thinks Michigan needs better means of enforcement rather than more laws.

HOSPITAL TAG DAY DRIVE BEST EVER

AMOUNT COLLECTED LARGEST IN HISTORY OF EVENT

Shirley Partridge and Tommy Loeb Won First Prizes for Tag Sales—Others Got Awards

Winning to the highest sum in all its history, the Charlevoix Hospital Tag Day went across the finish line at six o'clock last Saturday afternoon with a total of eleven hundred dollars receipts. Each year, the Women's Hospital Auxiliary tries to recoup the losses of the running expense of Charlevoix Hospital by staging a Tag Day. Last year, something under nine hundred dollars was turned in. Mrs. Maude Bridge, chairman of the Women's Auxiliary, directed the campaign this year with a corps of 62 volunteer helpers. Prizes were awarded to both boys and girls turning in the five highest individual collections.

Shirley Partridge and Tommy Loeb were awarded five-dollar gold pieces for high scores. Shirley turned in $219.56 and Tommy collected $209.15. Madeline Getti received a purse for turning in the second highest amount of $52.02. Harold Isakson got a boys' prize of a Boy Scout knife for his collection of $35.20. Others who were rewarded for their efforts were: Kate Salz, Helen Campbell, Mary Wallace, Frank Stearns, Dick Lazarus and Felix Kahn.

The hospital deficit this year was around $3,500, but the donations of townspeople and resorters were generously given to carry the fund over into another year. Their wholehearted response to the need broadcast by the Women's Auxiliary earlier in the week reflects their interest in the community where they spend happy summer months.

Marjorie Rutherford, who turned her box of money in to the chairman after awards had already been made, is to receive a fine reward for her work even though second place which she earned, has been given to another worker. Marjorie turned in $76.55, collected while she worked alone all day Saturday.

SCHOOL FOR GIRLS TO SELL TAGS HERE

Drive for Funds Will Be Conducted in Charlevoix on Saturday

On Saturday, August 18, the Sunnycrest School for Girls, located at Holland, will conduct a tag-day on the street of Charlevoix. Permission has been given by Mayor Arthur Bergson and several local women are giving this drive for funds their cooperation. The committee in charge includes: Mrs. C. E. Bailey, Mrs. Clarence Bridge, Mrs. Clara Todd, Miss Helen Armstrong and Miss Dorothy Hooker.

In spite of many struggles in recent years, the women at the head of the Sunnycrest School have been able to help many unfortunate girls to take their place as wholesome women in the community. At the home west of Holland, they are taught home vocations necessary to make them independent. This drive for funds is the only means of maintenance offered the school.

Prizes for volunteer helpers are on display in the Mrs. Bridge Shop window. They were donated by local merchants to aid the committee in pushing the tag-day sale.

COUNTY SCHOOLS GET AID MONEY

ONE-EIGHTH OF APPROPRIATION TO RURAL SCHOOLS

Seventeen of Twenty-One Applications Successful—Method of Reckoning Is Explained

Out of an appropriation of $25,000 by the legislature to help one-room schools in the state which are afflicted with a high tax rate, 13.6 per cent of that appropriation, or more than 1-8th is awarded to schools of Charlevoix county.

The commissioner asked for forty blanks, two for each school applying, and received 25. He wired back for the other 15, and got 11. He wired again for the other four and got six, every one of which were used. The state department thought it impossible that Charlevoix county had so many schools entitled to the state aid.

Twenty-one schools made application and 17 were successful, each of the 17 receiving $200, a total of $3400 for the schools of Charlevoix county.

The successful schools follow: Dana, sub district 1, Chandler unit. Chandler Hill, sub dist. 2, Chandler unit.

Tainter, district 4, frac'l., Evangeline.

Wildwood, dist. 5, frac'l., Evangeline.

Advance, dist. 1, frac'l., Eveline.

Walker, dist. 5, Eveline.

Star, dist. 6, Eveline.

Maple Grove, dist. 4, Hayes.

Burgess, dist. 6, Hayes.

Hart Lake, dist. 4, Hudson.

Nowland, dist. 4, Marion.

Howard, sub. dist. 3, Melrose unit.

Curfew, sub. dist. 5, Melrose unit.

Sunnyside, dist. 1, Peaine.

Knop, dist. 1, Wilson.

Slaughter, dist. 4, Wilson.

Deer Lake, dist. 5, Wilson.

To the schools which were reckoned not quite eligible this year, you have our best wishes for another year.

Below is the method of reckoning, to decide whether a school is eligible to the $200 state aid:

TWO TOURNEYS AT BELVEDERE CLUB

PRESIDENT'S CUP MATCH ON SATURDAY, AUGUST 18

Guests of Belvedere Resort Begin Three-Day Series Tournament August 20th to 24th

For the first time in the history of the Belvedere Golf Club, members will be privileged to compete for honors in a President's Cup Tourney that is slated for Saturday, August 18. Members of the club and their sons are invited by President H. L. McGregor to play a handicap match of 18 holes on Saturday. The lowest net score will be winner of cup based on score for the day minus handicap.

Mr. McGregor, a Detroit man, has been resorting at the Belvedere for a number of years and is a keen golfer. His Charlevoix summer home is Cottage 123 on the Belvedere terrace. Mr. F. A. Leland is chairman of the committee directing the tourney. About twenty-five entries are expected. Of those names already "on the dotted line," a few are: R. Vernon Clark, F. A. Leland, C. B. Fox, S. J. Pingree, J. W. Ferguson, Ira S. Holden, Forsyth Tramel, N. H. Bemis, Charles Fox, George Tramel, H. L. McGregor, L. N. Fristoe, and A. B. Scarborough.

Golfers who are guests at the Belvedere Hotel, cottages, or homes within this resort area, will play qualifying rounds on Monday and Tuesday of next week for the Belvedere Golf Club Tourney, calendar for August 20 to 24. The first flight will be played off on Wednesday, the second on Thursday, and final matches on Friday. Prizes will be given to winners of each flight, with special prizes to ladies. To win the Belvedere cup, a player must win his match each of the three days of play.

This is the second season that this tourney has been officially opened. All entries must specify their best five scores on the Charlevoix course or their home club handicap. Winners will be figured on the net score. Members of the committee in charge are: F. A. Leland, Ira S. Holden, J. W. Fristoe, and H. L. McGregor, president of the Belvedere Golf Club.

CLARION LAD IS VICTIM OF A GUN

Gerald Ruffe Almost Instantly Killed Last Friday

The accidental discharge of a shotgun with which two Clarion boys were shooting at a mark caused the instant death of Gerald Ruffe, 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Ruffe of Clarion, at about five o'clock on Friday of last week. Arthur Lloyd, 17, son of Mrs. Myrtle Lloyd, was raising the gun to shoot at a tree some distance away, it is said, and in doing so unknowingly pulled the trigger. The charge entered the victim's chest just below the shoulder.

Charlevoix officers were called at once, but it was believed no inquest would be necessary. The accident happened in the rear yard of the Ruffe home near the oil station on M-131 at the village.—Petoskey Evening News.

Buy your tires direct from the factory and save middle-men's expense and profit, and be sure of getting a top quality tire. Sunoco Oil Station, southwest city limits, on U. S. 31.—Adv. 32-12.

CITY PARK IN EXCEL- LENT CARE THIS YEAR

Present Park Commissioners Are to Be Commended for Work

The city park commissioners are to be commended for the condition of the Lake Shore Park this season. This park is visited by thousands of people every summer, both town folks and those from surrounding country, who come to picnic and enjoy the beauties of nature, and the need of a care-taker has long been evident but not provided for until this year.

The park is a great asset to the city and the fact that it has been left in a state of nature, with only enough clearing to make it accessible and usable, adds greatly to its charms. That provision has been made to keep it clean and prevent depredations will be a satisfaction to many. Messrs. Zeidler, Partridge and Cartier are the present board of park commissioners.

CLASS C OUTBOARD RACE WAS RE-RUN

HUB MEYERS, PETOSKEY, LED FIELD BY LARGE MARGIN

Speedy-Boy and Smith-Craft Finish Second in Order—M. Roy Brady Took Fourth

Four entries who were not satisfied with the results of the class C outboard event in the Charlevoix races, Sunday, August 5, drove their boats through one heat, four laps, on the same course last Sunday, August 12, to determine winners of regatta awards. "Miss Petoskey," driven by Hub Meyers of Petoskey, took first with a lead of 150 yards. Hub met with an accident in the running of this event during the regatta. Second and third places, respectively, went to Speedy-Boy and Smith-Craft, driven by Vane Smith and Marcus Smith. Roy Brady finished fourth in C-U-Later. All four drivers had Evinrude motors.

Max Thurnauer of Cincinnati, who drove "Empty" to third place here a week ago, loses his award to the Smith entry upon the results of this race, while Roy Brady, who took first in the original races when "Miss Petoskey" sank after hitting the swell of the Reomar III, gives up that cup to Hub Meyers. Vane Smith proved his right a second time to take a wrist-watch as award for second place.

Regattas are piling up thick and fast during this week. Indian River held its annual regatta yesterday, Wednesday, August 15, and Beulah will hold its event on Friday. Harbor Springs is planning big things for its annual water carnival this week-end, August 18-19. Several Charlevoix entries will contend for honors. Ludington, whose boatmen refused to cooperate on the matter of dates, will stage a similar affair on Sunday, August 19. That winds up the water activities for northern Michigan for this season.

$4,000 IN CASH IS OFFERED IN PRIZES

Michigan State Fair More Liberal With Premiums

Nearly $4,000 in cash is offered as prizes for 200 classes of fruits and vegetables that will be exhibited in the Michigan State Fair, September 2-8, according to fair officials.

More than 100 market varieties of such fruits as apples, pears, quinces, peaches, plums and grapes will be shown. This number may appear large, yet Prof. Roy E. Marshall, superintendent of horticultural exhibits, declares that it represents less than two per cent of the recognized varieties of these fruits and only those that are grown for commercial purposes in Michigan orchards. Of the 100 varieties to be exhibited, less than 23 per cent are now recommended for planting in commercial orchards. The state fair management recognizes these varieties by offering larger premiums for them than for the less popular sorts. For instance, the McIntosh apple is now regarded by both producers and consumers as the "King of Michigan apples"—and the grower that displays the five best specimens of this kind will receive $5 per apple as his reward for growing the best specimens.

HENNESSEY MICH. RIVIERA CHAMPION

DAVIS CUP NET PLAYER TAKES EVERYTHING EASILY

O'Connell Bids Strongly in Second Set for Title—Miss Watson Wins Women's Crown

Drawing to a close on Sunday afternoon, the Michigan Riviera Tennis championships held at The Inn clay courts attracted resorters and racket fans from all about the Charlevoix area. Hotels were packed to capacity and many drove long distances to see the final matches. The arrival of John Hennessey of Indianapolis, directly upon his return from Europe where he played with the American Davis Cup team, was a distinct drawing card.

Hennessey played three matches on Friday afternoon, winning a singles match from Frank O'Brien, Chicago, 6-2, 6-0, and another from Will Irwin, Grand Rapids, state junior and high school champ, 6-2, 6-2. In a doubles match which Hennessey paired with Jack Harris played O'Brien and O'Connell, the latter team failed to win one game. It was a hot afternoon and Hennessey played seven sets without removing his sweater. Saturday morning, in a semi-finals match, Hennessey defeated Walter T. Hayes of Chicago, treasurer of the Western Lawn Tennis Association, and former ranking first-ten star of the United States, in straight sets, 6-3, 6-2, 7-5.

In the top half of the bracket, O'Connell won his way to the finals with a victory of Jack Harris, his fellow townsman, by scores of 6-7, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2. In the women's singles, Miss Virginia Watson of Milwaukee, defeated Sarah Bond of Grand Rapids, in the semi-finals match, while Mrs. H. S. Lion of Cincinnati, had no difficulty in stopping Miss Esther Chichester of Petoskey. On Sunday, Miss Watson took all of her first set games with Mrs. Lion, allowing a 6-4 score for the second set to win the women's singles title.

The Hennessey-Harris combination stopped Hayes and Klingeman in the men's doubles finals on Sunday by scores of 6-3, 8-6, 6-1. George O'Connell fell before the skill of the Davis cup player for the men's singles title. This tilt marked his third defeat at Hennessey's hands in as many years at Charlevoix. The champion won the first set without the loss of a game. In the second, however, play went 32 games before O'Connell was vanquished 17-15. Hennessey won his third set 6-3.

Will Irwin of Grand Rapids won the junior singles title by defeating Colby Ryan, same city, 6-4, 6-2. Miss Eleanor O'Brien and George O'Connell succeeded in taking the mixed doubles title from Dinwiddie of New Orleans and Miss Watson of Milwaukee in Sunday's final play.

HUNTERS WILL HAVE NICE BADGES

Will Be in Four Colors According to Character of Same

Both the hunter and the conservation department officer should benefit by the new badge system that is to be inaugurated this year. The new badges will be in four colors across, will be plainly visible from a considerable distance. Their bright colors will be in contrast to the usual drab costume that most Michigan hunters wear.

Officers seeking out violators of the state license law will be able to recognize law-breakers at once without the formality of requesting the hunter to produce his actual license.

The colors of the four badges that will be in use are as follows:
Non-resident deer license, orange on white; resident deer license, grey on white; non-resident small game license, green on white; resident small game license, red on white.

The badges are being sent out to county officials so that there will be a supply on hand well in advance of the open season.

Health, and how to retain it is spelled in three words, "Dina-mite Health Cereal." It has proved this fact by those using it. At all grocers.—Adv. 33-12 pd.

LOUIS E. ANDERSON

—For—REPRESENTATIVE
STATE LEGISLATURE

Charlevoix District (of Leelanau and Charlevoix Counties)

REPUBLICAN TICKET

Primaries, September 4th, 1928

Sutton's Bay, Mich., August 11, 1928.

To the Voters, Charlevoix County:

Now that Mr. Louis E. Anderson's petitions have been filed for candidate for the office of Representative in the Legislature from our Charlevoix-Leelanau district, and he is probably unknown to a great many of you people in Charlevoix county, I thought it would be of interest to you and your friends, to receive from some one who knew intimately, information as to what kind of a man he is.

Here in Leelanau county, we respect him very highly, both for his splendid manhood and ability in business. He stands for, and is able to put across, the things that will best benefit the Charlevoix district.

Forty-three years old, educated in the Northport high school, Alma college and the University of Wisconsin, and with a successful business experience of twenty years, he is splendidly equipped in every way to represent our district at Lansing.

Married, and having three children, he naturally stands four-square for all the better things in community life. He is conscientious, consistent and tolerant of others.

As supervisor since 1921 of the largest township in our county, he has learned the needs of the farmer and as well, understands the resort problem, and how to lend encouragement to that important matter. He encourages good roads. He is awake to the needs of the taxpayer, and especially in this northern section of the state where so many school districts have been so hard hit since lumbering operations have ceased. He knows every need of a community like ours and has the ability and will to do everything possible to alleviate those needs.

If Mr. Anderson receives your support and nomination at the primaries September 4th, you will have in him a 100 per cent representative, and one who, because of the confidence the state administration and members of the legislature will have in him, will be able to do splendid service.

Your and your friends' support will be appreciated.

C. H. THOMAS,
Pros. Atty., Leelanau County,
Adv. 33-11.

WESTERN UNION EXPERT INSTALLED ELIMINATOR HERE

Interference From Duplex Set at Local Office Will No Longer Bother Radio Fans

Radio interference from keys and relays at the Western Union office and other interference will soon be a thing of the past following the visit here last week of C. L. Daniels, field engineer, out of the Cleveland office. Radio fans having sets within 300 to 400 feet of the local Western Union office have long been troubled by the interference from the duplex set that has been used there. This particular set has been unusually noisy and many fans in the immediate vicinity of the office have not been able to use their sets until after the closing of the telegraph office in the evening.

What is popularly called a "spark-killer" is the means Mr. Daniels employed to remedy the disturbance. The "spark-killer" consists of a 20 ohm condenser and 1-4mf resistance. The new mechanism will assure relief from interference of any kind from the Western Union office.

Mr. Daniels carries a powerful super-hetrodyne set with a directional loop and by this means is able to locate accurately the interference manifested by the clicking noise following the pulsation of the telegraph keys.

Mr. Daniels has had wide experience in locating and remedying conditions of this sort, and also tests for the other types of interference. He strongly advised the formation of an active radio club in the city and has been instrumental in forming such clubs in towns all over Michigan and Ohio.

"The only method of abolishing all forms of radio interference is by the formation of radio clubs, for when an organization is back of a definite objective more will be accomplished than by separate individuals," Mr. Daniels explained.

Why count your pennies if you throw them away?

Could I have bought the same article elsewhere for less?

Won't some other make prove more satisfactory?

Isn't there some other product that will suit me better?

Unless you can say "No" to these questions, about every purchase you make, there's a good chance that you are not getting the most for your money.

To get the most from every dollar of the family income—for food, clothing, furnishings and the rest—you must know what you want before you go to buy. Throwing away your pennies—and your dollars. They will help you to live better at less cost.

FROM HAPPINESS TO SORROW

A tremendous effort to reduce accidents in industry is being made. Industry discovered that accidents were not only regrettable, but costly, so their elimination began a number of years ago. Today an accident in industry is a rarity. For years the railroads of the nation have been conducting "Cross Crossings Cautiously" campaigns and the loss of life in this manner has been noticeably reduced.

As great an effort is needed to reduce the hazards of happiness. Pick up any Monday morning paper during this season of the year and the front page is crowded with the story of tragic deaths by automobile accidents and drownings. At one time during the fore part of July it seemed as if an epidemic of drownings had broken out in the state.

Some of these deaths, in fact most of them, were preventable. There is no use taking a chance when driving, fishing or swimming. These pleasures are not worth the hazards. It is better to be timid and alive in a boat than to be brave and drowned from a canoe. It is better to be called an old woman and stick close to the shore than it is to have a pulmotor applied in an effort to bring you back from a shore on the other side of eternity. It is better to build up a reputation as a careful driver than to pose as a fellow who burns up the highways. Don't be afraid to insist upon using good judgment at all times. You may live longer.

The loss of life is the tragedy of the tourist season. Such a tragic period is now here. Only the most extreme care will prevent serious accidents. Be careful this summer.

TARIFF AND THE FARMER

"No one can say that our farmer has not enjoyed higher prices for many of his products as the result of the duties collected on 740 million dollars worth of imported agricultural products. And when our opponents discuss reducing the tariff on cotton goods, steel or typewriters, they mean also to reduce the tariff on wheat, on wool, on meat, butter and flaxseed.

"I do not for one moment believe that the farmer wishes to abandon this great measure of protection. Moreover, our farmers are vitally interested in maintaining high standards of living amongst our workers in other industries than agricultural.

"The sole market of the full stomach at home is better than the chance to compete for the stomach of the under-fed worker whose buying power is limited. How important this is, is shown by the record of consumption of agricultural products in the year 1921 when we were overwhelmed with unemployment and the buying power of our own workers was limited. In that year the American consumption of meats, fats and other refined agricultural products dropped nearly 18 per cent, an amount greater than our total foreign market of agricultural commodities."—Herbert Hoover.

RADIO CAMPAIGNS

Soon the air will be filled with the appeals of political candidates extolling the virtues of themselves and their parties. The old country store, once the melting pot of public opinion, has given way in the march of progress to the microphone, and where once but neighbors listened to the exhorter now millions hear the statements of those who would guide the destinies of the nation.

And perhaps that is best. Most of us are too busy these days to tarry long in the marts of trade to listen to political discussion, but with the day's work out of the way we can sit in the quiet of the household at night time, tune in and hear policies and candidates discussed. This will result in giving us a greater interest in governmental affairs. We are still a government of the people, despite what the "intelligencia" may claim, and if we continue to exercise our voting privileges as citizens the future of this country will remain reasonably safe.

AUGUST HEARINGS IN COURT ARE QUIET

Good Behavior Earns Stay of Sentence for Probationers

At the August term of circuit court, Judge Parm C. Gilbert examined probationers from the May term and dismissed those cases of Rose Dunlop and Harry M. Gross. Eight other persons ordered to appear were continued on probation until later date.

Lynn Evans, arraigned August 13 on a charge of non-support, pleaded guilty and was ordered to pay seven dollars a week alimony to his wife until Oct. 22 when he is to appear for sentence. William Thorp, held on a charge of felonious assault, also pleaded guilty and was placed on probation to Rollie L. Lewis. He must pay fifty dollars costs and appear October 22 for sentence. John Fisher and Ernest Lannoo pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny and were ordered to pay costs of $35 each or serve 30 days in jail. Geo. Santos, who was charged with a violation of the Federal prohibition law, was placed on probation for two years to Charles Marshall, and is to pay $35 costs.

Most of the civil cases were continued until the October term of court because of efforts of the parties involved to settle their affairs out of court. For want of prosecution, the case of Abraham Lorenze, foreclosure on Art VanAllsburg, was dismissed. The suit of Lee and Cady against George McCloskey was not contested and a judgment is to be entered. Judge Gilbert will again hear cases at the Charlevoix court house on the fourth Monday in October.

LOCAL GIRL MARRIED AT PETOSKEY FRIDAY

Miss Celia Howe Became Bride of A. Bernard Williams

The First Christian church, Petoskey, was the scene of a pretty wedding last Friday evening at 8 o'clock, when Miss Celia Howe, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Phillip Howe of Charlevoix, became the bride of A. Bernard Williams, son of Mrs. Beatrice Williams of Charlevoix avenue, Petoskey.

The marriage service was read by Rev. Jay N. Booth, before a background of ferns which interspersed large baskets of roses tied with tulle, and other seasonal flowers. They were accompanied by Miss Vera Belding of Charlevoix, and Wayne Miles, Petoskey.

The bride wore a becoming frock of white georgette and carried a shower bouquet of white roses, lily-of-the-valley and pastel sweetpeas, while her bridesmaid wore a gown of pink tulle and carried an arm bouquet of white roses, baby breath and forget-me-nots.

Mrs. Frank Jacobs, who accompanied as pianist, played the "Wedding Song Without Words," from Beethoven.

The ushers included Leon McDermott, Kenneth North and Raymond Schaaf, all of Petoskey.

The wedding party left immediately after the ceremony for Charlevoix, where a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents.

Later the young couple left for Los Angeles, Calif., where Mr. Williams will engage in electrical retail and repair work. Mrs. Williams was formerly a music instructor in Detroit.

Cow-Testing Association Reorganized for New Year

The leading dairymen of the county have started the fifth consecutive cow-testing association year on August 1st. The annual meeting was held on the occasion of the annual dairyman's picnic at Whiting Park on August 2nd, and was attended by the majority of the membership who were highly pleased to note the splendid results as given by Cecil Dobbin, local tester and the man largely responsible for the success of the work. The membership are very sorry to have Mr. Dobbin leave their employ, but unite in wishing him success in his school work at the State college this fall.

Archie Bodell of Bellaire, has been engaged to do the testing this year and prospects point to another very successful year. This year the following men make up the membership:

E. J. Edwards, Geo. Meggison, Charlevoix; Elmer Murray, Archie Murphy, Marion Jackson, East Jordan, directors; John Struthers, Floyd Black, Bert Elliott, Hiram Potter, Edd Potter, Charles Withers, William Withers, Clinton Blanchard, Oakley Saunders, Charlevoix; Cornelia Vandenberg, Ellsworth; James Nice, Walter Heileman, Murphy Brothers, Pat Ulvund, Carl Grutach, Ray Loomis, Joel Bennett and son, F. H. Wangeman and Frank Russell, East Jordan.

Two or three other names will be added to the list in a very short time and a full membership of from 25 to 27 dairymen will complete the cow-testing membership for the year 1928-29.

Calf Club Takes Judging Trip

Seven members of the Charlevoix county calf club went on their first judging trip on Tuesday, August 7, accompanied by County Agent Mellencamp, who gave them the necessary instruction in selecting the better dairy cattle. The first stop was at the Breezy Point Farm, where a fine herd of Holsteins were judged. The next stop was at the farm of Tony Shooks, near Central Lake, where one of the most productive Jersey herds in the state was inspected. The last stop was at the farm of Murphy Brothers, near East Jordan, where a herd of Guernseys was judged.

The trip was of great interest to these young dairymen, who are striving to learn all of the most approved methods of caring for and raising the highest type of dairy animals, and one of the necessary steps in developing a fine herd of productive cows is to be able to judge them, as type and production usually follow hand in hand.

SICKLY BOY, 7, GAINS 15 LBS.—FATHER HAPPY

"My boy, 7, would not eat. I gave him Vinol and the way he eats and plays now makes me happy. He gained 15 pounds."—J. F. Adams. Vinol is a delicious compound of cod liver peptone, iron, etc. The very FIRST bottle often adds several pounds weight to thin children or adults. Nervous, easily tired, anemic people are surprised how Vinol gives new pep, sound sleep, and a BIG appetite. Tastes delicious. F. J. Fessenden.

This week the boys are at the northern Michigan boys' and girls' camp at Grayling, and will put their judging ability with the best in this section of the state with the hope of being selected to attend the state fair at Detroit.

Certified Seed Potatoes Inspected
 During the first three days of last week, Mr. Trafelet, official potato inspector from Michigan State college, inspected the 27 fields of certified seed being grown in Charlevoix county. The inspector found the fields to be in very fine condition on the first inspection and that prospects are exceptionally favorable for a large yield of very high quality potatoes.

The three best fields were those owned by W. H. Henley, Charlevoix, Lee Sneathen, Charlevoix, and Terry Barber, Boyne City, each of which showed remarkable growth and development for this season of the year. For an acreage of six acres, Mr. Henley has the best field of potatoes the writer has ever been privileged to see, and is a sight that makes a person realize that success comes as a result of hard and conscientious labor. Mr. Henley disced his field twenty times before planting the seed. If you ever happen to be out on the Phelps road, take a few extra minutes and look at his field of potatoes.

Only three acres out of 105 inspected were rejected, which is a very high average and indicates the type of farmers raising certified seed.

WEEKLY WASHINGTON
NEWS SUMMARY

Washington, D. C., August 15.—Farmers of the agricultural west are willing to entrust the solution of their problems to Herbert Hoover, whose sympathies for agriculture date back to the days when he was an Iowa farm boy, say reports now reaching Republican national headquarters from every section of that great production area.

Voters of the farm districts realize that in Hoover they have a candidate whose vast experience in solving economic problems promises them for the first time a practicable program of relief.

Local Republican leaders in the agricultural belt are reminding voters that the stand of Hoover and Curtis for the Republican tariff assures continuance of protection to the products of agriculture, more of which are covered by the present tariff act than by any previous law, and increased duties on those commodities which experience has shown are not adequately protected.

Prominent in the Hoover column in the west are Senators Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa and Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota, who have been at odds with party leaders in the past on farm relief and other questions.

Senator Brookhart has rapped George N. Peek, former implement manufacturer of Moline, Ill., who recently announced his support of the Democrat ticket, for his false statement about Herbert Hoover and the postwar situation on farm prices.

"Peek tells the farmers that Hoover held down prices during and after the war," says Brookhart. "This is absolutely untrue. I have the documents with the signature of Charles S. Barrett, national president of the Farmers' Union, in which we have every confidence, and instead of holding down the prices, Hoover kept them up."

Many Washington officials are recalling that Peek publicly announced that he was trying to reduce the prices of farm commodities early in 1919, when he was chairman of the industrial board of the Department of Commerce. Herbert Hoover, then food administrator, was in Europe at the time, fighting for the removal of the German blockade, in order that the American food surplus might be sold to the starving peoples of Europe, and war price levels maintained until the farmers were able to pay off their heavy loans.

Mr. Hoover's conferences with farm leaders at Cedar Rapids, Ia., now set for August 22-23, will have the attention of the entire midwest. Leaders of farm organizations in the neighboring states of Illinois, Missouri and Minnesota have asked to be included in the list of those desiring to attend the round table discussion of the agricultural situation with the Republican nominee on those days. His plan to obtain the views of the farmers first hand even before opening his campaign has added to his popularity in the farm states.

Elaborate preparations are being made at Topeka for the notification of Senator Curtis on August 18. The ceremony will take place on the north steps of the state capitol building in front of which are twelve acres upon which the crowds may assemble to hear the address of Kansas' favorite son. The exercises follow the Hoover notification by exactly one week, and it is expected that Topeka's population will be doubled for the occasion.

To All Owners of DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CARS

-PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE

by
WALTER P. CHRYSLER

You, more than anyone else, are entitled to know the purpose behind our recent acquisition of the assets and facilities of Dodge Brothers, Inc.

For upon that purpose depends the security of your investment in Dodge Brothers products.

In acquiring Dodge Brothers, Inc. for the Chrysler Corporation, we have secured one of the largest and most modern automobile factories in the world and with it an organization of exceptional ability.

We intend that these facilities shall be utilized to increase the value and quality in Dodge Brothers cars and Graham Brothers Trucks and Motor Coaches.

We have secured, in addition, a dealer organization that has always been recognized as one of the finest in the industry.

It is our intention to deserve the continued loyalty of this group of substantial, progressive merchants by making it possible for them to enjoy increasing prosperity through the sale of Dodge Brothers products.

We have secured, moreover, that which transcends in importance either Dodge Brothers superb plant equipment or Dodge Brothers splendid dealer organization. For we have become the lawful heirs of Dodge Brothers Good Name, with all the solemn obligation which that inheritance implies.

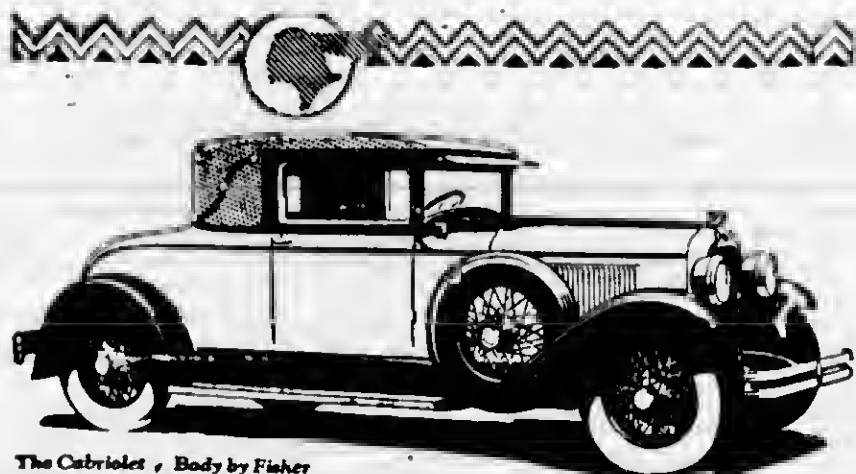

We have become the trustees of Dodge Brothers good faith to their customers, and it is our purpose to execute that trust with fidelity.

The priceless identity of all Dodge Brothers products will be preserved—as well as the sound policies that have made the words Dodge Brothers synonymous with Honest Value and Dependability.

Dodge Brothers Works will continue to produce Dodge Brothers Motor Cars and Graham Brothers commercial vehicles. Dodge Brothers dealers will continue to sell and service them.

The men to whose capable support the success of the Chrysler Corporation is due, unite with me in pledging perpetuation of Dodge Brothers ideals, to the end that a Good Name may be made still better.

CANNING FACTORIES HAVE HEAVY PACK

Quantities of Fruit and a Great Scarcity of Labor.

Traverse City factories and other firms transferred laborers to the canning factories of the region last week to help save the cherry crop, but the canneries called for more workmen. Harvesting the greatest cherry crop in the history of the state, a crop that makes Michigan for the first time the leading cherry producer in the nation, growers picked 50 per cent more cherries last week than ever before in one week. Canners estimate they will pay growers about $100,000 a day for the next ten days. The total value of the crop in the Grand Traverse region appears to be over $2,000,000. Most growers are receiving six cents a pound or a full cent a pound more than a bumper crop has ever brought before.

YOUR EMPLOYER

Each of us determines by the quality and the quantity of our work what pay we shall receive. We are our own employers. What we do and how well we do it determines what we get out of life; what we earn and how we spend it determines in a large measure, the comfort, pleasure and satisfaction we enjoy.

If we spend all, giving little thought to the morrow, tomorrow will give us little in return. Be fair to your real employer—yourself. Think before you spend, and save a little as you go.

Enjoy life, but learn that lasting enjoyment comes not by living up to your salary but by thinking, planning, saving.

Just plain wonderful say all who have seen it

Amid all the fanfare of new car announcements, one fact stands out with shining clarity. Owners of cars in every price field are turning to the Silver Anniversary Buick with an eagerness which proves that they regard it as the greatest value ever offered in the motor world!

This radically new and different automobile is rolling up the biggest demand ever won by any quality car. It is drawing more people to the showrooms, day after day, than any other automobile ever drawn before. It is focusing the attention of America by quality standards so new, so advanced and so epochal as to preclude any thought of comparison.

New Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher marking the highest degree of dashing, daring, debonair beauty—thrilling new abilities, as unmatched as they were unknown a few weeks ago—new appointments of luxury and convenience never before known to motor car practice!

America has seen plenty of automobiles. But America has never seen an automobile like this. "Just plain Wonderful" is the country's verdict on the Silver Anniversary Buick!

AT THE MOVIES

Director Places New Film With Pola Negri at Top

"Loves of an Actress" is the most dramatic and spectacular production

Pola Negri has ever made, despite the success of "Passion" and other big pictures.

That is the contention of Rowland V. Lee, who directed the Paramount star in this new achievement.

Lee is credited with the continuity, and Miss Negri assisted him, providing data she herself obtained while in France last year. The picture comes soon to the Palace theater.

William Powell, whose suavely villainous characterizations have made him one of the best known heavy actors of the screen, does something in his latest role for Paramount in "Forgotten Faces," that he has never done before. He reforms.

Clive Brook, the talented English actor, Backs Nova, famous Russian dramatic star, Mary Brian, Fred Kohler and Jack Loden are other members of the all-star cast of this picture, which comes to the Palace theater Wednesday, for two days.

Star Endured Six Months' Hardship for New Picture

Richard Barthelmess, star of First national's epic of the tank corps, "The Patent Leather Kid," which comes to the Palace theater next Saturday and Sunday, spent six strenuous months during the actual production.

WORLD TRAVELER LECTURED SUNDAY

DR. EZRA F. BAKER SPOKE AT METHODIST MORNING SERVICE

Missionary to Far East and Mohammedan Countries Is Well-Known in Charlevoix

Last Sunday morning the Reverend Ezra F. Baker, D. D., Ph. D., world traveler, lecturer and preacher, after the absence of a year, appeared again in the pulpit of the First Methodist church. Dr. Baker and his family have been coming to Charlevoix every summer for several years, except when they were abroad.

The type of Dr. Baker's work is well known to the people of Charlevoix because of the fact that last year he lectured in the morning at the Congregational church, his subject being "The World Malady and Its Antidote," and in the evening of the same day the three churches, the Congregational, Methodist and Baptist, joined in the service at the Methodist church to hear Dr. Baker's illustrated lecture on the needs and conditions throughout the mission fields in Egypt, Syria, Palestine, India, China and Japan.

During their trip of three years abroad, Dr. and Mrs. Baker lectured all through these foreign countries on the Philosophy of Religion. They also made many excellent pictures, which they use to illustrate the needs and conditions all through the foreign mission fields. A wealthy friend of the cause of foreign missions has been so impressed with these lectures that he now finances Dr. and Mrs. Baker's work in full on the condition that they make these lectures free and open alike to the colleges and churches of all denominations throughout the United States and Canada. Therefore, Dr. and Mrs. Baker decline to accept any remuneration whatsoever for their work. They can be reached by addressing them care of the American Exchange-Trust Company, 60 Broadway, New York City.

When they have finished lecturing in this country, Dr. and Mrs. Baker have promised to give two years more to evangelistic work in Japan. Their present financial sponsor has agreed to finance their trip abroad, while they are thus engaged in carrying the gospel of Jesus Christ to those who live in the dark and heathen part of the world. Dr. Baker says that, after dipping into the foreign mission work, all other forms of work seem time and tasteless to him, and that, therefore, all the rest of his life will be given to the great work. Since they left Charlevoix last summer, Dr. and Mrs. Baker have lectured all over the states of Michigan and Wisconsin, and in many of the churches and colleges throughout Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas and Texas. They recently attended the meeting of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church, which met at Tulsa, Oklahoma.

In his lecture here last Sunday at the Methodist church, Dr. Baker discussed what he considers to be two fundamental elements in a successful life. For three-quarters of an hour he held the rapt attention of his audience, in which were leading business men from different states and several leading clergymen.

Dr. Baker called attention to the two very different types of mind found in Jesus and in Paul. "The most of us," said the lecturer, "are much more like Paul in our lives than we are like Jesus. We lack that calm and abiding trust that was a characteristic of Jesus, and we possess all those tendencies to struggle with life, which were so characteristic of Paul. In times of crises Jesus leaned hard upon the arms of the Father and had an infinite faith in the power of love to redeem the world from the power of sin and death.

There is so much in the life of Paul that is so really human that the history of his life appeals very strongly to us. If we would see the secret of Paul's success, we must study him as a man who had an ideal of life, who had a supreme purpose in life, and who made all else subservient to that purpose. Paul had the power to forget his own sins and mistakes, when they were forgiven, and he also had the heart to forgive and to forget the insults and injuries of others against him. Hence his strong Christian character and his courage to grapple with the great problems of life and duty and destiny.

Paul's second step in working out the purpose of his life was grappling with the problems of the future. He has cut loose from the past, forgetting the things of the past, and now he stands at the threshold of the future, and he is not afraid of the race that is yet to be run. It may have in store for him persecution, bonds and affliction. But he looks bonds and afflictions in the face and says: 'None of these things move me.' The first element in Paul's success is that he forgets the things of the past: the second is that he presses forward for the prize that is ahead.

In conclusion, we notice that some of the means used by the hand of God in working out his purpose through us, are trials and temptations, disappointments and grief. Sorrow may sweep like a mighty storm over your home and rush like a mighty river into your soul, and you, with your finite mind, may not be able to see His purpose. But, God, whose you are and whom you serve has a purpose in it all. It may be to cut you loose from the past, whether it be an evil or a glorious past, and to set your heart upon that part of the race that is yet to be run. The hand of God may have rested heavily upon your home and upon your life, you may have seen your most cherished ambition perish and vanish as the dew before the morning sun; and you may say what is the use of going further, if all this goes with the Christian life? But at such a time as this we dare not look back, we cannot afford to take our eyes from the Mount from which cometh our help. It is at such a time as this, if we will only keep ourselves susceptible to the divine influences, that we may be more completely cut loose from the veils of this world and that we may become more completely identified with the cause of Jesus Christ. God may have come into your home, and taken from your embrace the very one that seemed to make the world bright, and the only one that seemed to you to make life worth living. He may have taken a companion upon whom you lavished all the affection of your heart. He may have taken a child, or he may have taken both. He may have taken all that seemed very near and dear unto you, and you may not be able to understand it. But, from behind the sable curtain, from beneath the troubled waters, in the time of deepest sorrow, the mighty hand of God reaches forth to help, to support and to comfort you, to lead, to direct and to guide you.

Then, whatever the conflicts may be, look not back; long not for the old life of sin, or of ease, or of worldly pleasure, but, with the spirit of Paul, dare to meet the future with all of its conflicts and with all of its problems. To do this you, like Paul, must forget the things of the past and reach for the prize that is ahead. For today life is a great challenge to all that is highest and noblest and best in the heart and the life and in the soul of every Christian man and woman. God has a purpose in you, and may the world be nobler and better, because thru you that divine and eternal purpose is being accomplished.

State Which It Serves

MICHIGAN, summer playground, home of winter sports, yet throbbing with commerce and industry, larger than the kingdom of Greece and four times as large as Belgium, Michigan has a land area of 36,777,200 acres.

Michigan is a leader in one of the world's greatest industries: automobiles, agriculture, tourist and resort trade, furniture and mining (copper and iron ore).

Michigan has the longest shoreline, exclusive of islands, of any of the states. It has more than 15,000 inland lakes, and its water resorts attract millions of visitors who return year after year.

Linking every section of this great state are excellent roads, swift transportation lines and quick communication services. The plants of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, valued at more than $136,000,000, supplemented by scores of connecting companies, furnishes adequate telephone service to Michigan. This year alone, the Michigan Bell Telephone Company is expending $27,000,000 to add to its facilities.

FIRE WORKS

MONDAY to SATURDAY
NIGHTS...inclusive

The Caliph's palace, the mosque, the Oriental marriage ceremony, the evil geni, and a wild scene of revelry in Bagdad—here is a regular Arabian Night's tale told in fireworks. You will gasp at its magnificence, thrill at its beauty, and vote it the most sensational spectacle of the age. A 500-foot tower and hundreds of actors, electric lights, bands and musical players furnish a breath-taking finale. See it once and remember it always. 21 big-time vaudeville acts precede the fireworks in the biggest night show in the history of Michigan Fairs.

LAKE CHARLEVOIX CAMPS ENTERTAIN

PAGEANT AT KAMP KAIRPHREE SATURDAY THIS WEEK

Large Crowd Saw "Hiawatha" Pageant at Camp Charlevoix Wednesday Afternoon

Camps on opposite shores of Lake Charlevoix are both planning entertainments at the close of their season which resorters may enjoy to see. Kamp Kairphree, located on the Boyne City road, is giving a pageant on their last Saturday in camp, August 18. It will be open day for visitors to the camp and the program will start at 2 p. m., Eastern standard time. Camp Charlevoix always gives its Hiawatha pageant during the last week in August which comes this year on Wednesday, August 15.

Water sports at Kamp Kairphree are scheduled to begin at 3 o'clock on Saturday. Fancy diving, swimming races, and canoe tilting are listed activities. After an interval in which visitors will be shown around the camp, the pageant will begin. It is expected that this program will occupy from 5 until 6 o'clock, fast time. The plot of the pageant is adapted from Annie Fellows Johnston's tale of "Three Weavers" by Miss Betty Harwick, dramatic counselor for the camp. A cast of thirty-five people will present the piece which includes original harmonies worked out by Miss Ruth Alden, of Anna, Illinois, camp music director, and village dances directed by Miss Grace Tauber of Cincinnati, dancing counselor.

Kamp Kairphree has an attractive stage for the affair. Guests will be seated on the wide verandah of the lodge, while the play will progress upon the second landing, about twenty feet below the spectators.

Many who saw the Hiawatha pageant given at Camp, Charlevoix, near Ironton, yesterday afternoon, witnessed a really fine exhibition. The acts were carried out entirely in costume by the boys and counselors of the camp. The stage was the lawn, which imagination painted devoid of buildings and open again to be roamed by red men and the buffalo.

PROGRESS PAGEANT INTERESTS ENTIRE NORTH

Parade, Sports and Other Entertainments Are Listed

All Northern Michigan is taking an active interest in the forthcoming Regional Pageant of Progress which the various cities, working in cooperation, are staging on Monday, August 20, at Petoskey. A pageant of progress is considered a good way to let the visitors, and home folks too, know what is going on in the region in which they live, and from all reports the program, which is to be an all day affair, will be very worth while.

The big feature of the forenoon will be the parade in which two miles of beautiful floats, picturing what the region has to offer its home folks and visitors will pass in review. The parade march will be lined with spectators from all over the region, including summer people from all the resorts.

During the afternoon there is to be other entertainment, including special vaudeville stunts, hand concerts, orchestra festivals, etc., while in the evening the visitors will be taken back to days of yesterday—the days when the redman roamed the woods of the region.

There will be a big Indian encampment and special exhibition in Arlington Park and there will be gathered the representatives of the tribes, all in full Indian costume of 100 years ago.

Handsome prizes are being offered for the finest floats in the parade and entries are already in from nearly every city and resort in Northern Michigan.

METHODIST CHURCH

John E. Lockyer, Minister

On Sunday morning at 10:30, we have the good fortune to hear Professor Ligar E. Eckardt, Ph. D., of DePau University, who is this summer giving the morning bible lectures at Bay View. Dr. Eckardt is an able lecturer and for several years has been on the Bay View program, which fact testifies to his worth as speaker and thinker.

At 7:30 the pastor will conduct a praise hour with sermon. A real treat is in store for 8:30, when the Conklin quartette will give a concert program: solos, duets, quartettes, varied by music with violin, trombone, cornet and piano. A silver offering is being asked to defray expenses and aid the players. This is a preacher's family of fine ability.

On Tuesday next the League invites the youthful public to a "Going Abroad Party," to be held at the church at 8:30. Shipping tickets and baggage labels will be provided. We shall endeavor to give you a day on board ship; ship games and refreshments 25 cents.

Mid-week service is Thursday at 7:30, continuing the Parables of Jesus.

The fourth quarterly conference will be August 23rd with Dr. Randall in charge.

No service at Greensky Hill Indian mission on Sunday. The Indian Camp meeting date is September 3 to 9.

GOLFERS TEE OFF IN FIRST TOURNEY

THREE CLASSES IN AMATEUR BEGAN YESTERDAY

Charlevoix Course Is Scene of Event Planned By Local Summer Sports Committee

Charlevoix's first annual golf tournament got under way Wednesday morning, August 15, with only casual interest from a number of players and keen interest from golfers who liked the game. Entries at noon yesterday when qualifying matches were scheduled did not exceed fifteen, but more were expected to play.

Beginning Thursday morning with the first flight, the tourney will continue until Saturday afternoon. There are no handicaps. The affair is open to all amateurs. Three classes will be arranged, based on scores of qualifying round. Class A includes highest 8 scores made; Class B, second best; and Class C, third best scores.

This feature of summer sports was inaugurated by the Charlevoix summer sports committee in conjunction with the Charlevoix Golf Club, in the belief that organized competition in this sport had been neglected. Resorters are urged to take a part in these contests arranged for them in Charlevoix. While it is possible that this event for the 1928 season may not be wholly a success from the standpoint of numerous entries, it does not lack for enthusiasm. It is a coming activity for summer people that cannot be longer neglected.

Carl C. Wolf, Sullivan, Ill.; Mrs. L. Friedlander and Sylvia Aroner, St. Louis; Mrs. A. J. Lautmann, Cincinnati; J. P. Wright, Camden, Ark.; Louis Stix and Sam Rosenfeld, St. Louis; William A. Little, Chicago; J. W. Gilbert, Detroit; Adolph Dryer, Jr., of Cincinnati; and Albert Wolensheim, Jr., New Orleans, were a few of the entrants already listed by Wednesday noon.

YACHTING NEWS

The "Stellaris," huge white yacht chartered by Walter Briggs, steamed into Round Lake harbor last Saturday and attracted a lot of comment on shore. Rumor had it that Edsel Ford was aboard, but investigation of Lloyd's revealed the owner as Mr. Joseph B. Schlotman of Detroit. Its exact length is 180 feet, has a 24-foot beam and draws ten feet of water. After laying overnight in Lake Charlevoix, the "Stellaris" left the city-on-three-lakes Sunday morning.

Aaron De Roy's yacht, "Yoread" of Detroit, has been lying in harbor at Charlevoix for several days. Last week, the Reinhardt family of Petoskey, whom Mr. De Roy met in Honolulu last winter, were guests aboard the yacht for dinner and a short cruise. On Sunday, Mr. De Roy left for Detroit on business. His niece, Mrs. Catherine Rodecker, arrived to be the guest of Mrs. De Roy and upon his return Friday, the motor dealer's party will leave for a week's cruise taking them finally to home port.

The yacht, "Solace" of Grand Rapids, owned by Mr. Lew S. Wallace, a member of the furniture firm of Birkey & Cay, of that city, was in Round Lake harbor for a few minutes on Tuesday. There was no report as to what Mr. Wallace was doing there.

W. J. Wallace and son, Oliver, at Mackinac Island next Sunday. The "Solace" is a larger craft than the "Amata," sister ship owned by E. A. Wallace, for it measures 73 feet over all.

A party of Harbor Springs people dropped into Charlevoix Tuesday afternoon to play golf. Their craft was the "Susannah," a yacht flying the New York Yacht Club flag. The water route is becoming more and more popular to resorters who want to visit the city-on-three-lakes and play golf on one of the finest courses in Northern Michigan.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday service: 10:45 a. m. Subject: "Mind."

Sunday school: 12:00 o'clock. Wednesday service: 7:45 p. m.

Reading Room: Tuesdays and Saturdays, 3 to 5 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"Soul" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches Sunday, August 12.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling;" (Eph. 4:4.)

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life is the law of Soul, even the law of the spirit of Truth, and Soul is never without its representative." (p. 427.)

LOCAL ENTRIES WIN AT HARBOR SPRINGS

KNIGHT, SHWAB AND HERBERT MEYERS TAKE FIRSTS

Pine Lake Yacht Club Competes in Sailing Events—Jack King Places First, J. P. Wilson Third

Charlevoix boatmen won each of the racing events at Harbor Springs last Sunday except class B in outboards, which went to Bobby Graham of Conway, driver of "Pep-Per" in the local regatta two weeks ago. "Johnny" Knight stepped right out in front with "May-Win" to take the 100 h. p. event for speedboats, while J. Morgan Baker in "Punk" trailed him in. Three heats were necessary to determine the winner.

George Shwab, owner of "Miss Tennessee," set the pace for "Phantom," driven by Wm. E. Weiss of Indian River, and held it to take not only the 150 h. p. race, but the free-for-all and special Chris-Craft race. Weiss was a heavy winner at the Charlevoix regatta. Julius Gilbert, driving "Jay-Gee" placed third in both the 150 h. p. and free-for-all events.

Bobby Graham, 13-year old son of the vice-president of the Graham-Paige Corporation, Detroit, took the class B outboard trophy out of a field of five starters. "Grand Traverse Baby," driven by Bill Sladek, took second.

In the class C outboards, Hub Meyers got away as usual to a flying start that kept him where no one could catch him. "Miss Petoskey" took this event and the free-for-all. Since Petoskey appears not to recognize a native son, Charlevoix, his adopted city, may as well get credit for Hub's victories. "Gonagin," driven by L. H. Haggin of Harbor Springs, placed second in both events. Vaine Smith, driving "Smith-Craft," was thrown from his boat in the heavy swells near Wequeton-sing pier. "Chaw" suffered a similar mishap during the class C event, breaking out the bottom of his boat. Roy Brady entered "C.U.-Later" in his place.

Charlevoix won first and third place in the sailing events at Harbor Springs on Friday. Jack King piloting "Firefly" around the buoys first, while John P. Wilson in "Dauphin" followed Sterling Morton of Ilserbor Point in to the finish line for third place. Nearly all of the six-meter boats in the Pine Lake Yacht Club were entered in the sailing races.

A number of Charlevoix people attended the races at Harbor via the water route. The Sylvia, Buccancer and Eleanor were among those yachts from Charlevoix present.

CERTIFICATES PRESENTED TO 8 LIFE MEMBERS

Last Wednesday Evening Marked Occasion at Masonic Temple

Last Wednesday evening, August 15, Charlevoix chapter of the Eastern Star held their regular meeting, one which will long linger in the minds of those present. There were 48 members and guests present, eight of whom received life certificates for being members of the chapter for 35 years. Sister Hattie Cooper presented the certificates to Ida Ackert, Kate Price, Lottie Markham, Minnie Bedford, Sarah Anderson, Frank Wier, Mabel Miller and John M. Ackert. Sisters Maria Denton, Viva MacNeill, Alice Hines and Julia Cram were unable to be present.

The early struggles of the organization were given in a vivid description by Brothers Hines and Ackert. Seventy-five charter members, the largest in any chapter in the state at that time, were claimed. Ida Emrey was first Worthy Matron, while Kate Miller was second Matron. A. E. Mason was first Patron at that time, and Sylvester Calkins, second patron.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served in the dining room. Erma Carey sang two solos, with Vera Belding at the piano.

SEQUANOTA CELEBRATED BIRTHDAY

Colony Was Established by Illinoisans Twenty-six Years Ago

Residents of the summer colony of Sequanota celebrated their twenty-sixth anniversary on August 10, with an all-day program of water sports and contests. Many of the original resort association were back for the event, coming from nearly every state in the union.

Swimming, fancy diving, boat races, held the attention of the young people while their elders looked on. But when the youngsters met them in a quoits tournament, age won. All kinds of obstacle races in the afternoon only developed appetites for the big banquet held in the clubhouse in the evening. Stunts comprised the program which closed the day.

In the summer of 1901, when several families from Galesburg and other Illinois communities saw this site high on the shores of Lake Charlevoix, they got the idea of purchasing it for their summer homes. Their neighbors and friends were let in on the deal, so that now the colony is an exclusive "home" bunch of folks. All this happened more than a quarter of a century ago. Sequanota does not pretend to be a development, it is a community of neighbors, compact in itself.

COMM. McDONALD RETURNS WITH DATA

BELIEVE SCIENTISTS DISCOVERED PROOF FOR THEORIES

Isle Royale Party Left in June—Took Three Ships—Naroca in Harbor Monday

For more than a month, the outside world has been interested and waiting for news of what Commander Eugene F. McDonald's expedition to Isle Royale would uncover. Late in June, a party of scientists from several universities went up into Lake Superior with complete equipment for making excavations in search of evidences of prehistoric man on the island. George A. West, archeologist and head of the Milwaukee Public Museum, was in charge of the group. Other members were George R. Fox, Prof. Baker Brownell, Dr. W. Alvin La Forge and John Kellogg, of Chicago.

With the expedition besides Commander McDonald, in charge of the ship "Naroca," were Commander B. A. Massee, vice-president of the Palm-Olive Soap Company of Chicago, in charge of the "Margo" and U. J. Hermann of Chicago, piloting the "Swastika."

Commander McDonald returned to Charlevoix on Monday, more than five weeks since his last visit, with his ship "Naroca" and a small party on board. Not a word of his trip would he discuss with anyone. But it is understood that on board ship were two skulls which the scientists believe support their theories about the existence of another age of people in this north region. Reports have it that six skeletons were unearthed in a cave on Isle Royale, and that the two best specimens are those which Commander McDonald may have on his expedition ship. It is probable that a full report will soon be made by the scientists who made the discovery.

Also on the ship when it came in to Harbor Monday were the commander's mother, Mrs. McDonald, sister, Florence, and nephew, Gene, who have as guests Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Seagrave of Long Island, N. Y. The other members of the expedition parted company with the "Naroca" at Mackinac Island on Sunday.

TRAVERSE CITY BOUT SCHEDULED FOR FRIDAY

The square-ring will hold fight fans' attention at Traverse City this week on Friday, August 24. Chuck Wiggins, who got a KO over Joe Burke last week, will match mitts with Jack Phillips of Pittsburgh, one of the East's most important heavyweights. Wiggins is considered plenty tough by the Traversites.

In the semi-final, Frankie Clare of Detroit meets "Pittsburgh" Tony Ross for six rounds. Ross recently defeated Phil McGraw in the main bout of a show in Detroit. Ken Reitzel, the Traverse boy who won the amateur lightweight championship of western Michigan last winter, will go six rounds with a Detroit pug of ability. The show is to be held in the main building at the N. W. Michigan fairgrounds.

BOULDER FIREPLACE IN REBUILT OFFICE

NATURAL BEAUTY OF REGION REALTOR'S THEME

Curios and Formal Garden Visible Through French Windows Add to Charm

Some of the beauty of his Boulder Park subdivision, Earl Young, local realtor, has brought into his office to make it more attractive. His many clients of early summer would not recognize Earl's new quarters. It was in the era of transformation from June until the latter part of July, but the labor was surely worth the result.

The main feature of the office, as always in a large living room, is the fireplace. Built of stones which are literally boulders, the uneven mantle reaches nearly to the low ceiling. The keystone piece looks almost like a man's face when viewed from the right angle. When he rebuilt, Mr. Young enlarged his office to about twice its former area. French doors at the rear give one a clear view from the street of that little plot which Earl will next summer landscape into a formal garden.

To return to the office—pictures on the walls of cottages in Boulder Park have been painted by Mrs. Young to look vivid and real. Mr. Young, whose hobby is photography, has just a few of his pictures at the office. It is said, and rightly so, that he has thousands of Charlevoix and vicinity and its activities in his collection. In addition to all this, he is a connoisseur of curios. There is a petrified turtle lying somewhere about the office that Mr. Young picked up. There is an old hand-carved bar which stands elbow high for Mr. Young's display of resort literature.

A vast improvement has been made in not only the appearance of the realtor's office, but in capacity as well. It is now exactly twice as roomy as formerly. Natural features that make Charlevoix and environs "the beautiful" to so many resorters have been utilized by Mr. Young in the erection of an "office beautiful."

GOLFERS TIE FOR PRESIDENT'S CUP

Ira S. Holden and Robert Bridge to Play Medal Match on Labor Day

Resulting in a tie between Ira S. Holden and Robert Bridge, the President's cup tournament at the Belvedere golf club last Saturday came to a standstill until both players can get together and play it off. Labor Day has been suggested as a tentative date. This affair is the first annual tourney at which a president's cup has been offered.

The trophy is a silver cup with handles, standing about 18 inches high over all. Atop the cup is a golfer just teeing off. It is a handsome award that any golfer would be proud to win. The match was played under handicap, Mr. Bridge offering advantage of 26 strokes to Mr. Holden's 5. Both players netted 69 after their handicaps had been deducted from their gross scores, Mr. Bridge turning in a 95 for eighteen holes, and Mr. Holden listing a score of 74.

NEW ORLEANS MAN WINS TOURNEY CUP

WACHENHEIM TAKES CLASS A FLIGHT—DETROITER B CLASS

Mrs. Freidlander Made Strong Bid for Title—Gilbert Shoots 70 On Charlevoix Course

Albert Wachenheim, Jr., of New Orleans and Dr. George Welling of Detroit, shared honors at the close of Charlevoix's first annual golf tournament last Saturday. The Louisiana golfer won a silver loving cup for class A championship in match play, while Dr. Welling took class B. Out of a field of fourteen entries who qualified for the tournament, Julius Gilbert of Detroit had a low score of 70 on a course which pars 71. He made it in first day of competition against Wm. Little of Chicago.

Adolph Dryer, Jr., of Cincinnati, first fell before Mr. Wachenheim's prowess, 8 up and 7 to go. Against Carl Wolf of Sullivan, Ill., who got into the semi-finals by Wright's default, Wachenheim was 3 up and 2 to go, bringing him into the finals with Gilbert. Julius beat Sam Rosenfeld of St. Louis, 6 up and 5 to go. William Little, who had beaten John Coleman of Chicago, 7 and 6, lost to the Detroit, 8 up and 7 to go. The final match between Gilbert and Wachenheim went full eighteen holes with both men even up. Gilbert faltered on the nineteenth to lose one under Wachenheim.

In the class B flight Mrs. Ted Freidlander of Chicago made a fine bid for the championship, by taking two matches straight. Silvia Aroner was beaten 7 up and 6 to go, while Louis Stix of Cincinnati, who had drawn a bye for the first round, lost 4 up and three. Mrs. A. J. Lautman lost to Albert Strauss of Cincinnati, 8 and 7. Strauss then met Dr. Welling, who had previously drawn a bye, and lost just one behind on the 18 holes. In the finals, Welling played Mrs. Freidlander, finished even on the 18th and 19th but took the 20th hole 1 up.

The record made by Mr. Gilbert in playing 70 on the course last Friday is considered very good. On the first hole he made a birdie three. The second hole, which is 469 yards distant, he made in par 5. Shooting par on every hole from this point to the 15 hole, he sank another birdie. Par is 4. On the next two, he made par 4 and 3, but lost a stroke on the 18th to finish 5 on a par 4 hole. He completed a 35 on both nines. Par for the last nine is 36.

Cups for the winners, according to William Watson, Charlevoix golf club professional, are being engraved and will be presented next week. Considering the numerous other activities under which this tourney for a Charlevoix golf championship had to compete, the matches of this demonstrated clearly that some of the golfers in local resorts are interested. Next year holds promise of many more entries and considerably greater interest now that the ball is rolling.

Quoits Champion Wanted

Thursday, August 30, is the big day for horse-shoe pitchers at the Charlevoix County Fair in East Jordan next week. Twenty-five dollars in prizes will go to the best quoits fair grounds at eleven o'clock. The money is divided into three portions of five, ten, and fifteen dollars each.

ANTRIM CO. OFFICERS TAKE THREE IN RAID

Arrest Three Men, Two Girls and Get Quantity of Liquor

Sheriff Glen Badgley and his three deputies, assisted by Prosecutor H. E. Wellman, of Antrim county, made a raid at the Emanuel Wilson farm residence south of Ellsworth on the east side of Intermediate lake last Monday at about mid-night, and as a result took into custody three men and two girls, also a quantity of liquor and part of a still.

Hugh Kemp, one of the men, was shot in the leg while trying to resist an officer.

The men taken were Hugh Kemp, Francis Evans and Earl Blanchard, all of East Jordan. The girls were Ellegan Reltzel, age 18, and Ina Potter, age 17, both of East Jordan. They were all taken to the county jail the following day.

Emanuel Wilson, proprietor of the place, had not been seen there for about three weeks as he left for the southern part of the state about that time. The place had been watched closely for some time and only two weeks ago a search was made and no liquor found on the premises.

Those taken in the raid will probably have a hearing and no doubt be bound over to the December term of court.

CHARLEVOIX CO. FAIR EAST JORDAN AUG. 29

3 DAYS OF AGRICULTURAL EXHIBITS AND ENTERTAINMENT

Free Attractions, Races and Prizes Mark Forty-fourth Annual Fair Next Week

That merry season of the year when farmers gather their large pumpkins and fat cows to "take to the county fair" is at hand. The forty-fourth annual exhibit of the Charlevoix County Fair is scheduled for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week. In addition to the Boys' and Girls' Dairy Clubs and Canning club exhibits, there will be entertainment of all kinds arranged for visitors.

Art Davis of Lansing, "stunt aviator," has promised to give an aerial show including trick flying, tail spins, and parachute drops that will thrill even the most blasé individual. He will be at the field later to take passengers into the ether—another thrill that the uninitiated will not want to miss. Other free attractions will be given in the afternoons by "The Georgia Four" and some celebrated aerial artists on swings and rings known in the act as "Novelty Aerial Surprise." The colored quartette will entertain with minstrel songs and southern jazz that goes right to one's feet.

Horse races during the last two days will interest many. Eleven hundred dollars is being offered in purses for the winners. An auto race will be the last event on Thursday.

It won't pay to sneak over the fence at East Jordan next week. Every paid admission at the gate receives a ticket on two automobiles which will be given away free. On Wednesday, August 29, a Ford coach is the prize for the lucky number. On Thursday, a Whippet coach goes to someone. In addition there are other prizes of gold coins. Drawings will be held each of the last two days at 11:00 a. m. and 3:00 p. m. There goes—we'll see you next week at the fair.

NAVAL TRAINING SHIPS HAVING MANEUVERS

Five Ships of Fleet on Little Traverse Bay This Week

The annual naval maneuvers of the Great Lakes naval training fleet were held on Little Traverse Bay this week. On Sunday, when the races were being held at Harbor Springs, the U. S. S. Wilmette steamed into the bay. Four other ships arrived during the night. The U. S. S. Wilmington, Paducah, Dubuque, and the Hawk will be in this region for four days to practice drill and maneuvers.

Early Monday morning, Admiral T. T. Craven, U. S. N., commandant of the ninth naval district, came to inspect the fleet. The ships and men on board will be on inspection each day. Visitors have been invited to come into the harbor and visit the fleet on a tour of inspection.

AMERICAN LEGION FIGHT AUGUST 29

YOUNG TO BOX HARVEY FOR STATE FLYWEIGHT TITLE

Twenty-eight Rounds Promised in American Legion Card for Charlevoix Fans

Once a fighter, always a fighter. Not content with having won the wnr, the American Legion dips its palms into fighting of another nature when the Charlevoix chapter puts on one of the finest boxing shows north of Detroit, next Wednesday evening, August 29. Not only fighters who have made a name for themselves in the state will match mitts on this card, but a northern scrapper of repute—Eddie Bisque, by name—will show his friends just how good a mixer he still is. He appears in the semi-final go against Johnnie Horn, junior fly-weight champion of Canada. Horn has never been defeated. He's a tough fighter who stands about the same height as Bisque and fights in the same style. The Frenchman needs no introduction to local fans. If he ever gets a chance to use that mighty punch of his, there'll be another flyweight champion hit the mat—hard.

Headliners for the bill are Jimmy Harvey of Lansing, and Franklin Young of Detroit. Both men will weigh in at 112 pounds for a stiff ten rounds. When they met recently at Jackson, a record crowd turned out to see the mauling fest. They promise more than entertainment when they meet again at Charlevoix, for the loser in that battle has a punch up his sleeve that didn't register the last time. Fans at the local American Legion bout won't want to miss this great comeback.

Young is one of Jimmy Brady's stable of pugilists and has beaten such scrappers as Chick Frazer, Eddie Mack, Genaro Pino, Joe Kansas and a score of others. Harvey has been mixing it with a degree of success himself. He's the only boy to ever get a decision over Young; some fans will still heatedly dispute Harvey's right to that victory.

The bout between headliners with the ability of Young and Harvey is further enhanced by the fact that it's a title scrap for the state fly-weight championship. Harvey wears the crown now but Young is no recruit. He's going to be a hard nut to crack. An account of his fight with Pino, Cuban flyweight, quotes Young as "fighting with all the fury of a fox-terrier." Not only is he aggressive, but he has that nasty habit of coming back strong in the last round for a 1-2-3. The local chapter is to be complimented upon securing such a clean card for the fight fans of Northern Michigan.

The exact location of all this leather-pushing is not definitely known. A great open-air arena will be built to seat 1,000 people. Additional bleachers can be put up if the attendance demands. In case of rain, arrangements have been made to stage the show in an indoor theater.

"Bugs" Clute of Boyne City will meet Art Coveyou of Petoskey in one of the prelims for four rounds. Two other 4's are being slated with local boys and material from Traverse City, Charlevoix and Petoskey. A total of 28 rounds promises the spectator value received for every minute of his time at the show. Mr. B. B. Stout is promoting the matches. John Blacker of Traverse City will referee.

HEAVY SEAS CAUSE PASSENGERS LEAVE

S. S. Manitou Bobs Around Too Much for Seaside Travelers

More than the usual number of passengers left the S. S. Manitou when it docked in Round Lake harbor at Charlevoix last Tuesday morning. Many who were going to Harbor Springs reached the city on Little Traverse Bay by train instead of by boat. A few declared their intentions of heading south immediately. A heavy sea will do strange things to people.

Members of the crew said that waves at times washed as high as the promenade around the deck. Certainly spectators on shore have never seen the ship have so much difficulty in making port—at least, in August.

Charlevoix Club Members Attend

Gaylord Camp

The 3rd annual Boys' and Girls' Club Encampment was held at the Gaylord fair grounds last week with the largest number of club members and leaders ever assembled in Northern Michigan present. The enroll-ment this year exceeded last year's by around 150 and totaled with the leaders included over 400 club folks from all the counties in Northern Michigan.

This event is the red letter affair for those engaged in club work and is a week devoted to demonstrations by club members, instructions by state leaders, musical contests, en-tertainment features, hikes, games and sports, or briefly, all those ac-tivities that go to make up leader-ship and character in rural boys and girls.

The camp was under the leader-ship of A. G. Kettunen, state club leader, assisted by P. G. Lundin, Miss Ruth Featherly, Miss Lola Green and others from the state club department as well as many local leaders and county agents from the counties involved.

In the contests, Charlevoix county unites in congratulating Miss Doris Russell, East Jordan, in her accom-plishment in winning a free trip to the state fair as a result of winning in the canning judging contest.

The following leaders and club members from Charlevoix county were in attendance:

Leaders: Mrs. Hardy, Miss Sidney Lumley, Mrs. Charles Withers. Mem-bers: Dickie Straw, Carleton Smith, Minnie Gornell, Bessie Straw, Fran-cis Withers, Christina Withers, Irene Cellner, Celia Crain, Beatrice Straw, Gerdelle Nice, Russell Crawford, Geo. Johnston, W. F. Wurn, Oswald Hosegood, Katherine Wangeman, Doris Russell, Paula Loomis, Reich, Alice Russell, Pauline Loomis, Phyllis Woerfel, Irene McDonald, Vivian Goff, Louise Reldel, Evelyn Hardy, Doris Green, Doris Kamradt, Martha Fett.

This is the largest group ever to attend from Charlevoix county and with the added growth and develop-ment of club work from year to year, an even larger attendance is an-ticipated next year.

SELF GOVERNMENT

There are always those who are willing to surrender local self-govern-ment, and turn over their affairs to some national authority in exchange for a payment of money of the federal treasury. Whenever they find that some abuse needs correction in their neighborhood, instead of ap-plying a remedy themselves, they seek to have a tribunal sent on from Washington to discharge their duties for them, regardless of the fact that accepting such supervision they are bartering away their freedom. Such actions are always taken on the as-sumption that they are a public ben-fit. Somewhere, Lincoln said some-thing to the effect that tyrants always bestrode the necks of the people upon the plea that it was for their good. He might have added that the people suffered the rule of tyranny in the hope that it would be easier than to rule themselves. We have built our institutions around the rights of the individual. We believe he will be better off if he looks after himself.—Calvin Coolidge.

ACCEPTANCE SPEECHES

The next major item in the politi-cal campaign will be the speeches of acceptance by the Republican and Democratic candidates for the presi-dency. These will come this month, when, many persons believe, the real platform of both parties will then be announced. That may be true. At least the acceptance speeches should eliminate a great deal of the haze that now surrounds the products of Kansas City and Houston. It is, of course, a question whether the candi-dates will set up any material differ-ence between their own views and those of the party as supposedly ex-pressed in the platforms. But will the two candidates see to it that the speeches of acceptance satisfy those whom the platform have irritated? We hope so.

REWARD OF SERVICE
It is through no accident of politics that we come to offer you this distinction. The nomination, of which we now give you formal notice, results from an accumulation of esteem, loyalty and confidence which are the natural outgrowth of the service you have rendered. The people have a sense of values which is un-failing; and in a manner not to be gainsaid it is they who made you the leader in this, a real crisis. They know your acquaintance and experience in foreign affairs, and they have no desire to see this constitutional branch of executive activity pass into the keeping of untrained minds. They know your intimacy with the complex problems of federal government and legislation; and they have no desire to see these perplexities muddled by those whose antecedents have been limited by local political necessities.—From Notification Address of Senator George H. Moses.

BENEFITS OF PROTECTION
"I well recollect that at the time the tariff law was passed, it was predicted it would destroy our foreign trade, yet under it our foreign commerce—both imports and exports—have steadily increased until they have reached the highest volume known in all the peace-time history of our country.

"It was predicted that it would unreasonably increase prices, yet government statistics show price levels of articles on the tariff free list have increased on average more than the price list of articles on the protected list.

"It was predicted that under the increased tariff, incentive to efficiency in industry would be decreased because of the lessening pressure of competition, but our country shows today that never in any period in any land has there been such a remarkable increase in industrial efficiency on the part of both employer and employe as has been witnessed in our country during the last five years.

"It was predicted that the tariff law would retard American prosperity, but under it we have come into the fullest measure of prosperity that the world has ever witnessed.

"It was predicted that this tariff law would make the rich richer and the poor poorer, but there was never in the whole history of the country so little poverty and so wide a diffusion of comfort as there is today."—Herbert Hoover.

POLITICAL "DUMBNESS"
This question of political dumbness is one of serious moment to our people. We note in every presidential election that only fifty per cent of the people—most of the times less—vote. The other one-half are unconscious of the fact that an election is being held and that their own future prosperity may be involved. It should be brought home to the minds of these people that they have a very direct interest in all matters pertaining to the government and when they are least conscious of the presence of congressional or executive action they are probably most affected by it.

To urge citizens into voting is most desirable, but the job is still greater. The real job is to stimulate them into voting intelligently and thus offsetting that unintelligent vote which is cast at the behest of unsound political leaders.

The half of the voting population represents a certain meritorious principle of citizenship. But it would be interesting to know how much of the fifty per cent is purely partisan and purely dumb. Do we not need a concentrated effort to develop political interest in the intelligent exercise of the franchise? The man who takes his cue on candidates for election only from a political boss is nearly as bad as the stay-at-home who cannot stimulate himself to exercise his intelligence.

BIRTHDAY PARTY WAS EVENT LAST THURSDAY

Tiny Guests Help David Hamilton Celebrate Occasion

David Hamilton, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hamilton, celebrated his first birthday last Thursday, August 16, at his home at 906 Bridge street.

The guests arrived at about four o'clock, and had a lovely time fishing, each one catching a nice fish in the shape of a canoe or rubber ball. Bobby and Billy Miles carried away honors in the "pinning the tail on the elephant" contest.

At five o'clock, the little guests, attired with dainty paper caps were led to the refreshment table on the lawn, which was prettily set with the large birthday cake, iced in pink and white, with a large pink candle in the center and divided into ten sections, one for each guest. Ice cream, cake and cookies met with instant approval after the proper ceremonies were observed in regard to the candle.

Those present were: Bobby and Billy Miles, David Kahn, Dorothy Taylor, Jack Geiken, Bobby Hamilton, and Jackie McCarthy, all of whom voted the party a huge success. David was the recipient of several useful gifts, as well as toys. He also has the honor of being able to help his parents celebrate their own second wedding anniversary.

LOCAL FLOATS IN PROGRESS PAGEANT

Parade Two Miles Long Marks Monday's Program in Petoskey

Charlevoix County Nurseries and the Charlevoix County Fair both had floats in the regional pageant of progress held for the first time at Petoskey last Monday. The parade was two miles long, every community in the resort territory cooperating to send floats or bands to the affair. Harbor Springs' beautiful float, although late in getting into line for the parade, won the $100 first prize, while Walloon Lake took second.

Portraying the progress of the north country since the days of its original inhabitants, the Indians, were hundreds of floats provided by business firms or little resort communities. "Miss Petoskey" was a real Indian princess, daughter of the chief for whom the city was named. Thousands of people were attracted to the spectacle. Its promoters are already viewing this year's display with plans for a more magnificent show in the coming year.

FORMER RESIDENT WEDS BOYNE GIRL

Frank Holeccheck, Now of Pontiac, Marries Miss Golda Jensen

A wedding of charming simplicity was performed Wednesday evening, August 15, at eight o'clock in the home of Mrs. Peter Leow, Boyne City, when Miss Golda Jensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. Jensen of Boyne City, became the bride of Mr. Frank Holeccheck, formerly a resident of Charlevoix. Only the immediate friends and relatives were present.

The nuptial vows were given by Rev. Linnell before an altar effect of ferns and flowers. The Presbyterian ring service was used. On two terraces of the altar, were placed pairs of white tapers in bridal-wreath candlesticks. Baskets of gladiolas and bouquets of snapdragons, sweet peas, floss and baby's breath were used to decorate the rooms.

The bride was lovely in a white satin gown, with basques of uneven hemline and pearl trim. Her veil was shirred to a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of rosebuds and sweet peas. Miss Margaret Scott of Pontiac, attended her as bridesmaid, wearing a gown of pale green taffeta and carrying an arm bouquet of sweetheart roses.

The ceremony was attended by Ralph Jensen, brother of the bride, as best man. Before the ceremony, Grant Hastings of Boyne City, sang "Oh Promise Me," and during congratulations, "I Love You Truly." The Bridal March of Lohengrin was played by Miss Olga Jensen, sister of the bride.

After the ceremony, a three-course buffet supper was served. The young couple left immediately for Pontiac where Mr. Holeccheck recently moved his business from Detroit.

CHICAGO CLUB CHILDREN HAVE PUTTING TOURNAMENT

Mrs. Robert Stuart gave a party on Monday for her grand-daughter, Miss Ellen Stuart, and her guest, which the children of the Chicago Club called a "putting tournament." About forty children of families on the club grounds participated. Four winners were announced, two among the boys' section, and two of the girls. Prizes were golf balls and tennis balls.

M-66 IS ASSURED TO EAST JORDAN

Construction Work Expected to Start Next Winter

A delegation from the East Jordan business men's club consisting of A. Strohkel, Kit Carson, L. G. Balch and R. C. Supernaw attended the Northern Michigan county road commissioners' meet at Cadillac last Thursday.

While there, they had a talk with Frank F. Rogers, state highway commissioner, relative to the proposed extension of M-66 to East Jordan, which will give us a much-needed trunk highway.

Mr. Rogers informed them that the road has been approved by both the administrative and advisory boards and will be marked M-66 as soon as it is reasonably passable.

That the administrative board provided that no maintenance should be put on these roads in 1928 since their budget had already been made up and no funds were available for taking care of additional trunk line mileage this year.

Mr. Rogers concluded that it was his plan to survey and put on for winter construction, if the administrative board approves, the big hill on this road just north of Mancelona.—East Jordan Herald.

YOUR EMPLOYER

Each of us determines by the quality and the quantity of our work what pay we shall receive. We are our own employers. What we do and how well we do it determines what we get out of life; what we earn and how we spend it determines in a large measure, the comfort, pleasure and satisfaction we enjoy.

If we spend all, giving little thought to the morrow, tomorrow will give us little in return. Be fair to your real employer—yourself. Think before you spend, and save a little as you go.

Enjoy life, but learn that lasting enjoyment comes not by living up to your salary but by thinking, planning, saving.

New adjustable front seats in all Buick closed models providing unrivalled comfort and driving ease for women and men alike

No more awkward driving position! No more straining for pedals! No more need of cushions for feminine drivers! Buick has ended all that—ended it with a new comfort feature as unique and individual as the dashingly beautiful Buick's new Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher—a comfort feature obtainable only in the Silver Anniversary Buick!

The front seats of all Buick closed models are adjustable! A turn of the seat-regulator causes the entire seat to move forward or back at the will of the driver, thus assuring a natural, comfortable position for any man or woman who takes the wheel!

The new seat is easily adjustable even when fully occupied! A child can operate it! It is simple—positive in action—and together with Buick's adjustable steering wheel provides, for the first time, in motor car history, a made-to-measure driving position!

This same fine convenience—this same matchless comfort and luxury—are apparent in every feature and appointment of the Silver Anniversary Buick.

See this epic car! Drive it! Test the new and exclusive adjustable seat! Prove to yourself that here, indeed, is the finest motor car and the greatest value America has ever produced!

HERDS OF THIRTEEN MEMBERS PRODUCE OVER 300 LBS. B. F.

Herd Sires Deemed Important Issue to County Dairymen—Alfalfa and Sweet Clover Increase

July 31 closed the fifth year of the Charlevoix County Dairy Herd Improvement association. There were 292 cows on test throughout the 12 months, which averaged 304.74 pounds of butter fat per cow.

Of the eighteen members who have been in the entire twelve months, thirteen averaged over 300 pounds of butter fat per cow in herd.

High herd in butterfat production is owned by Elmer Murray, East Jordan, who has 12 grade and pure-bred Jerseys and Guernseys averaging 8,341 pounds of milk and 398 pounds of butterfat.

High herd in milk production is owned by Orchard Bay Farm, Charlevoix, consisting of 23 pure-bred Holsteins averaging 10,515 pounds of milk and 326.4 pounds of butterfat.

High cow in butterfat production is owned by Elmer Murray, a four-year-old grade Guernsey having 13,278 pounds of milk and 568.8 pounds of butterfat to her credit.

An 11-year-old pure-bred Holstein owned by the Breezy Point Farm, Ironston, is high cow in milk production, making 14,937 pounds of milk and 514.9 pounds of butterfat in the association year.

The thirteen members with herds averaging over 300 pounds of butterfat are as follows:

Elmer Murray, 12 grade and pure-bred Jerseys and Guernseys, 398 pounds.

Breezy Point Farm, 12 pure-bred Holsteins, 326.4 pounds.

Geo. Meggison, 9 pure-bred Jerseys, 345.2 pounds.

Murphy Bros., 8 grade and pure-bred, Guernseys and Jerseys, 342.6 pounds.

Al Balch, 7 grade Jerseys and Holsteins, 332.3 pounds.

Floyd Black, 5 grade Jerseys and Guernseys, 330.6 pounds.

Orchard Bay Farm, 23 pure-bred Holsteins, 326.4 pounds.

Henry Potter, 7 mixed, 323.1 lbs.

Fred Wynn, 6 pure-bred and mixed Jerseys, 308.3 pounds.

Laurence Boss, 10 grade Jerseys, 308.3 pounds.

John W. Brock, 9 grade Guernseys, 309.5 pounds.

Louis Brown, 6 pure-bred and grade Holsteins and Jerseys, 305.4 pounds.

Irving Crawford, 7 grade Guernseys, 304.8 pounds.

YOUR SUPPORT WILL BE APPRECIATED

Democratic party in this campaign, is reliably reported to be overshadowing even the farm relief question in the west. Democrats who have loyally supported the ticket for years, confronted for the first time with the Tammany issue, are refusing to be whipped into line and are finding more and more to admire in Hoover and Curtis, according to those in touch with the situation.

The Democratic challenge to do battle for New York is being answered with an enthusiasm reminiscent of "the old Roosevelt days," says William Loeb, private secretary to Theodore Roosevelt through the latter's service as governor of New York state, vice president and president.

"And we had some organization in those days, didn't we?" asked Loeb with a broad smile. "It strikes me that Herbert Hoover attracts the same sort of devoted followers as T. R. did, though the methods of the two men differ considerably."

"Cobbler, stick to your last," isn't a bad rule to obey, even for big financiers who may be more able with percentages than they are with politics.

DO YOU—?

This is a community in which each one of us is expected to do his share toward making it a better place in which to live. Each member of the community should take an active interest in all local affairs. Each member should vote election day. Each member should turn out to every meeting where community developments are being discussed.

It is only through such whole-hearted co-operation that we can hope to build up and hold the future growth of this community at a mark of which we may all feel proud.

If you have been shirking even a small part of your civic duty in the past, make up your mind right now that for your own good as well as for the greater welfare of the community that you will do your full share in the future.

Al Smith says a man must be all right if the people on his own block say so. Thus Herbert Hoover, figuring on the way his home people are flocking to him, must, as Al Smith, his Democratic opponent, says, be all right.

Help Hoover. He has helped you and will help you again.

During the year 46 cows were sold to the butcher as unprofitable producers, eight of which were pure-bred, proving that pure-breds also can be culls. There are many more that should and will be sold for a gain to the owner.

The herd sire question is one of vital importance to the dairymen. At the present time there are 20 pure-bred sires owned and being used by the members, 7 of which are going to be kept until proven and three are already producing daughters.

Unfortunately there are still six members using grade sires. This matter could be corrected by forming bull associations. One member will from now on reap the benefit of group ownership.

The alfalfa and sweet clover acreage is still on the increase. This can be accounted for by the simple reason of good feeding qualities and the excellent pasture they make.

Seventeen of the members fed grain the year around. At the beginning of the year two members were weighing their milk and keeping a daily milk sheet. Now there are nine.

Two members have in the past year installed drinking cups, making a total of 11. The rest have tank heaters or some other improved way of supplying water in the winter.

* THE POLITICAL PARADE *

By Harry R. Blackmon

Washington, D. C., Aug. 22.—The approaching visit of Herbert Hoover to his native state of Iowa, where he will confer with real farmers on the subject of farm relief for two days at Cedar Rapids, affords an interesting contrast to the Democratic policy of asking a hand-picked list of "farm leaders" to come all the way to New York City to be photographed with the party candidate.

Reports from California indicate that Mr. Hoover expects to begin an extensive speaking campaign in September. During the campaign he plans to visit cities in the east, the middle west and border states, conferring at the same time with leading citizens on national problems.

Senator Curtis also plans to campaign extensively, particularly in the middle west, which he has represented so effectively in Congress for a third of a century. His first address will be delivered in New York state.

What might be called a new version of "He Who Gets Slapped" has as its principle Mr. John J. Raskob of Delaware, who undertook to hold jointly the chairmanship of the finance committee of the General Motors Corporation and the chairmanship of the Democratic National Committee.

His former business associates have given him definitely to understand that politics and business do not mix, so far as General Motors is concerned. Following certain intimations to that effect from high officials of the company, Mr. Raskob resigned the chairmanship of the finance committee.

Rumors that other members of the General Motors directorate were in sympathy with Raskob's political views were answered by a statement that not one of the DuPont family, which exercises almost a controlling interest in General Motors, would oppose the candidacy of Herbert Hoover. And now Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of the General Motors corporations, adds the coup de grace with a statement that his company "will not permit its prestige, its organization or its property to be used for political purposes."

A rising tide of revolt against domination by Tammany Hall, which has assumed the leadership of the

YACHTING NEWS

The sea-scout training ship, "Capt. Lawrence" of Milwaukee, under command of Capt. A. M. Heederik, came into Round Lake harbor Monday night. Twenty-two boys and four officers are making their annual cruise on the schooner. After coming across Lake Michigan from Milwaukee to Frankfort, the scouts went to Petoskey and Harbor Springs, and are now enroute to Grand Traverse Bay. They laid over in Charlevoix until the latter part of the week, however.

The "Capt. Lawrence" used to be a former lake boat carrying fruit to market from western Michigan. It was formerly the "Alice." The schooner measures about seventy feet in length, and has a 16 1-2 foot beam. Her sticks tower 70 feet into the ozone. A finer training ship for boys could not be found than the Milwaukee sea-scouts have.

The motor yacht "Doloma," with a party of Grand Rapids people aboard, has been lying at anchor near the Belvedere pier in Lake Charlevoix for the past two weeks. It is owned by Mr. William Hompe of Grand Rapids. Several members of the party recently returned home.

A converted government destroyer, "Buccaneer," 110 foot yacht of Charles C. West, Manitowish ship-builder, came during the latter part of last week to Charlevoix. Although members of his party disclaimed business interests for Mr. West in the city where he will soon build a cement plant, he was in Petoskey two days during his visit. Besides her owner, were Mrs. West and sons, Bob and John, Miss Dugan of Chicago, and William O'Neill of Ithaca, N. Y. They had been cruising northern waters, returning via North Channel and Mackinac Island. Sunday morning they went to Harbor Springs for the water carnival, and Monday, Mr. West left for Chicago. The yacht left yesterday (Wednesday) for Manitowish. Capt. K. McCauley, on vacation from piloting the newest steamer of the Goodrich line, of which Mr. West is the heaviest stockholder, was in charge of the yacht.

"Isabelle II," 68-foot motor yacht of H. T. Hollingshead, Chicago, arrived in Charlevoix on Wednesday and will lay over for minor repairs. A party including the owner and Mrs. Hollingshead, and two guests, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bosch of Chicago, left the yacht on Tuesday at Mackinac Island. They had been cruising the Great Lakes until the storm of Tuesday morning.

This Report Is Not True
Opposition to my nomination and subsequent election as Register of Deeds for Charlevoix county have circulated the report that if elected, I would engage the services of some person to attend to the duties of the office and not be there myself. This is a malicious falsehood, intended to injure me and turn votes to my opponent. I want to say that if nominated and elected, I will devote my entire time to the office work. My residence will be in Charlevoix as long as I hold this office. No person could give honest, conscientious service and do otherwise. This is my answer to this report. Glenn Bulow, Republican candidate for the office of Register of Deeds.—Adv. 34-t1.

ANNUAL ELKS PICNIC WAS A HUGE SUCCESS

Three Thousand Attended Affair at Whiting Park Last Sunday

Elks and their friends to the number of 3,000 attended the annual mid-summer picnic last Sunday at Whiting Park on Lake Charlevoix, the event being pronounced one of the most successful gatherings ever staged by that organization.

Potato races, nail driving contests and mirth producing pie-eating contests were held, the winners showing considerable dexterity in the varied contests. Among the features of the sports events was a six inning baseball game between the fats and the leans, the latter winning 16 to 4.

In the nail driving contest, the winner of each division was awarded a box of stationery and Mrs. Fred Houts received a flower bowl and the grand prize, Elvel J. Smith was presented with a cane for the honor of being the oldest Elk in attendance.

Prizes of cigars were awarded to James Campbell, Superior, Wis., the Elk who traveled the longest distance; George Schneider, as the shortest Elk; W. H. Van Gorder as the tallest Elk and Henry Lindig as the fattest of the antlered herd.

Other sports events for the children which offered much amusement were 50 yard dashes for boys and girls, potato races for boys and girls, sack race for girls, three-legged race for boys and a wheel barrow race for boys. Prizes of toys and games were awarded the winners in these events.

DETROIT PLAYERS TO OPEN 3-DAY RUN

Charlevoix to Witness Fine Plays by Bonstelle Company

The Detroit Players, heralded for more than a week to appear in Charlevoix with the "finest ten show in Northern Michigan," are setting up their equipment on the show grounds at Lindsay Park. "The Wasp's Nest" is the first play in three which the company will give in the city-on-three-lakes, beginning Thursday, August 23. Eight-thirty is the curtain opening.

On Friday and Saturday, the company is to present "The Best People" and "Captain Applejack." Both of these productions proved so popular to the Bonstelle Theater audiences in Detroit that they were repeatedly extended in continuation. In fact, the repertoire of the Detroit Players consists of the finest plays presented during their past winter season. This is the first season that the players of the Bonstelle Company have ever been able to get away from the Playhouse long enough to take a vacation under canvas.

Instead of the usual canvas benches and circus "blues," there will be 800 comfortable chairs, 300 on a raised dias and the rest on a heavy waterproof groundcloth. Probably the most complete equipment ever carried by a company into Northern Michigan is carried by the Detroit Players on eight trucks and seven trailers, ranging from a small two-ton Federal to a ten-ton forty foot Republic heavy duty.

An innovation in tent shows is the reserved seat section. For the convenience of those who do not wish to stand in line at the time of the performances, reserved seats may be obtained in advance at the Central Drug Store.

AT THE MOVIES

Ballyhoo Girl Portrayed by Blonde Esther Ralston

Esther Ralston appears as a blonde Venus in spangles in her new picture, "The Sawdust Paradise," which opens Wednesday at the Palace theater for 2 days.

As a ballyhoo girl for a diving act in a street carnival, Miss Ralston wears tights similar to those of the several girls with Annette Kellermann figures who appear as the other "human seals." Several hundred Hollywood extra girls were called by the Paramount studio casting office in order to obtain six with perfect or nearly perfect figures.

"The Vanishing Pioneer"

To find water and to create irrigation systems that would make the semi-desert soil productive was one of the great problems of the pioneer settlers who developed the American West. This vital problem of water provides the theme for Zane Grey's "The Vanishing Pioneer," the Paramount picture featuring Jack Holt, which comes to the Majestic theatre next Saturday and Sunday.

The picture shows a band of pioneers encountering terrible hardships in crossing the desert. Their water gives out and their plight seems hopeless. Leaving tiny graveyards in the sand as milestones of their progress they fight their way on to discover water.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

At the Sunday morning service August 26, at 10:30, the preacher will be Dr. Selby F. Vance of Pittsburgh. Dr. Vance is a well known member of the Sequanota Club, having been coming here for many years. His many friends will welcome the opportunity to hear his message.

The Sunday school session is at 9:30 a. m.

The Endeavor meeting is at 6:30 p. m.

The Ironton service is held at 2:30 p. m.

The entertainment given at the Ironton church Monday evening, August 20 by Camp Charlevoix, was well patronized and greatly enjoyed and netted a substantial sum for the benefit of the church.

TIME TO THINK OF THE OPENING OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS

It is time to be thinking of the opening of our schools. Just a little ways off now and the school bells will clang and the boys and girls will step off to their studies. It's hardly seemed a day since the last school year closed, and the long summer vacation was ahead. That is about spent, and the long grind is again ahead for teachers and scholars. Now is the time mothers and fathers must set about getting their clothes ready. And there are other things to take into consideration—the kiddies health, are they fit? Does their teeth need looking over? Have they defective eyes or diseased tonsils? Better have the little human machine thoroughly inspected, and when the school bell rings, every one will be prime and fit, ready to toe the mark and be physically fit to stand the grind they will be subjected to.

For Governor—William Reynolds.
For Lieutenant Governor—Wilfred Newman.

PROHIBITION PARTY

For United States senator—Duly McCone.

For Governor—Ervin D. Brooks.
For Lieutenant Governor—Edith R. Lutenhacker.

SOCIALIST PARTY

For United States senator—William L. Grieghoff.

For United States senator (to fill vacancy)—Francis W. Elliott.

For Governor—Guy L. Lockwood.
For Lieutenant Governor—George M. Campbell.

EAST JORDAN WILL EN- TERTAIN COMMISSIONERS

East Jordan is to entertain the Northern Michigan road commissioners at their fall meeting, probably some time late in October. The city on the south arm of Lake Charlevoix is actively battling for a new highway to be known as M-66 and has been promised the road at an early date. Construction work may be started next winter. The road connects with M-131 near Mancelona.

MCGUIRE ANNEXES SECOND GOLF TITLE

BELVEDERE TOURNAMENT EN- DED LAST SATURDAY

Mrs. McNulta is Women's Champ—
A. E. Archer Takes Class
A Flight

Considerable interest in the annual golf tournament of the Belvedere association made this year's matches keenly contested. More than sixty entries last week played on Wednesday to qualify. Play was based on the individual handicap of the golfer, and four flights were arranged for men; two for women.

W. B. Muckerman defeated J. C. Ferguson for place in the first round of the championship match. C. B. Fox eliminated J. E. Karick and S. J. Pingree left J. W. Ferguson behind. C. W. McGuire, Jr., had no difficulty in beating Dr. L. J. Whitmore. In the second round, Fox and McGuire defeated their opponents to meet in the finals. For the second time, the golf crown was copped by McGuire by his victory over Fox, Saturday afternoon.

Class A victor was A. E. Archer who defeated W. C. Acklin in the second round and R. E. Lortz in the finals to win. Lortz met E. H. Tausig and George Coursey. H. C. Clarke, Jack Kirby, and E. C. Lathrop were contenders for one day only.

Mrs. L. McNulta of Bloomington, Ill., and Mrs. H. C. Clarke were winners at the women's matches. Mrs. Clarke left Miss and Mrs. M. S. Phillips in defeat before taking the championship by default of Mrs. J. R. Ingham. Mrs. McNulta took a bye in the first round, met Mrs. Herman Bayless in the second, and won over Mrs. Ira Holden in the finals. Mrs. Ben Tate defaulted to Mrs. Holden while Mrs. R. P. Johnson was eliminated in the first round.

In the men's B and C matches R. V. Clark, president of the Belvedere association, and Dr. T. E. Roberts were winners. J. W. Fristoe defaulted to Roberts, while John Knight took his match from C. C. Orr. Knight lost by two strokes to Dr. Roberts for the C class honors. M. S. Phillips met George Fetter, while J. R. Hatstaedt defaulted to Clark. Phillips lost his chance to take class B championship by one stroke.

Seven cups which have been displayed in the Belvedere hotel for the past three weeks will be awarded to winners just as soon as the awards can be properly inscribed. Besides an individual cup, the Belvedere trophy becomes the property of McGuire for another year.

FERRIES STOP AT MACKINAW ISLAND

STATE CRAFT PLYING STRAITS TO LEAVE PASSENGERS

Motor Cars Still Barred from Historic Spot—First Effort to Open State Land There

Through an agreement reached between Gov. Fred W. Green, State Highway Commissioner Frank F. Rogers and G. A. Hendricks of the Mackinaw Island State Park commission, the three state ferry boats now plying the straits of Mackinac will make regular daily stops at the island beginning Sept. 6.

This service will be the first step that has ever been taken by the state to throw open some 1640 acres as a public reception ground. Although the state for some time has owned more than three fourths of this historic island, the romantic history of which dates back to 1670, it has been served only by private ferry service, and has been practically isolated to the general public. Automobiles are not permitted on the island, and the state ferries will accordingly discharge only foot passengers there.

Available to All

In providing the new ferry service it was the thought of Governor Green and other state officials, that this body of land, located out in the straits of Mackinac, with its historic background, should be made available to all.

Records show that back in 1670, Fathers Marquette and Joliet made Mackinac island their home. In more recent history, Mackinac island was a fortress, guarding the passage of the straits. In 1746 the island figured prominently in the Indian wars when it withstood the siege of Pontiac and his Indians. Again in the war of 1812 it sprang to prominence. Fort Holmes was erected there by the English as an outpost.

Many of the old buildings used in the Indian wars still stand on the island. There is Fort Mackinac, which dominates the harbor and the entire straits; Fort Holmes on the highest point of the island, and the old rifle range.

Beauty of Scenery

Mackinac island has more than its share of natural beauty. There is the Arch Rock, a natural limestone arch, rising from the surface of the lake to a height of 149 feet; the Sugar Loaf, near the center of the island, rising nearly 90 feet in the center of a dense forest; the Skull Cave, Devil's Kitchen, and many other places of historic interest.

It is the plan of the Mackinac Island State Park commission to develop the island into a real state playground. It is the only state park which is dominated by a single commission, all other state parks being under control of the state department of conservation. In the past little effort has been made to throw open the island to the general public. The new commissioner, however, has been putting in some real work, and the scenic beauties and historic spots are now to be brought close to the people of the state and the thousands of tourists who pass into the upper peninsula each summer.

COUNTY PICNIC PLANS COMPLETED

ANNUAL GATHERING AT WHIT-ING PARK, SEPTEMBER 3

Program of Sports, Baseball and Quits Arranged to Entertain
Visitors at Event

All roads lead to Whiting Park on Labor Day, Monday, September 3, where Charlevoix county's biggest and best picnic will be held.

This is the day of the year when all the cities, villages, merchants, farmers, county associations and organizations unite as one big family to have the time of their lives.

Plans are already made to have a program of sports, contests and games which will keep everyone, young and old, fat or lean, rich or poor, on their toes every minute of the day. The feature attraction of the day will be a baseball game between the Bellaire Independents, champions of Antrim county, and the Charlevoix County Independents, a team consisting of the best talent within this county. This will be the first real game of baseball held in the county this year, and surely everyone will want to see it.

Another feature will be a quoit pitching contest. Come on you horseshoe tossers, show your stuff. All contestants must be on the grounds by 1:00 o'clock fast time, to enter. If you have regulation quoits bring them with you. For the young there will be running races and sports. Cash awards will be given all winners in the various events and contests.

As usual coffee and doughnuts will be furnished free at noon. In addition the American Legion posts in the county will have stands, where ice cream and soft drinks will be served.

Following is the program beginning on fast time:

12:00 to 1:00—Basket dinner. (Coffee and doughnuts furnished free.)

1:00—Short program of speeches.

1:00—Quoit contest and continues until winners are selected.

1:30—Running races and contests.

2:30—Baseball game.

Don't forget the picnic on Labor Day. Bring your family and friends and enjoy a real get-together. County Park Commission; W. H. White, chairman; W. J. Pearson, W. P. Porter, S. M. Rose; F. H. Wangeman, sec-treas.

BAY VIEW ROAD BIDS ARE OPENED

Traverse City Firm Low With $178,000 For Cement Paving

Bids for the paving of U. S. 31 from Petoskey to Ponshehwaing approximately 8 miles with 20 foot concrete, having been opened, Goldberg Construction Co., of Traverse City, being the lowest bidders at approximately $178,000. The awarding of the contracts will be made at the next session of the State Administration Board which will be held within a few days.

Plans call for the completion of the road through Bay View this fall and installation of drainage structures and partial grading of the balance during the winter.

Goldberg Construction Co., are the contractors who are just now completing the cement road from Petoskey to Mackinaw City and will move their equipment here as soon as contracts are signed.

LIGHTNING KILLS JORDAN FARMER

Bolt Enters Barn Where He Had Taken Refuge

Garl Brown, well-known farmer of Jordan township, was killed by lightning during the severe electrical storm Monday afternoon, Aug. 20th.

Mr. Brown was assisting a crew of men harvesting oats at the Frank Lilak farm east of Chestonia. As the storm approached the team and wagon were driven into the barn, and had just got in when a bolt of lightning struck the barn and in ground hit Mr. Brown, killing him almost instantly. It also set fire to the barn. The workmen nearby extinguished the blaze and summoned a physician. The accident took place about 3:30 p. m.

Garl Brown was born in Wells County, Ind., Nov. 7th, 1892. In 1913 he was united in marriage to Cora Coons at Marion, Ind. About seven years ago they came to this region, purchasing and locating on a 160 acre farm in Jordan township.—Mancelona Herald.

CASINO SCENE OF CLOSING PARTIES

MASQUERADE PARTY HELD AT THE BELVEDERE

Adult Program Staged Monday—
Children Close With Friday
Dance

Grown-folks of the Belvedere disported themselves at the hotel Casino on the evening of August 20, at a masquerade ball which climaxed the social affairs of the season. Some Chicago Club people came over disguised as Swiss mountaineers. There wasn't a good yodel among them; it wasn't that kind of a party. But when a few of the resort cottagers entered the ball-room dressed as cats, there were those who thought they were seeing things.

It was a well-attended affair. Probably it will go down in the press columns as the most informal affair of the year. Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Clark were recognized in the costumes of George and Martha Washington. Whom else did we see there; Cornelia?

As usual, Murray Horton's Band played merrily for dancing. This has been a most successful season at the Belvedere from the stand-point of entertainment. Those who say when and why are asking the orchestra boys to return next season. And Murray says: "Maybe."

A children's Masquerade party, modeled closely after that of last Monday for their parents and grown-ups, was held Friday evening at the Belvedere Casino. Miss Calla Travis was in charge of the affair. Children of all ages, sizes, and costumes were in attendance. Murray Horton's Band made the party interesting with special numbers, and several talented guests of the hotel did special numbers.

Elizabeth Meyer, dressed as a French doll, performed some fancy dances and responded to an encore. Margaret Ferguson was sole star of a glowing act. Two other features in which two girls costumed as neogroes could not be identified, and another figuring a little Dutch girl whose names someone had forgotten completed the entertainment.

AGED MAN ARRESTED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Still and Six Barrels of Mash Destroyed

Charlevoix county officers Sunday arrested Pete Block, 76 years old, for manufacturing liquor in a swamp east of his farm home. On his promise to appear at the courthouse Monday morning at 10 o'clock, he was released. He failed to appear for hearing and has not been seen since.

Sheriff Dava Vaughn, Deputy Charles Marshall and Prosecuting Attorney A. L. Fitch, having suspected his liquor operations for some time, lay in wait at daybreak Sunday morning in a swamp west of Rowland Lake. Block walked in on them. Six barrels of mash ready for the still were found, besides complete equipment in a tent. Smashing the barrels, officers brought the still into Charlevoix, releasing Block because of his age upon a promise to appear Monday. It is probable that other persons figure in the case, although no developments have yet been made public.

SCHOOLS TO OPEN ON SEPTEMBER 10

LARGE ENROLLMENT IN PROS-PECT FOR COMING YEAR

Extensive Improvements Now Under Way to Better Housing Facilities in Buildings

All departments of the Charlevoix public schools will open Monday, September 10, for the 1928-29 school term. Present indications point to another large enrollment.

Extensive repairs are now under way in preparation for the opening and will be completed by that time. What is known as the central building is under-going complete alterations to house the Junior high school, which will be a separate department by itself this year. A partition between the two south rooms on the second floor has been removed and this entire space will be used as the assembly or study room. The interior has been re-decorated. Boys' and girls' toilets have been moved from the basement to the first floor, a decided improvement, and modern facilities installed. The Junior high will be in charge of Walter Alexander, as principal, with two assistants instructors.

In line with the general plan of improvements, the interior of the high school has been re-decorated, toilets altered and new facilities installed, besides many other needed changes. The lawn surrounding the new grade building is being graded and attractive settings of shrubbery planted at the entrances Raymond Faulkner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Faulkner, supervised this work.

Superintendent Otterbine, who will have charge of the Charlevoix school system this year, has moved with his family to 207 Mason street. He stated that text books and supplies have been ordered and with the completion of alterations now under way, everything is in readiness for the opening. One vacancy in the teaching staff, that of coach, is still to be filled. Otherwise the line-up of instructors is complete as follows:

Oscar P. North, high school principal; Leona McKinley, English; Veleria Keller, history; Stewart Coleman, science and math; Margaret Tower, Latin and French; Eleanor Thomas, commercial; Elizabeth Hood, home economics. Junior high: Walter Alexander, principal and math; Edith Struthers, English and geography; Harry E. Bingham, history and civics. Grade instructors: Helen L. French, kindergarten; Rocena Wilson, principal and first grade; Gertrude Young, second grade; Florence Little, second and third grades; Ethel Mellin, third grade; Sophie Manson, fourth grade; Jaunita Secord, fifth grade; Margaret Milner, 6th grade. Miss Pearl Bigge will be county normal principal again this year, with Mrs. Gertrude Dick as critic.

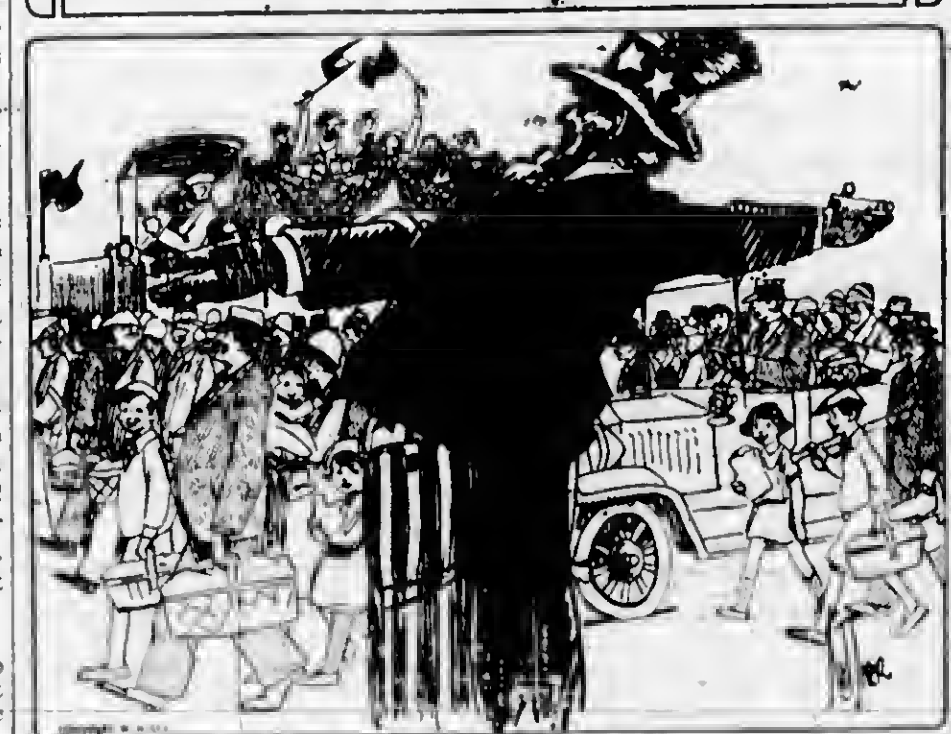

Congestion in the high school will be eliminated by the new plan of having the Junior high in the old grade building. The new department completed last spring will house grades from the kindergarten to the sixth, inclusive, and the two ward schools will be discontinued. High school classes will have the entire building, thus giving more room for the science, commercial and home economics departments, which have heretofore been cramped for space.

Completing the faculty of Charlevoix High School for the year 1928-9 is the appointment yesterday of Ray Kipke, kid brother of the famous Harry, as coach of athletics and instructor in mathematics. Kipke attended Michigan State in preference to his brother's alma mater and was assistant coach at Olivet college his first year out of school. Last year, he directed athletics at Williamston high, near Lansing. Ray made a name for himself in sports at M. S. C. He may be expected to turn out good teams here.

Ball Held for Hotel Help

Closing their season at the Belvedere hotel and the Charlevoix Inn, managements of both resorts held dances for employees on Tuesday night, August 28. The "servants' ball" at the Belvedere wasn't entirely an unqualified success, in spite of the excellent music by Murray Horton and his band. The girls outnumbered the number of chauffeurs and bell-hops present by about three times. Both parties broke up early for a "hug" dance downtown.

MAN SO NERVOUS FEELS HIS STOMACH JUMP

"I got so nervous my stomach felt like it was jumping. Vinol entirely relieved my trouble. I feel better than in years."—J. C. Duke.

Vinol is a compound of iron, phosphates, cod liver peptone, etc. The very FIRST bottle makes you sleep better and have a BIG appetite. Nervous, easily tired people are surprised how QUICK the iron, phosphates, etc., give new life and pep. Vinol tastes delicious.—F. J. Fessenden.—Adv. 35-41.

In one minute all the mosquitoes in a room can be killed. Simply take a FLY-TOX Hand Sprayer, fill with FLY-TOX and fill the upper half of the room with the fine atomized spray. It will slowly settle to the floor killing all the insects in the room. Spray the ceiling, hangings and closets where the mosquitoes hide, and also spray on the screens. FLY-TOX will not stain the walls, draperies or the most delicate fabrics. It has a pleasing fragrance, is absolutely harmless to people but sure death to insects. Does not matter whether windows and doors are open or closed. FLY-TOX is the scientific product developed at the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research by Rex Fellowship. Every bottle guaranteed.—Adv.

* THE POLITICAL PARADE *
* By Harry R. Blackmon *
* * * * *

Washington, D. C., August 27—Advises from every section of the country indicate that Hoover and Curtis have gotten the jump on their rivals in organizing women voters. Credible predictions supported by straw polls promise the Republican candidates a substantial majority of woman vote in some normally Democratic and all normally Republican States. Appreciation among women of Hoover's wartime efforts as food administrator gives him a big advantage to start with over his opponent, which is being heightened by the stress placed upon his humanitarian record.

Political leaders of twenty years ago would have been speechless at the thought of a large share of presidential campaign activities in charge of women, but Lindbergh's flight to Paris, would have affected them the same way. Less than two out of five voters in 1924 were women, but this year the women's vote may run up to 45 per cent of the total, according to many advance indications. Hoover's demonstrated popularity with the woman voter should be an important factor in getting that large a percentage of women to the polls.

The men in charge of party affairs today find that their women co-workers have a positive flair for national politics. A well-organized women's division at Republican national headquarters is working so aggressively for Hoover and Curtis that veteran politicians find the pace of their feminine contemporaries hard to keep up with at times. The day when women in politics had to be coached at every turn is only a memory. Even the old-time politicians scarcely bat an eye when two women temporarily assume the chairmanships of their respective parties in New York state.

Several years ago one of Senator Curtis' friends asked him what his favorite recreation was. The Kansas veteran pondered a moment and replied, "I believe that I'd just as soon attend a good state fair as anything I know of." To this golfing, motoring, yachting generation that may seem like zero in outdoor sports but state fairs have played a great part in the picturesque career of Charles Curtis.

Sixty years ago he rode his first race as a jockey at one of them. He remembers the day in the early 70's when the James gang raided a state fair, getting thousands of dollars. In eight years he was "up" on hundreds of mounts at state fairs. They have real glamour for him.

That being the case, it is not to be wondered that he quickly accepted an invitation to deliver his second campaign speech at the New York state fair at Syracuse on August 28. He will look over the fair while he's there, too.

Victory for the Republican presidential ticket in Ohio by 200,000 votes was declared by political observers who know that state not to be an unreasonable assumption on the face of the primary returns last week. Every winning candidate on the Republican slate had been a strong Hoover supporter in the primary.

The Democratic presidential ticket will not have the support of a single metropolitan newspaper in Oklahoma for the 1928 campaign, although John W. Davis carried the state four years ago by 29,000 votes. E. K. Gaylord, publisher of the Daily Oklahoman and the Oklahoma Daily Times, recently announced that his papers, which are Democratic, will not endorse the nominee of that party. Richard Lloyd Jones, publisher of the Tulsa Tribune, had previously issued a similar statement. And the Democratic New York says that Oklahoma's electoral vote may be decisive.

"Christ Jesus" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches, Sunday, August 26.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Behold the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth."

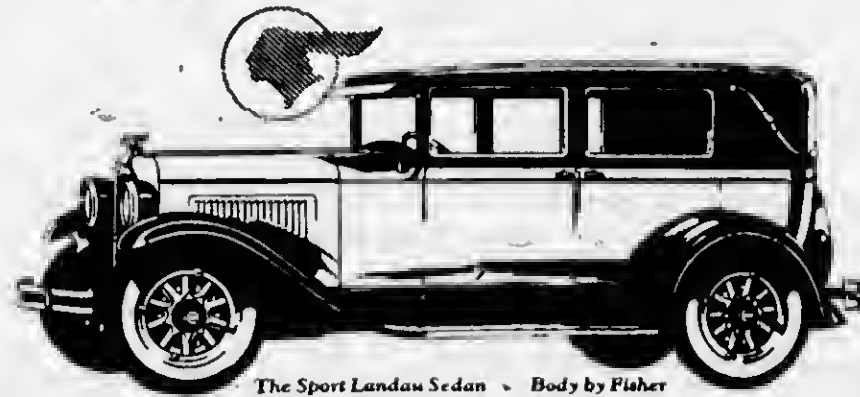

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Christ is incorporeal, spiritual, yes, the divine image and likeness, dispelling the illusions of the senses; the Way, the Truth, and the Life, healing the sick and casting out evils, destroying sin, disease, and death." PROTECT THIS COMMUNITY
Peddlers selling everything from mouse traps to rain coats ply their trade in this community with regularity and with more or less success. Dresses and lingerie, silk hose and salve, coffee and vacuum cleaners, all are distributed by the ardent callers who work on women with their various wiles.

We ought to remember, when these folks call, that the men who are paying the bulk of our town taxes to keep things going, and through whose efforts the town is the good place to live in that it is, are selling the same articles of probably better quality at lower prices. It isn't fair to pay cash to the peddler and make the home merchant wait. It isn't fair to the merchant to buy of peddlers at all.

Vote for Hoover and Curtis.

LIGHTING THE WORLD
It was not so much a struggle of the Colonies against the tyranny of bad government as against wrong principle of government, and for self-government. It was a man realizing himself. It marched on. Against it the powers of privilege and the forces of despotism could not prevail. Superstition and sham cannot stand before intelligence and reality. The light that first broke over the thirteen Colonies lying along the Atlantic was destined to illumine the world.—Calvin Coolidge.

OPTIMISM
Optimism in business means kindness instead of kicks; consideration instead of curses. It means the realization by every man and woman, boy and girl, engaged in business that the work of each is some kind or measure of service; that business is not a bargain but an opportunity. Optimism means a comprehension of the knowledge that we really must work if we want to live; that we must work well if we want to live well.—Geo. E. Whitehouse.

Mrs. Alvin T. Hert is doing a splendid job among Republican women. She is telling them they should have their eyes open just now when Democratic women are very wide awake. In other words, she is informing the Republican women that they have a responsibility which they will shirk if they fail to go to the polls. She says this voting business is not, and cannot be, a social event. With her it is a test of women's civic integrity. She also informs Republican women that by staying at home and not voting they help the Democrats. And they do, too.

Friends of the Democratic candidate for President are trying to explain his record in the New York State Assembly on the grounds he was an unsophisticated youth born in New York City and thus led into doing many things by Tammany that he should not have done had he been known better. Nevertheless Governor Smith is still proud of his Tammany association. He says so himself.

METHODIST CHURCH

John E. Lockyer, Minister

The preacher for next Sunday morning at 10:30 is Dr. F. H. Knight, pastor of the Grantland Avenue Methodist church, Chicago. His sermon topic is "The Wandering Jew." Dr. Knight was a classmate of our district superintendent, Dr. Randall. He should have a good congregation to hear him.

The pastor will conduct the evening service at 7:30.
The last summer League service at 8:30 will be on Sunday. Subject: "From a Carpenter's Shop."
Sunday school will be at 9:30 for two more weeks.

The pastor conducts a Bible study and prayer hour at 7:30 each Thursday.

All matters connected with the annual conference must be completed within the next two weeks.

Greensky Hill Indian Mission
Preaching service is at 2:30 in charge of Indian preacher.

The annual camp meeting will be held on the church grounds, September 3 to 9, beginning Labor Day evening and closing the following Sunday evening. Services in Indian and English three times daily. Special Indian preachers have been invited as guest preachers. Free tenting space provided and refreshments sold on the grounds.

HOW TO GO BROKE FARMING

1. Grow only one crop.
2. Keep no livestock.
3. Regard chickens and a garden as nuisances.
4. Take everything from the soil and return nothing.
5. Don't stop gullies or grow cover crops—let the top soil wash away, then you will have "bottom" land.
6. Don't plan your farm operations. It's hard work thinking—trust to luck.
7. Regard your woodland as you would a coal mine, cut every tree, sell the timber and wear the cleared land out cultivating it in corn.
8. Hold fast to the idea that the methods of farming employed by your grandfather are good enough for you.
9. Be independent—don't join with your neighbors in any form of co-operation.
10. Mortgage your farm for every dollar it will stand to buy things you would have the cash to buy if you followed a good system of farming.—Division of Extension, University of Tennessee.

Raising Dairy Calf

Good breeding is essential to success in stock raising, but the best of breeding may become of little value unless the young animals are properly raised. This is particularly true of the dairy calf. Two young at practically all other classes of stock are reared by their dams in the natural way. The dairy calf is usually reared by hand. The efficiency of the method followed has a great deal of influence upon the size, strength and future usefulness of the animal.

Judging from the looks of the Tammany tiger just now it would appear as if something were the matter with its stomach.

MURRAY HORTON BAND FINISHED SEASON HERE

Says Best Season Organization Has Had in Any Resort

Murray Horton's Band, Belvedere entertainers who have been at the hotel for the season, played their last numbers in Charlevoix at a farewell party in the Belvedere Casino, Wednesday evening, August 29. They left today for Cincinnati where the orchestra has a winter engagement. "It's the best summer I've ever spent in any resort," said Mr. Horton yesterday. His bands, have played in a number of southern Michigan and Indiana resorts, so this may be considered a high compliment for Charlevoix. Mr. R. V. Clark, president of the Belvedere Association, has been quoted as saying that this season was the best dance season the hotel ever had. He attributes directly to the orchestra the keeping and holding of resorters' interests in local parties for this year. A contract is being held open for next season.

Horton and his orchestra played for the annual Regatta Ball at Harbor Point last Saturday evening, which is the big affair of the season there, sponsored by the Little Traverse Yacht Club.

If troubled with headache or in need of glasses, consult Dr. Leahy the Optometrist at the Hotel Charlevoix, Monday, September 10. Adv. 35t2.

PETOSKEY MAY GET FINE NEW HOTEL

Plans Being Made Toward Rebuilding Cushman House

All Northern Michigan has heard with interest of the announcement that a Windsor, Ontario, business man will buy the Cushman Hotel at Petoskey and rebuild it into a modern plant of about 250 rooms, occupying the old burned structure and extending east as far as the laundry on Mitchell street.

An option on the building has already been signed by the Windsor business man, Mr. A. H. Wilford. The forming of a corporation with both preferred and common stock and no one holding a controlling interest is expected. It would be financed partly through local capital and partly through the Windsor investor.

The new building would be a complete hotel in itself, according to the plans. The large dining room of the old part would be used for a summer dining room, ball room, etc. The old part would be used for a summer parlor.—Cheboygan Daily Tribune.

EXPECT WALTER HAGEN TO PLAY LOCAL COURSE

Emmet French Played Exhibition Match With McGuire

Emmet French of Southern Pines, N. C., a professional golfer who has played several seasons on Charlevoix courses, went around the Belvedere course yesterday in an exhibition match with Willard "Big Bill" McGuire. French has been trying to get "way under par" on the Belvedere course, attributed by many to be the finest in Michigan. He made a 74 last week. Par is 72 for 18 holes.

Walter Hagen has been invited to come to Charlevoix by none other than Emmet French, at present guest of the club. It is possible that Hagen will meet French on the local course next week.

CHARITY HORSE SHOW ON FRIDAY THIS WEEK

Proceeds to Be Given for Benefit of Charlevoix Hospital

The annual Charity Horse Show and Gymkhana will be given at Hooker's paddock at the end of Michigan avenue on Friday, August 31, proceeds of which will be given to the Charlevoix hospital.

Such events held in previous years have been very successful with many prominent lovers of horseback riding taking part in the costume rides and races. Great interest is manifested in the event, which is one of the important social functions of the summer season.

A. W. Snkey is manager of the paddock and will have charge of the affair.

EMMET COUNTY FAIR FOUR DAYS NEXT WEEK

Promises Some Fine Attractions and Good Race Events

Many people from this vicinity are making plans to make a social call at Petoskey and take in the annual Emmet County Agricultural Fair, which is to be held there on September 4, 5, 6, and 7.

Petoskey and Emmet county people always return the favor and are seen each autumn in large numbers in our fair. Petoskey horses are usually entered in our races and much interest is shown in the produce from our farms.

The Petoskey fair is always the first week in September and usually is featured with numerous free entertainment acts, a ball game each afternoon, unusually good horse races, some splendid farm-crops and stock, and this year to all these will be added five special mid-way shows and attractions and the greatest educational exhibit ever attempted in Emmet county.

Manager Thomms of the fair is using nearly an entire large building for the educational exhibit, which will include furniture made in Petoskey schools, and by the boys clubs in the rural and village schools, art work, etc. There also will be singing contests, community singing events, oratory battles and contests in original drawings.

The ball teams playing will be Conwy, Larks Lake, Mackinaw City and probably Kegomic. The children's day with all children admitted free of charge. The championship ball game also is on Friday with the big free-for-all races on that afternoon.

Class Instruction Given To Piano Beginners

Mrs. A. A. Swinton will give class-lessons in 1st year piano work to those who desire it. This class plan materially diminishes the cost of lessons and provides an extra incentive to the pupils to do an excellent grade of work. Mrs. Swinton has taken a course especially preparing for this work and terms will be given on application.—Adv. 35t2.

YOUR EMPLOYER

Each of us determines by the quality and the quantity of our work what pay we shall receive. We are our own employers. What we do and how well we do it determines what we get out of life; what we earn and how we spend it determines in a large measure, the comfort, pleasure and satisfaction we enjoy.

If we spend all, giving little thought to the morrow, tomorrow will give us little in return. Be fair to your real employer—yourself. Think before you spend, and save a little as you go.

Enjoy life, but learn that lasting enjoyment comes not by living up to your salary but by thinking, planning, saving.

AT THE MOVIES

"Lilac Time" Has Big Educational Role For Colleen Moore
Acclaimed everywhere as one of the greatest film epics ever produced, "Lilac Time," First National's Colleen Moore-George Fitzmaurice special production, based on the stage play by Jane Cowl and Jane Murnin, has been booked for a feature run at the Palace Saturday.

"Circus Rookies" Coming

The greatest portrayal of animal roles on the screen, and the man who played the hugh gorilla in "Circus Rookies," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new circus comedy, co-starring Karl Dane and George K. Arthur, which comes Tuesday to the Palace theatre, started his career by studying engineering in college.

"Excess Baggage" Reveals Private Life of Actors

Behind the scenes in America's vaudeville theatres, one of the most interesting locales in the world, is portrayed accurately for screen purposes for the first time in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's, "Excess Baggage," which comes Friday to the Palace theatre with Williams Haines as the star.

The picture follows the adventures of a vaudeville troupe both on the stage and behind it from Los Angeles to New York City with occasional sidings into the motive colony of Hollywood and the NVA club in New York (the home of the big time vaudeville entertainers.)

The reason the election of Herbert Hoover is a foregone conclusion is simply that he is fitted for the job by education, association, and application.

Keep youth longer!

cleanse the system of poisons

Two of the great enemies to youth and vitality are delayed elimination and intestinal poisons. To keep yourself free from both these common difficulties will help you to stay young.

With the use of Nujol you can do it too. For Nujol absorbs body poisons and carries them off, preventing their absorption by the body. Nujol also softens the waste matter and brings about normal evacuation. It is harmless; contains no drugs or medicine. It won't cause gas or griping pains, or affect the stomach or kidneys. Every corner druggist has Nujol. Make sure you get the genuine. Look for the Nujol bottle with the label on the back that you can read right through the bottle. Don't delay, get Nujol today.

EDITORIALS THE AMERICAN PAYROLL

In our discussion of campaign issues, liberally sprinkled with personal likes and dislikes, there is one vital issue that should command our personal attention and earnest consideration and that is protection of the great American payroll. The American payroll is probably greater than most of the European nations combined. It has been built up under the protective tariff system, fathered and consistently adhered to by the Republican party.

In no other country in the world are the chances for the success of the average worker so opportune as they are right here in America. In no other country are the rewards for labor so great. To jeopardize this situation by lowering the great wall of protection that surrounds the American workingman would be a

We should be more concerned in maintaining this market for the American producer and manufacturer than in opening our doors to the products of the underpaid and underfed workers in foreign countries. Free trade and tariff for revenue only may sound fine theoretically, but if we are to continue the high standard of our workers we must protect them from unfair foreign competition.

THE "FARMERS" PROBLEM
Will the farmers' problems be settled on a basis of good sense or political expediency? Something should be done to help the farmer—actually and not theoretically; to help them in person and not to aid political opportunists.

Another problem is the growth and spread of bureaucracy in federal and state government. We have become a nation seeking to enforce its laws through interference with the personal and business affairs of the individual. Liberty is becoming a byword and the business men must keep in touch with Washington to know what he is permitted to do, and during the intervals he must watch his state government and his local busy-bodies. When a small town clerk, transferred to Washington, is given a directive and destructive power over your business it is time to wonder how much further things are going.

FEDERAL RESERVE LAW

There are many important matters which will develop in the next four years. Let us put aside the question of prohibition. It is a controversial question even among industrial leaders and it does not rest with us to express an opinion. It is probable, however, that some changes will be made, during that period, in the Federal Reserve law involving modifications of our present banking system. This is a question for experts, but every citizen should study and consider whether the Federal Reserve law should be amended and if so how it should be administered; whether the full intellectual force of experts in finance is really being applied in the solution of present difficulties or whether a too important part has been played in our affairs by foreign governments. The settlement of this problem in proper fashion is a big factor in prosperity.

of Charlevoix County, on the Republican Ticket at the Primary Election, September 4, 1928.

THE REAL FACTS ABOUT FEE CHARGES

A Comparison of Today's Costs and 22 Years Ago.

Since there has been more or less discussion in regard to the fees collected by the Register of Deeds, comparison of the fees charged at the present time, with those collected 22 years ago, might enlighten those who have been misinformed regarding them.

Fees of Today—1928
Warranty Deed.....	$1.00
Probate Orders.....	1.00
Mortgages.....	$1.25 to 2.00
Discharge of Mortgage.....	.50
Assignment of Mortgage.....	.50

Fees 22 Years Ago—1902
Warranty Deed.....	.90
Probate Orders.....	1.00
Mortgages.....	$1.00 to 1.75
Discharge of Mortgage.....	.50
Assignment of Mortgage.....	.50

The above instruments are those which appear most numerous for recording—other forms of instruments are in about the same comparison with regard to prices of recording fees.

Twenty-two years ago the recording fee was 11 cents per folio, while at the present time the law provides, according to Section 16 of Act 336 of the Public Acts of 1927, that "for entering and recording any deed or other instrument 15 cents for each folio, to be paid when same is left for record."

According to this new rate of comparison, the Register today would be allowed to charge nearly one-third more than was lawful 22 years ago. However, the Register of Deeds has not been charging or collecting as much for the recording of instruments as the law provides. And, further, Mr. Bird, says, "I do not ask you to take my word, nor the word of others. Come in and see for yourself. The records of the Register of Deeds are open for inspection at all times."—Adv. 351

LATE TENNIS MEET ENDS AT BELVEDERE

DEITRICK TAKES MEN'S SINGLES—McCLANAHAN WINNER

Resorters Swing Racquets in Tourney Begun Last Week—Six Cups to Be Awarded

Dick Deitrick, former Cornell tennis star and winner of this year's Charlevoix Open championship earlier in the season, annexed another title on Wednesday with his racquet by beating Charles S. Fox, 8-6, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4, in a singles match. The tournament began at the Belvedere courts early last week, but have been dragging along with difficulty of getting opponents together. A series of golf matches at the Belvedere Golf Club partly accounts for this.

The men's doubles were taken by the Deitrick-Knight combination defeating the Foxes, father and son. Jane Ellen Connell lost the women's singles to Jean McClanahan, of the Chicago Club. With Jane Wallis in the women's doubles, however, Miss Connell managed to string up a victory over Margaret Grassel and Mary Trigg Waller. Charles Peiper of St. Louis won the boys' singles from Tim Gibson of Cincinnati. Gibson made a good showing at the Charlevoix meet.

After successive delays, Charles Fox, who is in charge of the events, decided to postpone play for the mixed doubles once more to give teams a chance together. If not played by Thursday afternoon, he announced that he would declare a default. Since no runners-up were posted on the hotel bulletin, the entries for semi-finals in this tournament cannot be given.

STARR COMMONWEALTH TAG DAY SATURDAY

Everybody Should Buy a Tag and Help This Institution

On Saturday, September 1, citizens of Charlevoix will be given an opportunity to lend a hand, and thereby a bit of encouragement, to the remarkable work that is being done at the Starr Commonwealth, that unusual home and school for delinquent boys, located near Albion, Michigan. On that day several Charlevoix citizens will be in Charlevoix to assist in putting on a tag day for the benefit of this home.

It is taken for granted that everyone who is interested in the work at Starr Commonwealth will welcome an opportunity to help financially in this human enterprise, but there are those who, knowing intimately of the good that is being done in that little school, have given largely and by such support the school has grown and developed.

Fifteen years ago, Floyd Starr, founder of the school, bought a forty acre farm near Albion, on the shore of Montcalm lake. Here he began, with a very small and limited material, the building of a life-long dream into a reality. Seven boys, whom nobody else wanted, went to the farm home with Mr. Starr and helped him build their first shelter, "Gladstone Cottage."

Only Michigan boys are accepted though applications come in constantly from a score of states. Not all who should or would come from our state can be accepted on account of limited accommodations. Tag Days are definitely for the extension of this work, so that more and more of our boys may be saved and the stigma of crime and sin may be shown the mighty dignity of labor. The beauty of purity and the obligation of citizenship.

MORE PRIMARY MONEY THAN TAX

Schools Get Back More Than State Asks From Various Counties

A Lansing dispatch says: Distribution of primary school money to counties in Michigan this year will exceed the total state property tax paid by those counties, figures given out by the department of education today disclose.

Payment to the counties will total $20,604,662.56, an average of $15.20 per capita of school age population. This is $104,662.56 more than the state property tax. The payment includes interest on a special fund for poor school districts for 1926 and 1927. It is far in excess of the past record, due partly to the $900,000 in back taxes turned over to the fund from the Detroit street railways.

DAIRY FACTS

SELF-FED COWS SHOW NO GAINS

Self-feeding dairy cows so that they got all the grain, hay and silage they wished increased the amount and cost of feed eaten by the cows without swelling their milk production in an experiment by Dr. W. B. Nevins, assistant chief in dairy-cattle feeding at the college of agriculture, University of Illinois. Results of the tests have just been published in a new bulletin, "Experiments in Self-Feeding of Dairy Cows," which the college now has ready for free distribution to interested persons.

Cows used in the experiment were only of moderate dairy ability and it is possible that self-feeding might prove useful with high-producing cows, although this point remains to be proved, Doctor Nevins said. Limiting cows to feeds containing high percentages of starch seemed to depress milk production.

Since fattening cattle and swine usually gain faster when fed by the self-feeder method than when hand-fed, it was thought that dairy cows might produce more milk if given free access constantly to several different kinds of feeds. Eight different cows were kept in individual box stalls containing a feeder having several different hopper compartments. Supplies of grain and mill by-products were provided constantly in the compartments, and hay and silage in other larger feed boxes, so that a cow might select as much of one or several feeds at any time she chose. The cows were gradually accustomed to the method at the beginning during a two to three-week period.

Surprising as it may seem to those who have found that cows become ill through overeating, no harmful results were apparent in these cows even though self-fed the year round. More feed than necessary was consumed, however, making the cost of feed greater than when the cows were hand-fed. The cows laid on additional weight, thus increasing the amount of feed necessary to maintain them.

The method proved useful in studying the relative palatability of different feeds. Much more of some feeds was eaten than of others, and in some cases the ration consisted of only one or two feeds, even though four or more other feeds were present in the stall. A greater quantity was eaten when the feeds were offered separately than when they were mixed. Cows showed very decided preference for certain feeds, and these preferences often extended over long periods. Greater feed consumption was secured when careful attention was given to catering to the cow's likes. Not two cows had the same preference for all feeds.

Amount of Water Needed for Average Milk Yield

The amount of water required to produce milk will depend to a large degree upon the cow, the kind of feed given her, and the amount of milk she is producing, size, weather conditions—whether it is hot or cold, rainy or dry—and many other things which may arise to increase or decrease the consumption of water, so it would not be wise to say what we would allow the cow, whether only 30 pounds of water per day, or 50 pounds, etc.; but it would be highly advisable to give the cows free range to pure, fresh water, and they will take care of the amount needed.

Professor Eckles of Minnesota found by experiments that a cow producing 27 pounds of milk per day drank 77 pounds of water. The same animal, when dry, drank only 15 pounds per day. Another cow, producing over 100 pounds of milk per day, used during the test period an average of 250 pounds of water. The story of these figures shows that the water requirement is about 25 pounds of water per pound of milk. No doubt this is a fair average.

Natural Methods Upset in Teaching Young Calf

In modern dairy farming, because of the value of whole milk and butterfat, the dairyman upsets the natural method which the calf would follow in feeding and separates the calf from the cow soon after birth. For the first few days the calf is left with the cow, because of the properties of the milk, which puts the calf's digestive apparatus in good working order. Most dairymen leave the calf with its mother for 48 hours, unless the calf is weak, when it is best to allow it to remain longer. The longer the calf remains with the cow, however, the harder it is to teach it to drink.

Conical Type Cooler

The so-called conical type of milk cooler is used to a considerable extent on farms. This type of cooler is made and sold for a comparatively low price and when properly used is efficient. The conical part of the cooler is hollow; this allows a space for ice and water. The receiver, which sets on top of the conical part of the cooler, contains a number of small holes which allow the milk to flow over the conical surface, being cooled by the ice water within.

FRANK F. BIRD IS CHOICE OF VOTERS

DEFEATS BULOW IN RACE FOR REGISTER'S OFFICE

John M. Harris Loses Race for State Representative—Green and Dickinson in Lead.

With but two contests on in Charlevoix county of significance to voters, the vote in Tuesday's September primary election was small, especially compared with two years ago, when seven candidates were in the field for sheriff and four for county clerk.

Frank F. Bird, present register of deeds, won over Glenn Bulow, East Jordan business man, by a majority of 970 votes, carrying the county over 2 to 1.

In the other contest, that for representative in the state legislature from the Charlevoix-Leelanau district, Hon. J. M. Harris, Boyne City, present incumbent, failed to carry his own county by 202 votes. Harris got a good majority in his own city with the exception of the 4th ward, which gave Anderson 120 and Harris 105. In the entire city of Boyne, Harris had a majority of 129 votes, but this was not sufficient to compensate for losses in other districts of the county. Harris got about 25 per cent of the vote east of Leelanau county.

A report from Lansing early Wednesday morning stated Governor F. W. Green would carry the state by a 3 to 1 vote over his Republican opponent, George W. Welsh. Kent county alone, gave Green a majority of 11,000 votes. Reports also indicated that Luren D. Dickinson was leading the field for lieutenant governor.

Charlevoix county Democrats must have been out of town Tuesday, for in the entire county there were less than 30 Democratic votes cast.

The vote for the 25 precincts of Charlevoix county follows:

Reserved seats for the match will be placed on sale in Charlevoix, Petoskey, Boyne City, East Jordan and other Northern Michigan towns the latter part of this week. The bout will be pulled off during the state American Legion convention at Petoskey, and a large ticket sale is anticipated. Local fans wishing to see the show should get their tickets early.

AUGUST TRAFFIC RECORD REACHES HIGHEST POINT

The three state-owned ferry boats operating across the straits of Mackinac carried 9,435 vehicles and 16,938 passengers in addition to the drivers during the week ending August 26, Frank F. Rogers, highway commissioner, has announced. These figures do not include children, for whom no transportation is charged. Total receipts for the week were $29,954.50. On August 23 the peak of traffic for the week was reached, when 150 vehicles were lined up at 3 p. m., 225 at 4 p. m., 175 at 5 p. m., and 150 at 6 p. m. The traffic still is heavier going north than south.

city of Charlevoix were: First ward—Clarence Wood, Lois Campbell, Minnie Cross, Charles Arnold; 2nd ward—Horace Fowler, Dr. F. F. McMillan, Ernest Kibbe, Joseph W. Flanders, Anna B. CHARLEVOIX CITY BAND IS POPULAR IN NORTH

Demand for Their Services at Many Fairs Is on Increase

Evidence of the increasing popularity of the Charlevoix city band is marked by the great demand for the services of the local organization at fairs, picnics and other gatherings this season.

The local band, under the leadership of the director, John TerWee, played last Thursday, the closing day at the Charlevoix county fair at East Jordan. Monday, Labor Day, they furnished music for the Pioneer's Picnic at Harbor Springs and on September 21st have been engaged to appear at Western Michigan Fair at Traverse City.

Along with the increasing demand for their services many fine compliments have been extended the local band for the fine quality of their entertainment.

LEGION SECOND FIGHT SEPT. 12

FRANK YOUNG, DETROIT, TO APPEAR IN FEATURE BOUT

Matched to Meet Kid Frazer, Cleveland—Ted Gravelin, Woods, Clute, Birque on Bill

Definite word was received by the Courier Wednesday morning from B. B. Stout, match maker for the American Legion fight last week, that the local post would stage another show on Wednesday, September 12th, in the Majestic Theater, Charlevoix, at 8:00 p. m.

In announcing the event, Mr. Stout promised fight fans the best boxing show ever staged in Northern Michigan. Headliners for the bill are Frankie Young, Detroit, dusky battler who fought Jimmy Harvey here last week, and Kid Frazer, Cleveland, Ohio. The "Kid" has two slight decisions over Young, and every time these two lads get into the ring it is a battle royal. Those who saw Young in action last Wednesday night already know his merits and will want to see the Detroit lad fight again.

The bout will be a ten round go. Efforts are being made to match Eddie Bisque, Petoskey mauler, and Johnnie Horn, junior fly weight champion of Canada, for the semi-final bout of 10 rounds. These two boys were to have been in the semi-final go last Wednesday night, but rain called the match off. The many Petoskey fans who came over to see their native son match mits with the Canadian fly weight, will welcome this bit of news.

Two four round prelims are announced, one between Sailor Woods, local coast guard, and some opponent of his own weight to be chosen later. "Bugs" Clute, Boyne City scrapper who impressed fans by his performance last Wednesday night, has been matched to meet Ted Gravelin, Charlevoix, in a four round bout.

Mr. Pearl, his health greatly improved after his recent breakdown, and with the opening of his new shop, he will again be on the job.

CHANGE IN OWNERSHIP OF STEAMER SANFORD

After being in partnership ever since they bought the Str. Sanford and Denver Island route several years ago, Capt. John Chambers and nephew, Tom Chambers have dissolved partnership. Capt. Chambers taking over the other interest. The deal was consummated last Thursday. We understand Mr. health was the cause of Tom Chambers disposing of his interest, and that he is as yet undecided where he will locate.

SEASON NEARING CLOSE AT LINKS

SUCCESSFUL CADDY EXCURSION ENDED LAST SUNDAY

Annual Tournament for Club-Toters Opened Tuesday With Qualifying Round—Thirty-five Enter

With school, starting Monday, September 10th, this week will see the close of activities at the Charlevoix Golf Club for the many young lads who have worked there throughout the summer months.

Another very successful caddy excursion went down in history Sunday afternoon when over 60 from the north side club returned on the steamer Manitou from a two-day trip to Mackinac Island. This annual event, the expense of which is paid for by members of the Club, is given to the caddies in appreciation of their faithful services throughout the summer. Only those whose records have been good during the season are eligible to attend. Therefore each young lad extended the honor has more than usual satisfaction from being chosen among the lucky number.

The young club-toters, under the leadership of Caddy Master Roe, Assistant George Roe and Billy Supernaw, left here at noon Saturday. They spent Saturday night at the island, attended the movies and Sunday morning visited the old fort and other interesting places. On the return trip the boat went to Traverse City for a load of fruit and then back to Harbor Springs before making this port, thus giving the boys an un-planned for side trip. Everyone was unanimous in declaring the excursion a great success.

Another closing event at the links of more than ordinary interest to the boys is the annual caddy tournament which opened Tuesday with qualifying rounds. Match play begins Thursday. Two flights will be chosen, the first eight best qualifying scores making up the first and the next eight best the second flight. In the neighborhood of thirty-five caddies will enter the qualifying round. Last year's winner in the first flight was Robert McCall, with Arthur Krulik carrying off honors in the second division. These two lads will defend their titles this year.

Efficiency and conduct prizes will be awarded the five caddies maintaining the highest standard of work and behavior during the season. In addition a considerable sum of money is given by the Club to those caddies presenting their bank pass books to the caddy master at the end of the season, the sum of ten per cent being added to their savings. This has been a yearly custom for some time and is an inducement for the boys to save their earnings.

BEATTIE-CULP WEDDING LAST WEDNESDAY

Couple Will Reside in Ann Arbor After Eastern Trip

A wedding of interest to Charlevoix people was that of Miss Hazel Marion Beattie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Beattie of 118 E. Lincoln street, to Mr. James Lowell Culp, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Culp of Packard Road, Ann Arbor, which was solemnized at 4 o'clock last Wednesday afternoon in the Methodist church by Rev. John E. Lockyer, pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Holmes of Charlevoix acted as best man and bridesmaid, respectively. The bride was prettily attired in rose crepe with hat of silk and velvet to match. She carried a shower bouquet of pink roses and white sweet peas. The bridesmaid also carried a beautiful shower bouquet.

After the ceremony supper was served at the home of the bride's parents to about fifteen guests, those from out-of-town being Mrs. J. S. Culp, mother of the groom, and Mrs. John L. Beattie of Ann Arbor. The table was graced with a beautiful three-layer wedding cake, and flowers arranged throughout, the house carried out the color scheme of rose and white.

The couple have left on a wedding trip through the east and upon their return will reside in Ann Arbor.

INDIAN YOUTHS AGAIN ARRESTED

TAKEN FOR STEALING CARS SECOND TIME THIS SUMMER

Both Alvin John and Isaac Denemy Have Been Implicated in Several Former Law Infractions

For the third time since early spring, not to count former offences, Isaac Denemy and Alvin John, local Indian lads are again in the toils of the law.

The crime committed, that of stealing a large Jordan car belonging to a summer resorter and an attempt to steal Glenn See's machine, is the same which got them into trouble a few months ago. Their operations were discovered by Carl Kohler and a friend, who were up at an early hour last Friday morning making preparations for a fishing trip.

When Kohler drove up to the See residence, he noticed someone get out of Glenn's car and run. Directly across the street was the Jordan with its motor still running. It later developed the Indian lads had been joy-riding the Jordan and were about to take See's car also when discovered. Kohler immediately notified officers who began a search for the culprits. Their only clue was that the lads wore white duck trousers. The highway leading to Petoskey was guarded and also the bridge, and this latter place Floyd Ikens, night watchman, saw the Indians cross. Alvin John eluded the net of officers waiting, but Denemy was caught after an extensive search which finally ended when Deputy Charles Marshall found him hiding far up under the ticket office at Wilbur's dock. John was arrested at his home late that afternoon. Both lads were said to have been intoxicated.

These same lads were arrested several months ago for stealing a stone through the windshield of Harold Butcher's car. They were also implicated in a series of car thefts early this summer, were implicated in breaching into several resort cottages this spring and The Inn last fall.

They are now in the county jail awaiting hearing. It is evident they have no appreciation of leniency shown them following previous offences and it would seem their place should be where they will be kept out of trouble for some time to come.

Family Reunion at Wells Home Monday, September 3, was the occasion for a very enjoyable family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Wells. Those present were: O. E. Tenney, wife and daughter, Marion, and Daniel Tenney, wife and daughter of Seginnaw; Wilbur Wells, Mrs. George Clark and two sons, John and William, and their friend, Miss Wadkins, of Grand Rapids; Joe Netter, wife and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Robbins and two children, Miss VanDusen and friend, Mr. Dodge, all of Detroit.

LEGION BOXING SHOW A WINNER

FANS SAW EXCITING MATCHES WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Show Called Off in Eighth Round of Feature Match When Rain Turned Into a Down-pour.

Rain which started with a sprinkle at the beginning of the feature bout of the evening and resulted in a down-pour and calling off of the show at the close of the eighth round failed to deprive fans of their money's worth at the American Legion fight last Wednesday night. From every corner of the lot came words praising the show.

The melee opened with a 4-rounder between Sailor Woods, local coast guard, and Paul Somerville of Beaver Island and East Jordan. The boys lost no time in getting at each other and mixed willingly throughout the four rounds. Woods gave a large weight advantage to Somerville, who badly outclassed him in the opening rounds. Both lads had enough at the end of the fourth round. Referee Blacken called the bout a draw.

The second prelim between "Bug" Clute of Boyne City and Art Coveyou of Petoskey, had no dull moments. This match was also called a draw, but Clute shaded the Petoskey boy in nearly every round. He was in better condition and displayed more science than Coveyou.

The semi-final between Eddie Bisque, Petoskey, and Johnnie Horn, junior flyweight champion of Canada, did not go on, much to the disappointment of the many north Michigan followers of the Petoskey battler. When rain threatened, Matchmaker Stout called the feature a go, a 10-rounder between Jimmy Harvey, Lansing, Michigan flyweight champion, and Frankie Young, mahogany challenger from Detroit. Fans declared it was worth the waiting to see these two boys mix—for mix they did. In spite of a wet canvass, making dangerous footing, after the first round, Harvey and Young upheld their reputation as feature bout performers. There is not a person who attended the bout who would not go many a mile to see these two boys trade whallops in the ring under more favorable conditions. When rain assumed cloud burst proportions at the end of the 8th round, Referee Blacken called the bout a draw and ended the show. Ring-side critics who kept count of points, gave Young the 2nd, 3rd and 8th rounds and called the others a draw.

One noticeable feature of the show was the lack of Charlevoix support. Out-of-town patrons outnumbered local people 20 to 1. It is hard to explain. We recall a year ago last winter—yes, in the middle of the winter when Charlevoix's population is at its lowest—that 1038 people crowded into Hooker's garage to see a program of bouts put on by the Legion without charge. Everyone clamored for a real program with set admission. Somehow their memory must have slipped. However, the Legion urges better local support at a show they are sponsoring soon, announcement of which appears in another column.

ROBERT BRIDGE WON PRESIDENT'S TOURNEY

Defeated Ira S. Holden in Play-Off Match Tuesday Afternoon

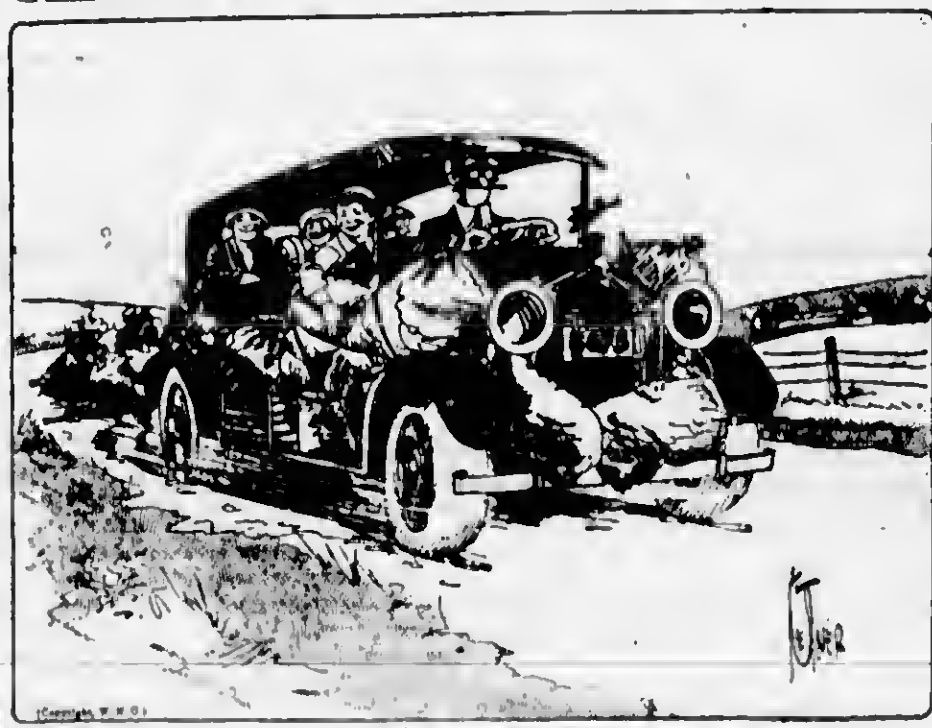

Playing just a little better golf than his opponent, Ira S. Holden of St. Louis, Mo., Robert Bridge, local banker, won the play-off of the Presidents' Cup tournament at the Belvedere Golf Club on Tuesday afternoon of this week.

At the close of the tournament on Saturday, August 18, Holden and Bridge were tied for first honors with a net score of 69 each. Mr. Holden left town on business so the final was postponed. In Tuesday's play, Bridge shot 94. His handicap was 26, giving him a net score of 68. Holden shot a 76 and his handicap of 5 strokes gave him a net score of 71.

The trophy won by Mr. Bridge is a silver cup with handles, standing about 18 inches over all. Atop the cup is a golfer teeing off. It is a handsome award that any golfer would be proud to win. The award was offered by President Howard L. McGregor of the Belvedere Golf Club.

Now is the time to buy that new bike. New ones used as renters at cost prices. Grab them quick. Benj. Brown.—Adv. 36-1f.

The acceptance speech of the Democratic candidate for President was very illuminating. It showed just how poorly he has grasped the national issues of the day upon which so much of the nation's prosperity on the farm and in the city depend.

When the Democratic presidential candidate attempted to tell the people that Coolidge economy was a myth, he undertook to prove that black is white. That can't be done.

A Trial Will Convince You

The new Buick is the new Style

More than handsome... more than luxurious... a wonderful new type of motor car beauty... a thrilling turning point in body design.

It will be imitated, of course! The new, the fine and the beautiful always inspire emulation. But so great is the cost of building the magnificent new Fisher bodies for the Silver Anniversary Buick that imitation will be possible only to much costlier cars, and even these will find difficulty in following where Buick leads!

$1,500,000 has been expended in manufacturing the dies alone for the new Buick bodies; and the gracefully curving side panels which form one of their distinguishing characteristics represent the most expensive steel paneling work employed on any automobile in the world!

But it is not in the matchless grace and beauty of exterior design alone that the Silver Anniversary Buick eclipses other cars. In fact, powerful performance too, the world holds no equal for the Silver Anniversary Buick with Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher. And the motor public, lusting in such tremendous volume as to force the great Buick factories to work day and night to supply the demand, is elevating it to the prominence of a vogue!

When Gov. Smith gave his approval to milk as the public utility and agreed that the price should be fixed by the state he surely proved himself some dairy farmer.

POULTRY

KEEPING TURKEYS IN PROPER HEALTH

Turkeys are heir to all the poultry ailments, and treatment is about the same. But while the young are tender, the adults are able to withstand considerable hardship.

When allowed to range over fields, woods and highways they keep in the best of condition and pick up a very large portion of their food, writes Michael K. Boyer in the Farm and Ranch. As the nature of the turkey is to roam, it does not thrive in confinement.

Inbreeding is one of the worst errors and the cause of much degeneracy among stock. Indigestion is the chief turkey trouble, and this is usually brought on by improper feeding.

Looseness of the bowels may come from bad feeding, dampness, filth, and infestation with lice.

Young turkeys are sometimes lost through rheumatism, caused by exposure, damp roosting places, too little green food, or poorly-constructed houses.

There is a difference between ordinary leg weakness and rheumatism. In the latter the shanks remain contracted and stiff, while in leg weakness they are soft. Leg weakness is brought on by a lack of muscle and bone-forming material. In rheumatism the trouble is aggravated by the meat food, which in leg weakness is needed.

Young turkeys must not be allowed to become wet. The slightest dampness is apt to be fatal. Filth will soon make short work of the youngsters.

The delicacy of young turkeys is largely due to the rapid growth of feathers. Unlike the chick, the young turkey at once starts to put out large feathers on its wings and tail, and this heavy growth has a tendency to sap the vitality from the body, leaving it an easy prey to weakness and disease. A damp soil, such as heavy clay land, is very unsuitable for rearing the young. A very cold, exposed situation is likewise unfit.

Market Broilers Need Two Weeks Fattening

It is a good plan to give the broilers that are to be marketed about two weeks of fattening before they are sold. This is especially advisable if something has happened during the brooding period to check the growth of these young birds. One way to fatten them is to confine a group of them in a small house—about 100 in a 10 by 12 house—for a period of two weeks just before selling them. Darken the house as much as possible, making sure there is plenty of ventilation. Remove any roosts or dropping boards that may be in the house and have plenty of clean litter on the floor to start with.

Feed them a wet mash of the consistency of pancake batter, composed of any of the good commercial fatteners moistened with milk. Fine cracked yellow corn or yellow corn meal and milk are great fatteners for poultry. Feed the birds three times a day in troughs, what they will clean up at each feeding. Keep water away from them so they will eat lots of mash. Watch sanitary conditions carefully, to prevent any spilling of feed and possible disease infection. Keep everything clean.

Free Range With Grass and Shade Is Favored

As soon as the chicks are old enough to leave the brooder—from six to eight weeks—they should be placed on free range with grass and shade if possible. If white diarrhea, gap worms or the little roundworms affected the chicks last year, place the coops on new range if possible, for these diseases are not easily gotten rid of and will remain on the ground from one season to another. This is especially true of the worms. If there is tuberculosis in the old flock keep the young chicks from going over the same ground for they contract the disease easily.

Give the broilers all of the green feed necessary during the summer if chicks are on free range.

FOR BIG PROFITS WATCH IN SUMMER

The summer and fall seasons are the ones in which the producer of market eggs must be most particular about the quality of his product if he expects to receive the top market price. "At that time of the year," says the poultry department of the state experiment station at New Brunswick, "the spread in price between the two top grades of eggs may be as high as 12 to 15 cents per dozen as compared with a spread of 2 or 3 cents in the spring, which indicates that the producer's net profit at the end of the year may depend to a very large extent upon the quality of his summer and fall eggs."

There are several factors entering into the cause of this wide spread in price at the seasons mentioned, but probably the most important is the fact that the interior quality deteriorates very rapidly, and the eggs reach the market very loose and watery. To overcome this trouble, the producer should collect his eggs two or three times daily and keep them in a cool place previous to shipment.

A cave or cellar makes a very good place to hold eggs, but care must be taken to see that the place is clean and sweet, as eggs are very prone to absorb any foul or musty odors. Shipments should be made as soon as possible after the eggs are laid, and never should be less frequent than twice a week.

The eggs should not be excessively handled, since this aggravates the condition, causing the egg to become extremely loose. The aim should be to handle the eggs as a perishable product, which in reality they are. Speed and care in handling are the two prime requisites where the producer is being paid on a quality basis.

Faulty Rations Cause of Heavy Mortality

Faulty rations cause vast numbers of chicks to die every year. A pullet once stunted with improper or spoiled feed will never get back to successfully compete with those who were healthy from the start.

The feed the chicks get from the beginning should be directed toward the eggs the pullets are expected to lay when they mature, says an Ohio specialist.

The all-mash method of feeding chicks that has been perfected by the Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin agricultural experiment stations makes it possible to feed the flock with more exactness. It also takes less time to care for them. It does not differ greatly from the scratch grain and mash method of feeding. The grain that is ordinarily fed whole or cracked is ground and mixed with the mash.

Charcoal Is Beneficial to All Growing Chicks

It has become common practice for the majority of chick raisers to contain some charcoal. Experiments show that it is beneficial as a preventive of trouble. It does not have any particular food value. Charcoal is a black odorless and practically tasteless product and does not go into solution in water. Its value lies in its ability to absorb gases of indigestion or dyspepsia. Some people claim that it will even absorb toxins or other poisonous substances, that are sometimes generated in the intestines. It aids in warding off and curing diarrhea and other troubles caused by indigestion.

Poultry Notes

Heavy hens bring 8 to 10 cents a pound more than the light breeds on the market.

Watch the young poultry for signs of lice. It is amazing how suddenly an entire brood can become infested.

Because a coal-burning brooder stove keeps a colony house very dry, there is a tendency for some poultrymen to neglect sanitation until the conditions are very bad.

Usually chicks should be three weeks old before giving them freedom to mash all day.

Let the sun in the brooder house, having it shine directly on the chicks without going through ordinary window glass.

Somebody said a smile in the White House would be welcome. That's right. Herbert Hoover will wear the smile and his background will be political integrity and political intelligence.

Senator Tom Walsh of Montana, Josephus Daniels of South Carolina, and Senator George of Georgia visited Albany to tell Governor Smith that while he was a good fellow they were all against him on one of the most vital issues.

The West Branch home-coming celebration furnished further evidence that Herbert Hoover is one of the most human, generous and able of men. His attributes are sincere and reassuring to those men and women interested in the continued progress of this nation, because upon that does the well being of their homes and the advancement of their children depend.

One of the reasons Herbert Hoover's speeches are reaching the innermost consciousness of the people is that he is thinking and talking in the language of the people of whom he always was one. The nation's editors, whether in the metropolitan centers or in the smaller communities, are almost overwhelmingly of that opinion. They know.

Passing by his statesmanship and ability to lead the nation to new achievement and prosperity for the moment, there is nothing more reassuring in the political picture than the honesty and straightforwardness of Herbert Hoover.

Hoover appeals to the great mass of the people as he knows what it is to work with his hands and can think in the terms of the others who have done and are doing the same thing.

It seems to be general opinion that Herbert Hoover is the best qualified man in this race for President of the United States.

The reason Hoover can get forward is because it is necessary for him to keep looking backward.

BAPTIST CHURCH

"Living Testimony" will be the pastor's theme at 10:30 Sunday morning. The Bible School will meet at 12:00 noon. The B. Y. P. U. will meet at 6:30 and at 7:30 a popular service of song and sermon. A cordial welcome will be given to all who attend these services.

Fourteen of our people attended the Associational picnic at Eastport on Labor Day. The storm prevented the use of the grove and beach, but the local church had secured the use of the Maccabee hall, and a thoroughly good time was enjoyed. A wonderful dinner was followed by games, contests and a good program. Rev. H. A. Buel of Traverse City gave the address. It was decided to hold next year's picnic on Labor Day at the same place. It is hoped that more will be able to go.

COURIER BOOSTS THE PRICE OF POTATOES

An error in figures boosted the price of new potatoes in the classified advertisement of Fred Trimble in last week's issue of the Courier. Fred gave us the price of 75 cents per bushel, but when the adv. appeared, it read $1.75 per bushel. Fred says he is perfectly willing to accept $1.75 per for his spuds, but does not expect to dispose of many at this price. The selling price is 75 cents and the spuds are well worth it.

Class Instruction Given To Piano Beginners

Mrs. A. A. Swinton will give class-lessons in 1st year piano work to those who desire it. This class plan materially diminishes the cost of lessons and provides an extra incentive to the pupils to do an excellent grade of work. Mrs. Swinton has taken a course especially preparing for this work and terms will be given on application.—Adv. 35t2.

The way Hoover sentiment is increasing it looks like a walkaway but the thing to do is keep on working harder and harder and take nothing for granted.

If troubled with headache or in need of glasses, consult Dr. Leahy the Optometrist at the Hotel Charlevoix. Monday, September 10. Adv. 35t2.

Popular appeal is one thing and practical knowledge is another. The latter counts for the most in the long run. There is nothing more fickle on earth than popularity.

STATUE UNVEILED AT BEAVER ISLAND

CITIZENS HONOR FEDORA PROTAR, THEIR BENEFACTOR

Ceremonies Took Place Last Sunday Afternoon With Fr. Neubecker As the Speaker.

A very appropriate and what was considered a very significant ceremony, took place at 2:00 p. m. Sunday, September 2nd, at Beaver Island. The occasion was the unveiling of a fitting monument to our late friend and benefactor, Fedora Protar.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, the vast throng of people that witnessed the unveiling and took part in the ceremonies attested in no small degree the esteem in which Dr. Protar was held in the community. The monument, which is in the form of a Greek Sarcophagus, was erected by the grateful people of the island in recognition of the many favors bestowed upon them in the past. Standing out in bas-relief at the top of the monument is a bronze tablet containing the bust and the smiling countenance of our deceased friend. On the base of this tablet are engraved the following lines:

To our Heaven-sent friend in need Fedora Protar
Who never failed us
In imperishable gratitude and adoration

His people of Beaver Island.
As we glance through the record of past centuries we find a myriad of monuments in every land to the glory of the conquerors, place, pyramid temple and tomb, but none more fitting the occasion than the one which marks the grave of our late benefactor, Mr. Protar.

For a number of years he labored amongst us, alleviating sufferings here and there, exacting no recompense whatever for his professional services except the incidental cost of the medicine. No wonder the people of the island felt it incumbent upon them to erect a suitable tablet to the memory of a man whose sole aim in life was going about doing good to others.

The speaker of the day was our new pastor, Rev. Father Neubecker. In a few well chosen words he paid a glowing tribute to the sterling qualities of the man we had assembled to honor.—Reported by Beaver Island resident.

A number of new bicycles rented to resorters this summer to be closed out at practically cost prices. They are bargains that won't last long. Benj. Brown.—Adv. 36-tf.

METHODIST CHURCH

John E. Lockyer, Minister

The pastor will conduct divine worship at 10:30 on Sunday and preach on the subject, "Sensation or Sacrifice." Special music and a chat to children.

Sunday school will be at 12 noon from now on through the fall months. Epworth League services will be at the regular time of 6:30. This will be the only service on Sunday evening.

Mid-week prayer meeting at 7:30 Thursday. Once more with the Parables.

Greensky Hill

The Greensky Hill Indian camp meeting is now in progress. Meetings three times a day, closing Sunday night. Visiting preachers are Rev. William Shaw of Walpole Island, Canada, Rev. Alfred Mark of Bradley, Mich., and Joe Pamp of Athens, Mich., who will interpret the sermons both ways for the congregations. Refreshments provided. Refreshments sold on grounds. All visitors are cordially welcome to share the services.

Dr. Randall will conduct communion and baptisms on Sunday morning at the open air camp site.

POMONA GRANGE TO MEET SEPTEMBER 8

South Arm Grange is Place Selected—Delegates to Be Chosen

Pomona Grange No. 40 will hold its next meeting on Saturday, September 8th, with South Arm Grange. At this meeting delegates to the state Grange will be elected. A memorial service is being planned and Al Ward of East Jordan has a specialty he will present at the meeting.

In view of the very successful gathering held this summer, it is hoped a large number of members will attend.

Brand new Bicycles, rented out during the summer, to be sold at cost prices. Boy's and girl's wheels. Save by buying now. Benj. Brown. Adv. 36-tf.

"Man" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, September 2.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "But he answered and said, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God." (Matt. 4:4.)

The Lesson-Sermon included the following passages from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, "Even though you aver that the material senses are indispensable to man's existence or entity, you must change the human concept of life, and must at length know yourself spiritually and scientifically." (p.359.)

YOUR EMPLOYER

Each of us determines by the quality and the quantity of our work what pay we shall receive. We are our own employers. What we do and how well we do it determines what we get out of life; what we earn and how we spend it determines in a large measure, the comfort, pleasure and satisfaction we enjoy.

If we spend all, giving little thought to the morrow, tomorrow will give us little in return. Be fair to your real employer—yourself. Think before you spend, and save a little as you go.

Enjoy life, but leary that lasting enjoyment comes not by living up to your salary but by thinking, planning, saving.

THE POLITICAL PARADE
By Harry R. Blackmon

Washington, D. C., August 5th—The return of Mr. Hoover to Washington is not expected to terminate his campaign touring by any means. A number of cities are clamoring for visits, and while the Republican nominee has accepted no invitations, he is known to be considering several speaking trips.

Reports from New York regarding the uncertainty of the Democratic candidate about a country-wide speaking tour indicate that the final decision in that case is also up to Mr. Hoover. If he decides to make a number of speeches in the east and the border states, his rival may be expected to do likewise. Somehow this campaign seems to pivot around Herbert Hoover.

Another indication of Herbert Hoover's capacity to rise to any occasion is found in the evidence of a nationwide desire to hear more from him. There was a time, not so long ago, when some of the closest friends thought that Mr. Hoover's comparative inexperience as a political speaker would prove a severe handicap in a national campaign. The first two samples of his oratory have created a tremendous demand, and that is usually the best test of worth for any product.

With both acceptance speeches part of the campaign record, Herbert Hoover offers agriculture a definite program for working out of its marketing difficulties, while Governor Smith reviews what the Republican party has already done and promises that he will do something else, but he gives no idea of what that will be.

Hoover's ability to solve puzzling problems dates back some time, according to those who attended college with him at Stanford University thirty-odd years ago. Professor Henry Davidson Sheldon, who was one of them recalls the nominee's election to the first political office he ever held, that of treasurer of the student body.

"As Treasurer," says Professor Sheldon, "Hoover worked out an efficient financial system, which enabled the student body to rid itself of debt and stand on its own feet. Before he took charge, the various athletic teams and the Glee Club had been fast losing money, but he put them on a paying basis in a short time."

Another old-line Democratic newspaper, the Chattanooga News, has announced that it will support Hoover and Curtis.

"Party loyalty is a dual matter," says the News. "The candidate must be loyal to party principles in order to except the loyalty of party members. Governor Smith has conspicuously transgressed the party platform and Democrats as such can be under no further obligation to him."

Cooperation in improving the farmer's condition may as well begin at the top. The election of Hoover and Curtis will put agriculture relief up to the man who has successfully worked out a number of the greatest administrative problems of his generation, has helped business save billions every year through new methods of eliminating waste and simplifying production, savings which were shared with workers—and who gave the farmers the greatest era of prosperity in their history. And he will be seconded by Senator Charles Curtis, the man who has helped solve the outstanding legislative problems of the last 33 years, and knows how to handle Congress as well as any man in history.

One section of the Democratic platform which the nominee of that party does stand by is that dealing with the tariff. It is worth noting that neither in the platform nor the Smith acceptance speech, however, does the word "protective" appear. There are many who question whether the new pot-pourri of promises offered by the Democrats in the tariff plank can ever be as beneficial to the nation as the Republican protective tariff policy has proved for the last seventy years.

AT THE MOVIES

Patience Makes Colored Movies
When Charles Urban, an Englishman, bought some colored picture post cards in Paris more than 20 years ago, he had no idea that he was paving the way for the motion picture public to see the blue of Nancy Carroll's eyes on the screen.

The post cards, however, did help to solve this problem of filming motion pictures in color and the results are seen in the technicolor sequences of Paramount's latest picturization of a Zane Grey story, "The Water Hole," which will show at the Palace theatre for one day, Friday only.

Colleen Moore Turns Sailor in "Oh Kay"—Her New Comedy

When Colleen Moore returned from location, where ocean scenes were filmed for her new first National picture, "Oh Kay," coming to the Palace theatre on Saturday and Sunday she was pronounced by her fellow players to be a first class able seaman.

Interior Scenes of Warship Reproduced for Motion Picture

A series of immensely interesting settings representing scenes in the interior of a huge, modern battleship, were built at First National's Burbank studios for, "The Night Watch," the latest picture starring Billie Dove, which opens its local engagement at the Palace theatre on Monday and Tuesday.

Farce Comedy Coming Here Love a la mode.

The smartness of Fifth Avenue, the pep of a nightclub jazz band, the modernity of a Parisian millinery. All sums up the farce comedy, "Just Married," a Paramount picture co-starring Ruth Taylor and James Hall, popular young screen luminaries, which opens at the Palace theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

"Just Married," first appeared in play form, where it ran for over a year and a half in New York. Anne Nichols, author of Abie's Irish Rose is the author of the play and story from which Paramount adapted it to the screen.

Gov. Smith is quite humorous when he attempts to discuss national affairs, but on the other hand, as one country editor with a flair for observation said, he just hits them a slap and bang and lets it go at that.

MORE PAVEMENT WEST OF CITY

STATE ASKS BIDS ON TWO MILES ON U. S. 31

Delay May Be Fatal to Roadway Around Marquette Hill and North to Coaway.

A little more than two miles of cement pavement will be added to U. S. 31 just west of Petoskey this fall, according to plans of the state highway department. Advertisements are appearing soon for bids for this stretch of road from the end of the Charlevoix avenue paving at the Fair Grounds corner on west, the distance of two and three-fourths miles.

This is but a part of the paving planned for Emmet county this year and next, according to Manager Edyvane and many more miles would have been built this year but for objections from property owners along the proposed right-of-way who wished the route changed.

Additional paving west on Charlevoix road and more north from Bay View were held up by the department, because of objections filed by people owning property along the proposed route. Some wanted the route west left where it is now in order that it would pass directly past their farms, while some on the route north wanted the road left on the old locations because they did not want it to cut through their properties.

Unity Brings Action
Highway officials in Northern Michigan have found, it was said at the county highway office in the City Hall, that the state department is anxious to build roads where there is united desire for them. In place where agreement as to routes are not reached there is more and more delay. There are so many sections wanting pavements and agreeable to accept the route set by the state engineers that those where agreement is not forthcoming at once, are left until the last.

It has been the plan of the state to re-route the road west around Marquette hill and right on into Bay Shore direct, missing the bad winter fill sections where it is impossible to keep the roads open. Some objected to this, however, because it would take the road away from their farms. The road north was to have been moved along the east side of Mud Lake to provide hard bottom and make the paving secure. Some property owners objected to the road cutting through their property and as a result the right-of-way has not yet been secured and this paving is being delayed.—Petoskey Evening News.

PRETTY WEDDING SOLEM- NIZED LAST SATURDAY

Helen Frayzer Mattson Married to David Park Graham

Helen Frayzer Mattson and David Park Graham were married Saturday, September 1st, at 8 o'clock, at the home of the bride's father, the Reverend B. G. Mattson, pastor of the Congregational church. Miss Mattson had been living for some time in New York City and Mr. Graham is connected with the Peabody Engineering Corporation of New York.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Reverend Mattson, who used the service he wrote for his marriage to Elizabeth Dudley in June 1912. The bride wore the quaint white gown in which her mother, Louise Frayzer, was married in June 1897. The veil was held in place by a coronet of point lace and pearls. Her sister, Rebecca, was maid of honor, and wore a peach colored gown of tulle and gold lace. The bride was given away by her grandfather, Edwin Mattson, and her brother, H. Frayzer Mattson, was best man. The living rooms were glowing with masses of autumn flowers. Mrs. A. J. Steiler played during the ceremony.

The guests from out-of-town were Edwin Mattson of Breckenridge, Minn.; Bernard G. Mattson, Jr., of Evanston, Ill.; Miss Carolyn Dudley of New York City; Mrs. Thomas Hammond of Owosso, Mich.; Mrs. Ella Hammond and Mrs. Charles Glien and daughter, Ellen, of St. Clair, Mich.; Miss Jane Reynolds of Frankfort and Miss Mary Alice Shiver of Traverse City.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham will be at home after October first at 30-32 Jackson flight, Long Island.

New Bicycles, rented out to resorters during the summer, good as new at remarkably low prices. Benj. Brown.—Adv. 36-1f.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Dan Mather, wife and family will arrive in Charlevoix the latter part of the week as guests of Mrs. Mather's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Flanders. Mr. Mathers will attend the American Legion convention in Petoskey while here.

Miss Elizabeth Higman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Higman, this city, was united in marriage to Bob Gary, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. Gary of Boyne City, Thursday, September 30, in Traverse City. Mr. and Mrs. Gary will reside in Boyne City.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Miller and family left Monday for Lake Odessa and Grand Rapids to visit relatives and friends. They were accompanied by Mr. Miller's mother, Mrs. Belle Miller, who has been spending the summer at the home of her son on Antrim street.

Mrs. John Cook entertained a party of out-of-town relatives at dinner at her home on Mason street Sunday. Included among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Lemm and Douglas Washburn of Detroit; Mrs. M. V. Cook of Flint; Irene and Phyllis Auld of Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Campbell and children of Jackson; Mrs. Alee Cameron and Mrs. P. D. Campbell, Sr. of Charlevoix. Most of the out-of-town guests left for their respective homes Monday.

NORWOOD

School opened here Tuesday morning with Mrs. Verna Johnson as teacher.

Mrs. A. K. Foster of Chicago, arrived last Saturday to spend the autumn.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Santos and son, Robert, Jr., of Detroit, were guests at the home of Jerry Santos last week.

Miss Bertha Boyne and sister, Agnes, who spent the summer in Charlevoix, visited at the home of Cecil Richardson Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. LaVern Boyer and small daughter, Audrey, of Flint, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hull and family.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Voegeli have closed their cottage and returned to Chicago, after spending the summer season in Norwood.

Mrs. Thayer and family, also Miss Baker and Mr. Adamson of Traverse City, were Labor Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richardson.

A very pretty baptismal service was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Jones, when Rev. Conklin baptised three of their grandchildren.

Mrs. Frank Richardson and son, Cecil, and Mrs. George Light have returned from a two week's vacation trip. They visited at Hudson, where Mrs. Richardson was born, and other points of interest.

Warren Downing, accompanied by a friend, Mr. Weaver, both of South Bend, Indiana, enjoyed a camping trip through Northern Michigan, and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Dice while camping at Charlevoix.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Publowl of Lansing, occupied their cottage in Norwood over the week end, and also visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Richardson. They returned to their home in Lansing Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holeccheck, who are on their honeymoon trip, spent a few days last week with Mr. Holeccheck's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Holeccheck. They returned to their new home in Pontiac last Saturday, where Mr. Holeccheck is engaged in garage work.

Last week was visiting week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Jones; when Mrs. Jones' brother, John Newsland, accompanied by a friend from Pontiac, arrived on Monday, and later another brother, Albert Newsland and four children of Detroit. Sunday their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Holeccheck and son, arrived at home from a trip to Grand Rapids on Monday. Mrs. Holeccheck is teacher at the McGeagh school.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Ypma very pleasantly entertained with a buffet luncheon last Friday evening at their home, honoring relatives of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Dice and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Parsons of Ellsworth. The home was decorated with garden flowers and by the glow of beautiful lighted candles, thirty-two relatives enjoyed the evening as one large family. The out-of-town relatives were: Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hess and two children, June and Jack, Mrs. Rilla Strickler and daughter, Fern, A. W. Dice, John Feister and Max Robertson, all of South Bend, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Isa Alward and three children of Ellsworth; Mr. and Mrs. Brant and Mrs. Cecie Blaine of Grand Rapids.

SCHOOL TERM IS NOW IN PROGRESS

ENROLLMENT SHOWS BIG INCREASE OVER FORMER YEARS

Several New Subjects Have Been Added to Curriculum—Change in Hours Also in Effect

The 1928-29 school term in the city of Charlevoix which opened on Monday of this week, has the earmarks of being the most successful on record. The rush of opening is now practically over, classes are going through their daily schedule and students and instructors have entered upon their year's work with enthusiasm. Supt. M. Otterbein has the situation well in hand and looks upon the coming year with optimism. One of the outstanding features of the school opening is the substantial increase in the number of students enrolled over that of last year. A check-up shows 186 in the high school divided as follows: freshmen 61; sophomores 38; juniors 46; seniors 40; post graduate 1. The number is an increase of 13 over last year and the 40 seniors is the largest class within recent years. With 19 students entered upon their duties in the Charlevoix county normal, this branch of the local school system has the largest enrollment since its organization.

In the junior high, which has been inaugurated into a separate department by itself, there is an enrollment of 120 students, a considerable increase over previous estimates. Check-up in the grade has not been completed as yet, although it is believed the number will run close to three hundred.

Several new subjects have been added to strengthen the school curriculum and make the course more attractive to students. In the commercial department a half-year course in commercial arithmetic is now available along with a full year course in stenography. On account of the large number of students taking bookkeeping, this class has been necessarily divided in two sections. The same step was necessary in the sen-English III class, which has an enrollment of 52.

American history has been made a required subject for graduation in conformity with the high school course of study published by the state department of public instruction. In the mathematics department, courses in advanced algebra and solid geometry have been added. Parents of school children are asked to note the change in hours. The high school morning session, which is the same as last year, starts at 8:30 and closes at 11:45. The afternoon session opens at 1:15 and closes at 4:00, making the session 45 minutes longer. In the grades the morning session opens at 8:45 and closes at 11:45. Then in the afternoon school will be called at 1:15 and closes at 4:00.

Four new instructors have taken their places on the faculty this year. They are Ray L. Kipke, coach and instructor of mathematics in the high school; Miss Edith Struthers, instructor of English and geography in the junior high; Harry Bingham, instructor of history in the junior high; and Miss Florance Milner, sixth grade teachers. Otherwise the faculty is the same as last year.

PREACHERS THOUGHTS IN COLD PRINT

Had Expressed His Thoughts

A popular pastor of a Charlotte church was to move on to another field, as preachers do, and his farewell sermon was preached on a recent Sunday. The Charlotte Republican, commenting upon the same, editorially said:

"The Baptist church was crowded Sunday morning. A local man sent out a hundred postal cards calling attention to the fact that Sunday would be Rev. Innis' farewell sermon and in view of his well known willingness at all times to serve on community projects it would seem like a decent trick to manifest any personal appreciation for his public service by attending this morning worship. Five per cent of the persons addressed attended showing the futility of trying to interfere with the Sunday program of the normal individual. They all appreciate Rev. Innis' public work but when it comes to taking an hour out of a perfectly good Sunday, why that's different. In his several years local residence Rev. Innis has officiated at funerals in many Charlotte households. Not one fifth were represented at the Sunday sermon and yet he always stood ready to serve in these sorrowing homes. Preaching funeral sermons in strange homes must excite considerable curiosity in the mind of the average small town preacher. If he opened his service something like this he would most likely be telling what he had in his mind: 'I never saw the subject of this skit dead or alive until a few moments ago; he never supported or attended my church but upon the payment of $4 (or whatever the fee is) herewith acknowledge. I shall do my best to take this unknown gent over the spiritual hazards to the eternal club house.' Some such introduction is about what most of us deserve; who never think of the community value of a preacher until we want him to guide us down the road to the graveyard."

CADDY TOURNEY WON BY KRULIK

RUNNER-UP LAST SEASON IS BEST IN FIELD

Franklin Curtis Repeated to Win Second Flight—Junior Supernaw Best in Third Flight

Perhaps the most interesting event of the summer season for the caddies at the Charlevoix Golf Club—the annual caddy tournament—came to a close Saturday.

Arthur Krulik, runner-up in the first flight last year, won this year's event by his three straight victories. In his opening match Thursday morning Krulik defeated Bill Novak 4 up and 3 to go. In Friday's contest, perhaps the hardest-fought and longest of the tourney, Krulik defeated D. Gatti 1 up in 27 holes. Gatti had formerly taken the measure of Bob Foster 1 up.

In the lower bracket Charles Krulik won his way into the finals. He defeated George Bergman in Thursday's match 6 up and 5, and Friday won from Robert McCall, winner of the first flight last year, 2 up and 1 to go. The finals match between the two Krulik boys was won by Arthur, who defeated Charles 2 up and 1 to go. By his victory Arthur won the $10.00 prize and Charles $5 as the runner-up.

Franklin Curtis repeated his last season's performance by winning the second flight, thereby taking the prize of $5 offered by the golf club. Enos Bird, local Indian lad, was runner-up, winning $3. Curtis beat H. Willis Thursday afternoon 10 up and 7 to go, and the following day advanced to the finals by H. Curtis' forfeit. In the final match, Curtis showed his superiority by defeating Enos Bird, runner-up, 8 up and 6 to go.

Contrary to former summers, a third flight played for prizes this year. Junior Supernaw won the title by his victory in the final over Homer Brady 3 up and 2. The boys won $2 and $1 respectively.

Efficiency prizes, offered by the best standard of service throughout the year, have not been awarded as yet and will be announced next week.

WORK ON SCHOOL YARD IS STILL IN PROGRESS

The unsightly mass of dirt, rubbish and debris which composed the school yard earlier this summer, is gradually being transformed into a spot of beauty. The grounds have been levelled off and seedlings have been exceptionally well. Work on the borders beyond the sidewalk is now under way and when completed will practically wind up the job. We can be justly proud of the fine work that is being done and in the future point to our school property with pride.

DUCK SEASON WILL OPEN NEXT SUNDAY

LOCAL HUNTERS WILL BE ON THEIR FAVORITE MARSHES

Bombardment Starts at Sunrise—Snipe, Rail, Coots and Gallinules Also Legal Game

Next Sunday, September 16th, the first bombardment opens the 1928 hunting season. Shooting will be permitted of ducks, certain shore birds, coots, etc., under the terms of the federal migratory law and state statutes.

Reports as to the supply of game differ. In some sections of the state ducks are reported as uncommonly numerous. In other sections they are said to be very scarce. Shooting for the opening day and the two weeks or more following will be confined almost entirely to ducks which have nested in local waters and young reared here. Not until after the first of October is the first flight of northern ducks usually anticipated.

Hunting licenses already have been received by local sporting goods dealers and the county clerk and are now on sale.

The law permits shooting from sunrise to sunset, with a bag limit of 15 ducks in one day and 30 in possession at one time. Not more than 50 ducks may be legally killed in Michigan in one calendar week. Wilson and Jack snipe may be shot during the same hours of the day, with a limit of 15 birds in a day and 25 in a season.

The limit on coots and gallinules, as well as rails, is 25 in a day, and on the first two species 25 in a season.

Although the state law still provides an open season on yellowlegs, the federal bureau of biological survey declared a closed season, and this ruling takes precedent over Michigan law. Yellowlegs are, therefore, immune from hunters.

No wild geese will be seen in Michigan waters for a month and a half yet, but the season legally opens next Sunday on the honkers.

Many local hunters will be on the marshes next Sunday morning at day-break. The writer knows of one party of ten who will trek to the Minnie Marsh and Pickeral Lake north of Petoskey. Several other parties have signified their intentions of going the opening day and general signs of the approaching hunting season are in evidence.

CARL BEATTIE RETURNS FROM DETROIT JOURNEY

Carl Beattie returned home Saturday morning from Detroit, where he was one of the eighty boys who attended the state fair as members of the Michigan State Fair school for farm boys. The delegates were conveyed about the city in double-deck busses and were shown the high lights of the metropolis. They visited Belle Isle and Henry Ford's plants on the trip. A photograph of the group, taken in front of the Detroit Times building, appeared in the September 7th edition of that paper. Nearly every county in Michigan was represented by these boys, who were well taken care of and given the biggest time of their lives.

WORK STARTED ON NEW BOAT HOUSE

STRUCTURE 50x110 ON SOUTH SHORE OF ROUND LAKE

Oklahoma Man Who Summers at Platt Lake Would Be Welcomed Permanent Summer Resident

Work on another fine addition to the group of boat houses on Round Lake was started this week by Roe Brothers of Harbor Springs, who have the contract for the pile driving.

Dimensions of the new structure which is being built for H. F. Wilcox of Tulsa, Oklahoma, will be 50x110 feet. Its location is on the property owned by Mr. Wilcox on Belvedere avenue immediately west of the Talmor, or former Windsor Aldrich frontage.

Plans call for two slips, one 70 feet long and the other 80. Mr. Wilcox now has a 34-foot cruiser and a 26-foot runabout which will be housed in one of the slips. The other is planned to house a 76-foot cruiser which the owner will bring to Charlevoix when built. The south end of the new boat house is being modeled for servant's quarters. Plans call for a living room, dining room, kitchen, bath, and two bedrooms.

It is the fond hope of Charlevoix acquaintances of the Oklahoma man, that he will in the near future build a summer home on his Belvedere avenue property. The Wilcox family now spend the summer at Platt Lake, near Beulah, where their estate is said to be one of the beauty spots and attractions of the region. In addition to the plat where his home is located, Mr. Wilcox also owns several thousand acres of cut-over land, upon which he has started an extensive program of reforestation. His home and surrounding grounds are said to be "beautiful beyond description." Charlevoix would indeed welcome a man of the Wilcox type.

The fact that Mr. Wilcox owns property here at the present time is Charlevoix's good fortune. Platt Lake has no connection with Lake Michigan, and therefore it was necessary to procure lake frontage, for his yachts, which by the way, is one of Mr. Wilcox's hobbies. Charlevoix fortunately was chosen as the site and if the family can be induced to build here, it will indeed, be a welcome addition to our summer colony.

WILL ENTER SCHOOL AT EVANSTON, ILLINOIS

Miss Dorothy Iken Enrolls in Well Known School

Miss Dorothy Iken of Charlevoix has registered as a student in the National Kindergarten and Elementary College, Evanston, Illinois, for the fall semester which opens September 14.

This college for the training of elementary, kindergarten and nursery school teachers, is accredited by the United States Bureau of Education and draws its student body of 500 from practically every state in the Union and from many foreign countries. In addition to technical courses in the theory and practice of child training in the home and school, the curriculum includes the cultural studies which fit the young woman for her place in community life.

BOAT CLUB HELD ITS FINAL MEET SATURDAY

Finances Shown to Be in "Blue" With All Expenses Met

The final chapter in the activities of the Charlevoix Boat Club for the summer of 1928 closed last Saturday forenoon with a meeting in the Charlevoix State Savings Bank.

Commodore Julius Gilhert presided over the session and heard the reports of the secretary and treasurer which showed the club's finances to be in the "blue" after one of the most successful and expensive regattas Charlevoix has ever had.

The boat club's officers this season were probably the most active it has ever had. They took more than usual interest in the affairs of the club and helped local committees in every possible way throughout the season.

Although plans for the regatta next summer are somewhat vague, they were discussed and, from the interest manifest, it will be an even more successful event than the one concerning which records were closed last Saturday.

CITY CLEANS UP HAY FEVER WEED

ENTIRE SECTION IS COVERED EVERY FEW DAYS

Mayor McCune and City Manager Mitchell Direct Campaign To Make City Real Haven

Last week the city street workers, under the direction of City Manager Mitchell completed covering the entire city in an effort to destroy noxious weeds and vegetation that would effect hay-fever sufferers who are sojourning in Petoskey seeking relief.

All of the streets of the city have been covered, and vacant lots have been entered, the crews endeavoring to cut anything in the weed line that would irritate hay-feverites.

Mayor McCune and Manager Mitchell have also asked several private property owners to destroy weeds on their private grounds, and state that it is their purpose to make Petoskey a haven in which the hay-fever sufferers will be given every consideration and courtesy.

As long as the season lasts, this work will be kept under supervision, the city official asking that all private owners co-operate with the city workers.—Petoskey Evening News.

It is with considerable satisfaction the Courier can refer to one Northern Michigan town as having taken steps to make their locality a place where a hay-feverite can live and breathe. We have time after time referred to this menace, but with no response. Charlevoix will never be a refuge for sufferers from hay fever and asthma as long as our streets and country roads are lined with rag weed and golden rod.

LECTURE COURSE SERIES DATES ARE MADE PUBLIC

Four Attractions Scheduled at Gymnasium Starting Oct. 18.

In order that Charlevoix citizens may know early in advance the dates of the coming lecture course, sponsored each winter by the Board of Education, we have been asked to publish them at this time. According to the schedule handed us last week by Supt. Otterbein, four attractions have been secured to appear on the following dates: October 18, November 8, December 5 and January 14th. The entertainments will be held this year in the auditorium at the gymnasium.

On account of high rentals in the past, the lecture course series have not met with financial success. However, with the gymnasium available, sponsors of the series hope to be more successful than in the past and in turn, with expenses reduced, offer better attractions than before.

Patrons of the lecture course series are asked to bear the above dates in mind, and at the same time societies and other organizations may arrange for any planned events so that dates will not conflict.

FOOTBALL LAOS START TRAINING

COACH RAY KIPKE HAS FAIR LOT TO PICK TEAM FROM

Opening Game One Week From Coming Saturday With Onaway Eleven at Charlevoix

Thirteen candidates responded to Coach Ray Kipke's first call for football men and they were outfitted and began practice Monday after school at the south side field. Several men late in reporting at school are expected to be in the lineup and others are expected to report who were not out the first night.

An early-season inspection of the group of hopefuls would lead any critic to the opinion that Coach Kipke has no ordinary job ahead of him this fall. While there are five men back from last year's squad, only one is backfield material. Dick Marshall, who held down the pivot position last year, is the one and only ball-toter. Several other boys of last season's team, Roy Kelderhouse who played guard, Charles Bleha and Joe Stutzman, tackles, and Maxwell Novak, end, have had football experience, as have also Livingston and Bill Foster, who plays a short time in several games, but the remainder of the group are green and must be taught the game.

That Charlevoix will have no championship team is quite evident unless the group of green youngsters absorb football rudiments more readily than one would look for. If Coach Kipke puts a winning team in the field, it will not be because he had an over-supply of material. One thing is certain, the boys are hard at work and if determination and effort will do the trick, they will give any team a battle. What they lack in poundage will be made up in speed and it is not always the big team that wins. The coach has a bag-full of new plays he is teaching the squad and, in spite of rain Monday and Tuesday afternoons, the boys have been hard at work.

School officials this year have taken a very sensible course in arranging the football schedule. They have not taken on any games with the larger schools—schools out of Charlevoix's class. Games will be played with schools of our own size and the following schedule has been arranged, opening on the home field Friday, September 21st, with Onaway:

Sept. 21—Onaway here.
Sept. 29—Bozette City here.
Oct. 6—Open.
Oct. 13—Mancelona there.
Oct. 20—St. Ignace there.
Oct. 27—Kalkaska there.
Nov. 3—Gaylord here.
Nov. 10—East Jordan there.

HE BOUGHT A CALF SOON AS POSSIBLE

An Usual Scotch Story Contributed By H. McKinnon.

Declining to sing a song, Sir Harry Lauder told a story at a weekly luncheon of the Glasgow Rotary Club. This was the story:

"An auld Scottish minister went intae the country tae spend his holidays at a farm. When he arrived the farmer said to his wife, Jean, 'don't forget the minister is a terrible teetotaler. Gie him a glass o' hot milk when he goes tae bed.'"

"Later the farmer declared, 'Jean I think we'll risk it and put in an inch an a half o' whisky.'"

"The minister supped it, then scoffed off, smacked his lips, and said 'God bless us, whot a cow!'"

Of course, the Rotarians laughed heartily, and, after giving them a second or two in which to compose themselves, Sir Harry continued:

"In the morn' o' the morn' next day the farmer looked out tae see if it was anawis' or hailin' and he saw the minister come out o' the barn. After breakfast he went around the steading and, meeting the grieve, remarked: 'Willie I saw the minister goin' roon.' 'Aye,' replied Willie, 'He has spoken for the first calf off that coo.'"

Special Buck Truck to Visit County

Plans have been definitely made for two stops by the "Special Buck Truck" being sent out by the Michigan State College Extension Service and traveling through many northern Michigan counties in the interests of placing several purebred rams of better type and of higher quality in the hands of sheep breeders.

The first stop will be at the farm of Frank Wangerman, East Jordan, located on the peninsula, at 10:00, fast time on Friday morning, Sept. 21st, and the second meeting at the farm of Richard Paddock, located south of Charlevoix, just off the Barnard road, at 2:00 fast time Friday afternoon.

One of the most urgent needs of Charlevoix county farmers is the importing of high type and quality purebred rams as a means of improving the sheep. Farmers, this is your opportunity of seeing a truck load of this high type stock and of learning how to select the better class of buck. With the increasing number of sheep being raised in the county it is highly necessary to buy as good a buck as you can afford.

V. A. Freeman, extension specialist of M. S. C., will be present and will show you the points to look for in selecting the superior rams. As a farmer you are cordially invited and urged to attend one of the two meetings and be in a better position to go home and by proper selecting use a higher quality ram.

Remember the dates and be present at Frank Wangerman's Friday, Sept. 21st, and Richard Paddock's Friday afternoon, 21st.

Potatoes Again Inspected

Mr. Trafelet, potato inspector from the Michigan State College, made the second inspection of all the fields of certified seed potatoes being grown by Charlevoix county farmers, during this last week.

We are indeed highly pleased with showings made by the growers in requeuing out their fields in the cultural methods shown. Of the 105 1-2 acres listed for inspection only six were rejected in the two inspections, which is less than 6% rejection. This is the lowest percentage shown by the five counties that Mr. Trafelet visits.

From present indications there will be approximately 30,000 bushels of certified seed raised in Charlevoix county this year which is the highest production in the last five years. Based on a very conservative premium of 50c per bushel over table stock, this will mean at least $10,000 extra money coming in Charlevoix county as a result of high quality potatoes.

Wage-earners in the United States do not propose to surrender what they have gained by permitting themselves to be lowered to the European standard of wages and living. That is why they propose to vote the Republican ticket.

The United States Department of Labor reports a remarkable gain in demands for labor this summer over the same period of 1926. This indicates the country is enjoying prosperity.

MILLIONTH REGISTERED JERSEY IS OWNED IN SOUTH CAROLINA

St. Saviour's Blue Fox's Bess, 739799.

The millionth Jersey has been registered by the American Jersey Cattle club, New York. This incident brings to light the story of a South Carolina man who placed his faith in dairying and has been most successful in building up an outstanding pure-bred herd from a very modest beginning.

The "millionth Jersey," St. Saviour's Blue Fox's Bess 739799, is owned by L. E. Wright of Clifton, S. C., who started a Jersey herd in 1921 with the purchase of one pure-bred heifer. From this small start he has built up a fine herd which is attracting much attention in the South, for Mr. Wright has followed along lines which insure constant improvement in both production and type. The original foundation heifer has dropped three heifers and two bull calves, all to the service of very good sires. These three daughters have given Mr. Wright six calves, while one granddaughter has given him two calves, making thirteen animals descended from the heifer purchased in November, 1921. Inspection of the herd shows that each generation is superior to the previous one both in type and also in milk-producing ability.

Mr. Wright presented his little daughter, Sarah, with a great-granddaughter of the foundation heifer, so that she might become a member of the Spartanburg County Jersey Club. The heifer calf was first place at the South Carolina state fair, and Little Miss Sarah then entered her in the county calf club show where she again won first. In the open classes at the county fair she also took first prize. Another heifer, sold to a calf club boy by Mr. Wright, won third at the state fair, second at the calf club show, and first prize in the showing contest.

St. Saviour's Blue Fox's Bess 739799, a young daughter of Mr. Wright's foundation cow, was the millionth Jersey to be registered, for 200,201 bulls have been registered as well as 739,799 females.

Vetch Is One Legume That Seeds Freely

Let Some of Pods Ripen Before Crop Is Cut.

Vetch is one winter legume that seeds freely and from which a good supply of seed may be obtained at home.

When the vetch is now growing on land where it is wanted again next year, all that is necessary is to let some of the lower seed pods ripen before the crop is cut or turned under for soil improvement. An abundant crop will volunteer next fall.

"But where vetch is growing with oats or rye they may be cut and threshed together and sown just as they come from the thrasher," says R. O. Blair, extension agronomist for the North Carolina State College of Agriculture.

"Small quantities may be beaten out where threshers are not available. There is no trouble in sowing rye and vetch together. With oats and vetch it is necessary to keep the mixture stirred or the vetch, being heavier, will settle to the bottom.

"If it is desired to separate the vetch seed from the oats and rye, advantage may be taken of the fact that the vetch seed are round and will roll. Sift a shovelful of mixed seeds across a wide floor and the vetch will roll to the farther edge, while the grain will stop about half way. A long porch will be an excellent place for this work. If boards are set up to keep the seed from rolling off the edge.

"The spiral vetch separator makes use of this principle. In running down the spiral trough, the vetch rolls to the outside edge of the trough, and out through a different spout from the oats or rye. Vetch seed may also be separated with an ordinary seed cleaner, equipped with suitable screens."

The ease with which a supply of vetch seed may be secured at home should make it possible for increased acreages of the crop to be planted next fall, states Mr. Blair. It is an excellent soil improving crop and well adapted to some soils where clover does not seem to thrive. Mr. Blair urges farmers to save a supply of vetch seed this season.

Whitewash Is Excellent for Use on Implements

The use of white wash is not commonly recognized in connection with the prevention of rust on implements and other metal equipment. Probably few farmers have ever tried whitewashing implements to keep them from rusting, but some with experience say a coat of whitewash in the early winter will be highly effective for this purpose, and if they are under cover a simple mixture of lime and water is sufficient. Then when the implements are put into use in the spring the whitewash quickly wears off and causes no trouble.

A whitewash for preventing rust is not the same as oil paint. Oil paint keeps air and moisture away from the surface of the implement, but whitewash on the other hand, being alkaline in character, serves to neutralize the acid which normally causes rust, and therefore prevents the rust forming.

Time to Introduce New Queen to Bee Colony

It is an easy matter to decide what colonies need new queens, because a new queen bee properly introduced is nearly always better than the one she replaces, states Ray Hutson, bee specialist at the New Jersey agricultural experiment station. This of course does not apply to Italian queens of this year's brood.

Good queens from reliable breeders can be secured for one dollar or less and will in every case give a large return on the investment, in pride of ownership, monetary return, and ease of handling. In a commercial bee yard this last item is the same as the second, for labor still remains the largest cost in beekeeping. Freedom from bee moth depredations and propolis, or gluing, is among the many benefits to be derived from a new queen.

The best time to get a new queen accepted by a colony is at the time a little honey is coming in. In many localities there is a dearth the latter part of July and the first part of August. If a queen is to be properly established six weeks before a killing frost, the first of August is none too soon to make a start. It is folly, however, for the average beekeeper to undertake requeening when there is no honey flow, without feeding a day or so before, as well as during the attempt.

There are numbers of methods for introducing queens and the selection of the one to be tried must rest with the beekeeper. Queen breeders almost invariably send directions for introduction on the shipping cage.

Agricultural Items

Plant a tree.

Put in a short row of carrots every two weeks.

Low-grade fertilizers mean low-yield crops.

Mow pastures to destroy bitterweed and wild onions.

There is no limit to the demand for the best farm products.

The first commandment of farming: Thou shalt not let thy land get poor.

High-priced land and ordinary pasture grasses do not co-operate for success.

A silo saves a third of the value of the corn crop, which is otherwise largely wasted.

It's a wise farmer who encourages his boy to take up club work—and he'll be wiser still afterward.

For hay sow soy beans at the rate of two bushels per acre with a grain drill on a well prepared seed bed.

Doves are important weed destroyers. It is said. One dove was found to eat 9,300 weed seeds at a single meal.

Try a row of French endive to store in the cellar next fall for winter salads. It is a big money saver and the finest of salad materials. It is as easy to raise as parsnips.

Staked Tomatoes May Lose Money

Except in Wet Weather Vines Pruned and Tied Do Not Thrive Better.

Many vegetable growers believe that they can get an earlier crop of better tomatoes if they prune each plant to a single stem and tie it to a stake than if they allow the plants to grow naturally on the ground.

Sometimes this is true, but sometimes it works the opposite way, say vegetable growers at the New York State College of Agriculture at Ithaca, for experiments which they have conducted show that the results depend on the weather during the growing season.

Early Products Wanted.

Growers who supply the general market are more interested in an early product that is uniform and attractive than in a high yield. In a wet season, especially when it is cloudy and wet when the plants blossom and the fruit set, vines that are pruned and trained may produce earlier and yield more. On the other hand, in a normal or dry season, vines that are pruned and trained produce considerably less marketable tomatoes and the crop is not much earlier. In very dry seasons, the fruits have more sun-soft and more blossom-end rot if they are pruned and trained than if they are unpruned.

Ordinarily, the yields of tomatoes are reduced by increasing the distance between plants in the row. Pruned plants set two feet apart in the row and rows three feet apart produced more than similar plants set two and one-half feet apart in the row, and unpruned plants set three feet apart in rows four feet apart did better than those set four feet apart in the row.

Cost Increases.

Since pruning and staking greatly increase the cost of growing tomatoes, the returns from each acre had for each bushel must be considerably higher. The higher cost of growing staked tomatoes is due to the larger number of plants needed for each acre, for 2,500 to 3,000 more are needed; the cost of 5,000 to 6,000 stakes; cost of wire for tying; and the cost of labor required to set the stakes and to prune and tie the plants to the stakes.

The additional cost, which usually exceeds $100 an acre, may be partly offset by the smaller saving in labor in preparing the product for market. Tomatoes grown on unstaked vines come in contact with the soil and often must be wiped to remove the dirt. This, of course, adds to the cost, but it is a small item compared to the increased cost of growing the crop by the pruning and staking method.

HOOVER HELP FOR THE FARMER.

So great and so profitable to American manufacturers and American workman has been the activity of the Department of Commerce in the augmentation of foreign commerce for the seven years under Herbert Hoover that sight may have been lost of the substantial help the Hoover department has been to the farmers of the United States in promotion of the export of farm products. That may be taken together with the great gain in the expansion of the manufactured goods for domestic consumption and export which increase the demand for the farmer's products and furnish the means for higher standards of living of the agricultural population.

Hoover's department has been energetically and continuously at work to correct the post-war shrinkage in foreign demand for American farm products. The Hoover effort has been in the seeking of new markets and the development of new uses. Since agricultural products are chiefly necessities, the world demand for them is limited, but the Hoover energy has been applied to develop the foreign market for American farm products to the highest point. And the effort has been successful, even in the face of the rehabilitation of foreign agriculture since the war. Our yearly export of agricultural products is much higher in absolute quantity than before the war.

During the calendar year 1926 the value of agricultural exports from the United States was more than 75 per cent greater than the 1910-1914 average. During the first decade of the century there was a gradual decline in such exportation. The increase of 1926 was more than maintained in 1927. The products exported ranged from the apples of the north and west to the rice and cotton of the south. One London fruit auctioneer alone reported business of nearly $200,000 with American shippers with whom he was placed in touch directly by the special trade commissioner of Hoover's department.

THE POLITICAL PARADE

By Harry R. Blackmon

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12th—Herbert Hoover has swung his drive to the East where the Democrats are centering their efforts, and the Presidential campaign is now focusing on the records and the availability of the candidates of the two major parties. As voters get down to the task of serious consideration of presidential problems, two economic issues assume importance above all others, tariff and immigration. On both of them Hoover and Curtis are able to make the strongest appeal to the average voter, man or woman.

The usual Democratic optimism is voiced in chairman Raskob's estimate of 309 electoral votes for his candidate. In his list he includes New York, New Jersey, Rhode Island and Massachusetts, which went Republican by two-to-one or better in 1920 and 1924, and were carried by Hughes in 1916; Minnesota, Nebraska, Colorado, Montana, Missouri, Maryland, Arizona, New Mexico, Nevada, all of which went substantially Republican in both 1920 and 1924. What Mr. Raskob did not disclose was how this revolutionary upset is to be brought about.

The party pride of one Democrat living in Washington received its severest blow when announcement was made of the leasing of the new Hoover headquarters here on Massachusetts avenue. "Why," he exclaimed in a tone of unmistakable indignation, "the lady who owns that house once told me she was descended from Thomas Jefferson."

Predictions of a G. G. P. victory in their states by enthusiastic southern Republicans are not uncommon in presidential years, but those forthcoming in 1928 have a more authentic ring about them than any which have emanated previously from the solidly Democratic territory below the Mason-Dixon line. Herbert Hoover is said to be on even terms with his rival in Virginia, to have a considerable "edge" over him in Alabama, Texas and Florida, while Tennessee and Kentucky are counted safely Republican. The south is being converted to a protective tariff, the reports add.

The best indication that the forecasts have some basis is the concern manifested by Democratic newspapers in those states; that is, such of them as are supporting the Democratic nominee for president.

Appointment of Major-General J. G. Harbord, president of the Radio Corporation of America, as financial chairman of greater New York, is readily understandable when the history of ten years ago is recalled. General Harbord's selection brings into contact once more the two men who did most to feed the American army during the world war, when Herbert Hoover was food administrator and Harbord was chief of the Service of Supply of the American Expeditionary forces. They were two of the three greatest organizers contributed by this country to the allied cause, and the third, General John J. Pershing, is also supporting Hoover and Curtis.

Senator Charles Curtis on his eastern speaking tour has loaded his guns with solid tariff ammunition, and has found it extremely effective among farm audiences. This is not surprising when it is recalled that the market prices of the 95 per cent of the agricultural commodities produced in this country which are sold in domestic markets have increased from 30 to 70 per cent under a Republican protective tariff.

Bran new Bicycles, rented out during the summer, to be sold at cost prices. Boys and girls wheels. Save by buying now. Benj. Brown, Adv. 36tf.

Senator Curtis' biography reads like the record of a real Republican Greenbackism and Free Silverism, he has stood fast for all that is sane, sane and sound. That makes him an exceptionally good Republican candidate for Vice President.

Resources of the member banks of the Federal Reserve System reached a new high level June 30, when the total was $46,091,849,000—a gain of about $1,500,000 since Feb. 8, 1928. Total demand deposits totaled $17,606,564,000—an increase of $301,918,000. These figures spell unusual prosperity. Can anyone deny it?

EVERY THIRD MICHIGAN COW IS A MONEY LOSER

Farmers Urged to Check Up on Herd and Weed Out the Money Losers

Every third cow on Michigan farms is a money loser and prevents the other two from making as much money for their owners as they rightfully should, C. M. Long, chief of the farm service of the Blue Valley Creamery Institute, said in an address at the West Michigan Fair.

Mr. Long urged farmers to keep a check on the grain consumed and milk given by each cow on his farm as a means of finding out which of his cows were the money makers and which the money losers. He contended that the two good cows, properly fed, would yield as much milk as is now given by three and do this at a greater profit to the farmer.

"Experience has shown," said Mr. Long, "that 45 or 50 of every 100 cows that are now unprofitable would prove profitable if given the right kind of a ration in the right way. There are fifteen to twenty cows in every hundred that would not be profitable regardless of how they are fed. It is just not in them to produce milk profitably. This accounts for the fact that some dairymen receive 4 cents an hour for their time devoted to dairy cows, while others receive 80 cents."

Mr. Long's talk was given over largely to the problem of profitable dairy feeding.

"A cow," he said, "is not a magician, although some men feed her as if she were. She cannot take a feed that has little or no milk making material in it and make milk out of it any more than a threshing machine can turn out the grain of wheat when weeds are fed into it.

"While water is the cheapest substance found on a farm, it often happens that cows suffer more from the lack of it than any one thing. In winter it is often too cold to drink, in summer frequently too far away or too muddy and dirty to drink. In the summer time a cow must have at least three pounds of water for every pound of milk she produces.

"It is not enough to get a ration made up of proper ingredients, but the grain part must be fed according to the daily milk production. Most farmers are not doing this. If a man has six cows, he goes down the line with the grain and gives each one the same amount, the same number of buckets or scoops-full. One cow in the group may be producing 30 pounds of milk a day, and another ten. If this is the right amount of grain for the ten-pound cow, the others are not getting enough and will soon fall off in milk production. On the other hand, if he feeds enough for the thirty-pound cow, the ten-pound cow is getting far too much and feed is wasted, probably in sufficient quantities to use up all the profits the thirty-pound cow makes."

The election of Hoover means relief for agriculture.

Avoid Loss of Soy Bean Seed

Cost of Harvesting Reduced One-third by Combined Harvester-Thresher.

Losses of soy bean seed at harvest time are greatly reduced and the cost of harvesting the crop is lowered about one-third a bushel from what it is with ordinary methods, when a combined harvester-thresher is used to gather the beans, according to tests made by the farm mechanics department, college of agriculture, University of Illinois. Use of the combined harvester-thresher is the most recent method of harvesting the soy-bean seed crop. To date the job of harvesting soy beans for seed or commercial purposes has been the biggest problem that the soy-bean grower has had to meet. In fact, the grief encountered in harvesting the seed crop has prevented a more rapid increase in the acreage of this legume, according to E. P. Hlauser of the college farm mechanics department. The harvesting problem will become more important as the commercial possibilities of the soy bean are developed.

Methods of Harvesting.
A survey made in Illinois gave the following methods which were used to harvest the 1924 soy-bean seed crop: Binder, 61 per cent; mower, 32 per cent; pickers, 3 per cent; self-rake reaper, 3 per cent, and pullers, 1 per cent. The same year 80 per cent used grain separators, 13.5 per cent used special bean threshers, and 5 per cent used combined harvester-threshers.

The first combine in Illinois was used by Garwood Brothers of Stoughton, in October, 1924, to harvest 212 acres of soy beans. That the machine made a successful demonstration is evident from the fact that seven combines were sold in Illinois by July, 1925, and twelve by October, 1925.

Tests have been made of the different methods of harvesting soy beans, and losses in some cases were found to be as high as 45 per cent. Tests of the combined harvester-thresher have given a loss of from 4 per cent to 10 per cent this past season even though the weather conditions were extremely bad. Beans harvested with the combine gave a much lower moisture percentage, and also were of much better quality. The combine can work from two to five days sooner than the threshing machine because the beans dry out much more rapidly standing than in shocks. There are still some fields of beans in shock waiting to be threshed.

Work of Illinois Machines.
Each combine in Illinois has harvested from 200 to 350 acres of soy beans this past season. Twenty to 30 acres of soy beans can be harvested a day with two men, one to drive the tractor to pull the machine, and one to operate the combine. Two to three men and teams are needed to take care of the threshed beans.

A combine should cut from 250 to 300 acres of grain each year to keep the overhead charges an acre as low as possible. There are a limited number of farms that have that many acres of soy beans to harvest each year. However, the same machine was used quite successfully in Illinois to harvest wheat, oats, sweet clover, red clover and timothy. Even then, if the combined acreage is too small to justify the purchase of a combine, several farmers can go together and purchase one.

The combine user in Illinois avers that he cannot get along without it in harvesting soy beans.

Using Ground Limestone to Assist Clover Crop

The use of ground limestone where clovers do not grow successfully, the practice of a good farm rotation which includes a clover crop, sufficient natural or artificial drainage and the thorough working of the soil to control weeds are essential to profitable crop production. The response in crop yields which will attend the judicious application of manure and commercial fertilizers will depend to a large extent upon the attention that is given to those other essential factors which are also largely under control of the farmer.

Agricultural Notes

Destroy all breeding places of flies.

Cultivate the field crops carefully after showers.

Watch all water supplies. Impure water means possible disease.

Make another planting of sweet corn, snap beans, and lima beans.

Stinkling smut which grows in wheat, brings a loss that means defeat.

Sunlight is the cheapest disinfectant available around the average farm.

A good garden has in it those vegetables that are best for us, and not merely those that we like best.

Four or five years' supply of acid phosphate may be applied at one time for it does not leach from the soil.

Repeated plantings of snap beans and corn for roasting ears should be made to have a continuous supply.

"Substance" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, September 9.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "I lead in the way of righteousness, in the midst of the paths of judgement: That I may cause those that love me to inherit substance; and I will fill their treasures."—Prov. 8:20-21.)

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man walks in the direction toward which he looks, and where his treasure is, there will his heart be also. If our hopes and affections are spiritual, they come from above not from beneath, and they bear as of old the fruits of the Spirit."—(p. 451.)

The new Buick is the New Style

Graceful contours instead of straight lines—the gleam and sparkle of brilliant colors and chrome plating instead of drab effects—the most beautiful bodies ever built... Buick's masterpiece bodies by Fisher

At a time when motor car beauty was practically standardized—when imitation was the vogue—when there was a glaring lack of originality in body design—Buick has swept far beyond the commonplace and achieved a style which the entire country is acclaiming as the most distinctive and beautiful ever shown!

Fisher, the world's foremost builder of automobile bodies, has cooperated with Buick, the world's foremost builder of fine cars, to create a new mode—a new fashion—and so luminous is the result and so eagerly is the public welcoming it that Buick's great factories have reached new production levels in an effort to keep pace with an ever increasing demand!

Inside and out, the new Buick bodies by Fisher are the most beautiful ever built. Together with the wonderful new standards of performance introduced by the Silver Anniversary Buick, they are winning the greatest demand and the greatest preference ever enjoyed by any fine car!

The new Buick is the new style! And by that is meant, not merely a new type of beauty—not merely a thrilling turning point in body design—but a great countrywide vogue!

A. L. FITCH GIVEN HIGH PYTHIAN POST

Elected Grand Chancellor of Order at Annual Convention

At the annual meeting of Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, held September 4, 5 and 6 at Port Huron Arthur L. Fitch, prosecuting attorney of Charlevoix county, was elected Grand Chancellor.

Mr. Fitch is the second grand lodge officer to be selected from Pine Lake Lodge, No. 122, Knights of Pythias of Charlevoix. He has always been very active in the affairs of the order and has worked himself from the first office to that of grand chancellor, highest in the order. Mr. Fitch is known as one of the best posted Pythians in the state.

The convention at Port Huron was one of the most interesting in years. The election of a grand outer guard was a spirited one with four candidates for the place, Charles W. McGill, prominent Lansing attorney, was elected. An administrative board was created to have charge of the business of the order and give a more permanent program for its activities.

The headquarters of the convention were at Gratiot Inn, a summer hotel about five miles from the city. Grand Rapids was chosen as the place for the 1929 convention.

There will be dance at Maple Grove Grange Hall, Friday evening, September 14th. Everybody welcome. Adv. 3711.

LOCAL BOY HEADS EDITORIAL STAFF OF DAILY

King Saunders Has Won Steady Advancement at St. Joseph

Charlevoix friends of King Saunders, son of Mrs. J. M. Saunders, this city, will be pleased to learn of the success he is making in his chosen work.

King left here around February 1st of this year and took a position on the editorial staff of The Herald-Press, published at St. Joseph, Michigan. Since that time his ability and effort have won him steady advancement until now he heads the editorial staff of the publication, which is one of the leading daily papers in southwestern Michigan.

METHODIST CHURCH John E. Lockyer, Minister

We would like all church school teachers and scholars to report at their classes on Sunday noon as the new time for the fall months.

The pastor will conduct divine worship at 10:30. This service will close the current conference year. Evening praise hour and address at 7:30.

Epworthians are asked to observe the new time for League as 6:30. The topic is, "What Makes Up My Mind?" All new school young people are invited to share these Sunday evenings with our young people.

The official board will meet after Thursday's prayer meeting to close the business for this conference year.

There will be dance at Maple Grove Grange Hall, Friday evening, September 14th. Everybody welcome. Adv. 3711.

BAPTIST CHURCH

The Baptist Ladies' Aid are meeting today with Mrs. Ruth Lewis, on West Upright street, with a good attendance and will start the year's work with a progressive program.

The Women's Mission Circle met with Mrs. Wm. Kibbe last week. They also are beginning the year with a forward looking program which conserves the mission spirit and work of the church. The church has more than met its missionary quota to date.

Two interesting congregations met from Cincinnati and people from several other states greeted the pastor in these services, making them partake of the character of reunions.

The services next Sunday will be as usual and a cordial invitation is extended to all to worship with us.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Regular service is at 10:30 Sunday.

The Sunday school returns this coming Sunday to the fall and winter schedule and meets at twelve o'clock.

Endeavor meeting at 6:30. Mid-week service at 7:30 Thursday.

Plans are in progress for a series of rally Sundays beginning with the last Sunday in September for the Sunday school, followed by a rally service and communion for the church, the first Sunday in October and an Endeavor rally on the second Sunday in October.

The services at the Ironton church are at 2:30 p. m. each Sunday.

STATE DELEGATES ARE CHOSEN AT BOYNE CITY

Latest Reports From Meeting Indicate Perfect Harmony

According to latest advices from the Republican county convention, which is in session at the Wolverine Hotel, Boyne City, as we go to press, what promised to be one of the most lively meetings in recent years had apparently dissolved itself into a perfectly harmonious affair. Ninety-four delegates are in attendance.

The session was in adjournment at the time of our last inquiry and the election of officers had not been completed. Delegates chosen to represent the county at the state convention to be held in Detroit are as follows: Charlevoix—Frank F. Bird, George W. Weaver, alternate; East Jordan—Leon Balch, Walter Cook, alternate; Boyne City—James Dean, W. L. Fuchrer, alternate; Boyne Falls—Herman Myers, Henry Courtage, alternate; Wm. Townsend, Chandler township, William Sanderson, Eveline township, alternate. We understand Herman Myers was chosen chairman of the state delegation.

At a meeting of the county nominees held at the court house Tuesday afternoon, the following officers were chosen for the county committee: Herman Myers, Boyne Falls, chairman; Kit Carson, East Jordan, secretary; Mrs. Brayton Saltonstall, Charlevoix, treasurer. A complete list of the committees from the various townships and wards will be published next week.

400 Police and Gangsters Clash in Sensational Gun-Fight Scene

The battle takes place in and around the East Side Political Club when two rival gangs engage in a free-for-all fight. John Gilbert and Joan Crawford escaped from the hall to the roof and from this vantage point lean over the parapet and watch the fight in the streets below. The camera shows the scene from their point of view.

HARD BATTLES FOR FOOTBALL

REVIEW OF SITUATION IN NORTHERN MICHIGAN

Manistee, Ludington, Traverse, Cadillac, Boyne, Cheboygan Have Veteran Outfits

Lew Holliday, editor of the Traverse City Record-Eagle, has made the review of the high school football outlook for this fall in Northern Michigan:

Closer competition and more evenly matched teams is the chief prognostication of Northwestern Michigan football followers, as squads of rival high schools gets down to the serious training grind this week. Several of the leaders in recent years have lost heavily by graduation, and others generally not so strong are blessed with combinations almost intact from last fall's campaign.

Coach Gordon LeCronier must defend Petoskey high school's grid championship with an eleven built around only two of last year's regulars—Captain Curtis at end and Tillotson at guard. The Blue and White will no doubt keenly feel the loss of its brilliant 1927 backfield—Captain Irv Menzel, Don Wells, Ray March and Quarter O'Donnell. Any high school squad in the state of Michigan, or any other state, would be considerably weakened by such a loss. Yet Coach LeCronier showed a likely looking reserve string last fall, and many of that well-trained gang are heavier and wiser this fall. It is altogether possible that the places of Tackles King and Critchell, who graduated last spring, will be equally as hard to fill as those in the backfield.

Manistee Way Ahead

Coach Rex Anderson at Manistee has almost his entire 1927 backfield to work with this year, losing only Ray "Yea" Wicinski, declared ineligible by reason of having competed in games as an eight-grader. In Ludington, Bud Manthel and Quarterback Jacobson, Anderson has a trio that makes any mentor glad, and he can doubtless find a capable ball-toter to finish the quartet—perhaps "Ears" May. On the line, Manistee retains some important cogs including Bluffka at center, and the Salt City team should be even stronger than last year. The Anderson boys start their season September 22, with their customary assignment at Muskegon against Tiny Redmond's Reds. As usual there are two tilts with Ludington, besides the Petoskey, Cadillac and Traverse City encounters.

One of the expected comers this fall is Coach Mitchell Read's Ludington crew. While the initial turnout last week was only 25, the Orioles' fast pony backfield—Suess, Schwass, Newberg and Johnson—remains intact, and Ends Fee and Sterns, and Crane, Bellie and Nelson on the line are available. Ludington plays Scottville, Manistee, Hart, Big Rapids and Traverse City at home, and journeys to Cadillac, Shelby and Manistee.

Probably the outstanding menace in this district, however, is Coach Bert Noblett's Cadillac team. This Blue and Gold aggregation was just big and green last fall, but this year should be even bigger—and a lot smarter. Harvey, the crashing back who was responsible for so many of Cadillac's 1927 gains, is there for his final year, and looms as possibly Northern Michigan's most brilliant pending schedule is completed. In addition, there will be Huesca, a fast boy who was eliminated early last fall with a broken leg—and some more of size and high calibre. It looks as though Cadillac would resume its place among the up-state football leaders.

As Sault Ste. Marie, where practice started September 3, there are five of last year's veteran; at Gaylord, Coach Burkett will miss the services of Fullback Rolinski, but has several of last year's team.

New Deal at Charlevoix

At Charlevoix, there must be an almost entirely new deal, with a change of coaches and a few regulars returning. At Boyne City, Coach Robertson may make trouble for any Northern Michigan opponent, because he has back with last year was a young, but very fast club; at Harbor Springs, Coach McClain promises to make trouble for opponents, while at Manistota there is indication of another squad of ability such as Coach "Dog" Wile has been presenting the last few seasons.

Over on the Lake Huron side, Coach Bob Hastie at Alpena has eight of last fall's regulars back, and they were a hard-fighting aggregation in 1927. They play Petoskey and Traverse of the larger western contingent. Coach Tommy Whitehead expects another good team at Cheboygan.

At Traverse City high, Coach Gordon MacDonald is working on the problem of replacing an entire backfield and both tackles, but he has a squad of about fifty, and there is prospect of a strong Black and Gold representation. Captain Bill Unger will be the main stay at center, with Guard Guiffre and End Core also back. These three are expected to be outstanding luminaries this season. Guard Barnes will likely be turned into a fullback, and Ostlund, who played part of last season at end, may be developed into a halfback. The other tackle, guard and backfield material, as well as one end, must come from the reserves of last fall. Traverse opens there with Frankfort, Sept. 22, then entertains Coach "Okey" Johnson's Muskegon Heights outfit; then entertains Cadillac and Alpena in succession. October 20, the Black and Gold meets Grand Rapids Catholic Central on the Furniture City grid, for the fourth time. Traverse holds a two-to-one advantage thus far. Then Boyne City and Manistee are played there. The season finishes with trips to Ludington and Petoskey.

WORK STARTED ON DANCE PAVILION

WILL BE ONE OF THE LARGEST IN THIS REGION

A. T. Jeffery Plans Amusement Place for Charlevoix's Many Summer Residents

With the 1928 resort season practically in its closing stages, building operations which have been held up during the summer season, have begun in earnest.

Work is progressing rapidly on a new dancing pavilion under construction for A. T. Jeffery. Dimensions of the structure which is located on Mr. Jeffery's newly acquired property on Petoskey avenue adjoining the Charlevoix Golf Club course, are 35x60 feet, which includes only the dance floor itself. On the north side of the building beyond the main floor will be the elevated orchestra shell, modernly appointed ladies' and men's rest rooms, with the balance of the space divided into enclosed private booths.

The entrance will face Petoskey avenue on the south. At its right will be a cloak room and adjoining this in the southeast corner will be the lunch counter and refreshment booth. Other private booths are planned for both the east and west ends, with the remainder of the space for seating and tables.

A circular concrete drive with the entrance and exit on Petoskey avenue is planned and the grounds will be landscaped and beautified with flowers and shrubs.

Plans for the management of the pavilion are not complete. Mr. Jeffery stated he would obtain the services of a high class orchestra to furnish music and would hold public dances, rent to private parties or conduct the pavilion in whatever manner the public demands. He expects to have the place open from July 1 to September 1.

The pavilion's location is ideal. We believe that under proper management it should become a very important feature of the resort season.

CEMENT COMPANY CLEARING LAND THIS WEEK

Work Marks Initial Beginning for Proposed New Factory

A crew of men in charge of Victor E. Best of Newaygo, Michigan, started work Wednesday clearing land on the Newaygo Portland Cement company's property southwest of the city.

Mr. Best stated he would clear fifteen or twenty acres, but was unable to reveal what other work would be done this fall. Present operations are being carried on opposite the proposed factory site on Lake Michigan, just off Lake Shore Drive.

RE-OPENING MEETING HELD FRIDAY

W. C. T. U. LAUNCHED YEAR'S WORK WITH ENTHUSIASM

Mrs. E. E. Cross Delegate to State Convention—Elect Officers at Next Meeting

There was a large attendance at the re-opening meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union held last Friday afternoon with Mrs. John Burns.

Resolutions in favor of the Kellogg Peace Treaty were unanimously adopted and the president and secretary authorized to sign and forward four copies for use by the national W. C. T. U. superintendent of the movement.

The W. C. T. U. state convention to be held in Lansing, September 18th to 21st, will be a great inspirational meeting. Mrs. E. E. Cross was the delegate selected to go from here.

Hoover buttons and posters were on hand for distribution to those who cared for them. Judging from the demand it would seem that Hoover is the woman's candidate for president.

The citizenship committee reported that flags and standards had been secured for the school rooms in the new building also a framed copy of the Ten Commandments for the hallway. The committee was authorized to place the same in other school buildings if acceptable.

The topic of the day was "The Bible in the Public School?" This question will come before the state legislature this winter and every effort will be made to put the Bible in the schools by legislative enactment. It is a subject worthy of thought and study.

Mrs. Lois Campbell read a paper showing the need of education along spiritual lines as well as mental and physical. That the founders of our nation made the venture with a firm reliance on the protection of divine providence. That schools and colleges in the beginning were founded under religious auspices.

That gradually the Bible was displaced in the schools. That a national movement is underway to put it back. Many states have already legislated on the question and various plans are being tried out.

Among the plans is that of giving Hebrew history and literature their rightful place in the high schools and colleges, because of their vast influence on the world's progress in comparison with the history and literature of other nations. Another plan is the reading of ten Bible verses without comment daily. Another is the dismissal of pupils during school hours on request of their parents for Bible study in their respective churches.

There is no law against the Bible in the Michigan schools and every community can have it taught or read if it so desires, notwithstanding the opinion of a recent attorney general to the contrary.

The next meeting will be at Mrs. Elston's, October 12th, and officers will be elected for the year 1929.

YOUNG AND STEIN FOUGHT TO DRAW

PUT UP NICE SCRAP IN SECOND AMERICAN LEGION SHOW

Barney Ban Won on Foul From John Horn of Toronto—Gravelin Got Decision Over Clute

Frankie Young, Detroit colored boxer, and Sammy Stein, Toronto, claimant of the Canadian flyweight title, who substituted for Kid Frazer of Cleveland, Ohio, fought to a draw in the 10-round main bout of the second American Legion show staged in the Majestic theatre last Wednesday night.

Many ringside critics, however, did not agree with Referee Blacken on his decision. In their opinion, Young out-scored the Toronto battler by a large margin. Although outweighted by nine pounds, a head shorter and with far less reach than Stein, Young carried the fight to his opponent in every round. He landed punches repeatedly without getting a return and had the Canadian puzzled from start to finish by his defensive tactics. "His true neither boxer was hurt much, but it was a fine go, full of action from the first bell.

Barney Ban, Detroit, another of Jimmy Brady's stable of fighters, won on a foul from Johnnie Horn, Toronto, Canadian junior flyweight, in the 8-round semi-final bout. Horn floored Ban for a count of 5 in the second round with a low one, and when he dropped him again in the eighth with a similar punch, Referee Blacken gave the Detroit boy the decision. Both boxers punished each other severely with body punches in every round.

Ted Gravelin, local boy who appeared in the second four-round preliminary, won a popular decision over "Bug" Clute of Boyne City. Although the East-ender was conceded to be the better ring general, Ted was the most aggressive, landing blows more frequently than Clute. The two boys put up a nice scrap and will be popular attractions in any Northern Michigan ring in the future.

In the curatin-raiser, Sallor Woods and George Higman, both local boys, fought to a draw in four rounds. Wood could have easily been given the decision. He was in better condition and had George tired before the end of the second round.

Charlevoix fans were well represented in the small crowd attending the show.

NEW SUMMER COTTAGE UNDER CONSTRUCTION

Located on Rassier Property on Mercer Boulevard.

The 1929 resort season will see the addition of one, and possibly two new summer residences on the North Side.

The foundation has been laid and construction well under way on a 12-room, two-story dwelling for Theodore Rassier of St. Louis, Mo., on his property fronting Mercer Boulevard north of The Inn.

The new home adjoins that of the pretentious cottage built by Mr. Rassier in 1901, two years after his first summer in Charlevoix. It is planned for one of his sons, and Mr. Rassier also divulged plans to build still a second cottage immediately north of his own home for another son. By this move he is plotting to have his family together in the summer at Charlevoix. Frank Glassford has the contract for

PROMINENT MERCHANT DIED AT PETOSKEY

James Votruba East Jordan Business Man for Many Years

James John Votruba passed away at the Lockwood Hospital, Petoskey, Tuesday night, September 11th, from a stroke of paralysis. He had been ill for some time and three weeks ago went to Petoskey, where he underwent an operation for gallstones.

Mr. Votruba has been identified with the business interests of East Jordan for some thirty-four years. He erected the business block in which he has conducted a general store some thirty years ago. In addition to his store building and stock, he owned and operated a 250 acre farm in Echo township. He was also at the time of his death director of the State Bank of East Jordan and a director of the East Jordan Canning Co.

James John Votruba was born in Jordan township, Antrim county, November 14th, 1871, his parents being John and Anna Votruba. On June 18, 1912, he was united in marriage to Eva Zeidler of Charlevoix. He leaves, besides the wife, three children—Francis, Anna and Agnes. Also a brother, Frank Votruba of Traverse City, and two sisters, Mrs. David Shepard and Mrs. Stephen Shepard of East Jordan.—Charlevoix County Herald.

FOOTBALL OPENER FRIDAY THIS WEEK

RED AND WHITE MEET ONAWAY ON SOUTH SIDE FIELD

Locals Will Present Formidable Team in Season Opener—Game at 3 O'clock

Followers of high school football teams in all Northern Michigan cities will be out to witness the opening games of their home elevens on Friday and Saturday of this week, which days will make the initial appearance of all teams of this region.

Critics will get their first start at Northern Michigan ball-toters in action. They will, as usual, have a basis for comparative strengths of squads representing the various schools after the opening contests.

Charlevoix's Red and White team opens the season here Friday afternoon with Onaway at the South Side field. Coach Kipke has been putting his men through strenuous practice sessions during the past two weeks, and a casual glance at the squad in scrimmage shows a far different outlook than they presented early last week. The boys have lost their awkwardness shown in early practice sessions, and now go through each play like a well oiled machine. They are a formidable looking bunch and will be no set-up for the best school of the region. The line has plenty of weight and the backfield and ends are fast. Practice the remaining days before the opener with Onaway will be confined to teaching the men new plays and trying them out on the scrubs in scrimmage. Coach Kipke has had two teams on the field each afternoon this week and has a likely looking bunch of material among the reserves.

Although the men who will start in the game Friday afternoon have not been fully decided upon, Coach Kipke will probably use the following line-up:

Dick Marshall, quarter; Ty Kirby, full; Bill Novak and E. Stroud, halves; Max Novak, center; Lloyd Swartout, right guard; Joe Arvilla or David Coulter, left guard; Tom ter or Charles Bleha, right tackle; Roy Kelderhouse, left tackle; Glen Ikens and Ronald Swanson, ends.

The game will be called at 3:00 o'clock. Let's get out and support the home team.

DID YOU EVER KNOW? WELL, HERE'S ANSWER

Fred Swanson says, "Sure, that's how it all began. It seems that near the end of the fortieth day the ark hit against the protruding top of an electric pole, which poked a hole in the bow. Noah sent his pet dog down and the dog, to stop the leak, poked his nose in the hole, which is the reason that dogs noses are always cold. But the dog soon became tired so Mrs. Noah went down and put her foot in the hole, which is the reason women always have cold feet. Finally, however, as the winter kept coming up a little, Noah himself went down and sat on the hole, which is the reason that men always stand with their back to a fire."

RAILROADS SHIFT SCHEDULE SUNDAY

FALL RUNS NOW INAUGURATED ON P. M. AND PENNSY

Efforts Are Under Way to Secure Mail From Indian River Week-day Mornings

Railroad passenger service shifted from summer to fall schedules last Sunday, September 16. Both the Pere Marquette and Pennsylvania lines have changed. However, that date does not mark the closing of the summer runs for both roads will continue their through runs throughout the month.

The Pere Marquette will make through runs to Chicago, with a car for Detroit out of here at 7:26 p. m. on Wednesday and Sundays to September 30. The Pennsylvania lines will run through trains on September 19, 21, and 26 for points south.

Pennsylvania Lines Shift

The Pennsylvania lines tentative schedule of trains affecting Petoskey for this fall and winter calls for two decided changes in the southbound schedule. The change in time is to be made Sunday night, September 16.

The morning southbound train will arrive in Petoskey at 8:15 from Mackinaw City. It is said this will compel such an early leaving time from the Straits that there will be no Michigan Central mail connection. However, the early start will provide a direct connection at Grand Rapids for Chicago. Passengers leaving there at 8:15 would reach Chicago that evening at 9:05. This would be a daily run.

The other southbound train would be scheduled there at 10:50 o'clock in the evening, daily except Saturdays. Both will carry mail. There will be no afternoon train south.

There will be little change in the northbound schedule from the usual one for fall. The morning train would arrive at 5:15 o'clock daily except Monday, and the afternoon train at 3:10 daily. Both would be mail trains.

Pere Marquette Run

The Pere Marquette fall schedule calls for a train south at 2:24 p. m., making one hour faster time than last year to Grand Rapids. It will carry a through sleeper from Traverse City for Chicago, arriving in the Windy City the following morning at 7. The train reaches Grand Rapids at 9:45. The incoming train will arrive at 4:24 o'clock. Both runs are daily except Sunday.

It is understood that efforts will be made to secure mail connections at Indian River for incoming mail, getting it here by automobile six days a week to connect with the Pere Marquette southbound run and in time for morning delivery to Petoskey city and rural route patrons. There is already a connection at Indian River for the heavy outgoing mail at night.

CHEBOYGAN ED. SAYS STATE IS "ALL WET"

Points Out Several Reasons Why Service to Island Is Wrong

(From Cheboygan Observer)

We believe that the state is "all wet" in its step to have the auto ferries pause long enough to stop at the private service the island has always enjoyed. The private boat service cannot exist in competition with a state service that gains its revenue through another established service and therefore will have to stop, de-service in the spring, fall and early winter, long after the state boats are laid up.

The state ferries were established to perform a distinctive service in bridging a water link between the upper and lower peninsulas of Michigan, and to press them into any other service that slows up the service they were intended to supply will not be popular or practical. If it is intended to stimulate business on the island, we believe it will have the opposite effect, because after people land at the state ferry dock on the island and then find it costs them more to get up town than it did to get across on the private ferry they are not going to leave the island in a satisfactory frame of mind. If it is intended as an entering wedge to get automobiles on the island again it will fail. From every angle it looks a bad piece of business sense.

Tom Chambers, former engineer, will take a vacation, going to Chicago and then return to Beaver Island.

Starting Monday of this week the mail boat James E. Sanford began her fall schedule. The boat will now leave St. James harbor each morning at 7 o'clock. It leaves Charlevoix on the return trip at 1:00 p. m., and will lay over each night at the island.

A letter received by Capt. John Chambers from Harry Bundy of Detroit, dated September 10th, shows in a measure the great interest the Detroit man has in Beaver Island. The letter reads in part: "I have ordered six muskrats shipped from Denver, Colorado, to Gus Milke, via express, to Charlevoix, care of your boat."

Mr. Bundy is largely responsible for the fine herd of deer now on Beaver Island and the above is just one of many ways he shows his great interest in his summer home.

A NEW VICTORY SIX
By DODGE BROTHERS

SMARTER, ROOMIER, MORE COMFORTABLE

With Famed Victory Performance Made Still More Brilliant

Striking improvements in beauty, comfort and roominess, set Dodge Brothers new Victory Six apart as a distinctive and impressively attractive motor car.

Seat dimensions are more generous; cushions deeper and more luxurious; doors higher and wider; and passenger vision materially increased.

New Victory lines sweep gracefully forward to a radiator that expresses new ruggedness and power; and improved fenders further accentuate the vigorous and arresting charm of Victory Six design.

Moreover, new Victory Six construction insures many unique and vital advantages.

The wide Victory chassis frame, flush with the body lines, provides a foundation for the body—which is directly mounted without sills. This remarkable construction lowers the all-important center of gravity, increases the head room, and eliminates the customary body overhang.

And as a consequence, the new Victory grips the road at the curves, travels rough pavement with incredible smoothness, obeys the four-wheel brakes instantly—yet with no discomfort to passengers. And provides a quality of pick-up, flexibility and fast flashing action that we urge you most earnestly to investigate.

POMONA GRANGE AT SOUTH ARM

AFTERNOON AND EVENING SESSIONS WERE HELD

Eighty-one Present With Two New Members—Next Meeting Will Be Held October 6.

Pomona Grange was held at South Arm Grange Hall on Saturday, Sept. 8th. Meeting was called to order by the Master J. E. Chew.

Opening Song—"O, Come, Come Away."

Committees were appointed. Song—"The Old Oaken Bucket."

The entire Grange read the 23rd Psalm.

Mr. Bramble, one of the executive committee of the State Grange being with us was called on at this time and spoke on the Grange tariff, income tax, and the equalization tax fund for schools, which was listened to very attentively, and we were all interested in his talk.

Mrs. Dora Stockman, State Grange lecturer next spoke on agriculture and taxation, topics of vital importance to the farmers, and was much appreciated.

Mrs. Bramble spoke very fittingly of the enjoyment and pleasure of being with us and commented on our beautiful country and scenery.

Roll Call—"Should Farmers take Saturday Afternoons Off?" Responded to by all, with various opinions.

Song—"The Flight of Ages," by Mrs. Alice Smatts.

Miss May L. Stewart gave us a most interesting talk on schools, also telling us the benefits to be derived from the equalization fund.

Discussion regarding having the elections in the fall instead of spring. During our session we learned of the serious accident which happened to T. E. Niles of Manclona, a telephone message was sent, and we were told some ribs were fractured and he lay in a most serious condition.

Evening Session

Song—"Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Song—"Onward Christian Soldiers."

A welcome, Mr. Starks.

Response, Mrs. James E. Secord.

Recitation—Fred Ranney.

A Pianologue—Mrs. J. E. Secord.

Recitation—Francis Ranney.

Arthur Secord, one of East Jordan's High School graduates, and a debater of noted repute, gave a one act play, "The Rising of the Moon."

This was well acted and greatly enjoyed.

Song—"Old Black Joe."

East Jordan's most famous artist, Mr. Al Warda, next presented the play, "Hulda's Proposal" which gave us no end of laughter and which everyone most heartily enjoyed.

He was assisted by Archie Murphy.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Secord are delegates from Pomona to attend the State Grange at Cadillac.

Several splendid resolutions were adopted during this session.

Everyone was extremely sorry to hear of Mrs. Irving Crawford's illness.

There were 81 in attendance and two new members. Pomona will meet on October 6th, the place to be announced later.

Many thanks to South Arm for a very enjoyable day.

Grange closed, the Chaplain invoking divine blessing.

Alice M. Smatts, Sec'y.

PLAN TO BOOST NORTHERN COW POPULATION

Bankers and Dairymen to Meet at Traverse City Fair

A method of appreciably increasing the cow population of Northern Michigan will be sought when Bankers, County Agents and Representatives of Breeders' Associations meet at Mother's Kitchen here for an evening dinner, Thursday, Sept. 20th, Region Day of the Northwestern Michigan Fair.

Invitations are being mailed by the Northern Creamery Company, which will be the host at the dinner, to 50 banks and 10 county agents. A committee arranging the dinner comprises W. M. Kellogg, cashier of the First National Bank; Chairman L. P. Kalahar, cashier of the Peoples Savings Bank; A. J. Haviland, Vice-Pres. of the Traverse City State Bank; and William A. McCool, President of the Northern Creamery.

Mr. McCool has for years been Traverse City's principal champion of a greater dairy industry, urging it as a means of bringing hundreds of thousands of dollars into this part of the State annually, wealth that is available for the farmers of the region if they will keep more cows and better cows.

Two speakers at the meeting will be A. C. Lytle of Gaylord, County Agent of Otsego County, and Norman E. Glasser, Cashier of the Gaylord State Bank. They will discuss a plan of loans that has enabled the farmers of the Otsego district to increase their herds steadily, and it is likely much of the discussion of the meeting will turn on financing. An insurance expert is being sought to talk on cow insurance. Representatives of the State Department of Agriculture will probably attend.

Mr. McCool and the local bankers hope that out of the meeting will grow a concerted effort to increase and improve the dairy herds of Northern Michigan and it is possible that the meeting will open a definite campaign.

All territory from the Straits to Ludington is included in the invitations.

The Antrim-Charlevoix Jersey Cattle Club and the Osceola-Lake Club will each bring at least 35 animals for the Jersey Parish Show held in connection with the Northwestern Michigan Fair, Sept. 17-21, Arnell Engstrom, secretary of the Fair Association expects. Jerseys from the two Clubs will compete with the Grand Traverse animals for the parish prizes, each of the three associations having held elimination shows.

The parish show takes the place of the usual Jersey cattle department at the Fair. Only animals that won first and second places in the elimination shows can enter.—Traverse Record-Eagle.

Insect Damages Red Clover Crop

Root Borers May Be Killed by Plowing and Harrowing in Summer.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The clover root borer, which does extensive damage to red clover wherever that crop is grown, is one of the principal factors limiting the life of a clover stand after the first-crop year, says the United States Department of Agriculture. The most noticeable damage is observed in the second-crop year, when the stand may be badly thinned, according to L. P. Rockwood, associate entomologist, in a new bulletin entitled "The Clover Root Borer," just issued by the department. By late summer, frequently the stand is practically killed out unless there has been abundant self-seeding.

Where Eggs Are Laid.

The eggs of the borer are laid in the walls of burrows in the clover roots beginning in April or May, and hatch in 17 to 30 days. The total development period of the insect is from 60 to 90 days or longer. It spends the entire winter in the roots of the clover where it matures. There is but one generation a year.

Clover root borers can be killed in large numbers by plowing up badly infested clover roots and harrowing them to the surface of the soil at any time between the middle of June and beginning of August. Many of the borer may be destroyed by plowing and harrowing the clover soon after the seed crop or second cutting of hay. A one-crop system of clover culture, together with a general practice of early fall plowing of clover sod, and, in exceptionally severe cases, summer plowing and harrowing, should free a community from appreciable damage by the borer in the first-crop year.

What Bulletin Contains.

Department Bulletin 1420-D, which contains a description of the clover root borer, its distribution, seasonal history, damage, natural enemies, control, and other relevant information, may be obtained free, as long as the supply lasts, upon application to the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Handling Alfalfa With Little Loss of Leaves

That the best system for handling alfalfa hay is to let it lie in the swath for a few hours and then cure it in the windrow, is a fact discovered by Professors T. A. Kieselbach and Arthur Anderson, of the Nebraska experiment station. Such a plan assures a favorable rate of curing and the least possible loss of the leaves.

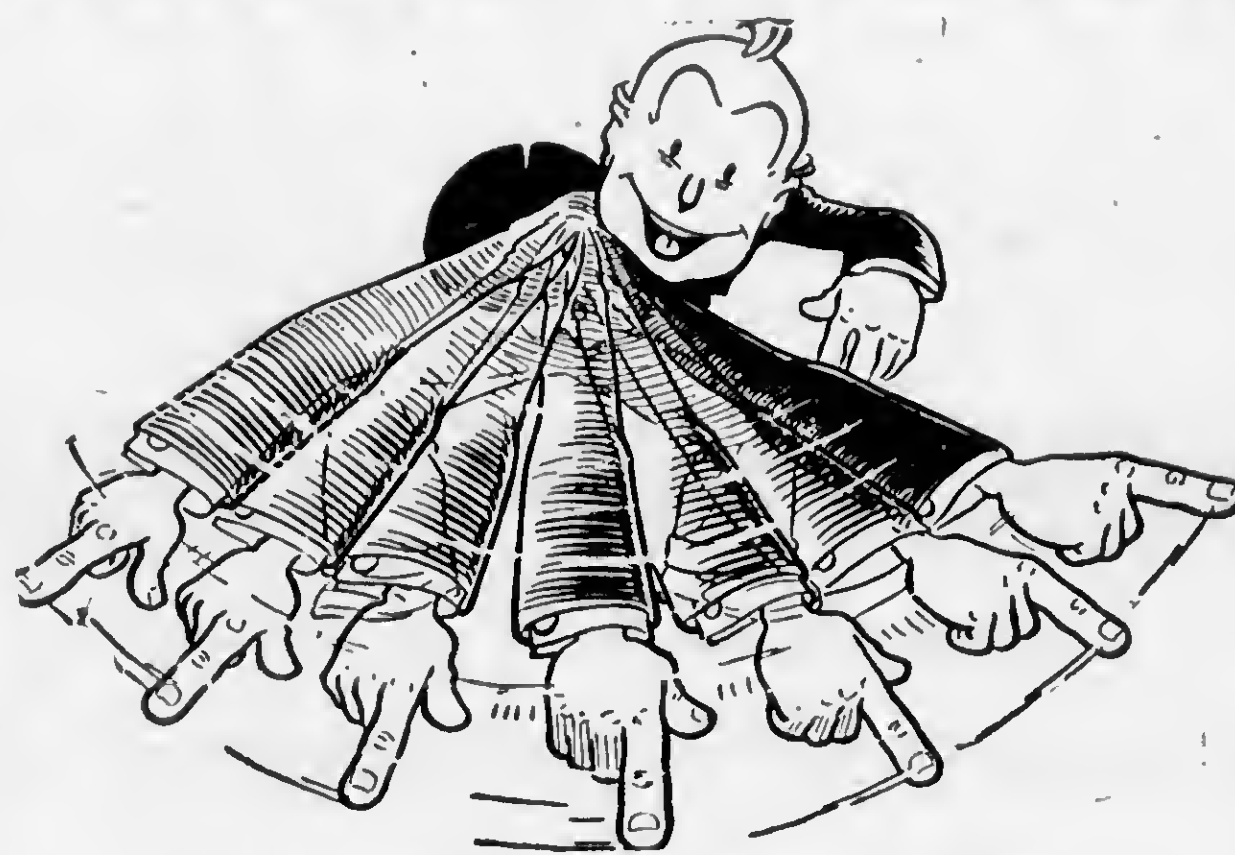

Experiments showed that alfalfa left in the swath until field cured, lost nearly 10 per cent in weight through the shattering of the leaves. When cured entirely in the windrow or with three to six hours initial swath curing, followed by windrowing, the loss in weight through leaf shattering was only from 1 to 2 per cent.

Tests made to determine how long it would take for alfalfa hay to be reduced to a moisture content of about 30 per cent, which is the upper limit in moisture content at which hay may be put in the stack or barn, brought out facts of interest. These tests showed that when the hay was left to dry in the swath it was ready for stacking in twenty-seven hours. When the hay was put into the windrow right after cutting, it required an average of sixty-five hours to become dry and when put into the cock after cutting 102 hours for drying were required.

Corn Less Susceptible to Injury by the Borer

In some instances certain varieties of field corn and of sweet corn have been found to be less susceptible to severe injury by the European corn borer than others, although no variety is immune. This apparent difference is usually involved to some extent with the time of planting and also with the rapidity or size of growth and the consequent period of maturity. The varieties of corn having large, heavy stalks seem able to withstand injury to a much greater extent than the slender varieties. This seems especially true of the robust, large, dent varieties, such as are grown widely in the corn belt states.

HOW DO YOU BUY?

When you enter a store to buy anything, how do you ask for it? Do you call for the articles by name, or do you generalize—a can of tomato soup; a bag of flour; an aluminum kettle; so many square yards of Linoleum; a meat grinder.

It is much better and far more satisfactory to specify the articles you want by name, for merchandise that is good enough to be sold by name is almost better in quality and usually no higher in price, than goods of uncertain lineage and less certain quality.

The advertising columns of this newspaper carry advertised names that are familiar to millions of people. Soap, flour, sugar, cereals, kitchen ware, rugs, Linoleum, automobiles, etc. They represent those articles that stand for the best in their respective classes of merchandise—quality all through.

Advertising keeps these names before you constantly. Advertising is a constant reminder that the articles you want are the same articles that you see advertised day after day—that justify their being by the service they render. And advertising brings you news—of inventions, discoveries, improvements that keep you up to date.

Tell the sales-clerk what you want by its advertised name. Then your money will purchase full value. It pays to read advertising and remember advertised names.

"WHISPERING" CAMPAIGNS

Already the political leaders of the nation are vicing their protests against a "whispering" campaign. They denounce such methods, knowing at the same time that much of it will continue until November.

Out in the rural districts of the nation there is no need of such admonition. We know our neighbors intimately, and the last thing in the world we would be guilty of, would be to ascribe something to them un-American.

Long after the campaign has passed into history we will continue dwelling each with the other, and far be it from us to utter words now in the heat of discussion that would come back later to mock us as gentlemen.

We are first of all neighbors and friends—as such we will confine ourselves strictly to the issues that should be discussed.

TARIFF FIRST ISSUE

The United States is essentially a tariff nation. Under a protective tariff we have taken first place in the world's progress, first place in the employment of labor at higher wages than that of any other country, first place in the distribution of those things that go to make up the sum total of human happiness.

As a nation we are more interested in the economic problem of keeping labor steadily employed, than we are in any social question raised for the purpose of befogging the present situation. The day of the full dinner pail has been succeeded by a demand for not merely enough to eat, but an opportunity to enjoy the better things of life, with a competency left when the end of the working trail has been reached.

The workingmen of the United States have a right to demand that much for themselves and their families. They have a right to insist on being protected from the products of cheap foreign labor which robs them of their chance of employment at good wages, they have a right to enjoy a higher standard of living conditions, which is only possible through a protective tariff as advocated and placed on the statute books by the Republican party. No other issue in the present campaign is as important.

ISN'T IT TRUE

We often wonder how many people make serious work out of recreation.

Take golf for instance. Many is the man who plays it as though his life or future were at stake. He takes a good score more pleasantly than he accepts good fortune. He takes defeat more keenly than a great loss in business. Many times when he plays poorly he loses control of himself, his temper and his language.

We cannot imagine that golf under such circumstances is either sport or recreation.

Take bridge for another example. Many people take the cards with spots on them as the most serious thing of their lives. They give to their game and its rules more real thought than they give to home or business. They are feverish as they win—critical as they lose. For most people cards cannot be recreation. Their doctors would not prescribe them.

So it is with many kinds of athletic sports. The ambition is to win. A coach, who may be the cleanest, best influence in a school, is no good unless he produces champions. The standing of a school or college may be based upon its athletic victories. The most impressive structure on many a campus is the stadium and the chief interest of many a citizen of the state in the university is the football team.

The lack of enthusiasm in the political campaign is complained of, but the politicians will produce plenty of it if allowed to spend money.

Friends of American shipping will have a friend in Hoover.

PAVE BETWEEN EASTPORT AND ELK RAPIDS

State Administrative Board Authorizes Work on U. S. 31

The following clipping was taken from the Grand Rapids Herald of Wednesday, September 12, and will be of very much interest to people of this community. Including the paving being done now between Traverse City and Elk Rapids and this paving to be done, insures a paved road practically all the way from Eastport to Traverse City.

"Lansing, Sept. 11—The state administrative board today authorized Highway Commissioner Rogers to pave 16 miles of gravel north of Elk Rapids as part of a connecting link between that city and Traverse City. Six miles on US 27 north of St. Johns and the gap west of that city on M 21 were also ordered paved."

BANK TOWNSHIP PIONEER DEAD

Mrs. A. W. Hartwell Died Friday, September 14th.

Mrs. A. W. Hartwell, one of Banks township's oldest pioneers, died on Friday morning, September 14th. Funeral services were held Monday from the residence, at 1:00 o'clock. Rev. Conklin conducted the services, interment in the Antrim cemetery.

Deceased was born in Ellenberg, N. Y., in the year 1846. She was married to A. W. Hartwell, December 19th, 1866. They moved to South Dakota in 1872, later locating at Atwood, where they have since lived. To this union were born two children, Henry and Ruth, both deceased.

Mrs. Hartwell was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, but due to ill health, was unable to do the Christian work she wanted to do. Surviving members of the family have the deepest sympathy of the entire community.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday service: 10:45 a. m.
Subject, "Reality."

Sunday school: 12:00 o'clock.

Wednesday service: 7:45 p. m.

Reading Room: Tuesdays and Saturdays, 3 to 5 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"Matter" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, September 16.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "For he had healed many; insomuch that they pressed upon him for to touch him, as many as had plagues. And unclean spirits, when they saw him; fell down before him, and cried, saying, Thou art the Son of God." (Mark 3:10-11.)

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Our Master treated error through Mind. He never enjoined obedience to the laws of nature, if by these are meant laws of matter, nor did he use drugs. There is a law of God applicable to healing, and it is a spiritual law instead of material." (p. 463.)

BAPTIST CHURCH

On account of the pastor's illness the pulpit was supplied last Sunday by Rev. Clarence Walker of Lexington, Ky. It was a rare treat, and thoroughly enjoyed by the entire congregation. He is pastor of a large church in the southland, but has to come to the health giving climate of northern Michigan for relief from hay fever and brings with him the gospel fervor of the Southern Baptists. He also preached at Eastport in the afternoon.

The pastor expects to be able to care for the services next Sunday at the usual hours, and invites those not identified elsewhere to worship at the Baptist church.

The annual business meeting of the church will be held on the evening of October 1st. This will be a very important meeting with reports of the year's work. All members are requested to plan for it.

HOW MANY PEOPLE MAKE MONEY-- faster than they can spend it? A few—but very few. Yet that is the basis on which many people seem to expect to succeed.

In other words, many people seem to feel that their "ship" is bound to come in with little effort on their part. But to accomplish a result, there is only one safe rule to follow. It is: "Spend less than you earn and save the difference." And why not begin to practice that rule now—and open a Savings Account today?

BUS LINE EXTENDED TO MACKINAW CITY

Fall Schedule Now in Effect Between Here and Petoskey

A new bus run has been inaugurated by the Charlevoix Bus Line, operated by H. R. Fowler, between Petoskey and Mackinaw City. The bus will leave Petoskey at 9:15 o'clock, central standard time, and reach the straits at 10:30. The bus remains there for an hour, leaving at 11:30 and arriving at Petoskey at 1:00 p. m.

The runs are so planned to make through connections both ways between Charlevoix, Petoskey and towns north as far as Mackinaw City.

The schedule of runs between Charlevoix and Petoskey also has been changed and the "three runs a day" plan is now in effect. The buses leave Charlevoix at 7 and 8:30 a. m. and 1:15 p. m. On the return trip they leave Petoskey at 8:20 o'clock in the morning, 1:07 and 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon, all central standard time.

MOURN THE DEATH OF HENRIETTA RUBINGH

Ellsworth Girl Died at Hospital Last Thursday Morning

The many friends of little Henrietta Rubingh will be shocked to learn of her sudden death at Charlevoix hospital early this morning (Thursday).

She had been slightly ill two days, with some nausea and vomiting, and slight pain, supposedly the mild epidemic of bowel trouble which many are having. The gravity of the case was immediately realized when seen by the doctor; consultations called and immediate operations done. The bowel had telescoped into itself and become so swollen the surgeons were unable to free; she never rallied.

Her grief-stricken parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mettus Rubingh who reside between Central Lake and Ellsworth, find some solace in the thought that the suddenness has at least spared her days of suffering, with certain death, otherwise. The whole community joins in mourning this unusually sweet and little womanly girl.—Ellsworth Tradesman.

ARE YOU PREPARED?

Fall and Winter invariably bring unusual and, sometimes unexpected, expenses to all of us. The wise man prepares for them through saving; the foolish man trusts to luck. If you have not done so, why don't you adopt the wise man's policy and accumulate a reserve so that when unexpected emergencies or opportunities come, you will be prepared. A dollar will start your account, and we will be glad to have it here.

SCHOOL NOTES

McGEACH SCHOOL NOTES
Bobbie Jones visited our school all day Friday.

Helen Shapton, age 4, is coming to school until snow flies.

We are glad to have Mrs. Holeccheck with us again this year as teacher.

School opened September 4, with 23 enrolled. We have 12 boys and 11 girls.

Mrs. Holeccheck is placing all of our best papers on the bulletin board.

We have most of our new books now, so we are working real hard already.

We have all the grades this year except the 8th. We have three 7th graders.

There is a lot of traffic on U. S. 31 now. We've seen a lot of resorters going by.

We all call Wayne Schneider our brave boy. He climbs to the top of the flag pole and hangs by one hand.

Our school house has been brightened by 12 flowering plants and numerous bouquets, donated by the pupils.

Mildred and Dorothy Feipel started to school here, but have only come one day. Perhaps this is due to the rainy weather.

The children are having a lot of fun during noon and recess riding bicycles. Especially Beth Heise and Mildred Ager, who are just learning to ride.

We are glad to have the five Schneider boys in our school again this year. Also Harrison Kidder, who makes his home with Orton Van Dusen.

Antonia Kovar does the sweeping this year. Carlton Ager is doing the rest of the janitor work. This will make his fourth year as our old reliable fire builder.

MURRY SCHOOL

School opened Monday, Sept. 10, with 39 enrolled.

The Chart Class comes to school for one half day.

The boys organized a Manual Training Class, called The Handy Andy Club.

The 8th grade are taking the Agriculture Project in which they will receive ten percent on state examination. They began on weeds.

Wednesday the girls organized a sewing club called the Busy Nine. They are to meet every Wednesday after school for one hour. The following officers were elected: Pres., Edith Speigle; sec., Addie Saunders; treas., Dorothy Wasagum.

A general meeting was held Thursday to re-organize. The following officers were elected: Pres., Joe Speigle; vice-president, Edith Speigle; sec., Addie Saunders; treas., Ralph Burnett; health officer, Ralph O'Dell; sheriff, Fletcher Johnson. The officers are to be elected every three months. The school colors, pink and white. The school flower, white rose.

COMMUNICATION

You are misinformed about the Republican County Convention over at Boyne City last Wednesday being harmonious. There was a big contest between two factions for control of the convention.

It took four ballots to elect a chairman and in the midst of the voting a credentials committee was appointed to be sure only certified delegates were voting. When Herman Meyers of Boyne Falls finally had a majority vote as chairmann that proved a majority of the delegates were in favor of a change in the personnel of the delegation to the state convention. A motion from the minority leader that the election be pronounced unanimous meant harmony from that time on.

For years about the same bunch has been elected to go down to the and don't know why anyone else wants to be there. They know the ropes, etc.

Everyone should be interested in these matters and prove themselves good citizens by exorcising the franchise intelligently and filling offices when asked to do so. Otherwise we, the people, lose out and let the professional politicians control.

The home being the foundation of this country, Herbert Hoover is the man to protect it. He knows how.

LEGAL NOTICES

Notice of Hearing
To the owners of all lands and premises abutting on either side of that part of West Lincoln Ave. lying between Bridge and State streets in the City of Charlevoix, and all other persons interested:

You are hereby notified that the construction of a curb and gutter on each side of that part of West Lincoln avenue lying between Bridge and State street in the City of Charlevoix petition therefor having been filed, has been declared by the council to be a necessary public improvement.

You are further notified that Monday, October 8th, 1928, at eight o'clock P. M. has been fixed by the council as the time when it would meet in the council rooms in said city for the purpose of hearing suggestions and objections relative to the construction of said curb and gutter at which time and place you and all other persons interested may appear and be heard. The plans and specifications and estimate of cost of construction of said curb and gutter may be inspected at my office. Dated September 19, 1928.

Keep youth longer!
cleanse the system of poisons

Two of the great enemies to youth and vitality are delayed elimination and intestinal poisons. To keep yourself free from both these common difficulties will help you to stay young.

With the use of Nujol you can do it too. For Nujol absorbs body poisons and carries them off, preventing their absorption by the body. Nujol also softens the waste matter and brings about normal evacuation. It is harmless; contains no drugs or medicine. It won't cause gas or griping pains, or affect the stomach or kidneys. Every corner druggist has Nujol. Make sure you get the genuine. Look for the Nujol bottle with the label on the back that you can read right through the bottle. Don't delay, get Nujol today.

VARIOUS PLANS TO STEAL TIME AND MONEY FROM THE UNWARY

Bankers Association Official Tells How Young People Are Fleeced in "Hokum Pokum" Movie Schemes—The Investor Loses Savings by Listening to Messrs. Slick and Smooth.

By W. R. MOREHOUSE
Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association

THE fabulous salaries paid stars of the first magnitude, and the publicity of the "movies" naturally create longing in the breasts of thousands of our young Americans to get into motion pictures. Because so many are ready to leave home, and risk everything on a fling at motion pictures, unscrupulous persons have devised ways of fleecing these ambitious young people out of their savings. "Hokum-pokum" schemes of various kinds are used with great success. Fake courses in the art of acting before the camera, fake courses on how to make-up, fake registration gags and screen tests, are among the schemes used to separate these thousands of young people from their cash. The pilgrimage to the motion pictures centers by thousands of novices usually ends disastrously for the pilgrims. Naturally a few are successful, but only a very, very few, the ninety and nine meeting with disappointment. The truth is, the number of persons who seek to "break into" the movies exceed the number of available positions by one hundred to one, while in the realm of popular stars it is thousands to one.

Don't be misled by the promises of promoters of hokum-pokum schemes that there is room for all, because this last year over 100,000 young people knocked at the door for admission and were turned away because there was no room on the inside for them. Consult your banker or address the National Better Business Bureau, New York City, for information or advice regarding any enterprise that seeks to gain possession of your money. They will give disinterested counsel before it is too late.

Also let every investor approached by either Mr. Slick or Mr. Smooth with a proposition yielding big dividends remember that such assurances always spell financial danger ahead. To every investor who is inexperienced in making investments, in other words perhaps just a little green and perhaps a little too easy, any offer coming from this source should be like a red flag warning to come to a complete stop.

Such investments as Mr. Slick or Mr. Smooth offer are too good to be true and therefore they are not true. Slick, Smooth and Company are not miracle workers although from their sales talk you would infer that they could make you rich as if by magic. No, they are not miracle workers—just slick and smooth.

Twenty-four "estates" representing 6 1/2 billions of dollars have been used as bait to interest a lot of savers and finally bleed them of their savings. The scheme is built around a supposed search for the heirs to certain phantom estates. At all costs these heirs must be found. Every person who can by any hook or crook, figure it out that he is in anyway related to the deceased are urged by some shady lawyer or genealogist to send in their names and their life history.

Soon they receive glad tidings telling them that their family tree can be traced back to the deceased, in fact, they are a direct descendant and an heir at law.

Like fake raffles everybody who responds to the search is found to be a winner—in other words an "heir." Here is where the rainbow chaser gets trimmed. Before his claim to the mythical thousands can be pressed so as to insure success a demand is made on him to advance attorney's fees and pay the expense of tracing through his genealogy.

Reports from New England states say everything is fine for the Republicans. This is the year that that report will be general.

Not surmising that he is being trepped and seeing only the big inheritance which he is led to believe he will soon receive, he drew the amount necessary from his savings account and sends it on, not knowing he is actually throwing it away. But he is, for like thousands and thousands of other rain-bow chasers, he parts with it for the last time.

So-called estate schemes which have produced thousands of "heirs" and at a heavy loss to them have been worked under the following names:

Baker	$ 250,000,000
Chadwick	37,000,000
Edwards	90,000,000
Ingraham	600,000,000
Hyde	360,000,000
Jennings	400,000,000
Hedgcs	200,000,000
Kern	250,000,000
Leak	100,000,000
Shepherd	175,000,000
Trotter	200,000,000
Chase	1,300,000,000
Townley	500,000,000
Webber	50,000,000
Wells	20,000,000

Again, before parting with your money in any scheme you do not know all about consult your banker or a Better Business Bureau.

No better team was ever hooked to a farm wagon than Hoover and Curtis. They know how to take hold and they pull together.

THE BRIDAL RUG OF MARTIN OF SUSSACH

(© by D. J. Walsh.)

PEGGY ELLIOTT changed the figures on her little desk calendar, her eyes sparkling with happiness. Today was the third anniversary of her marriage. Bob was sure to remember it with an appropriate gift. She had hinted for a bracelet—one of those which seem to draw a line of fire about a snowy arm. The bracelet was the one thing she wanted and Bob always heeded her wishes.

Tomorrow her brother's wife gave a luncheon for a distinguished guest and Peggy was invited. She intended to wear her peach-colored frock which so enhanced her dark, vivid beauty. The bracelet should be her only ornament. She trusted that it would be. What happy affairs anniversaries were, especially third anniversaries. The first year was not the most difficult of married life, let who would say to the contrary, nor the second, but rather the third, when the rapture of love had steadied down into pleasant routine which nothing seemed likely to disturb. Peggy, looking forward eagerly to Bob's homecoming at 5:30, made careful preparations for an elaborate dinner. Chicken salad—one of the fine desserts he loved—a cup of rich coffee. Ah, three years had changed her from a careless, petted girl into a worthy housewife.

Her brother looked in at lunch time bringing her a gift of flowers—rosy carnations and fern.

"So it's your third anniversary, Peg? That's so. I'd forgotten. Wonder if Eloise and I will be as happy after three years as you and old Bob are?"

At last it was time for Bob. She had dressed carefully and looked more like a joyous sweetheart than a three-year wife. In her blue cotton frock embroidered by herself with black baskets full of racy tinted flowers. Dinner was ready to serve. Dick's flowers bloomed in the center of her best dolly, cheer, love, welcome radiated everywhere.

Bob's step—and Bob bursting in, scarcely tired by his long day. As he kissed Peggy a large parcel fell from under his arm to the floor.

"What's that?" Peggy asked.

"Open it and see."

She unrolled the parcel, wondering what she should find. Meanwhile Bob hung up coat and hat on the tree and watched her. Very carefully wrapped indeed, was the article, but at last it was revealed.

"A rug?"

"A little gift, dear, to commemorate this third anniversary of a joyful event."

Peggy stared at the rug. It was small, dull, to her quite ordinary looking. She knew nothing about rugs except that they were made to be trod upon and either did or did not harmonize with the rest of a room's furnishing. She had chosen her rugs carefully and she had all she needed. This little patch was ugly and unnecessary. Her disappointment was so great that tears started to her eyes. Bob saw and understood.

"You wanted something else?" he exclaimed and ended in a deep tone: "Of all the enigmas, women are the worst."

"And of all the blunderers men—" But Peggy got no further. Something was burning in the kitchen.

The dinner was spoiled, so was Bob's peace of mind and Peggy's happy expectation. She had wanted the bracelet keenly. Bob must have known that. She perceived that she had hurt his feelings and that made matters worse. Bob grew grim and silent; he uttered no word of explanation and Peggy realized that she could not undo what she had done.

Next day Dick's wife asked her if she received the bracelet she desired. Peggy shook her head.

"What did Bob give you?" Eloise persisted.

"A rug."

"Another rug?"

"A rug."

She was now confronted by a hitherto unsuspected fact. Bob once hurt did not heal readily. He cherished a grudge. She might have known that by his long upper lip, but she did not. There was a barrier to their happiness which seemed not likely to remove itself soon. Peggy felt uncomfortably that she had been in the wrong, but would not own it. She was stubborn, too. Yet as time passed on she saw that she must make the first overture. She thought long, then she placed the little rug before the threshold where Bob must see it when he entered. But he walked over, it with-out a word. Evidently he was resolved never to mention the thing again.

Peggy began to be unhappy. She cried when she was alone. After only three years their beautiful dream was ended. Fate had been only waiting for the rug or something like the rug to thrust them apart. It had been an instrument, that was all. So Peggy argued.

There came a black day. At 4:30 the telephone bell rang. She heard with a thrill of expectation Bob's voice:

"I'd like to bring somebody home to dinner, Peg—an old friend. Tom Messier. How about it?"

"Bring him right along!" she cried joyfully.

A guest, any kind of a guest, was welcome. There was too much strain of late in facing Bob alone. She made every preparation and when she heard approaching footsteps opened the door. Bob presented his friend, a thin, oldish-looking young man.

"Dinner will be ready in a moment," Peggy said, turning to go. But something Mr. Messier did made her pause. He was looking down at the threshold rug; he picked up, carried it to the light, examined it.

"Genuine, by Jove!" he ejaculated. "You've got a treasure here, Mrs. Elliott."

"Tom's a counsellor—batty about rugs," Bob said, with a slight laugh. "But I tell you, man, this is the real thing! Where did you get it?"

he demanded of Peggy.

"Bob got it," she answered.

"Did you know what you were getting, Bob?" asked Messier.

Bob shrugged his shoulders.

"You don't think I'd pay $100 for a bit of woven wool unless I did?" he retorted.

"A hundred dollars?" Peggy clasped her hands.

"I'll give you two—three—any price you name for it," retorted Messier.

"Leave it to Peg," Bob said.

"No!" Peggy's face flushed. "It's my anniversary gift. I don't care what it cost or what it is worth," her voice broke, "its—its intrinsic value—it's priceless—to me—because my husband gave it to me."

With a sigh Messier hung down the rug.

"All right then," he said. "But I shouldn't use it on the floor any more, Mrs. Elliott. I would place it on the wall."

Peggy picked up the rug and held it above the mantel. "There!" she exclaimed.

Messier stepped to her side, took a couple of clips from his pocket and fastened the rug to the wall.

"It Marthi could only see it now," he murmured.

"Marthi?" cried Peggy wondering.

Messier bowed his head.

"Marthi, daughter of Lallah, of the tribe of Sussach—see! This is her signature." He pointed to some queer looking characters woven into the design. "Doubtless this was the masterpiece of her career as a rug weaver, for it was her dowry rug when she became the bride of brave Nasr. Long and patiently she toiled," he was gazing at the rug, apparently reading it as if it were a scroll. "Long and faithfully she loved, earnest hard-working little Marthi. Never did she dream that some day her bridal rug would find its way across thousands and thousands of miles of land and water to a home in the new world of which she had only vaguely heard. Little did she dream that long years after she and her beloved Nasr both slept in their tombs the little rug should live on to perpetuate their love. May its presence here bring good fortune to this household—may it teach you to love as Marthi and Nasr of Sussach loved."

He turned to the window and gazed out dreamily. Behind his back Peggy hung herself into Bob's arms, lifting her tear-wet face for his kiss.

Civilization of Today

Dependent Upon Iron

Suppose that all the cotton plants in the world were wiped out by a sudden increase of the cotton boll-weevil or by some other deadly pest. About four-fifths of all the clothes worn by man are made of cotton, and for a time there would be no end of trouble. But substitutes would be found, and in a little while we should go on much as usual.

The same with gold. If the production of gold suddenly came to an end all values would be upset for a time, but the nations would get together and find a new standard—platinum, perhaps, or one of the other rare metals. Civilization would survive the loss.

It would be a different thing if iron went, for modern man depends upon iron and steel. He might get on with out railways, motor cars, and steel ships, but he could not do so without plows, spades, and these things out of the ancients made these things out of bronze, the supply of copper and tin is from the present population of the world. Without iron the world would soon be starving, and the whole of civilization as we know it would crumble to dust.

World's Most Famous Inventor

Chance plays a smaller part in life than some people think. The least beginning may lead to the greatest end. Every day, hour and minute, men are building, or neglecting to build. Events that they attribute to luck are nearly always due to some act, thought or purpose long since forgotten. Frequently, worthy beginnings of the least promising kind have led to consequences beyond the wildest hopes or dreams. There is only one really tragic figure in life, and that is the man who never makes a start.—American Magazine.

Smart Answer

Once upon a time a student took a chemistry exam. One of the questions was, "Give in detail the process for making mercuric bichloride." In answer to which the student wrote, "God made all things, even mercuric bichloride." Imagine his surprise when he received his corrected exam book and read, "God gets the credit. You don't. You fail."

MARTIN ELZINGA BADLY INJURED

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL FOLLOW-ING AUTO SMASH

Boys City Youth Jailed for Driving While Drunk—Jim Earl Taken for Furnishing Liquor

Martin Elzinga, local young man, is reported to be in a serious condition at the Charlevoix hospital from injuries received Tuesday night when a small roadster in which he was returning to Petoskey overturned on the Petoskey road just beyond the fill at the head of Susan lake.

Melvin Deadman of Boyne City, Elzinga's companion and driver of the machine, is in the county jail charged with driving while intoxicated. Jim Earl is also in jail, charged with furnishing the young men with home brew.

Elzinga and Deadman, who are both employed on the steamer J. B. John, were on their way back to Petoskey when the accident occurred. According to Deadman's story, he and another companion, John Seaton, had earlier been to Earl's restaurant, where they were furnished beer.

They later went Elzinga's where they had more beer, and from there he and Elzinga started for Petoskey. When rounding the curve just this side of the Struthers farm their car overturned and skidded several feet on its side. Deadman, who was driving, was unhurt. Elzinga was badly cut on his face and head and is believed to be badly injured about his chest. He was unconscious when picked up by a passing motorist and taken to the hospital, and remained in that state until early this morning. His condition is still serious. The machine, a borrowed one, was badly wrecked.

Sheriff Vaughn was notified after the wreck. Questioning Deadman, he learned Earl had furnished him beer, and later officers searched Earl's place and found a crock of home brew.

Earl was arrested and placed in jail. At his hearing Wednesday afternoon, he waived examination and is being held over to the next term of court under $1000 bonds. Jim has already served time for violation of the prohibition law.

INDIAN LADS ARE GIVEN REFORMATORY TERMS

Sentenced Tuesday to Serve From 1 to 15 Years at Ionia

Issue Denemy and Alvin John, local Indians taken for auto stealing a short time ago, were sentenced by Judge Parm C. Gilbert Tuesday afternoon to serve from one to fifteen years at Ionia, with a recommendation of two years.

The crime for which the boys were sentenced was one of a series of escapades in which the youths were involved during the past two years. They had caused officers no end of trouble. Bill Boak, held on a wet charge was placed on probation and ordered to pay costs of $50 on or before the February term of court.

PROMINENT GRANGE MAN DIED AT SUMMER HOME

Stricken With Heart Trouble Last Wednesday at Bay View

C. M. Freeman, secretary of the National Grange for more than a quarter century and one of the well-known summer cottagers in Bay View for about twenty years, died unexpectedly at 1 o'clock last Wednesday morning at his cottage on Terrace avenue. He was 66 years of age. Mr. Freeman was taken ill of heart trouble Tuesday. He had been enjoying his usual summer stay there and during the early part of the week had attended the doings of the annual conventions of the Department of Michigan American Legion and Auxiliary.

The secretary had served faithfully and well, being returned to the national office year after year to devote his entire time to the welfare of this farm organization. Each summer he found time for a vacation in Petoskey and Bay View where he had come to be loved much as in the Grange.

Elimination Series to Determine Champs of This Region

Last week following the second American Legion boxing show, B. B. Stout, matchmaker, announced plans to stage a Northern Michigan amateur boxing tournament at Charlevoix, under the auspices of the American Legion.

It is planned to divide the men in classes according to their weight, draw for opponents and stage elimination contests until the region champion is crowned. The bouts will be held at the Majestic Theatre, Charlevoix, according to present plans.

Those wishing to enter are requested to write B. B. Stout, Charlevoix, before October 1. It is probable outside main bout performers may be obtained for some of the shows.

Without doubt the tournament will be popular with Northern Michigan boxing fans and should draw large crowds from the entire region.

Special Meeting For Women in Boys City, September 26th
A big meeting will be held in Boys City on Wednesday afternoon, September 26, 2:00 fast time in the library, for the purpose of organizing the extension work in the nutrition project, which is again available to the ladies of Charlevoix county.

Last winter some twelve groups, consisting of over 100 ladies, scattered in all sections of the county, were enrolled in a nutrition project and were very enthusiastic with the benefits secured from this phase of extension work and indications and interest point to another very successful project.

A special invitation is extended to the past leaders of groups, to the individual members of groups and to all ladies who are interested in having their localities organized in order to receive the work.

Miss Rosalind Jewett, assistant state home demonstration leader, will be present and discuss the project to be carried on this winter fully and assist in the organization. This is a rare treat for the women of Charlevoix county and a large audience should be present to meet Miss Jewett and to hear the splendid message she will have to offer.

This year the home economic extension division is carrying projects of interest to the rural women in 48 counties in the southern peninsula and is bringing the college direct to the agricultural localities.

Don't forget to plan right now to be at the library in Boys City on Wednesday afternoon, September 26, and bring your friends with you.

OLIVE STOCK

COST OF MAKING
PORK VARIABLE

Variations from one farm to another in the cost of producing pork are far wider than the market fluctuations in the prices which farmers get for their pork when they send the fattened hogs to market. It is shown by figures gathered from Illinois farms during the past three years by the farm management of the college of agriculture, University of Illinois.

It was found, for instance, that an average 40 farms in the same general community, the 1925 costs of producing pork ranged from $6.02 on one farm to $16.97 a hundred pounds on another farm. "Naturally, such differences as these make most of the difference between profit and loss in the hog enterprise, it is pointed out by H. H. Wilcox, of the department.

"Of course some farms may have an unusually bad year now and then, but the four farms having the lowest cost of production in 1925 kept their costs down to $6.85 a hundred, while the four farms having the highest costs produced their pork at $10.02 a hundred.

"It was found that one of the important reasons for differences in costs was in the number of pigs weaned by each sow. Low cost farms weaned 7.4 pigs to the litter, while the farms having the high costs weaned only 5.2 pigs on the average. This means that the farms having high costs carried along and fed for several months some sows that did not produce any pigs, and other sows that weaned only a few.

"All the blame, however, cannot be placed upon the sow, for it was found that the methods of handling and feeding her during gestation and the sanitary conditions under which she farrowed and suckled her pigs greatly influenced the size of her litter. Care at the time of farrowing was also found to show itself in the number of pigs saved.

"Death losses after farrowing pulled down the size of the litter and was one of the important factors in making costs of production high. On these Illinois farms 28 per cent of the pigs were lost before weaning. Yet when one knows that this loss of 28 per cent is about 5 per cent below the average in the area, the influence of sanitation and care of young pigs upon costs is at once apparent. Individual farms practicing careful sanitary measures saved more than 90 per cent of their pigs. The four farms in the low cost group in 1925 with costs of $6.85 a hundred saved 10 per cent more pigs than the four farms having a cost of $10.02."

Trim Lambs Bring Top Price at All Markets

According to statistics gathered from stockyards companies and packers, it is a fact that farmers are paid approximately a dollar more for each docked and castrated lamb they put on the market than they receive for their untrimmed lambs. R. S. Matheson, lamb buyer for a packing company, recently stated that ewe and wether lambs at 14 cents are better bought than mixed lots of equal quality at 13 cents.

The job of docking and castrating is a simple one, and it is easily mastered with a small amount of practice. Farm boys quickly acquire the knack of doing the job in clean-cut fashion, if they are given proper instruction.

The fact that such a large proportion of all lambs received at central markets each year consists of untrimmed lambs is due purely to neglect. If five minutes' work on a lamb will add a dollar to its market value, time spent in this work will be paid for at a very high rate. Docking and castrating the lambs should be an annual job on all farms where sheep are raised, and one which is always done with painstaking care.

P. M. WILL OFFER LOW RATE TICKETS

To Chicago, Detroit, Toledo and Intermediate Points

The Pere Marquette railroad has announced another $10 round trip excursion the same as the past two years. Charlevoix people will have an opportunity to visit their friends and relatives in southern Michigan, Toledo and Chicago at greatly reduced prices.

The special excursion train will run south from Petoskey, leaving Charlevoix Tuesday, October 2nd, at 2:24 p. m. Tickets for Detroit, Toledo and Chicago will be good for fifteen days, with stop-over privileges being allowed at intermediate points beyond Grand Rapids at which special train stops, such as Lansing, Howell, Holland, Benton Harbor, St. Joe, Michigan City, etc.

These excursions have been heavily patronized for the past two years so those intending to take advantage of this opportunity should make reservations as early as possible to enable railroad officials to provide adequate equipment.

Homing pigeons and mourning doves—Unlawful to hunt or kill at any time.

Chinese ring-necked pheasant—Open season, October 25th to 31st, inclusive in Lower Peninsula, season closed in Upper Peninsula, 2 males in one day, 4 males in possession, 4 male in season. Unlawful to have in possession more than 10 days after season closes.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church entertained the teachers and new pupils of the local public schools at the church parlors, Tuesday evening. A program of games and music by members of the League was followed by light refreshments.

It will pay you by seeing our line of Mens and Boys Fall wear before buying.—Benj. Brown.—Adv. 39t2.

THIS FISH STORY IS NOT A "FISH" STORY

FORMER RESIDENT SENT PROOF ALONG TO BACK HIM

Eastern Brook Trout Caught in Oregon Lacks Two Pounds of World's Record

The face wearing that "million dollar smile" in the photograph accompanying this article needs no identification to a large majority of Charlevoix's residents, but for those not acquainted with the gentleman in question, we will say it is Ed. Chaloupka, former local resident now living in Oregon.

Furthermore, the smile needs no explanation either, for one look at the photograph tells the reason. He's still up to his old tricks. Ed. who knew all the fish in Charlevoix county by name, is holding a 12-pound Eastern brook trout caught in Canyon Creek near Camp Sherman, Oregon, where he has his summer home. In a letter written to L. S. See of this city, accompanied by the photograph, Ed. says: "Eastern brook trout caught in Canyon Creek, weight 12 pounds. The world's record for an Eastern brook is 14 pounds. This is the largest I ever saw. It sure was some fish and put up an awful scrap. It took me about 40 minutes to land it.—Ed.

Ed. Chaloupka

When Ed. was a resident of Charlevoix his favorite hobby was fishing. When we say fishing, we mean just that, for Ed. was at it all seasons of the year. He was one of those fellows who could catch fish where no one else could, whether it be winter or summer, brook trout, lake trout, perch or whittout. We sure envy him being out there where "fish are fish" and no foolin.

LOCAL GIRL MARRIED RECENTLY AT LANSING

Miss Ellen Yemmans Became Bride of Lawrence Prevost

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Yemmans have announced the marriage of their daughter, Ellen E., to Lawrence Prevost of Lansing, at which place the ceremony was performed September 13th.

The former Miss Yemmans is very well known locally, having a wide circle of friends who will extend their congratulations to the newly-wed. She is a graduate of the Charlevoix high school, class of 1926, and for the past two seasons has been employed at the Edwards' greenhouse as bookkeeper.

Mr. and Mrs. Prevost will make their home in Lansing.

PRETTY FALL WEDDING ON SATURDAY

RELATIVES AND FRIENDS GATHERED FOR NUPTIAL AFFAIR

Miss Gladys Mae Livingston Became Bride of Carl A. Paulson, Cadillac Newspaper Man

A pretty autumn wedding was solemnized Saturday afternoon, September 22nd, at four o'clock when Gladys Mae Livingston, daughter of Mrs. Anna McGeagh, became the bride of Carl A. Paulson at the McGeagh home on Dixon avenue.

The spacious living rooms were a profusion of Autumn flowers and ferns as the bride, dressed in apricot chiffon over white satin and carrying a shower bouquet of roses and sweet peas, took her place beside the groom in front of an altar of gladiolas and ferns.

Following the wedding march, played by Franklin Ross, the ceremony was performed in the presence of relatives and intimate friends of the family, by Rev. B. G. Mattson of the local Congregational church.

Other members of the wedding party were, Miss Marjory Myers, bridesmaid, who wore a gown of green chiffon and white satin; Norman Broderick, best man; ring bearer and flower girl, Mary Jane and Betty Jenn Ross, dressed in pink chiffon over green satin.

At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride at which the following out-of-town guests were present: Mrs. A. H. Toronga, Cadillac; Mr. and Mrs. R. D. McGeagh and son of Flint; Mr. and Mrs. Charles McGeagh of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Ross of Sault Ste. Marie; Mrs. Andrew Paulson and son, Arthur, of Cadillac; Mrs. P. Hansen and Mr. and Mrs. Everett List of Grand Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Semo and Walker Paulson of Cadillac.

The bride is a popular Charlevoix girl having graduated from the local high school, later attending normal college at Ypsilanti. She has been instructor in the public schools at Cadillac since that time.

The groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Paulson of Cadillac, is well known in that city as manager of the Cadillac Evening News.

Mr. and Mrs. Paulson will be at home to their friends in Cadillac following a wedding trip to Niagara Falls.

CHEBOYGAN ASSOCIATION AT CENTRAL LAKE

Speakers on State, National and Foreign Work on Program

The annual meeting of the Cheboygan Association of Congregational churches and ministers will be held with the Congregational church at Central Lake next Tuesday and Wednesday, October 2 and 3.

The Charlevoix church expects to be largely represented. A team of five speakers, representing the state, national and world-wide work, will be on the program, including Rev. J. W. Sutherland, state superintendent; Rev. C. H. Harger, state missionary, Rev. Carl Stackman, state director religious education; Rev. Leo L. Cady, national home extension boards and Rev. Harvey Stick from South Africa, the foreign work.

ANCHORS NEEDED FOR LIGHTER AUTOMOBILES

Cannot Be Parked With Safety on Severe Windy Days

Propelled by the high wind last Saturday, two Ford cars found their way driverless into the waters of Round lake, much to the consternation of their owners. It is reported that on other such days, owners of light cars will furnish anchors for their machines or ask the city for suitable mooring places.

The first, a sedan owned by the Charlevoix Coal & Ice Co., blew from its parking place near the Sinclair Oil Station. Without guidance of any kind, the machine rolled down over the embankment, through the city park, over two more terraces and into Round lake at the foot of Antrim street. Miraculously it remained right side up and landed in the water on all four wheels. Several hours work was necessary to remove it from the water.

Another Ford, a touring car owned by Fred Christensen, was left in front of the Charlevoix Lumber Co. office. When Fred returned after completing his business transactions at the office, the car was not in sight. After considerable search it was finally located in the channel.

Eugene McRoberts put in a busy day removing the two machines to dry land.

THREE LOCAL MEN IN AUTO ACCIDENT

JOE LEMIEUR STILL INCRITICAL CONDITION AT HOSPITAL

Richard Shapton and Hime Pearl Badly Cut—Accident Occurred Sunday Near Cheboygan

Joe Lemieur is in a serious condition at the Charlevoix hospital, following injuries received in an automobile accident near Cheboygan last Sunday. Richard Shapton, driver, and Hime Pearl, owner of the wrecked machine, are recovering from deep cuts from flying glass.

The party left Charlevoix Sunday for the upper peninsula on a fishing trip. They were a few minutes behind in catching the ferry at the straits, and, having considerable time on their hands, decided to drive to Cheboygan while waiting for the next boat. While rounding a curve near Wallenger corners, the car went into the ditch and was badly wrecked.

A Cheboygan physician was notified of the accident and hurried out immediately with an ambulance. Lemieur was found unconscious and he was rushed to Cheboygan. Shapton, who was badly cut on the arm and hand, and Pearl, who was also cut and suffered from shock, were given medical treatment in a nearby farm house and later returned to Charlevoix.

Lemieur was unconscious from the time of the accident, which occurred at about 3 o'clock, until 11 o'clock that night. He was given medical treatment at the Hubacker home in Cheboygan, and Monday evening was brought to the hospital here. He is completely paralyzed from his neck down, and chances for his recovery very remote.

PETOSKEY ELKS ENTERTAIN GRAND EXALTED RULER

Wednesday evening, September 26th, Petoskey Elks No. 690, D. D.

U. E. had the honor of entertaining the Grand Exalted Ruler of Elks, Murray Hulbert, of New York. He was accompanied by Grand Trustee John K. Burch of Grand Rapids, and the District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler of Michigan.

This was the first time any lodge of Northern Michigan has been so honored and a large delegation was out to greet the distinguished guests. A banquet was served at the temple and speeches enjoyed.

Mrs. Chas. Hamlin Entertained

Mrs. Charles Hamlin entertained Monday evening at her home on the north side in honor of Mrs. Sam King. The evening was spent playing bridge. Mrs. P. R. Ross won first prize and Mrs. Glen Allen, second. Cards were followed by a delightful two-course lunch served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. William Ives.

CHARLEVOIX WON SEASON OPENER

SMOTHERED ONAWAY ELEVEN BY SCORE OF 58 TO 0

Game Featured By Brilliant Playing of Dick Marshall, Quarterback—Team Appears Strong

In a game marked by the brilliant playing of Dick Marshall, quarterback, Charlevoix's Red and White football eleven ran rough-shod over Onaway in the opening game of the season at the South Side field last Friday afternoon.

Within two minutes after the opening whistle sounded, this elusive wearer of the Red and White crossed Onaway's goal for Charlevoix's first counter and in the remainder of the game, featured in every touchdown garnered by the local eleven. The final score of 58 to 0 tells just how much the home team had the northerners outclassed.

Charlevoix scored three times in the first quarter, once in the second, three in the third and two in the final quarter.

The game opened with Onaway kicking to Charlevoix. Marshall caught the ball and returned it to center field. On the next two plays, both end runs, he advanced the ball to within the shadows of Onaway's goal. Kirby went through the line for about 8 yards and on the next play, a sweeping end run, Marshall carried the pigskin over the first touchdown. He failed to drop-kick for the extra point.

Charlevoix's next two touchdowns came in rapid succession. Marshall kicked to Onaway, who made about 8 yards in three plays and a pass and then fumbled. A criss-cross netted Charlevoix 5 yards, followed by a beautiful end run with Marshall carrying the ball close to Onaway's goal, from where Kirby, fullback, went over on a line plunge. Marshall passed to M. Novak for the extra point. The third touchdown followed soon after Charlevoix kicked to Onaway. A blocked punt attempt on the fourth down after the visitors had failed to gain, paved the way. The play was a beautiful pass, Marshall to Max Novak, who carried the ball over. A pass netted the extra point.

Charlevoix scored again early in the second quarter when Kirby intercepted on Onaway pass well into Charlevoix's territory. Marshall made 3 yards around right end, a pass to Lemieur failed, Lemieur made first down and after two successive line plunges Kirby went over. Marshall passed to Kkens for the extra point. This ended the scoring for the first half.

The second half opened with Charlevoix kicking to Onaway. They failed to gain, however, and punted on the fourth down. Right here a march down the field started which ended after five plays with a pass, Marshall to Stroud, fullback, who went over for a counter. Marshall also featured in this touchdown by another of his long end runs. A pass, Marshall to Kkens, netted the extra point. Dick scored again in the third quarter when he caught Onaway's punt in mid-field and ran 60 yards for a touchdown.

Bill Novak accounted for Charlevoix's first touchdown in the third quarter on a beautiful run through the center of the line. The next two counters, both made by Marshall, took the Red and White 60 yards and the other 40 yards.

With the exception of a short period near the end of the second half, Charlevoix's line was practically a stone wall which the lighter Onaway eleven could not pass. The game revealed that Coach Kipke has a splendid backfield combination in Marshall and Kirby, and it's a toss-up between Bill Novak, Lemieur and Stroud at half. The team played good football and made very few fumbles. What they will do against a heavier team is yet to be seen, but as we have said before, they are not set-up for the best in this region.

Entertained With Bridge

Mrs. Ralph Price entertained Wednesday and Thursday afternoons of this week, at her home in Ironton, with bridge luncheons. Charlevoix guests were augmented by friends from East Jordan on Wednesday afternoon; from Boyne City on Thursday.

The Rehokah lodge will hold a Bnke Sale at the Charlevoix Hardware Co. store on Saturday, September 29.—Adv. 39-11.

Watch Out—Demand Genuine QUAKER OATS

CONDITION OF MICHIGAN CROPS

MANY REPORTED TO BE ABOVE
TEN-YEAR AVERAGE

Excessive Rainy Seasons in Southeastern Counties Has Reduced Quality There

CORN—If no severe frosts occurs during September, the greater portion of Michigan's corn crop will come to maturity and be of good quality. Heavy rains did much damage in the East-Central district and there are small areas in southern districts where fields have been damaged by corn borers, dry weather, and other causes, but the total crop is expected to reach 49,063,000 bushels as compared with approximately 39,000,000 last year. While this is less than the average for the last ten years, the yield is much above that expected after the poor start in June.

SPRING WHEAT—The spring wheat crop in this state amounts to 90,000 bushels, or a yield of 18 bushels per acre, if the reported condition of 80 per cent in borne out by threshing returns later in the season.

OATS—Threshing returns indicated a smaller yield than expected one month ago. While there is ample straw for a bumper yield, the heads did not fill as well as in some other years, and smut was unusually prevalent. The crop is nearly as large as that of 1924 and about eight millions above the ten-year average. Considerable damage was done by heavy rains in the east-central counties and harvesting was made difficult. Some grain was beaten down so thoroughly that cutting with ordinary machinery was impossible. Outside of this area, very large yields are reported on some farms.

BARLEY—A large acreage and excellent yield gives Michigan its largest barley crop on record except that of 1918. The total production is estimated to be 7,803,000 bushels, or two and a half millions greater than last year's increase. There was some loss to this crop also in the East-Central district of heavy rains.

BUCKWHEAT—On the whole, the season has been favorable. The condition is reported at 81 per cent.

DODGE BROTHERS NEW SENIOR SIX

A GREAT CAR MADE GREATER STILL

Bigger, faster and in every detail finer, the New Senior Six represents the most impressive value ever produced by Dodge Brothers.

Its long, sweeping lines, artistic coachwork and luxurious appointments identify it as a car of exceptional style and distinction.

Moreover, Dodge Brothers have built into the New Senior that precision and dependability of construction you invariably associate with their name.

Performance of a new and vivid character is the result. In pick-up, acceleration, ease of operation and masterly utilization of power, the New Senior surpasses even the very high standards set by its brilliant predecessor.

Beautifully appointed interiors, longer hoodies, spacious and deeply tufted seats, striking color effects and complete fine car equipment, further emphasize the regal luxury of New Senior design.

We will be proud to show you this beautiful car, and when its remarkable performance, beauty and comfort are brought home to you by a demonstration on the highway, you will want it for your own.

INCREASING BURDENS OF LOCAL TAXATION

From time to time within the past few years we have publicly and specially directed attention to the fundamentally vital fact that while our Federal government has been mindful of the national welfare and productive prosperity angles of the national revenue needs, the state and municipal governments (with few exceptions) have merely gone on their way in their increasingly heavy expenditures.

In the veritable political Babel about the plight of American agriculture much has been heard about special forms of governmental subsidy relief and very little has been

CONSTITUTION WEEK

This is "Constitution Week" important to every American citizen. It is a good time to stop and take inventory of all the wonderful blessings that have come to the United States under this document, this great bill of rights of human liberty. It is less than a century and a half since its completion and adoption, yet we have progressed more since that time than the world has advanced in all of the centuries that had gone before. This is a week in which to renew our love and respect—a week in which to redetermine our allegiance.

Dorothy Mackaill, "Follies" Graduate Claimed by Films

Of all the graduates of Ziegfeld's "Follies," who have made good in the films, Dorothy Mackaill, First National featured player, is the one who has advanced most rapidly in her new profession and who is destined to be one of the bright luminaries of the industry in the future. She is co-featured with Jack Mulhall in another First National picture, "Waterfront," from a story by Will Chapell and Gertrude Orr, San Francisco ship news reporters, which will be the attraction at the Palace Theatre on Saturday and Sunday. It was directed by William A. Seiter, and is a farce comedy of the San Francisco waterfront and the varied nationalities and types of characters to be found there. In the cast are Frances Hamilton, Ben Hendricks, James Bradley, Sr., Bill Bailey and Pat Harmon.

"Show Girl," Year's Best Selling Novel Brought to Screen

"Show Girl," First National's picture of the sensational Broadway satire by J. P. McEvoy, comes to the Palace Theatre here starting Monday with Alice White in the title role. Alfred Santell, who is responsible for "The Patent Leather Kid," among recent First National successes, directed this much talked-of picture.

J. P. McEvoy has a fund of breezy humor and a sense of satire which always remains good-natured. His character smacks of Broadway as a sailor smacks of the sea. They live and breathe and have their being along the brilliant pathway of incandescents. They thrive in the heady atmosphere of night clubs and begin to live when the other half begins to sleep.

As "Dixie Dugan," Alice White brings to life on the screen the sophisticated little heroine who is a type distinctly Broadway.

Have You Bet With Yourself?

If you hide your money in magazines, insurance policies and other valuable papers, about the house, you are merely betting with yourself that they will never be lost, stolen, burned or otherwise destroyed.

So if you are positive that you will win your "bet", why not be a good idea to bring them in right now and place them in a Safe Deposit Box in our big, strong vault? The rent is less than 1¢ a day. And certainly their assured safety is worth far more than that.

STATE FERRIES

SET NEW MARK

76,500 Cars Carried This Season—
Shows Increase of Four Thousand

A report from Lansing contains the information that state ferries carried 76,500 automobiles across the Straits of Mackinac this season up to and including September 6th last. Last year in a like period the ferries transported 72,250 cars.

Ferry officials report that with three boats operating across the Straits this season, congestion at the docks has been reduced to a minimum. The season's peak, the report states, was reached August 22, when at certain hours of the day 200 cars were awaiting their turn on the St. Ignace dock. Delays were negligible, however, as compared with last year.

The ferry "Mackinac City" tied up September 10, leaving the "St. Ignace" and the new ferry, "Straits of Mackinac" to handle the traffic until the opening of the hunting season, at which time the services of all three boats again will be required. The two ferries now in service calls for simultaneous departures from St. Ignace and Mackinac City every hour and a half daily with the first trip from each terminal starting at 6 a. m., continuing through until 9:00 p. m. The revised schedule includes the recently inaugurated Mackinac Island service whereby ferries make daily stops at British Landing. Northbound ferries make four stops daily at the island, while southbound boats make three.

It believed that the new service will be of inestimable value to residents of the island both for their convenience in getting to and from the mainland and the benefits received by the additional tourists business brought to the scenic isle by the new means of transport.

EAST JORDAN FACTORY HAS CHANGED HANDS

Ionian Firm Purchased Plant Formerly Owned by Local Interests

The Ionian Produce Company of Ionian, last week purchased the Northern Dairy Products cheese factory, of East Jordan, from the estate of C. L. Bradley of Rogers City, and re-opened it Monday, September 24th.

The Ionian Produce Company operate a general wholesale warehouse and were heavy purchasers of the product of the East Jordan plant. They operate over a sales area of several counties in the central part of the state and now become sole distributors of the East Jordan factory product.

The East Jordan factory is one of the most modern equipped cheese factories in the state and has a daily capacity of 16,000 pounds of milk. It was erected by Mr. Loeb of Charlevoix, and a year ago was sold to the late Mr. Bradley of Rogers City. Harold Stueck has produced cheese that has met the highest approval of the trade, the names of the finest hotels in Chicago, Detroit, Grand Rapids, Cleveland and other cities throughout the state are included in the list of past customers.

In the past operations of the plant were confined to the manufacture of cheese only, but this will not be true in the future. A churn and pasteurizer together with kindred equipment for the manufacture of butter has been purchased and is being installed by the new owners. This makes it optional with the producer as to whether he wishes to sell his product in the shape of milk for cheese or separate it and retain the skimmed milk for stock feeding purposes. The addition of the department for the manufacture of butter will entail the erection at once of a refrigerator room and installation of a mechanical refrigeration system.

K. L. Beahn, formerly of Rogers City, will have charge of the plant, and Mr. Stueck will continue as formerly in his capacity of cheese maker.

COW TESTING ASSOCIATION MAKES ITS REPORT

Production of Herds Listed Following First Month of Year

The first month ended August 31st with 25 members, testing a total of 253 cows. The average production per cow was 695 lbs. of milk and 28 lbs. of butterfat for 31 days.

There were no exceptionally high herds but several individual cows had very high production. Eleven cows produced above 50 lbs. of butterfat and 15 cows above 1250 lbs. of milk in 31 days.

Sixteen of the 22 separators in use were tested to determine the amount of fat which might be lost in skim milk. The highest amount lost was 5-100 per cent which meant a loss of $10.04 for the month. This amount would make a very good payment on a new separator or repairs for the present one if it were possible to get it, but it has gone in the big trough.

The high herds in the three classes are as follows:—Small herd, Floyd Black first, with 734 lbs. of milk and 14.08 lbs. butterfat. James Nice second, with 621 lbs. milk and 29.05 lbs. butterfat. Medium herd, Guy Eppler first, with 763 lbs. milk and 31.85 lbs. butterfat. Murphy Bros. second, with 112 lbs. milk and 30.33 lbs. butterfat. Large herd, Orchard Bay Farm first, with 1001 lbs. milk and 33.72 lbs. butterfat. Wm. Withers second, with 95 lbs. milk and 32.85 lbs. butterfat.

The high cows in butterfat are as follows:—Age 2, Wm. Withers, 1st grade Holstein produced 1655 lbs. of milk and 59.6 lbs. butterfat. He also had second high two year old, a grade Holstein producing 1448 lbs. milk and 51.8 lbs. butterfat. Elmer Murray had 3rd high, two year old, a urebred Jersey with 794 lbs. milk and 45.3 lbs. butterfat.

Age 3, Orchard Bay Farm 1st P. B. Holstein, 1643 lbs. milk and 73.9 lbs. butterfat. P. Elmer Murray 2nd, G. Jersey, 1338 lbs. milk, 55.0 lbs. B. F. Guy Eppler 3rd, Grade Guernsey, 1283 lbs. milk, 47.5 lbs. B. F.

Age 4, Wm. Shepard, P. B. Holstein 1st, 1290 lbs. milk, 59.3 lbs. B. F. Orchard Bay Farm 2nd, P. B. Holstein, 1350 lbs. milk, 54.0 lbs. B. F. Wm. Withers 3rd, Grade Holstein 1314 lbs. milk, 43.4 lbs. B. F.

Age 5 and above, Orchard Bay Farm 1st, P. B. Holstein, 1662 lbs. of milk, 59.8 lbs. B. F. Orchard Bay also 2nd, P. B. Holstein, 1798 lbs. of milk, 59.3 lbs. B. F. Wm. Withers 3rd, a Grade Holstein with 1252 lbs. milk and 58.8 lbs. B. F.

ARCHIE BEDELL, Tester.

of normal as compared with 68 per cent one year ago. The estimated production, based on present indications, is 709,000 bushels.

FIELD BEANS—The excessive rains that prevailed early in August in the heart of the bean-growing area of Michigan, extending from Gratiot county east to Huron and Sanilac counties, added to the losses sustained in previous months and lowered the prospects very materially. The condition in the East-Central district is reported at only 35 per cent of normal, while in the South-Central district it is 78 per cent, and for the state as a whole, 57 per cent. This is equivalent to a crop of 4,959,000 bushels. Some acreage will be abandoned in the Thumb counties, and as many fields are very weedy the harvesting of the partial crop that is left there offers a serious problem to growers. Outside of this damaged area, prospects are good for an average yield or better.

POTATOES—The condition of the Michigan potato crop on September 1 was 80 per cent of normal. Nearly all sections have had sufficient moisture during the growing season and the late crop promises to be above the ten-year average. There are some thin and poor stands in various sections, and rains injured the crop seriously in some of the eastern counties, hence the state's yield will not be a bumper one. The forecast from the September 1 condition is a production of 35,942,000 bushels as compared with 23,120,000 bushels last year, the acreage as well as the yield being greater than in 1927.

SUGAR BEETS—Wet weather in several of the leading counties during much of the growing season has resulted in the low condition of 58 per cent of normal being reported on September 1. This is the lowest condition figure on record for this state, and reduces the crop prospect to 440,000 tons of beets. The 1927 crop amounted to 698,000 tons, and the ten-year average production is 948,000 tons.

TAME HAY—Notwithstanding the poor outlook in the spring, the favorable weather during the growing season has steadily improved the hay prospects until an estimate of 3,810,000 tons was forecasted on September 1. While this is 20 per cent under 1927 production it is equal to average for the last ten years. Much hay was damaged while being harvested because of frequent, heavy rains, especially in the eastern half of the state. Mixed clover and timothy is yielding an average of 1.35 tons per acre, and timothy alone, 1.23 tons.

CLOVER SEED—An inquiry relative to the condition resulted in a figure of 70 per cent of normal as compared with 75 per cent last year and 78 per cent, the ten-year-average. The acreage is likely to be very short, especially in southern districts.

FRUITS—The outlook declined during August from 46 to 41 per cent of a full apple crop. There was a plentiful supply of Duchesse and other early apples, but the fall crop is only fair and the winter crop is very light. It is estimated that 22 per cent of the total production this year is made up of summer, 32 per cent of fall, and 46 per cent of winter varieties. Baldwins are very scarce. Spies and Kings are light, but Greenings and Jonathans are somewhat better. Outside of well-sprayed commercial orchards, the greater part of the crop is wormy and scabby and will have little market value. The commercial crop is of good quality and the fruit is of good size. The commercial production is estimated at 981,000 barrels of which less than one-half is winter apples. The total crop is placed at 5,659,000 bushels.

The peach crop is very unevenly distributed, the crop in individual orchards ranging from few or none up to full crops. Berrien county suffered most from spring freezes and the percentage of a crop increases northward through the peach growing counties. The size and quality is good, and the production is estimated at 1,088,000 bushels as compared with 578,000 in 1927.

Pears are clean and of good size, indicating a better yield than expected early in the season. Present indications are for a production of 862,000 bushels, or 160,000 more than last year's.

The Michigan grape crop has declined in condition during August, some rot having developed, and the present outlook is for a yield of 73,800 tons. The 1927 crop was 51,700 tons.

The plum crop is estimated at 55 per cent of normal, as compared with a ten-year average of 56 per cent. Melons developed better than expected and 66 per cent of a crop is reported. The size of the melons is good, but the flavor is below normal.

United States
No marked changes in the estimates for any of the grain crops were apparent on September 1 in comparison with those of the previous month. The total grain crop of the United States this year will be one of the largest, if not the largest, on record. It is well distributed over the country, no section being decidedly over or under.

Severely Prospects. One of the outstanding features of the estimates is a potato crop amounting to 466,815,000 bushels, the largest on record. For growers to realize anything like a fair return on this crop, it will be necessary to exercise the greatest care in grading and distributing the shipments. In other years, when the production has been materially above the average, the price has generally declined throughout the marketing season. The outlook is good in all of the late crop states and the increased acreage means a large production in all sections. Some blight is reported in New York and New England, which, if it develops to serious proportions, may lower the production and quality for that region. The bean crop is over one million bushels less than last year, the estimates having been in the Great Northern territory and in Michigan during the past month. With very little carry-over, indications point to good prices for this season's crop if not marketed too rapidly.

Live Stock Notes

Not all balanced rations will yield equal profits.

Sheep can use profitably a lot of waste feed around the farm.

Cholera killed one and a half million hogs in the United States during the past year.

The farmer who buys live-stock hounds before growing feeds for them is putting the cart before the horse.

As a shop for young pigs, what about this food? Equal parts ground corn, ground oats, wheat bran and wheat middlings?

More pigs raised by each sow, fewer runts, cheaper raising and quicker market weights, and less infestation by round worms, are some of the main benefits derived last year by farmers who practiced sanitary swine production.

Corn by itself is about the most unsatisfactory feed known for fattening and growing hogs. When used in conjunction with concentrates, which in protein and mineral matter or in connection with green pastures, corn is about the best feed available.

Examine the Hens

Handle the flock. There is dependability about touch which does not belong to sight. Feeling the breast bone of a fowl is an index to her condition. Looking at her tells little of her body. A hen that is out of condition may puff her feathers like a broody hen. Wasting is common after a hard winter. Of the wasting diseases, tuberculosis comes first. Worms, lice and mites follow. The normal fowl in good health is in good flesh.

Good Chick Waterer

A good waterer for chicks can be made with a tomato can and saucer or a strup pall and pie tin. Punch holes about one inch from the upper edge of the can or pall—from six to eight holes are plenty. When ready to use fill can or pall with water, turn the saucer or pie tin over the top, hold tightly in place and invert. The water will come through the holes till the saucer or pan is full and as the chicks drink the dish will automatically be refilled.

More incubator chicks die from bowel trouble due to chilling than perhaps any other cause. Chicks with hen mothers are seldom affected, and thrive in severe weather, if they can run to their mother when cool.

Turkeys do better on free range than in confinement as it is their nature to roam.

Hens need plenty of water. During periods of heavy production they consume more water than during the winter. Eggs contain 70 per cent of water.

Three very fundamental things necessary for you to furnish your chicks to make chick raising highly successful are proper feeding, necessary warmth, and healthful sanitation.

Wide Concrete Roads!

Experience counts when roads must be paved for heavy traffic. Last year, the mileage of portland cement concrete pavements built on state highway systems of the United States was more than three times the mileage of all other pavements.

It is significant that the largest mileage of concrete roads was built by those states having the heaviest traffic, and the most experience in road building.

HOW DO YOU BUY?

When you enter a store to buy anything, how do you ask for it? Do you call for the articles by name, or do you generalize—a can of tomato soup; a bag of flour; an aluminum kettle; so many square yards of Linoleum; a meat grinder.

It is much better and far more satisfactory to specify the articles you want by name, for merchandise that is good enough to be sold by name is almost better in quality and usually no higher in price, than goods of uncertain lineage and less certain quality.

The advertising columns of this newspaper carry advertised names that are familiar to millions of people. Soap, flour, sugar, cereals, kitchen ware, rugs, Linoleum, automobiles, etc. They represent those articles that stand for the best in their respective classes of merchandise—quality all through.

Advertising keeps these names before you constantly. Advertising is a constant reminder that the articles you want are the same articles that you see advertised day after day—that justify their being by the service they render. And advertising brings you news—of inventions, discoveries, improvements that keep you up to date.

Tell the sales-clerk what you want by its advertised name. You'll get it—and your money will purchase full value. It pays to read advertising and remember advertised names.

OPENING NUMBER OF LYCEUM SERIES SOON

Attractive Entertainments Furnished By Redpath Bureau

The lyceum course chosen by the board of education and sponsored by the Charlevoix public school, which opens soon, is composed of a series of entertainments, musical concerts, and plays furnished by the Redpath Lyceum Bureau of Chicago. This is a nationally known bureau.

The purpose of the course is to bring outside talent to the citizens of Charlevoix during the fall and winter months. It aims to place the best talent before the pupils as well. The course does not bring any monetary returns to the management or the school, but it is hoped at least to pay for itself through the sale of season and single admission tickets. It has not paid for itself during the last two years, due to high rentals and other expenses.

This year all numbers will be held in the new auditorium, thus eliminating high rentals and making it possible to sell season tickets at a more reasonable rate. The price is going to be within the reach of all. The course for 1928-29 is made up of four high class numbers, among which are a nationally known impersonator, two musical concerts, and a play.

It is hoped that the citizens of Charlevoix will help to make this project successful by buying season tickets from the canvassers, who will call in a few days, or from the office at the high school.

Further details of the course will appear in next week's paper.

WORK IS PROGRESSING AT CHICKAWAGO CLUB

New Resort Development Will Rank High in Northern Michigan

Work on another resort which promises to be one of Michigan's finest is now in progress on the farms formerly owned by Sam Straw, located four miles south of Charlevoix. This plot of ground surrounds the beautiful Twin Lakes and was recently purchased for resort purposes, and is now under development by Seeley and Linton, Realtors, of Pontiac, Mich.

A club house of large dimensions and modern in every way is being built and will be equipped with a high tower which when completed will command a view of seven surrounding lakes.

The beach for bathing has been improved, new roads made, a small golf course planned, and arrangements are being made for a toboggan slide, which will be favored by the natural slope that is necessary for this popular winter sport.

Lots are being sold and cottages will be built. Membership in the club will be limited to 500 members and restricted to Gentiles of the Caucasian race.

The Chickawago Club will be a year round club with numerous attractions and winter sports that have become so popular in the north in recent years.

Those who enjoy skiing, tobogganing, sleighing, skating and ice-boating find our Michigan even more beautiful in winter than in summer.

In the development of this property, Mr. Straw has been engaged as overseer, and the fact that he has long been a resident there, has enabled him to offer many helpful suggestions that have been received by the company.

PETOSKEY VIOLATOR GIVEN PRISON TERM

Sentenced to Jackson for Second Liquor Law Violation

Six months to two years with the recommendation of one year was the sentence given by Judge Frank Shepherd in Emmet county circuit court to John Karamol, who pleaded guilty to his second violation of the prohibition laws. In passing sentence Judge Shepherd warned that a third conviction would mean a term of from seven to fifteen years in prison. He further warned Mr. Karamol to see to it that his employees did not violate the prohibition law in his absence for he, Karamol, would be held responsible for what goes on in his place of business during his absence. Pad locking of the building also was mentioned as another penalty should the officers have any more trouble over liquor law violations there.

John Chingwa and his wife, Sophia Chingwa, Resort township Indians, pleaded guilty to charges of making, keeping for sale, and selling intoxicating liquor, and their sentence was deferred to the next court term. Both signed waivers for search and seizure at their residence for a long period of time, making it possible for officers to walk in without formal complaint at any time and raid the place.

There will be a dance at Maple Grove Grange Hall, Friday evening, September 28. Everybody welcome. Adv. 3911.

NEW MAIL SERVICE IS TO HELP CHARLEVOIX

Star Route Formed Between Indian River and Petoskey

A newly arranged star mail route between Petoskey and Indian River and return was inaugurated last week, according to Postmaster C. J. Gray of the Petoskey postoffice.

The new schedule calls for the mail car to leave the Petoskey postoffice at 8:30 p. m. central standard time, arriving at Indian River at 9:45 o'clock with mail for all points south and east. The car will leave Indian River on the return trip at 6:45 a. m., arriving in Petoskey at 8 a. m.

The homeward trip will bring the mail from the east and from Detroit and points up to Indian River for Petoskey. Mail for points south on the Pere Marquette as far south as Belaire will be included in the Petoskey pouch. There also will be mail for points south on the Pennsylvania Lines.

This new service is made necessary by the earlier leaving time of the Pennsylvania Lines trains from Mackinaw City, where no mail connection is being made with the Michigan Central. The service will be daily, Dr. Gray announces.

"WATERFRONT," with Dorothy Mackaill and Jack Mulhall. Many a stormy wind will blow 'till you see another hit as big as "Waterfront." He had sailed the seven seas of romance, but a beautiful Tomboy scuttled his love-ship while he was on shore leave. Jolly Jack as a "Jolly Jack" and beautiful Dorothy as his gal. Extra—Pathe comedy, "Smith's Catalina Rowboat Race."

Monday and Tuesday, October 1 and 2

"SHOW GIRL," with Alice White. "Show Girl," year's best selling novel, made into a scintillating, vivid, vital and fervid film. "Show Girl" is one of any year's greatest pictures. When she dances, the floor smokes and they have to throw water on the orchestra. She burned right through Broadway's two fights; one musical love affairs; one kidnapping; two fights; one musical comedy; but she couldn't get under the skin of the only man she loved! Educational comedy, "Who's Lyin'."

Wednesday and Thursday, October 3 and 4

Karl Dane, George K. Arthur in "DETECTIVES," with Marceline Day. Lark? You'll notice stars for a change. Extra—Pathe News.

Friday, October 5

Ken Maynard in "CODE OF THE SCARLET," with his wonder horse, Tarzin. A thrill-a-minute drama of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police. EXTRA—Educational comedy, "Blazing Away."

BOYNE CITY STOPPED LOCAL ELEVEN

WON 31 TO 0 VICTORY SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Red and White Unable to Stop End Runs and Line Smashed of Heavier Opponents

Whatever hopes Charlevoix high school had of keeping a clean record on the gridiron this year went glimmering on the home field last Saturday afternoon when Boyne City reaped away with a 31 to 0 victory over the lighter and less experienced Red and White warriors.

Outweighed by a large margin in both the line and backfield, Charlevoix's offense just failed to function, and they were unable to stop the sweeping end runs and line smashes with which Boyne accomplished all her scoring. The local team may reap whatever satisfaction they feel justifiable in the fact that they held the heavier end and outfit scoreless in the final quarter after they had made two touchdowns in the first, one in the second and two in the third. They fought all the way through and made Boyne work for every point they made.

Boyne made her first touchdown early in the first quarter when Charlevoix lost the ball on downs after failing to gain from the kickoff. The counter came after a series of line smashes and end runs from near the center of the field. The second counter, also in the first quarter, followed when Charlevoix fumbled Boyne's kickoff and lost the ball. Two long end runs put the touchdown across.

Charlevoix's only real threat to score came late in the second quarter when Rouse, Boyne half, fumbled a punt deep in his own territory. A pass, Marshall to Ikens, netted a good gain and Kirby made it first down on a line plunge. Boyne's line tightened at this point, however, and Charlevoix lost the ball on downs. Boyne scored again near the middle of the second quarter and the half ended with the home team trailing 19 to 0. In the second half they scored twice in the third period. Van Hoesen and Rouse were the big ground gainers for Boyne City, while Marshall and Kirby carried the offense for the local eleven.

Charlevoix showed herself far superior to Boyne City as far as forward passing was concerned, completing several for good gains. In fact, the majority of their advances came by the aerial route. Boyne tried but two passes, both incomplete. A good punter, who could have kicked Charlevoix out of some bad situations, probably would have kept the score down considerably lower and might have resulted in touchdowns for the local team.

The Red and White eleven will now have a week to recover from bruises and injuries received in the Boyne City game before leaving to take on Mancelona there October 13.

The largest crowd of football fans attending a game on the home field in a number of years, witnessed the game last Saturday.

LECTURE COURSE SERIES DATES CHANGED

New Scheduled Will Be Announced in Near Future

Due to conflicts the dates published some time ago in the local papers had to be changed. All dates have not been determined as yet, but it is hoped that they will be ready for next week's papers.

The lyceum committee is arranging for four high class numbers to be offered at prices within the reach of all. The committee is planning for large crowds at low prices rather than a small crowd at high prices. It is hoped that the auditorium will be packed each occasion.

This year adult season tickets will be $1.50 while students and children's season tickets will be $1.00. Single admission tickets will be somewhat higher, depending on the cost of the number.

It is hoped that everyone will take advantage of the lower prices by purchasing their tickets from the canvassers when they call in a few days.

The Pythian Sisters will hold a rummage sale on Friday and Saturday, October 5 and 6, and a baked good sale on Saturday, October 6, in the Betty Ten Shop, Bridge street. —Adv. 401.

A good second-hand Florence heater for sale at Staley Bros. Hardware. —Adv. 401.

JOHN KOCH ACQUIRES ADDITIONAL PROPERTY

Jane Durance Plat on Petoskey Avenue Added to Holdings

John Koch, owner and operator of the Colonial Club, popular rendezvous of Charlevoix summer visitors, has purchased the Jane Durance property at the corner of Petoskey avenue and Meech street.

Mr. Koch's intentions are to follow out the same plan of landscaping on this plat as employed on his other holdings. This statement in itself is sufficient explanation, as the Colonial Club and surroundings are now one of the beauty spots of our city.

It is planned at the present time to move the Durance residence to the north end of the property and park the remainder. Gement sidewalks, curb and gutter will be laid and the plat parked.

GEORGE RINEHART BURIED WEDNESDAY

George Rinehart, for many years a Charlevoix resident, died at Traverse City Saturday at the age of 58. Services were held from the family home at 2 o'clock Wednesday with I. O. O. F. rites. Rev. John Lockyer officiating. Interment in Brookside.

HARDWARE GROUP WILL MEET HERE

DISTRICT GATHERING HOTEL CHARLEVOIX NEXT WEEK

Dealers and Clerks from Fourteen Northern Michigan Counties Expected Next Tuesday

Charlevoix will be host next week to a meeting of Northern Michigan hardware men, members of the Michigan Retail Hardware Association. Charles B. Gale of the Charlevoix Hardware Co., is chairman, and Clarence N. Wood of Wood Brothers' Hardware, vice-chairman of the local committee in charge of the affair.

The group to attend the meeting will be comprised of hardware dealers and their clerks from 14 northern Michigan counties, and it is expected at least 100 will attend. A banquet will be served next Tuesday evening at 7:00 o'clock in the dining room of the Hotel Charlevoix, this to be followed by the business session.

The object of the group meetings is to promote a closer fellowship among members, enable them to profit from a free discussion of local problems, to give each individual a clearer understanding of the constructive work being done by the association and to encourage them to take advantage of the various association services to the ultimate end that they may better serve their community.

The district included for the Charlevoix meeting is somewhat larger than is usually taken in. The purpose behind this move, we understand, was to give more dealers an opportunity to hear the speaker who will address the meeting. The association has secured Mr. Tolles of Chicago, a speaker of recognized ability to give the talk. He is only available for four meetings in the state, and for the reason the groups have been enlarged so that all would have a chance to hear him.

From the following counties are expected to attend the Charlevoix meeting: Emmet, Cheboygan, Presque Isle, Charlevoix, Antrim, Otsego, Montmorency, Alpena, Leelanau, Benzie, Grand Traverse, Kalkaska, Grafton, Alcona.

LICENSE NECESSARY TO TRAP MUSKRATS

Application Blanks May Be Obtained From Warden Fike

According to Henry Fike, game warden for Charlevoix county, a new ruling of the state conservation department makes it necessary this year that trappers desiring to take muskrat must have a special license to do so.

Application blanks may be obtained from Warden Fike. These, in turn must be sent to Lansing for a permit. The license fee is $1.00 for 20 traps and 10¢ each for all additional traps above that number. The season is open one month from November 15 to December 15. The new law will be rigidly enforced and all violators caught will be prosecuted.

PARK AVENUE EXTENSION NEEDED

WOULD BE OF INESTIMABLE BENEFIT TO CITY

Charlevoix Tax Payers Petition Mayor and Council to Act on Important Matter

A city improvement which warrants the full support of every Charlevoix citizen—that of extending Park avenue to the shores of Round lake—has been brought before the city council by a petition with the signature of nearly every local business man and numerous other city tax payers.

The petition and signers, as presented to the mayor and common council, we are publishing below: "To the Honorable, the Mayor and Common Council of the city of Charlevoix:

Gentlemen: The undersigned residents, property owners and tax payers in the city, desiring to encourage all proper improvements within the means of the city, respectfully request that you consider the desirability of extending Park avenue eastward to Round lake.

We believe that more parking space for automobiles would improve business on Bridge street, and that more docks on Round lake for small boats would help. The property could doubtless be acquired at a reasonable price and the street improvement would not be expensive.

Dated, September, 1928.

Respectfully,
B. A. Herman, Robert R. Bonthron, W. C. Bellinger, A. S. Mussallem, Anna K. Wood, H. R. Fowler, Adeline Bellinger, Ira Adams, Martin Block, Alonzo Powers, George Glados, H. S. Harsha, Albert Staley, Ernest Staley, E. VanAlsbury, W. E. Wilkins, Ed. Goldstick, Milton Block, John H. McCann, G. W. Lusk, F. H. Wilkinson, M. A. Levinson, R. G. Hammet, Clarence G. Bartlett, Robert Bridge, R. B. Armstrong, R. F. Sloan, H. W. Kirby, John Bronersky, Rudolph C. Korth, F. G. Hines, Clarence Wood, Chas. A. Hamlin, Benjamin Brown, Oakley J. Hammond, Frank Gouvier, E. J. Smith, Glenn S. See, John Hallett, W. E. Parmelee, Miles Olmstead, W. W. Mitchell, Chas. Heise, Monte Withers, J. J. Hallett, Sr., Chas. H. Lamphair, J. W. Foster, F. H. Myers, S. M. Rose, E. L. Dawson, H. A. Craig, L. P. Adams, Charles Novak."

The Courier heartily endorses the movement along with the signers of the above petition. It is imperative that Charlevoix, as a resort city, give the public access to her water front. It is our principal asset. No civic improvement has ever been the cause of more favorable comment than the acquiring and parking of the south portion on the east side of Bridge street. The extension of Park avenue would further beautify the lake front, not to speak of additional car parking space it would allow, docks it would provide for the rapidly increasing number of yachts visiting our harbor yearly, and many other reasons we could relate why it should be done.

It is our sincere hope that the city may see its way clear to make the improvement for the great benefit it will be to Charlevoix.

The M. E. ladies will serve a Wednesday, October 17, starting at 5:30 p. m., until all are served. —Adv. 4012.

AMENDMENTS FOR COMING ELECTION

THREE CHANGES UP TO VOTERS IN NOVEMBER

Compensation Question for Legislators up Again; Also Division of Representative Districts

The proposed amendment to Article V, Section 3, of the Constitution, to be submitted at the General Election November 6, 1928, is as follows:

Section 3. The house of representatives shall consist of not less than sixty-four nor more than one hundred members. Representatives shall be chosen for two years and by single districts, which shall contain as nearly as may be an equal number of inhabitants and shall consist of convenient and contiguous territory; but no township or city shall be divided in the formation of a representative district, except that when a city is composed of territory in more than one county, it may be divided at the county line or lines:

And provided, That in the case of cities hereafter organized or created or territory annexed to an existing city, the territory thereof shall remain in its present representative district until the next apportionment. When any township or city shall elect by general ticket the number of representatives to which it is entitled.

Each county, with such territory as may be attached thereto, shall be entitled to a separate representative when it has attained a population equal to a moiety of the ratio of representation. In every county entitled to more than one representative, the board of supervisors shall assemble at such time and place as shall be prescribed by law, divide the same into representative districts equal to the number of representatives to which such county is entitled by law, and shall cause to be filed in the offices of the secretary of state and clerk of such county a description of such representative districts, specifying the number of each district and population thereof according to the preceding enumeration."

This proposed amendment, if adopted, will provide that townships and cities shall not be divided in the formation of a representative district, except that when a city is composed of territory in more than one county, it may be divided at the county line or lines, and also that in case of cities hereafter organized or created territory annexed to an existing city, the territory thereof shall remain in its present representative district until the next apportionment.

ARTICLE XIII.

The proposed amendment to Article XIII of the Constitution, by adding a section to be known as section 5, is as follows:

"Section 5. In exercising the powers of eminent domain and in taking the fee of land and property that is needed for the acquiring, opening and widening of boulevards, streets and alleys, municipalities shall not be limited to the acquisition of the land to be covered by the proposed improvement, but may take such other land and property adjacent to the proposed improvement as may be appropriate to secure the greatest degree of public advantage from such improvement. After so much of the land and property has been appropriated for any such needed public purpose, the remainder may be sold or leased with or without such restrictions as may be appropriate to the improvement made. Bonds may be issued to supply the funds to pay in whole or in part for the property so appropriated, but such bonds shall be a lien only on the property so acquired and they shall not be included in any limitation of the bonded indebtedness of such municipality."

This proposed amendment, if adopted, will authorize municipalities in taking land that is needed for the acquiring, opening, and widening of boulevards, streets and alleys, to acquire land and property adjacent to the proposed improvement, in excess of the land to be covered by the same; to sell or lease the remainder thereof; and to issue bonds to pay for the property so appropriated without the same being included in any limitation of the bonded indebtedness of such municipality.

ARTICLE V.

The proposed amendment to Article V, Section 9, of the Constitution, is as follows: "Section 9. The compensation of the members of the legislature shall be three dollars per diem during the term for which they are elected, and they shall receive no further compensation than as specified in this section for service when the legislature is convened in extra session. Member. (Continued on page 4.)

STATE LAYS PLANS TO GATHER SPAWN

BOAT PLACED AT DISPOSAL OF CONSERVATION OFFICERS

Closed Season Ruling Will Be Closely Enforced—Illegal Netters Are Sought Out

A program aimed to insure strict observance of the closed season ruling on lake trout and bring spawn gathering during the open season the highest degree of success possible is being mapped out by the state department of conservation this fall.

The state's work will be made much easier and more effective this fall by their move in chartering the gns boat Rambler for use of conservation officers in their activities out of Charlevoix. The boat was taken over from its owners October 1st and is now being put in readiness for the work. Capt. Charles Allers has been engaged to pilot the craft and Henry Fike, county game warden, will be in charge of the state's activities in local and surrounding waters.

After the closed season on lake trout becomes effective, October 10th, the Rambler will be used to patrol all surrounding waters in search of violators. Strict attention is promised by the state in the matter of the time of opening the season, and net lifting equipment has been installed on the boat so that conservation officers may set and lift test nets to determine when the spawn is ripe and when to lift the ban. In other years it has been claimed by local fishermen that the state was lax in this respect and the opening of the season had been delayed in many instances until the trout run was well under way or practically over, thus depriving them of many thousands of dollars worth of fish which they could have taken had the season been opened at the proper time.

Conservation officials hope for, and should have the closest cooperation the amount of spawn gathered for the hatchery falls short, so will the number of fry planted the following spring be short. At the rote commercial species of fish are being taken from the great lakes, the industry is bound to suffer if propagation is not carried on. Plainly speaking, fish are the fishermen's bread and butter. He should cooperate with the state in bettering his own industry or otherwise he is "killing the goose that lays the golden egg."

Warden Fike is also keeping a close watch on Round lake for nets now that the annual run of perch is on. Whether true or not, reports have been current each year at this season of unscrupulous persons setting nets in Round lake. Whatever the situation may be, Warden Fike is making it his business to find out. It is also planned to drop Lake Charlevoix for nets.

AID TO DAIRYMEN IS BANKERS' AIM

THIRTEEN NORTHERN COUNTIES ORGANIZE IN PROJECT

Committees Named at Traverse City With Representatives in Each County—Meeting Soon

Within a short time the bankers of 13 Northern Michigan counties are expected to hold their own meetings to discuss pro and con and very thoroughly all conceivable plans for giving new life to the dairy industry. Then one banker from each county will go to a central meeting to report his county's conclusions and to aid in establishing a definite plan of action.

W. M. Kellogg, cashier of the First National bank, Traverse City, named the one banker from each county, thus completing the membership of a committee of which he was made the chairman at a dairy promotion banquet held in Traverse City last week.

Inevitably the first plan that the county meetings and the final meeting must consider is the one reported by Norman E. Glasser, cashier of the Gaylord State Savings Bank, at the banquet. For five years his bank, the only one in Otsego county, has been using a $5,000 annual fund to loan money to the Otsego farmers for the purchase of good dairy cattle at 5 percent interest, the farmers making monthly payments out of the earnings of the cattle. The 5 percent interest, 2 percent below the usual rate, may be objectional to some bankers, but that is the inducement that the Gaylord bank holds out to the farmer. Mr. Kellogg's 13 committee members will receive letters urging them to call their local meetings immediately. His appointments are:

Cheyboygan county—George D. Nimms, cashier of the State Savings bank, Cheboygan.

Lake county—R. J. Smith, cashier of the Lake County bank, Baldwin.

Emmet county—Cholmers Curtis, president of the First National bank, Petoskey.

Charlevoix county—Leo Smith, cashier of the First National bank, Boyne City.

Antrim county—R. C. Bennett, vice-president of the Albion bank.

Kalkaska county—L. O. Bloomer, vice-president of the State bank, Kalkaska.

Grand Traverse county—A. W. Rickard, director of the First National bank, Traverse City.

Leelanau county—G. S. Whitmore, president of the Leelanau County Savings bank, Suttons Bay.

Manistee county—W. J. Gregory, president of the Manistee County Savings bank, Manistee.

Wexford county—Jay J. Veldman, cashier of the Cadillac State bank.

Missaukee county—H. G. Breen, cashier of the Lake City State bank.

Mason county—M. S. Stowell, vice-president of the State Savings bank, Scottville.

Oscoda county—L. G. Hammond, cashier of the First National bank, Reed City.

CAUGHT UNDER HEAVY SLAB OF CONCRETE

C. S. Dodge, Cleaner and Presser, Has Narrow Escape

C. S. Dodge, cleaner and presser, escaped from a narrow escape from serious injury Monday forenoon, while making some alterations in the basement of the building he occupies.

Mr. Dodge, with other workmen, were removing a stretch of concrete wall, in preparation for the installation of a furnace and erection of a chimney. In some manner a huge block of concrete tipped, pinning Mr. Dodge underneath. He escaped however, with minor bruises and a big scare. Mr. Dodge says his occupation as years "pressing" for a good many years, but never before has he known what a real squeeze was. But he is right on the job, advertising for more business and cut prices.

TELEPHONE OPERATORS ENTERTAIN THEIR FRIENDS

In a Little Town

I like to live in a little town,
Where the trees meet over the street,
And you wave your hand and say
"Hello"
To everyone you meet.

I like to stop for a minute
Outside a grocery store
And hear the kindly gossip
Of the folks moving in next door.

For life is interwoven
With the friends you learn to know,
And you feel their joys and sorrows
As they daily come and go.

So I'm glad to live in a little town
And I care no more to roam
For every house in a little town

SCHOOL NOTES

McGEACH SCHOOL

Bobbie Jones visited school Tuesday afternoon.

The seventh grade are beginning the study of the parts of speech for grammar.

The boys have been catching snakes the past week to use for nature study.

Several of our plants are in blossom, and they help to make our room more cheerful.

The girls have been very busy decorating the school house with autumn leaves.

We're glad to see the Feipel girls at school, although they sometimes come at eleven-thirty.

We were all very glad to have Mr. Gregory call last Friday, as he brought with him a new chair and also a new clock for us.

We are all enjoying Jesse Gregory's victrola which we are using until we are able to replace the one stolen from our school last year.

We are very busy learning our parts for the hallowe'en program to be given sometime the last of this month. Watch for further announcements.

During the month of September those standing highest in their class were: Beth Heise, fifth grade; closely followed by Roy Schneider, seventh grade; and Chester Schneider, sixth grade.

During a class discussion on coal, the following conversation took place: Mrs. Holecheck—"Antonia, name the two kinds of coal we're studying about." Antonia Kovar—"The coal which we get out of the ground and cold out doors."

HILTON SCHOOL NOTES

"O sun and skies and clouds of June
And flowers of June together,
Ye cannot rival for one hour
October's bright blue weather."

A beginning of a new month. Let's make it the best.

Edward Vrataniak is absent from school today to help cut corn.

The eighth grade have finished the study of the colonies in history.

We are all enjoying these fair game of mail.

We have a new book in our library called "We," a story of Lindberg's life, written by himself.

Mrs. Henry Hilton brought us a beautiful pot of flowers Thursday morning and we all thank her very much.

The seventh grade begin the study of Europe and sixth grade begin the study of the United States in geography.

Carl Mitchell brought two frogs to school this morning and Monday noon everyone was busy gathering insects of all kinds.

Don't forget the program at Hilton school, Tuesday evening, October 9. An evening of fun. A good supper will be served after the program. Everybody welcome.

An agent, representing the "Farmer's Wife," a magazine every farmer's wife should take, visited us Friday morning and presented a plan by which we could earn a picture for our school by selling twelve subscriptions for the magazine.

The terms are $1 for one year. Will you all please help us earn the picture.

Concrete floors will reduce our costly fire bill

Popular sentiment has demanded that our modern hotels, apartment houses, schools, theatres and office buildings be fire safe throughout. To be thoroughly fire safe a building should have concrete floors beneath the hard wood, linoleum, carpeting or other surfacing. If we demand fire safe construction in larger buildings we should also demand it in our homes.

A large proportion of residence fires start in the basement. Concrete first floors will prevent them from spreading to the upper rooms. In addition, concrete floors prevent structural sagging and plaster cracking.

May we tell you about them?

THE WORLD HAS A NEW AND FINER MOTOR CAR

Advanced Six "400" Sedan

$1550

F. O. B. Factory

EVERY WORD you hear about the new Nash "400" is a GOOD WORD!

A LOT of talk about the new motor cars, a lot of things being said both "pro" and "con"—

But every word you hear about the new Nash "400" is good!

No one can look at the slender grace, the smart modern style of the new "400" Sedan Body without a feeling of complete admiration.

And the new Twin Ignition motor! Here is the engineering marvel of the year. You'll be amazed at the difference between this and older motor types—

Easy steering, too, in the Nash "400". People everywhere are saying it's the easiest steering car they ever laid hands on.

And the motor car industry's greatest value! Bijur chassis lubrication; Houdaille hydraulic shock absorbers; bumpers front and rear; and a long list of other important features.

The whole world is saying—and they mean every word of it—Nash has built the car of the year. Be sure to see it, and drive it.

THE SETTLING OF THE SAGE

By HAL G. EVARTS

CHAPTER I.

A rider jogged northward along the road on a big, jumbo horse, a fed buckskin, packed, trailing a half-length hind. A ranch road branched off to the left and the rider pulled up his horse to view a sign that stood at the forks.

"Squatter, don't let the sun go down on you," he read. "That's the third one of those reminders, Calico," he told the horse. "The wording a little different but the sentiment all the same."

Fifty yards off the trail the charred and blackened fragments of a wagon showed in sharp contrast to the bleached white bones of two horses.

"They downed his team and torched his worldly goods," the rider said. "All his hopes gone up in smoke."

He turned in his saddle and looked off across the unending expanse of sage. Coldriver—probably so named from the fact that the three wells in the town constituted the only source of water within an hour's ride—lay thirty miles to the south, a cluster of some forty buildings nestling on a wind-swept flat. Seventy miles beyond it, and with but two more such centers of civilization between, the railroad stretched across the rolling desolation.

The man took one more look at the evidence left behind to prove that the sign was no empty threat before heading the paint-horse along the left-hand fork. He noted that the range cows along his route were poor and lean, their hip bones showing lumpily through sagging skin, giving them the appearance of milkers rather than beef stock. The preceding summer had been hot and dry, brownning the range six weeks before its time, and the stock had gone into the winter in poor shape. Heavy snowfalls had completed the havoc and 10 per cent of the range stock had been winter-killed. Those that had pulled through were slow in putting on weight and recovering their strength.

A big red steer stood broadside to him, the Three Bar brand looming on its side, and the man once more pulled up his horse and lost himself in retrospection as he gazed at the brand.

"The old Three Bar, Calico," he remarked to the horse. "The old home brand. It's been many a moon since last I laid an eye on a Three Bar cow."

The man was gazing directly at the steer but he no longer saw it. Instead he was picturing the old-time scenes that the sight of the brand recalled. Step by step he visioned the long trail of the Three Bar cows from Dodge City to the Platte, from the Platte to the rolling sage-clad hills round old Fort Laramie and from Laramie to the present range.

His mind pictured two boys of some-where round eighteen years of age setting forth from the little home town of Kansas City, nestling at the confluence of the Missouri and the Kaw. A year later Cal Warren was whacking bulls on the Santa Fe trail while the other, William Harris, was holding the reins over four plunging horses as he toiled a lumbering Concord stage over the trail from Omaha to the little camp called Denver.

It was five years before their trails crossed again. Cal Warren was the first of the two to yed, and he had established a post along the trail, a rambling structure of "dobe, poles and sod, and there conducted the business of "Two for One," a calling impossible and unknown in any other than that day and place.

The long haul trains were in sight from horizon to horizon every hour of the day. The grind of the gravel wore down the hoofs of the unshod oxen,

One sound but for two with tender feet was Warren's rule of trade. These crippled ones were soon made sound in the puddle pen, and made sound with sufficient water to puddle the yellow clay into a six-inch layer of stiff, healing mud, then thrown out on the open range to fatten and grow strong. But transients were swift and sweeping. Steel rails were crowding close behind the prairie schooners and the ox-bows. Bull trunks grew fatter every year and eventually Cal Warren made his last trade of two for one.

Bill Harris had come back to view the railroad of which he had heard so much and he remained to witness and to be a part of the wild days of Abilene, Hays and Dodge, as each attained the apex of its glory as the railroad's end and the consequent desolation of the Texas trail herds. The sight of these drives of thousands implanted a desire to run cows himself and when he was well in Dodge he branched this project to his boyhood plan.

It was the sincere wish of each to gain the other as a partner in all future enterprise, but this was not to be. Warren had seen the bottom drop out of the bull trade and he would not relinquish the suspicion that any business dealing in four-footed stock was hazardous in the extreme and he insisted that the solution of all their financial problems rested upon owning land, not cows. Harris could not be induced to farm the soil while steers were selling round eight dollars a head.

Warren squatted on a quarter of land. Harris bought a few head of she-stock and grazed his cows north and west across the Kansas line into the edge of the great unknown that was styled Nebraska and North Dakota. At first his range was floodless, but in a few short years he could stand on the roof of his hat and see the white points of light which were squallers' wagons dotting the range to the far horizon in any direction he chose to look. The first of these to invade his range had been Cal Warren, moving on before the swarm of settlers flocking into the locality of his first choice in such alarming numbers that he feared an unhealthy congestion of humanity in the near future. The debate of farming versus cows was resumed between the two, but each held doggedly to his own particular views and the longed-for partnership was again postponed.

Harris moved once more—and then again—and it was something over two decades after his departure from Dodge with the Three Bar cows that he made one final shift, furling on in search of that land where nesters were unknown. He made a dry march that cost him a fourth of his cows, skirted the Colorado desert and made his stand under the first rim of the hills. There others who came to share this range were men whose views were identical with his own, whose watchword was: "Our cows shall run free on a thousand hills." They sought for a spot where the range was untouched by the plow and the water holes unfenced. They had moved, then moved, again, driven on before the invasion of the settlers. These men banded together and swore that here conditions should be reversed, that it was the squatter who should move, and on this principle they grimly rested.

Cal Warren had been the vanguard of each new rush of settlers that had pushed Bill Harris on to another range, and the cowboyman had come to see the hand of fate in this persistence. When the Warren family found him again and halted their

Bill Harris said it up. "I've come to see about getting that partnership fixed up, Bill," Warren greeted. "You know—the one we talked over in Dodge a while ago, about our going in together when either of us changed his mind. Well, I've changed mine. I've come to see that running cows is a good game, Bill, so let's fix it up. I've changed my mind."

"That was twenty years ago, Cal," Harris said. "But it still holds good—only I've changed my mind, too. You was dead right from the first. Squatters will come to roost on every foot of ground and there'll come a day when I'll have to turn squatter myself—so I might as well start now. The way to get used to crowds, Cal, is to go where the crowds are at. I'm headed back for Kansas and you better come along. We'll get that partnership fixed up."

A single child had come to bless each union in the parents' late middle age. The Harris heir, a boy of eight, had been named Calvin in honor of his father's friend. Cal Warren had as nearly returned the compliment as circumstances would permit, and his three-year-old daughter bore the name of Williamette Ann for no reason and mother of the boy who was his namesake, and Warren styled her Billie for short.

Each man was as stubbornly set in his new views as he had been in the old. The Harris came into possession of the Warren's prairie schooner and drove off to the east. The Warrens took over the Three Bar ranch and the little Williamette Ann slept in the tiny bunk built for the son of the Harris household.

For a space of minutes these old pictures occupied the mind of the man on the paint horse. Disjointed strings of prairie schooners and ox-bows faded from his mind's eye and he was once more conscious of the red steer with the Three Bar brand that had stirred up the train of reflections. He turned for another glimpse of the distant sign as he headed the paint-horse along the road.

"All that was quite a spell back, Calico," he said. "Old Bill Harris planted the first one of those signs, and it served a good purpose then. It's a sign that stands for lack of progress today. Times change, and it's been eighteen years or so since old Bill Harris left."

The road traversed the bench, angled down a side hill to a valley, somewhat more than a mile across. Calico pricked up his ears sharply toward the Three Bar findings that stood at the upper end of it.

Curious eyes peered from the bunk house as he neared it, for the paint-horse and the backskin were not without fame even if the man himself were a stranger to them all. For the better part of a year, the two high-colored horses had been seen on the range—south to the railroad, west to the Idaho line. The man had kept to himself and when seen by approaching riders he had always been angling on a course that would miss their own. Those who had, out of curiosity, deliberately ridden out to intercept him reported that he seemed a decent sort of citizen, willing to converse on any known topics except those concerning himself.

He dropped from the saddle before the bunk house and as he stood in the door he noted half a dozen men lounging on the bunks. This indifference apprised him of the fact that they were extra men sign on for the summer season and that their pay had not yet started, for the cowboyman, when on the pay roll, works sixteen hours daily and when he rests or frolics it is, except in rare instances, on his own time and at his own expense.

A tall, lean individual, who sat cross-legged on a bunk, engaged in mending a spur strap, was the first to answer his inquiry for the foreman. "Little Warren is the big boss of the Three Bar," he informed. "You'll likely find the boss at the blacksmith shop." The lanky one grinned as the stranger turned back through the litter of log outbuildings, guided by the hissing squeak of bellows and the clang of a sledge on hot iron. Several men pressed close to the windows in anticipation of viewing the newcomer's surprise at greeting the Three Bar boss. But the man did not seem surprised when a young girl emerged from the open door of the shop as he neared it.

She was clad in a gray flannel skirt and black angora chaps. The heavy brown hair was concealed beneath the broad hat that was pulled low over her eyes after the fashion of those who live much in the open. The man removed his hat and stood before her.

"Miss Warren?" he inquired. The girl nodded and waited for him to state his purpose.

"What are the chances of my riding for the Three Bar?" he asked.

"We're full-handed," said the girl. "I'm sorry."

"You'll be breaking out the round right soon now," he suggested. "I'm real handy round a breaking corral." "They're all handy at that," she said. Then she noted the two horses before the bunk house and frowned. Her eyes searched the stranger's face and found no fault with it; she liked his level gaze. But she wondered what manner of man this was who had so unhesitatingly wandered alone for a year and avoided all other men.

"Since you've finally decided to work, how does it happen that you choose the Three Bar?" she asked, then flushed under his eyes as she remembered that so many men had wished to ride for her brand more than for another, their reasons in each case the same.

"Because the Three Bar needs a man that has proved this country and gathered a few points about what's going on," he returned.

Billie Warren looked at him for a to any brand that hired you?" said the girl. "Is that what you mean?" "If it was, there would be nothing wrong with a man's schooling himself to know all points of his job before he asked for it," he said. "But it happens that wasn't exactly my reason."

A shade of weariness passed over her face. During the two years that her father had been confined to the house after being caved in by a horse and in the one year that had elapsed since his death the six thousand cows that had worn the Three Bar brand on the range had decreased by almost half under her management.

"I'll put you on," she said. "But you'll probably be insulted at what I have to offer. The men start out after the horses tomorrow. I want a man to stay here and do tinkering jobs round the place till they get back." "That'll suit me as well as any," he accepted promptly. "I'm a great little hand at tinkering round."

The clang of the sledge had ceased and a huge, fat man loomed in the door of the shop and mopped his dripping face with a handkerchief.

Charlevoix Public School Notes

Senior Class
The organization of the senior class of 1928-29 consists of 40 students enrolled. The following are the elected officers for the year:

Sponsor—Mr. Coleman.
President—Harker Kirby.
Vice President—Madlyn Yettaw.
Secretary—Lloyd Swartout.
Treasurer—Dorothy Smith.
The seniors are planning on giving a masquerade dance on halloween and the committee appointed to take charge of things are Velera Ripley and Irene Bogart.

One of the most vitally important questions before the junior and senior classes is the selection of a class play. The senior class have appointed a committee to take charge of selecting four plays, and later one is to be chosen for the given play. The appointed committee are Billy Supernaw, Dick Marshall, Edna Brown and Myrtle O'Neil.

Junior Class
The junior class of Charlevoix high school have elected the following sponsor and officers for the ensuing year:

Sponsor—Miss Hood.
President—Joe Smith.
Vice President—Helen Campbell.
Secretary—Billy O'Neil.
Treasurer—Bonita Higman.
Class meetings have been held to consider the purchase of our rings, but as yet no certain ring has been selected.

This year our class gives the annual J-Hop for the seniors and we hope the community will help us as they have others in the past, to raise money for this purpose.

Sophomore Class
The first class meeting of the year was held Wednesday, September 26, with Miss Tower as sponsor. Officers elected were as follows:

President—Eloise Tillotson.
Vice President—Mary Simmons.
Secretary—Lola Fessenden.

Treasurer—Victor Smith.
Plans are being made for a reception party for the freshmen, to be held a week from Friday.

Freshman Class
The class of 1932 have entered Charlevoix high school. It is our aim to make our class one of the best.

We have an enrollment of sixty-eight students. We elected our class officers Thursday, September 27th, as follows:

President—Stanley Heise.
Vice President—Dan Geneit.
Secretary—Florence Smith.
Treasurer—Esther Brady.
Our class sponsor is Mrs. McKinley, who we know is going to help our class succeed in our ambitions. Joe Arvilla, a member of our class, is making quite a name for himself in football. We are proud that a freshman is succeeding so soon.

Elementary Department
The fifth grade has started a nature study museum. Among the contributions are a piece of worm-eaten dock timber from Bristol, Rhode Island, and a sample of beaver cutting.

Miss Robinson, former Charlevoix teacher, who is now second critic in the county normal at Blissfield, sent letters from her sixth grade to ours. We expect to answer them soon.

We had practice fire drill last Friday. The building was emptied in 1 minute and 28 seconds. We hope to do even better after a few more practices.

The patrons of our school have made the lawn very attractive. Each child is doing his best to keep it that way.

The county normal has added a new orthophonic victrola and some other music material for music appreciation.

High School Department
A "Band Boost" meeting was held in the new band room in the central high last Thursday evening. Over one hundred band members, prospectives, patrons, board members and friends listened to stirring band selections, remarks by Messrs. TerWee, A. C. Belding, E. Dawson, Campbell, Miller, Livingston and others enjoyed ice cream and wafers. Every effort is being made to make the Charlevoix band a winner. It is planned to enter the state contest next spring.

The enrollment in the senior high is 198, or about 25 more than last year.

The new arithmetics in the grades are pleasing pupils and teachers alike.

The juniors are busy selecting class rings.

The county normal has an enrollment of 20, about the largest ever. New students' tables and chairs

Chemistry (Atoms)

The chemistry department is to be favored with new equipment. This will arrive here in another month. It consists of two stone-top tables with a convenient trough in the center, while at the ends there are stone sinks. There are to be thirty drawers in the tables which will accommodate twenty-four, as the tables are twelve feet long. The room is to be changed around so that the lighting system will be suitable and also to allow for physics tables.

Monday and Tuesday of this week were devoted to an experiment in oxygen and one in hydrogen. Between the whistling and banging of explosions you could hear the chatter of girls (or rather the chatter of their teeth.) There was nothing else exciting except that one of the girls lost her equilibrium during an explosion and passed in sweet oblivion.

The department is advancing as may be expected, steady by jerks. There was a grand scramble for apparatus last Monday. Dick Marshall somehow secured Mary McCann's vnnity case in the muddle. There was a cry from the crowd and Neva Webster sighs that someone has taken her shoe. The said article was later discovered among Malinda Bleha's possessions, although we know he didn't put it there.

METHODIST CHURCH
John E. Lockyer, Minister

On Sunday morning we shall observe the sacrament of The Lord's Supper. All members should make special effort to memorialize their own discipleship at this service.

The church school meets at noon and we begin the new years lessons with the first Sunday in October. Get a good start.

The Epworth League at 6:30 will think on "Our Prayer Life." At 7:30 the pastor conducts a praise hour and discusses a timely topic.

This Thursday the Literary and Sewing Club has Mrs. Edgar Smith as hostess. She will be glad to see you at East Hurlbut.

On Thursday at 6:30 the congregation is invited to eat in the basement as guests of the official board. All members and friends of the church are welcome. The purpose is to get a good understanding of the work for this year.

Queen Esthers will organize for the year at Mrs. Simmons home on Monday next. Every teen nge girl invited.

Tuesday is Epworth Devotional led by the pastor.

Thursday at 7:30 is the Mid-week Bible study hour.

bers shall be entitled to ten cents per mile and no more for one round trip to each regular and special session of the legislature by the usually traveled route. Each member shall be entitled to one copy of the laws, journals and documents of the legislature of which he is a member, but shall not receive, at the expense of the state, books, newspapers and perquisites of the office not expressly authorized by this constitution."

This proposed amendment, if adopted, will provide that compensation of members of the legislature shall be three dollars per diem during the term for which they are elected.

STRAITS BRIDGE IS A POSSIBILITY

But Tax Payers of State Will Feel Tax Burden

The newspaper makers of southern Michigan that speak flippantly and jokingly of the plan to bridge the Straits will wake up some time in the next five years to learn that the trick has been turned they will learn that the huge and almost inexhaustible lime rock deposits on both sides of the Straits at its narrowest neck have been blasted out of the hills, huge steam shovels have loaded the rock onto cars that have carried the rock out to make a wide stone road bed from shore over shoals to points near the center of the Straits where deep water is encountered, there the great crushed stone roadways will give way to a couple huge bridge spans, neither of which will necessarily be as stupendous or as imposing as the span now building across the river at Detroit, and presto, automobiles will fit from the upper to the lower peninsula of Michigan in ten or twelve minutes under their own power and the trip will be one of the most attractive experiences in the world. This will link upper and lower Michigan together in a commercial, physical and social way immediately, worth more than the bridge has cost. It will then the more seem like one great state, one great people, one purpose and one ambition. If Governor Green succeeds in getting this project definitely under way as we believe he will, he will have accomplished more for his state than any single executive has ever done before. He will have begun a monument the building of which is but the smallest part of its importance.—Cheboygan Observer.

* CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH *

This first Sunday in October will be observed as rally day for the church at the morning service at 10:30. The service will include the autumn Communion and a sermon by the pastor on "The Enrichment of Life." In preparation for this service a pastoral letter has been sent to all the homes in the Congregational parish.

The Endeavor meeting will be led by Dudley Mattson with the subject "What Are the Benefits of Bible Study," followed by a quiz conducted by Mrs. Saltonstall.

The Congregational church was largely represented at the meeting of the district association of Congregational churches held at Central Lake, Oct. 2 and 3.

Buy your guns and ammunition at Staley Bros. Hardware.—4011.

* BAPTIST CHURCH *

The pastor will preach Sunday morning at 10:30 and Sunday evening at 7:00.

Bible School will meet at noon and the B. Y. P. U. at 6:00 p. m. The Ladies' Mission Circle is meeting today with Mrs. P. McFarlane on South Bridge street.

The Mid-week service will be held in the church parlors Thursday evening.

The church will join in the county Sunday school convention on Friday with the Church of God as host.

The annual church business meeting held Monday evening was a real event, not only of good fellowship but it brought to the church much of encouragement, much needed, to face the tasks of the coming year.

A cordial invitation to all to worship with us.

ONE POTATO HILL PRODUCES 38 SPUDS

Dean Martin of the Ethel tur ranch on the Harbor Springs road has had photographed the product of two hills of potatoes raised on his ranch and these will be used for publicity purposes in boosting Northern Michigan. One hill yielded 38 spuds weighing 21 pounds, and the second produced 49 spuds weighing 17 1-2 pounds, the total yield being 87, and the total weight 38 1-2 pounds. C. E. Kimball, of the Northern Michigan magazine is preparing a special "Potato" story for the next edition of his magazine. Pictures of the Martin potatoes will appear along with the story. The potatoes are of a new variety being developed by the fox farmer.—Potoskey News.

LYCEUM COURSE DATES ARE SET

OPENING NUMBER AT GYMNASIUM, NOVEMBER 2nd

Private Peat, Soldier, Author, Lecturer, Opens Series—Synopsis of Numbers

The final dates for the Charlevoix Lyceum Course have been chosen and are announced as follows: November 2nd, December 5th, January 17th, and March 4th. It is hoped that future local events will not conflict with the above dates.

Canvassers will be out within a week and it is hoped that everyone will take advantage of such a fine course. Adult season tickets sell for $1.50 and students' season tickets are $1.00.

On November 2nd, Private Peat will appear in the auditorium of the high school as the opening number. He comes highly recommended. Local citizens who have heard this soldier, author and lecturer claim that he is one of the most powerful and mind gripping speakers appearing before the public today. Let us make November 2nd an armistice reception for Private Peat.

Below appears a synopsis of each number with date of appearance.

November 2nd

Private Peat, who emerged from the crucible of the World War, a dynamic youth on the platform. As a platform envoy it is doubtful if he has an equal. His new talk, "It's a Long Way to Tipperary," which he will give here, is compounded out of his personal experiences during the great conflict and in the eleven eventful years which have since passed.

The tag which the Red Cross tied on Private Peat was marked "hopeless" when he was picked up on the battlefield in the early days of the war. He lived, however, to write and speak about the war. His articles have been syndicated all over the world. He was the chief speaker of the Fuel Administration throughout the United States and had an important part in negotiations which prevented a mining strike in the coal fields. His books, "Private Peat" and "The Inexorable Lie," have been read all over the English speaking world.

During the last thirteen years Private Peat has been studying and thinking. He has been thinking of the why of the war and he has evolved a philosophy of war and peace which startles as it convinces his hearers.

There is a marching rhythm to the speech of Private Peat. He visualizes the drama of war as few soldiers have done.

December 5th

This capable family of musicians each of whom is a genuine artist, have made of the DiGiorgio orchestra one of the most popular concert companies in the field.

Headed by T. DiGiorgio, former soloist with the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra and a well-known artist on the trombone, Alpine horn and guitar, the orchestra consists of Signora DiGiorgio, cornetist and cellist, Signorina Fortunata DiGiorgio, mandolin virtuoso, pianist, accordionist and xylophonist and Signorina Fortunata DiGiorgio, violinist.

January 17th, 1929

"The First Year" is the story of the first year of marriage, over which all who have lived through such a momentous period will chuckle and even roar with laughter, and perhaps shed a few harmful tears.

Tommy Tucker's bride had a quarrel with him and picked up her things and went back to mother. It hurt Tommy pretty badly, no denying that, but the way it worked out is so irresistibly funny that the audience is in gales of laughter, even at the sight of poor Tommy's woes.

As the play moves along, each incident becomes funnier and funnier. You may sympathize with both of them, but in spite of your sympathies, you just simply cannot help laughing.

We believe "The First Year" holds the New York record for continuous, non-stop, long distance laugh productions.

March 4, 1929

The Killarney Colleens, as might be imagined from their names, are out to bring a lot of old Erin to audiences the country over. They have a roguish twinkle in their eyes, and if you think they haven't kissed the blarney stone that's one up on you.

Tess Sheehan, who is the featured artist of the Colleens, is well known in the entertainment field. She is famous for her Irish stories such as "Hooley's Wan Chick," "The Man Who Planted the Hungry Grass," and "Danny." Tess Sheehan is blessed with a contagious laugh.

Mae Saltmarsh, the other Colleen, is one of the best trombone soloists in the country. Her playing of this instrument is truly remarkable, especially so since the greatest players have usually been of the male sex.

The Colleens have in their repertoire various selections that combine music and drama very cleverly. Irish songs, stories and dramatic numbers all find a place on this jolly program.

SUPERVISORS ARE NOW IN SESSION

ANNUAL OCTOBER MEETING
GOT UNDER WAY MONDAY

Frank Wageman Replaces Frank H. Thompson as Member of County Road Commission

The important annual October session of the Charlevoix county board of supervisors opened Monday forenoon with nearly all of the members present, and Howard Stephens of Hayes township presiding over the deliberations.

Reports of the inspector of jails and Charlevoix County Agricultural Society were heard. Receipts of the fair were $12,409.53, which included $1,100.00 borrowed. Expenditures amounted to $12,317.97, with a balance of $91.56 on hand. Total outstanding debts are $3,459.98.

A verbal report of the work of the Michigan Tourist and Resort Association was given by Hugh J. Gray, secretary. His request for an appropriation was referred to the ways and means committee.

Mr. Newville, secretary of the Soldiers and Sailors Relief committee, gave a verbal report. The board authorized an appropriation of $150 for the work of the commission next year.

W. H. White of Boyne City, was unanimously elected to succeed himself as county park commissioner for a term of 5 years.

Darwin F. Meech was elected county canvasser for a term of 2 years beginning January 1, 1929; T. J. Smith for a term of 2 years beginning January 1, 1929 and Herman Godman for a like term.

William H. Fuehrer was elected county school examiner for a 2 year term.

The supervisor of Hayes township and supervisor of Charlevoix 1st ward were named as county auditing committee.

Lyman E. Benton was re-elected as poor commissioner for a term of 3 years beginning January 1, 1929.

Frank H. Wageman was elected county road commissioner in a close race over H. C. Plum, who was elected by a vote of 13 to 12. Frank H. Thompson of Boyne City, is the retiring commissioner.

The report of County Agent Melcamp was heard and the appropriation asked for the The Starr Commonwealth for Boys referred to the ways and means committee.

14 YEAR OLD BOY KILLED BY A HORSE

Kicked Over Heart While Leading Animal From Pasture

Harold Stanton, fourteen year old son of William Stanton of Five Mile Creek, near Harbor Springs, was instantly killed late Friday afternoon when kicked over the heart by a horse he was leading from the pasture on the Zerby farm near Petoskey.

The boy, whose mother died several years ago, and whose father, during the summer months is attached to the Petoskey police force, had worked for about a year and attended the district school near by.

Baxter W. R. C. will hold a horse sale at Staley Bros. Hardware Store, Saturday, October 13.—Adv. 4111.

24 HERDS TESTED IN SEPTEMBER

AVERAGE PRODUCTION PER COW IN THE COUNTY GIVEN

Report of County Cow Tester G. A. Bedell of Great Interest to Local Dairymen

Twenty-four herds with a total of 232 cows were tested during September. The average production was 58.9 pounds milk and 24 pounds butterfat per cow.

One separator tested above .05% making a loss of $1.38 per month.

Small Herd Class

High herds in the small herd class were Walter Heilmann, first with 715 pounds milk and 36 pounds butterfat per cow. James Nice, second with 526 pounds milk and 26 pounds butterfat.

Medium Size Herd Class

Guy Eppler was first, 685 pounds milk, 30.8 pounds butterfat. Second, Oakley Saunders, 711 pounds milk, 30.4 pounds butterfat.

Large Herd Class

First, Orchard Bay Farm, 896 pounds milk, 31.2 pounds butterfat. Second, Wm. Withers, 684 pounds milk, 24.4 pounds butterfat.

High cows in the two year old class, Walter Heilmann, 1st, a grade Guernsey, 879 pounds milk and 55.5 pounds butterfat. He also had 2nd with 765 pounds milk, and 45.9 pounds butterfat. Bert Elliott, 3rd, 870 pounds milk, and 43.5 pounds butterfat.

Three year old class, Orchard Bay Farm, 1st, 1263 pounds milk, 56.8 pounds butterfat. Guy Eppler, 2nd, 1089 pounds milk, 49.0 pounds butterfat. Oakley Saunders, 3rd, 720 pounds milk, 38.2 pounds butterfat.

Four year old class, Orchard Bay Farm, 1st, 1532 pounds milk, 57.0 pounds butterfat, also second with 1050 pounds milk, 45.2 pounds butterfat. Guy Eppler, third, 1182 pounds milk, 45.0 pounds butterfat.

Above four year old, Orchard Bay Farm, 1st, 2nd, 3rd, with pure-bred Holsteins, 1491 pounds milk, 53.7 butterfat, 1449 milk, 52.2 butterfat, 1500 pounds milk, 51.0 butterfat.

Most members have home grown grains to mix with the commercial feeds now, so it is reasonable to expect the cows to do better now for some time. Alfalfa is cheap too, so a liberal feed doesn't cost much. Silage with lots of corn helps the cows do better.

SUPPER AT MASONIC TEMPLE WEDNESDAY

Members and Their Husbands Invited to O. E. S. Affair

COUNTY REPUBLICANS ARE ACTIVE

FORMED HOOVER-GREEN CLUB AT MEETING THURSDAY

Plans Perfected to Have Speaker at Gymnasium Next Tuesday Evening—Big Torch Parade

That the political pot in Charlevoix county boils with unusual activity was evidenced by an enthusiastic meeting in the court house last Thursday evening sponsored by the Charlevoix county Republican committee.

At that time a Hoover-Green club was organized and the following officers elected: President, Herman C. Myers, Boyne Falls; secretary, Kit Carson, East Jordan; treasurer, Mrs. Saltonstall, Charlevoix.

The county was grouped into six districts with a vice president in charge of each. Mrs. R. B. Armstrong is vice president of the Charlevoix district which comprises the city and township of Charlevoix and townships of Hayes, Marion and Norwood.

The following committees were chosen in the district to enroll club members and assist in other ways in the campaign: Minnie Cross, Oakley Hammond, Sam Rose, Ruth Belding, Leila Simmons, George Weaver, of Charlevoix city; Neil McAuley and Lota Coulter, Charlevoix township; Howard Stephens and Mrs. Andrew Struthers, Hayes township; William Burns and Mrs. Rollie Williams, Marion township; William Mayne and Mrs. Clarence Heise, Norwood township.

Plans discussed last Thursday to have speakers come into the county were practically completed at a follow-up-meeting in the court house Monday evening.

The county committee has secured the services of Dr. W. S. Dudley, Republican campaign speaker, to address the voters in the Charlevoix gymnasium at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, October 16th. His topic will be "Three Reasons Why You Should Vote a Straight Republican Ticket."

Preceding the meeting at the gymnasium, a torch parade, renaissance of old-time political campaigns, will be staged to arouse interest and get voters out. The Charlevoix city band will lead the parade, the Republican elephant will have a conspicuous place, Merritt Miller's life and drum corp will perform and other interesting features are planned. Efforts are being made to have State Senator Campbell, United States Congressman Frank P. Bohn and Louis E. Anderson, nominee for state representative of this district present at the meeting. Committees are hard at work and Charlevoix citizens will see more political enthusiasm next Tuesday evening than has been manifested in "many a moon."

Two other meetings with outside speakers are also being planned, one at Boyne City and the other at East Jordan, also a torch parade of the entire county a few days before election, probably November 3rd.

RESTRICT HUNTING ON HOUGHTON LAKE

No Duck Shooting After 2:00 P. M. Each Day

By means of placards which have been posted in conspicuous places all around the adjacent territory, parties living on or near Houghton Lake have advertised the fact that they are not in favor of shooting ducks on that lake after 2 o'clock each afternoon. The residents believe that if hunters leave the ducks alone in the afternoon that it will result in more ducks. With all the guns silenced for a certain period each day, the water fowl will have a chance to gain much needed rest and food. Parties at the lake who have made a business of towing shooting parties out to the weed beds frequented by the ducks have agreed that all crafts used in this enterprise will leave the grounds at 2 o'clock and tow all their boats with them. Inasmuch as there are comparatively few private parties on the grounds, this division means that the birds will be greatly benefited.

ESSAY CONTEST ANNUAL AFFAIR

BOYS AND GIRLS WILL COMPETE FOR PRIZES OFFERED

Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show at Gaylord Growing Importance Each Year

The boys' and girls' essay contest has become an annual affair at the Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show. Each year the boys and girls of the northern schools have been given an opportunity to write about some phase of potato (or apple) production, marketing, or utilization. The essay has been made possible through the interest of the Bloom Company, Commission Merchants of Detroit, who handle quality potatoes from the Top O' Michigan territory. They have offered $40.00 in cash prizes for this essay contest, based on the following rules:

1. subject:
(a) How can we further improve our certified seed potatoes?
(b) How may we further utilize the potato crop? (Either subject may be used.)
2. Candidate must be enrolled in Boys' and Girls' Club work or must be high school students in agriculture or home economics.
3. The essay must be written in ink on one side of paper only. Use regular office paper about 6 1/2 x 11 inches.
4. The essays must be submitted to the teacher (in case of agricultural or home economics students) or leader of the Boys' and Girls' Club who will select the best one and forward to the secretary of the Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show, Gaylord, for the judges.
5. The essays must be in the hands of the teacher or club leader by October 22nd, and in the hands of the secretary of the show by October 27th.
6. Winners will be announced during the Boys' and Girls' club day, November 1st.
- There will be five prizes awarded as follows: 1st, $15.00; 2nd, $11.00; 3rd, $7.00; 4th, $4.00; 5th, $3.00. The prizes will go on to a contest if five or more counties are entered.
8. For further information, write A. C. Lytle, secretary, Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show, Gaylord, Michigan.

FARWELL PARTY FOR MRS. FOREST FOWLER

Given Last Wednesday at Home of Mrs. Oakley Hammond

Mrs. Carl Kohler was hostess at a farewell party given last Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Oakley Hammond in honor of Mrs. Forest Fowler, who left early this week for her new home in Allegan, Mich.

Eight lady friends were present at the party and enjoyed the potluck supper which was followed by bridge. Mrs. Fowler was presented with a fine gift as a token of remembrance.

There will be a dance at the Maple Grove Grange Hall, Friday evening, October 12. Everybody welcome.—4111.

Remember our battery service. We are ready to serve you with promptness and satisfaction. Benj. Brown.—Adv. 4111.

CELEBRATED GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

MR. AND MRS. JASON PRICE
PASS HALF CENTURY MARK

Twenty-one Relative Were Present For Festivities on Occasion Last Sunday

Sunday, October 7th, was an eventful day in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Jason Price, Charlevoix residents for 48 years. On that day, aided by a party of 21 relatives they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, a coveted goal reached by few married couples.

Mr. and Mrs. Price were married in 1878 and with the exception of two years have made their home in Charlevoix since that time, coming here from Cadillac. Mr. Price followed the barbering business up until a year ago, when a stroke of paralysis rendered his left arm useless. It did not make him idle, however, and he has turned to flower and truck gardening with no small degree of success, which is evidenced by the fact that his flower entries at the Emmet county fair held in Petoskey won some 15 first prizes.

A feature of the anniversary celebration Sunday was a bounteous chicken dinner at the home of Mrs. Emmet Coulter, south of Charlevoix. Appropriate for the occasion was a huge story wedding cake with golden icing.

Among the out-of-town relatives present were: Mr. and Mrs. John A. Mayne and daughters, Gwen and Jacqueline, of Detroit; Mrs. Marguerite Cram and three children, Leslie Jayne, Billy and Peggy of Flint; Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Kellogg and two sons, Stanley and Victor, and daughter, Rozelle of Petoskey; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mills of Plymouth, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Harvey of Traverse City; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Morse of Detroit; Mrs. Mayne, Mrs. Cram and Mrs. Kellogg are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Price. Another daughter, Mrs. J. F. Boelio, of Denver, Colorado, and a granddaughter, Mrs. H. L. Seley of Marcella, Ark., were unable to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Price were the recipients of many fine gifts, among them being a beautiful overstuffed chair and a large sum in gold.

The Courier joins other friends in congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Price.

MAPLE GROVE GRANGE ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Next Regular Meeting Is Scheduled For Tuesday, Oct. 16

At a regular session held Tuesday evening, Maple Grove Grange initiated three new members in the third and fourth degree. After the business session the following officers were elected:

Master, Otto Kane; overseer, Lee Sneathen; lecturer, Ho Sneathen; steward, Milo Kane; asst. steward, Harold Hamlin; chaplain, Clarn Kane; treasurer, Platt Webster; secretary, Olive Webster; gate keeper, Clifton Gregory; Ceres, Lottie Webster; Pomona, Emma Hair; Flora, Prudence Yemmans; L. A. steward, Josephine Hamlin.

The committee on dances and quilt raffle reported $33.29 clear of expenses. The Grange members are working hard to get their hall ready for the coming winter. The next meeting will be Tuesday evening, October 16. Visitors are always welcome.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS AND WIVES MEET

Extend Their Congratulations to New Grand Chancellor

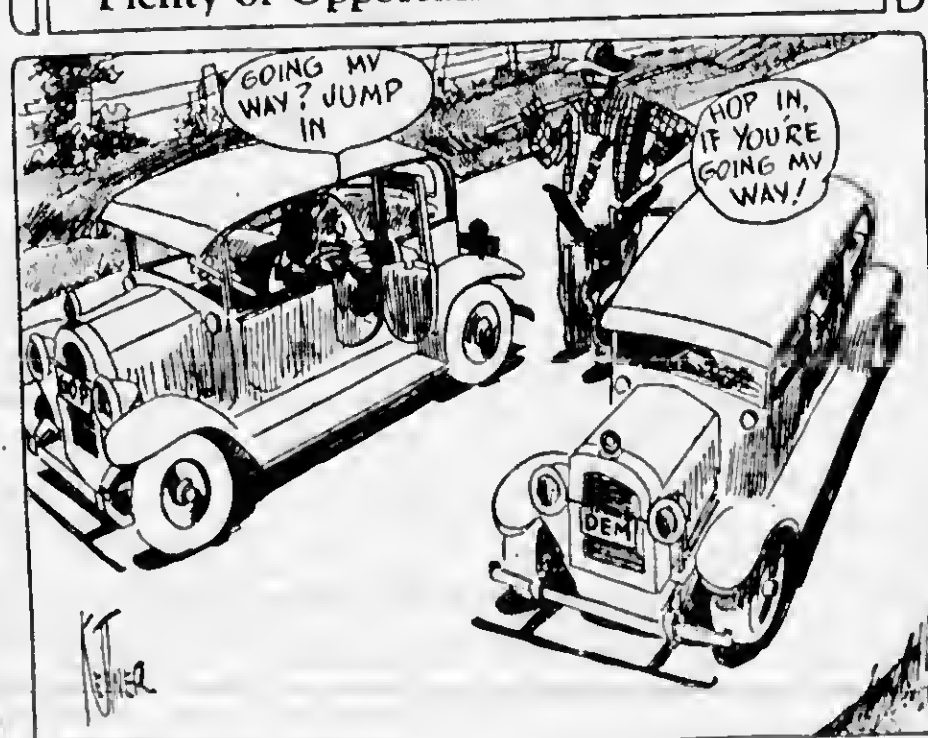

Knights of Pythias and their wives met at their hall last Thursday evening, the object of the meeting being to offer congratulations to Arthur L. Fitch, who was recently elected to the office of grand chancellor of the state lodge of Pythians.

Will E. Hampton, another grand lodge officer and former citizen of Charlevoix, called the meeting to order, then turned it over to R. F. Sloan, who acted as master of ceremonies.

Talks were made by Messrs. Hampton, Fitch, and others, reviewing the work of the order and the advancement of the two members of Pine Lodge, No. 122, who now hold grand lodge offices.

Light refreshments were served and the evening proved a most delightful one.

Plenty of Opportunities to Ride Now

For COLDS of All the Family

This Modern External Treatment is best

Mothers prefer the external treatment, Vicks VapoRub, for children's colds, because it avoids the constant "dosing" so disturbing to delicate little stomachs. You just rub it on throat and chest.

Other members of the family prefer Vicks for their own colds, because it is convenient, and quick in bringing relief. Colds usually yield overnight.

"Unreality" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, October 7.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "They that make a graven image are all of them vanity; and their delectable things shall not profit; and the are their own witness; they see not, nor know; that they may be ashamed." (Isa. 44:9.)

The Lesson-Sermon included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The time has come for a finite conception of the infinite and of a material body as the seat of Mind to give place to a diviner sense of intelligence and its manifestations, to the better understanding that Science gives of the Supreme Being, or divine Principle, and idea." (p. 285.)

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Morning worship at 10:30 with sermon by the pastor.

Sunday School at 12 noon.

A Vesper service in observance of Hospitalers Sunday will be held at 4:00 p. m. in the church which the Ivanhoe Commandery, Knights Templars of Petoskey will attend in a body. Dr. Mattson will deliver an address on "Beautiful Pity and Golden Deeds." A cordial invitation is extended to all Knights Templar, resident or visiting here, also to all Masons of all degrees and to the general public. The service, while especially for our invited guests, is heartily offered as a privilege to all comers.

At 6:00 p. m., the Endeavor Society will observe a rally day for young people by a special gathering both religious and social in nature. Invitations have been extended to our public school teachers and a parish letter has been distributed to a large list of young people, their parents, and teachers. The gathering will assemble at six o'clock in the dining room for light refreshments after which a program will be given at the tables. Dr. Mattson has been invited to begin a series of popular studies in the Bible which will be of great interest to all who share them. The subject of the course is "The People, the Land and the Book." These will occupy only a portion of the hour and other attractive features will be included.

You will make no mistake in buying a Willard Storage battery and patronizing our battery service. Benj. Brown.—Adv. 41tf.

FOR MORE PROFIT

Profit is earning power—less expense.

Earning power of Graham Brothers Trucks has always been high. Expense is low. The difference—profit—is greater with Grahams than with any other motor truck, in the experience of thousands and thousands of truck owners . . . And owners invest more than $65,000,000 each year in these money-making trucks.

Now—with 6 cylinder engines and 4 wheel brakes in every size and type and with 4 speed transmissions in the 1½, 1¾, 2 and 3-ton trucks—their earning power is even greater. They are built complete in the correct sizes and body types to fit 96% of all hauling needs.

Whatever your business, whether you sell a service or a commodity—profit is your goal. With Graham Brothers Trucks profits are greater and more certain . . . Owners know the definite plus that comes from master builders . . . in power . . . in speed . . . in safety . . . in long life . . . in low price.

See these trucks . . . Ask to drive one.

CLEANING and PRESSING

"I'm glad you've come," he assured the newcomer. "A man that's not above doing a little fixing up! A cowboy is the most overworked and underpaid sapsucker that ever lost three nights' sleep hump-running and worked seventy-two hours on end; sleep in the rith or not at all—to hold a job at forty per for six months in the year. The other six he's thrown loose like a range horse to rustle or starve. Hardest work in the world—but he don't know it, or money wouldn't lure him to lift his hand. He thinks it's play. Not one out of ten but what prides himself that he can't be browbeat into doing a tap of work. Ask him to cut a stick of firewood and he'll arch his back and laugh at you scornful-like. Don't that beat it—?"

"It do," said the stranger. "In the best wagon cook that ever aloshed diswater over the tail-gate, and even better than that in a ranch-house kitchen," the logucous one modestly assured him. "But I can't do justice to the meals when I lay out to do all the chores within four miles and run myself thin collecting scraps and squaw wool to keep the stove hot up. Now since Billie has hired you, I trust you'll work up a pile of wood that will keep me going—and folks call me Waddles," he added as an afterthought.

"Very good, Mr. Waddles," the newcomer smiled. "You shall have your fuel."

The big man grinned. "That little is derived from my shape and gait," he informed. "My regular name is Smith—if you're set on tacking a Mister on behind it."

The girl waved the talkative cook aside and turned to the new hand. "You'll take it then," he nodded. "Could you spare me about ten minutes some time today?" he asked. "Yes," she said. "I'll send for you when I have time."

The man headed back for his horses and turned them into the corral. He rambled among the outbuildings on a tour of inspection and the girl saw him stand long in one spot before the solid log cabin, now used as a storeroom for odds and ends, that had been the first one erected on the Three Bar and had sheltered the Harrises before her father took over their brand.

CHAPTER II

The Three Bar girl sat looking from the window of her own room, the living room of the ranch house, one end of which was curtained off to serve as sleeping quarters. The new man was still prowling about the place, inspecting every detail, and she wondered if he could tell her anything which would prove of benefit in her fight to stop the shrinkage of the Three Bar herds and help her to face the drastic changes that were reshaping the policies of the range country.

The Three Bar home range was one of many similar isolated spots where the inhabitants held out for a continuance of the old order of things. All through the West, from the Mexican border to the Canadian line, a score of bitter feuds were in progress, the principles involved differing widely according to conditions and locality. There were existing laws—and certain clans that denied the justice of each one, holding out against its enforcement and making laws of their own. In some spots the paramount issue was over the relative grazing rights of cows and sheep, fanning a flame of hatred between those whose occupations were in any way concerned with these rival interests. In others the strife was with poachers that settlers could file their rights on land. As always before, wherever men resorted to lawlessness to protect their fancied rights, the established order of things had broken down, all laws disregarded instead of the single one originally involved.

In many communities these clashes between rival interests had furnished opportunity for rustlers to build up in power and practically take the range. Each clan was outside the law in some one particular and so could not have recourse to it against those who violated it in some other respect; could not appear against neighbors in one matter lest their friends do likewise against themselves in another.

This attitude had enabled the wild bunch to saddle themselves on certain communities, breaking their trade without restraint. Rustling had come to be a recognized occupation to be reckoned with; the identity of the thieves was often known, and they visited from ranch to ranch, whose owners possibly were honest themselves but had friends among the outlaws for whom the rustling was always on. The rustlers' toll was in the nature of a tribute levied against every brand and the various outfits expected certain losses from this source. It was good business to recoup these losses at another's expense and thus neighbor preyed on neighbor. It was a case of dog eat dog and the slogan ran: "Catch your calves in a basket or some other thief will put his iron on them first."

It was to this pass that the Three Bar home range had come in the last five years. As Billie Warren watched the new hand moving slowly toward the bunk house she pondered over what manner of man this could be who had played a single-handed game in the hills for almost a year. Was he leagued with the wild bunch, with the law, or was he merely an eccentric who might have some special knowledge that would help her save the Three Bar from extinction?

The stranger poked up his bed roll and disappeared through the bunk-house door as she watched him.

The lean man who had first greeted him jerked a thumb toward an uncoupled bunk.

"Pay roll?" he inquired; then, as the new man nodded, "I'm most generally referred to as Lanky," he offered tentatively. "Evans is the rest of it."

The stranger hesitated appreciably; then:

"Harris will do all right for me—cal for every day," he returned and

"Harris Will Do All Right for Me."

Introductions had been effected. It was up to each man to use his own individual method of making his name known to the newcomer as occasion arose.

There had been much speculation about the brand worn by the two horses. The hands were a drifting lot, gathered from almost as many points as there were men present, but none of them knew the brand.

A dark, thin-faced man with a slender black mustache was the first to voice a query, not from the fact that his curiosity was large—it was perhaps less than that of any other man in the room—but for the reason that he chose to satisfy it at once. Morrow's personality was cold and bleak, butting no close friendships or intimacies; uncommunicative to a degree that had impressed itself on his companions of the last few days and they looked up, mildly surprised at his abrupt interrogation.

"Box L," he commented. "Where does that brand run?"

"Southwest Kansas and Oklahoma."

"Squatter country," Morrow said.

"Every third section under fence."

Harris sat looking through the door at the valley spread out below and after a moment he answered the thrust as if he had been long prepared for it.

"Yes," he said. "And that's what all range country will come to in a few more years; farm what they can and graze what they can't—and the sooner the better for all concerned."

He waved an arm down the valley.

"Good alfalfa dirt going to waste down there—overrun with sage and only growing enough grass to keep ten cows to the quarter. If that was ripped up and seeded to hay it would grow enough in winter five thousand head."

This remark led to the old debate that was never ending in the cow country, breaking out afresh in every bunk house and exhaustively rediscussed.

Evans regarded Harris curiously as he deliberately provoked the argument, then sat back and listened to the various ideas of the others as the discussion became heated and general.

"It's a settled fact that the outfit that have put in hay are better off," Evans said. "But there's a dozen lo-catties like this, a dozen little civit wars going on right now where the inhabitants are so mulish that they lay their ears and fight their own interests by upholding a foolish prejudice that was good for twenty years ago but is a dead issue today."

"And why is it dead today?" Morrow demanded. "And not as good as it always was?"

"Only a hundred or so different reasons," Evans returned indifferently. "Then beef-tops brought ten dollars a head and they're worth three times that now; then you bought a brand on the hoof, come as they run, for round five dollars straight through, exclusive of calves; now it's based at ten on the round-up tally. In these days a man could better afford to let part of his cows winter-kill than to raise feed to winter the whole of them through—nothing other things. These days he can't."

"And have your water holes fenced," Morrow said. "As soon as you let the first squatter light."

"The government has prohibited fencing water holes necessary to the adjacent range," Harris cut in. "If that valley was mine I'd have put it in hay this long time back."

"But it wasn't yours," Morrow pointed out.

"No; but it is now, or at least a part of it is," Harris said. "I picked up that school section that lays across the valley and filed on a home quarter that butts up against the river."

He sat gazing indifferently out the door as if unconscious of the dead silence that followed his remark. More men had drifted in till nearly a dozen were gathered in the room.

"That's never been done out here—buying school sections and filing squatters' rights," Morrow said at last.

"This is cow country and will never be anything else."

"Good cow country," Harris agreed. "And it stands to reason it could be made better with a little help."

"Whenever you start helping a country with fence and plow you ruin it for cows," Morrow stated. "I know."

"It always loomed up in the light of a good move to me," the newcomer returned. "One of us has likely read bla signs wrong."

"There's some signs round here you better read," Morrow said. "They were posted for such as you."

"It appears like I'd maybe made a bad selection then. I'm sorry about that," Harris deprecated in a negligent tone that belied his words. "It's hard to tell just how it will pan out."

"Not so very hard—if you can read," the dark man contradicted.

The newcomer's gaze returned from down the valley and settled on Morrow's face.

"Do you run a brand of your own—so's you'd stand to lose a dollar if every foot of range was fenced?" he inquired.

"What are you trying to get at now?" Morrow demanded.

"Nothing much—now; I've already got," Harris said. "A man's interest lays on the side where his finances are most concerned."

"What do you mean by that?" Morrow insisted.

"You're good at predicting—maybe you're an expert at guessing, too," Harris returned. And suddenly Evans laughed as if something had just occurred to him.

Morrow glanced at him without turning his head, then fell silent, his expression unchanged.

A chunky youngster stood in the door and bent an approving gaze on the big photo as he swung out across the pasture lot. The boy's face was small and quizzical, a shaggy mop of tawny hair hanging so low upon his forehead that his mild blue eyes peered forth from under the fringe of it and gave him the air of a surprised terrier, which effect had gained him the title of Bangs.

"I bet the little paint-horse could make a man swing and rattle to set up in his middle, once he started to act up," he said.

"Cultco wouldn't know how to start," Harris said. "A horse, inside his limitations, is what his breeder makes him. I never favored the idea of breaking a horse to fight you every time you climb him. My horses are gentle-broke."

"But you have to be able to top off just any kind of a horse," Bangs objected.

"That don't blunder a man from gentling his own string," Harris returned.

Bangs turned his surprised eyes on Harris and regarded him intently as he was entirely new to him.

"Why, it don't, for a fact," he said at last. "Only I just never happened to think of it like that before."

Morrow laughed and the boy flushed at the disagreeable ring of it. Morrow's face wore none of the active malignancy that stamps the features of those uncontrolled desperados who kill in a flare of passion; rather it seemed that the urge to kill was always with him, had been born with him, his face drawn and overlengthened from the inner effort to render his homicidal tendencies submissive to his brain, not through desire for regeneration, for he had none, but as a mere matter of expediency.

"You listen to what the squatter man tells you," Morrow said to Bangs. "He'll put you right—give you a course in how everything ought to be done." He rose and went outside.

A raucous bellow sounded from the cookhouse and every man within ear-shot rose and moved toward the summons to feed.

"Let's go eat it up," Evans said and left the bunk house with Harris.

"Did you gather all the information you was prospecting for?" he asked.

Harris nodded. "I sorted out one man's number," he said.

General Science
The science classes have been studying about the weather and its changes.

For the month of September the general nature has been that of rain for Charlevoix.

Father—Dorothy, it's past eleven o'clock.

Dorothy—Yes, I know, but Gerald's watch isn't going.

Father—Well, how about Gerald?

Weather Forecast

A Long Hard Winter.

General science is the search after truth. So when Mr. Coleman tries to find out who is doing the whispering in the rear of the room, he is conducting an original experiment in science.

Miss Tower—Name a great universal time saver in French.

Miss Struthers—Love at first sight.

Sophomore News

Alex Farmer was absent from school again Monday. Poor boy! We're afraid Mrs. McKinley works him too hard in English.

The sophomores are, as a rule, very sophisticated, but one student of that class left her dignity behind when she went on a squirrel hunting expedition with her younger brother last Saturday. How about it?

Gwen Miller made a hasty trip to Lansing over the week end. It must have been a pleasant trip. She went to see the dentist!

Edna Brown—Who is that fellow with the long hair?

Noreene Mornin—He's a fellow from Yale.

Edna—Oh, I've often heard of those Yale locks.

Junior High School Department

The new junior high school department has finished one very successful month and is now well started on the second. The total enrollment since school opened has been 121 pupils, with 117 still enrolled.

Both classes organized the second week of school as follows:

Eighth Grade

President, Lila Tillotson; vice-president, Winifred Kirby; secretary-treasurer, Junior Supernaw; sponsor, Mr. Alexander.

Seventh Grade

President, Bernice McGinnis; vice-president, George Smith; secretary-treasurer, Wilma Bellinger; sponsor, Mr. Bingham.

The student body as a whole is very much impressed with the new mathematics and 8th grade literature books. They feel that they are getting much more from these subjects than they have in the past from the old texts.

The junior high orchestra of eight pieces has been organized and now lead the student body in singing on Wednesday mornings. We are looking for big things from the orchestra before long.

A junior high school library has been started under the supervision of our English teacher, Miss Struthers. It is being added to each day with books from the pupils. This is a very popular project among the students.

"Incidentals"

Jean Stelter has finally come to the realization that her seat is not a piano stool on which to turn.

The "Whispering Chorus" is becoming smaller, however, the faculty expect to find new members from day to day.

The Hoover-Al Smith feud has finally penetrated the sacred corridors of the school room. No personal blows have been struck as yet, although few are on speaking terms.

Ethel Powers says that forged signatures should be written with red ink.

County Normal News

The county normal class held its first class meeting Wednesday, October 10. The class was organized as follows: president, Miss Wanda Lutz; vice-president, Miss Norma Griffin; secretary-treasurer, Miss Beatrice Straw.

Miss Bigge, Mrs. Dick, Mr. Palmer and the county normal teachers have planned to visit rural schools of Charlevoix county on Wednesday, October 10th.

General News

Last Wednesday morning Mr. Otterbein read to the assembly an article from the "Outlook" on self-control. This article used Christy Mathewson as the model.

Last week we took great pleasure in having our former superintendent, Mr. Hamilton, read several selections from his scrap book which he began while he was in Charlevoix. It was very enjoyable and he gave us many worthwhile thoughts.

How is your son getting along in high school?

Fine! I bought him a roadster and now he makes the grades easily.

Mrs. McKinley says she likes a "breezy" fellow if he blows in his bankroll.

PRETTY WEDDING SATURDAY NIGHT

Winifred Cunningham Wed to Joseph Baumbach of Holland

A very happy home wedding took place in Marion township, Saturday night, October 6, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Cunningham, when their daughter, Winifred, was united in marriage to Mr. Joseph Baumbach of Holland, Mich.

The bride was accompanied to the altar by her sister, Annabelle, as bride's maid, and her brother, Orin, was best man. The bride wore a tasteful gown of cream colored satin and the brides maid one of taffeta in rose color. Both carried shower bouquets. Mrs. B. G. Mattison played the wedding march and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Bernard G. Mattison in the presence of the family and a number of friends as well as a number of out of town guests. Those from out of town were as follows:

Orin Cunningham and Miss Dorothy Herick of East Tawas; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mitchell, of Flint; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kuntz, and son, of Grand Haven; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lundwerand, and daughters, Katherine and Marie, and son, Frederick, of Holland.

Following the ceremony a bountiful and beautifully served wedding supper was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Baumbach will take an extended auto trip for their honeymoon and will be at home after October 15, in Holland, Mich.

There will be a dance at the Maple Grove Grange Hall, Friday evening, October 12. Everybody welcome.—41-11.

HAVE DECIDED ON A FOUR DAY FAIR

Officers Re-elected at Meeting of Fair Officials

The regular annual meeting of the directors of the Charlevoix County Agricultural Society was held at the Peoples Bank parlors in East Jordan last Saturday, Sept. 29th.

Officers of 1928 were re-elected for 1929 as follows:

President—F. R. Bulow, East Jordan.

Vice President—Richard Lewis, East Jordan.

Secretary—Kit Carson, East Jordan.

Treasurer—Frank F. Bird, Charlevoix.

Marshal—Robert Barnett, East Jordan.

Due to ideal weather and good attractions the Fair meeting held in August drew the largest gate receipts in years.

Dates for the 1929 Fair—the 45th annual—were set for August 27-28-29-30.

AUTO CASH GOES OUT TO THE COUNTIES

Charlevoix County's Share Amounts to Neat Sum of $3,247.72

Apportionment of automobile weight tax collections made during the quarter ended September 30, 1928, to counties of Michigan, has been announced by John Haggerty, secretary of state. The total was $1,306,726.94. Apportionment among counties included the following:

A l p e n a, $4,886.95; Charlevoix, $3,247.72; Cheboygan, $1,140.76; Emmet, $3,995.94; Grand Traverse, $4,815.28; Iosco, $1,974.29; Kalamazoo, $709.18; Manistee, $3,623.59; Mecosta, $3,187.10; Otsego, $1,922.30; Presque Isle, $1,894.52; Roscommon, $844.97; Wayne, $560.611.34; Wexford, $3,724.59; Kent, $57,641.86.

ELK RAPIDS HUNTER LOSES HIS RIGHT LEG

Load of Buck Shot From Own Gun Cause of Injury

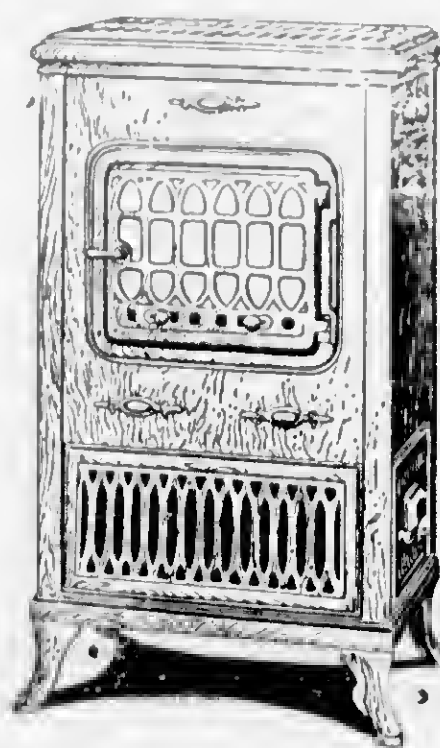

James Decker, an Elk Rapids hunter, about 40 years old, is in the James Decker Munson hospital minus his right leg as the result of a hunting accident Sunday.

Decker was hunting ducks on Round Lake early Sunday morning with Frank Duvernoy, Jay Coleman, William Wilson and Al Daleske, when a shotgun in Daleske's hand accidentally discharged and peppered his right leg. The shot entered his leg below the knee but when he was brought to the hospital, physicians found it necessary to amputate the leg above the knee. The gun discharged when Daleske slipped from a log.

Episcopal Guild Entertained

The Woman's Guild of the Episcopal church met at the home of Mrs. Annie Partridge on Michigan avenue last Wednesday evening to entertain their husbands, families and friends to a bounteous "friendship" supper. The evening was a very enjoyable one and those attending expressed the wish they might meet again with such an amiable hostess as Mrs. Partridge.

The new Buick is the new Style

Nowhere such beauty and luxury ---- no-where such pleasing lines and contours ---- nowhere Bodies that equal these new Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher--The entire country is saying, "That's the Style"

Setting an entirely new, a revolutionary, style--introducing what will unquestionably be the trend of smart body design during the next several years--the new Bodies of the Silver Anniversary Buick are enjoying universal acclaim as the most original and distinctive, as well as the finest and most beautiful ever created by the world-famous Fisher organization!

Here is not only a new car but a new vogue--a vogue of symmetry, born of graceful con-ours instead of straight lines--a vague of distinction, derived from sparkling calars, brilliant chrome-plating and arresting new roof, radiator and fender design--a vogue of tasteful luxury, composed of finest mahair velvet upholstery, artistic hardware and fittings and oew appointments of comfort and convenience.

The entire country is hailing the Silver Anniversary Buick. The entire country is saying, "That's the style!"

Minneapolis, Minn.	1.95

The rates quoted are Station-to-Station Day rates, effective 4:30 a. m. to 7:00 p. m.
Evening Station-to-Station rates are effective 7:00 p. m. to 8:30 p. m., and Night Station-to-Station rates, 8:30 p. m. to 4:30 a. m.

A Station-to-Station call is one made to a certain telephone rather than to some person in particular.
If you do not know the number of the distant telephone, give the operator the name and address and specify that you will talk with "anyone" who answers at the called telephone.

A Person-to-Person call, because more work is involved, costs more than a Station-to-Station call. The rate on a Person-to-Person call is the same at all hours.

AT THE MOVIES

"The Fleet's In!" Has 300 Sailors
More than 300 extra players appear in Clara Bow's new starring picture entitled "The Fleet's In!" garbed in the uniform of the United States navy. For the most part, the men selected were ex-naval men so that authentic and realistic atmosphere could be obtained.
"The Fleet's In!" is the feature attraction at the Palace theatre Saturday and Sunday.

Village Is Swamped With Film Sightseers

Not since the British bombardment in 1843, did St. Michaels, Maryland, witness such excitement as was caused recently when a company of 50 film players and technicians paid it a six weeks' visit. The occasion of this excitement was due not to roaring guns, but the tranquil peace of filming one of the best stories ever screened: "The First Kiss," which opens next week at the Palace theatre. It is the first co-starring picture of Fay Wray and Gary Cooper.

Fred Thompson Makes Interesting Discovery While Among Indians

Mr. Thompson's latest production for Paramount is an authentic account of the famous scout's romantic life. No man in American history has had such a varied career, in this country's romantic history of exploration and settlement as Kit Carson and the film promises to be one of the outstanding achievements of the cinematic year. It will open at the Palace theatre next week for a two day engagement, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Keep youth longer! cleanse the system of poisons

Two of the great enemies to youth and vitality are delayed elimination and intestinal poisons. To keep yourself free from both these common difficulties will help you to stay young.

With the use of Nujol you can do it too. For Nujol absorbs body poisons and carries them off, preventing their absorption by the body. Nujol also softens the waste matter and brings about normal evacuation. It is harmless; contains no drugs or medicine. It won't cause gas or griping pains, or affect the stomach or kidneys. Every corner druggist has Nujol. Make sure you get the genuine. Look for the Nujol bottle with the label on the back that you can read right through the bottle. Don't delay, get Nujol today.

"Now if you'd only whispered to me I'd have told you right off," Evans said. "It's astonishing how easy it is to pick them if you try."

All through the meal the glaucous cook hovered near Billie Warren as she sat near one end of the long table. It was evident to Harris that the big man was self-appointed guardian and counselor of the Three Bar boss. He showed the same fussy solicitude for her welfare that a hen would show for her helpless chicks.

"Fraise the grub and have a friend at court," Harris murmured in Evans' ear.

Billie Warren had nearly completed her meal before the men came in. She left the table and went to her own room. When Harris rose to go he slapped the leg man on the back.

"I'd work for half pay where you get grub like this," he said. "That's what I'd call a real feed."

Waddles beamed and followed him to the door.

"It's a fact that I can set out the best bait you ever throwed a fly over," he confessed. "You're a man of excellent tastes and it's a real pleasure to have you about."

Billie Warren opened the door and motioned to Harris. He went into the big front room that answered for both living room and sleeping quarters. Indian blankets partitioned off one end for the girl's sleeping room.

"You had something to tell me," she observed, after he had remained silent for the space of a minute, sitting in the chair she had indicated and gazing into the fire.

"And I'll have to start it a little different from the way I first counted on," he said. "Have any of the boys mentioned my name to you?"

She shook her head and waited for him to go on.

"You won't care much to hear it," he announced. "I'd thought some of spending two years here under some other name—but perhaps it's better to come out in the open—don't you think?"

The girl had straightened in her chair and was leaning toward him, her face white and her gray eyes boring straight into the man's. She knew now who he was—the man she had more reason to despise than all others on earth combined. Of the Harris family she knew nothing at all except that her father's lifelong regret had been the fact that the partnership between himself and his oldest friend, William Harris, had never been brought to pass. And this regret had, in the end, led him to try and cement that arrangement in the second generation. Five years before his trial for the first time since he had taken over the Three Bar brand; and when his will had been read she had known that on the occasion of that visit his old friend had played upon this sentiment to trick him into making it. On all sides of her she had evidence that men were wolves who preyed upon the interests of others, and there was not a doubt that the father of the man before her had preyed upon her interests through the sentiment of her parent; no other possible theory could account for the strange disposal of his property, the will dated and signed at the exact time of his visit to the Harrises.

The tenseness of her pose was replaced by lethargic indifference and she relaxed into her chair.

"I've known all the time you would come," she said.

"It's too bad, Billie," he said. "It's tough having me wished on to you this way."

"Don't play that game with me!" she cried. "Of course you've disproved every drop of human decency in advance."

"It sure looks like that on the surface," he admitted ruefully. "But I didn't have a hand in clinching you this way."

"You could have proved that by saying away I wrote you a year ago that I'd quote you a half-interest in the Three Bar at the expiration of the time if you'd only kept off the place. But at the last moment you couldn't resist having it all. Ten more days and you'd have been too late."

"The man nodded slowly.

"Too late," he agreed and sat looking into the fire.

He had been almost a son to her father, and when the name with which naming of the Three Bar during his sickness; and such was her loyalty to his memory that not a trace of her bitterness had been directed toward her parent. He had loved the Three Bar and had always believed that old Bill Harris, his founder, had loved it too. His will had stipulated that half of his property should go to the younger Harris under the condition that the man should make his home on the Three Bar for two out of the first three years after his father's death.

The whole of it was to go to him in case she failed to make her own home at the Three Bar during her father's stay, or in the event of her marriage to another before the expiration of those years.

"Of course I'm dead here for two years," she said. "Or left penniless. If you can make it unpleasant enough to drive me away—which won't be difficult—you win."

"I wouldn't count too strong on that," he counseled boldly.

"Then why did you come?" she asked. "What if it was yours by merely keeping away?"

"Maybe I'm sort of tied up myself—in ways you don't suspect," he offered.

"Very likely!" she returned; "sounds plausible. You might offer to marry me," she suggested when he failed to answer. "You could gain possession at once that way."

He removed his gaze from the fire and looked long at her.

"It will likely come to that," he said.

"I'll put a weapon in your hands," she retorted. "Whenever it does come to that I'll leave the ranch—so now you know the one sure way to win."

"I hope it won't run out like that," he said. "I'll be disappointed—more than I can say."

She rose and stood waiting for him to go.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

THE POLITICAL PARADE

Six weeks ago Herbert Hoover returned from California to be confronted with the assertion that the Republican party was on the defensive in the east, and that herculean effort must be made to save the states along the Atlantic seaboard from going over to the enemy.

The campaign program of the Republican party in the east since that time has been to get Mr. Hoover's stand on the important issues of the day before the voters, and the effort to win has been no more intensive than in states further west. Today the Democratic party is fighting the defensive battle in the east according to the press although its leaders launched their drive in this section far in advance of the Republican counter effort. The hope of Democratic leaders in the east is now confined to two or three states, in every reported to be increasing every day.

That much progress in six weeks is a fair indication of the strength of the Republican ticket and of the failure of the Democratic candidate to sell to the nation an uncertain program for the future.

Eighty six newspapers which are listed as Democratic or independent in their political preferences have come out editorially for Hoover and Curtis, according to a recent tabulation. They are located in 15 states, from Minnesota to Texas and from New York to San Francisco.

In every instance, their preference for the Republican candidates is based upon a sincere conviction that Herbert Hoover, with his remarkable record of administrative experience gained in tasks of unusual difficulty, would be a much more capable president than the Democratic nominee from the standpoint of the home, industry and agriculture.

A California presidential candidate has certain advantages which even astute politicians apparently had not realized before Mr. Hoover was selected. In order to direct his campaign from an eastern headquarters, as both parties usually do, the California contender must make two transcontinental trips, one from his home in the east and the other back to the west coast to vote, for California laws do not permit absentee voting. Thus he is able to cross the country at the beginning of the campaign and at its close, greeting and speaking to thousands and thousands of voters en route.

The glittering but vague proposal which Governor Smith dangled before the farmers of the northwest at St. Paul promises to become a boomerang before the campaign is over. Senator Borah and other able Republican orators have pointed out to agriculture in that section that the essential feature of the McNary-Haugen plan, the equalization fee, demands a high protective tariff on all farm products if it is to be effective at all. Governor Smith gave his audience no assurance that he favors tariff duties any higher than those of the Underwood act, which left every commodity produced in the northwest open to destructive foreign competition.

Reports from that section indicate that farmers are rapidly realizing the extent to which they have been imposed on by the candidate who worked out his theories of agriculture aid in New York City. Probably some of them recall that ancient admonition "Beware of the Greeks bearing gifts."

There is very tangible evidence of mutual admiration in the strong endorsement of Mr. Hoover's candidacy by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh. When Col. Lindbergh returned from his epochal trans-Atlantic flight, he found one man in Washington to whom his ideas on the development of commercial aviation had immediate and tremendous appeal. That man was Herbert Hoover (who probably visualized the possibilities growing out of the Lindbergh flight more clearly than any other government official, as well as the great expansion of flying facilities necessary to prepare for the commercial conquest of the air. Lindbergh's inspiration and Hoover's organizing ability have combined to produce, within a year's time, a nation-wide service by the federal government for the assistance of commercial aviation.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Of all the special weeks during the year, "Fire Prevention Week" must rank high in national importance. The loss of life and property in the United States annually by fire is most staggering. Most of this loss of life and property is due to carelessness. October 7-13 has been designated as "Fire Prevention Week." Now is a good time to study some of the things that can be done to stop this gigantic waste. Concentrated effort is the only prevention. Carelessness causes most fires. Every fifteen minutes someone's home catches fire.

Fifteen thousand burn to death each year in America.

Help prevent fire! Be careful!

As the days grow cooler, and fires are necessary in stoves, fireplaces and furnaces for comfort, the danger of losses increases. It is important, therefore, that flues should be examined, cleaned, and repaired where necessary.

Not all losses of property and lives by any means, are caused by defective flues. A frequent cause of danger is rubbish collected in basements or in and around buildings. A general cleanup is an effective method of fire prevention.

Statistics show that over $1,000 worth of property was destroyed every minute, and a life was lost every 35 minutes last year through fires. Thirty million dollars in losses should be remembered that there is always danger in the discarded cigarette or cigar stub.

Common suggestions on fire prevention include the following:

Keep matches in metal boxes where children cannot reach them.

Don't keep ashes in wooden boxes or deposit them against wooden buildings or partitions.

Don't change your electric wiring without consulting a competent electrician.

Don't hang electric light cords on nails.

Use metal protection under all stoves and protect woodwork where stoves or furnaces are close to walls.

Don't pass stovepipe through ceiling, roofs or wooden partitions.

Every open fireplace should have a screen.

Don't use gasoline or benzine to cleanse clothing near an open flame, light or fire.

Don't use kerosene, benzine or naphtha in lighting fires or to quicken a slow fire.

BUY FARMS LANDS NOW

Buy farm lands now may not sound like good advice. That may be true, but at least it is as sensible and in the end far more profitable than trying to beat Wall street by gambling in the stock market.

Right now farm land values have shrunk to a low ebb, probably the lowest in years. That is bad for those who have their money invested in farms and wish to sell. It is good for those who wish to buy.

There are many fine farms on the market that can be bought for less than it cost to erect the farm buildings on them. That is also good and bad—for those who sustained this loss when they quit farming—good for those who would like to quit their jobs in city or village and engage in the farming business.

There are plenty of farm lands to be had with a very small down payment and liberal time and interest terms. It will cost less now to become a farmer than in any other period of the farming industry. Farming during the next few years will be less an element of speculation than it has been for a long time. Many a man chained to a city job can find success and independence on the farm with but little effort. And now is the best time to make the change.

YOUR CONTINUED DUTY

But your duty is not finished when you help to get out the vote or help educational campaigns. You have something further to do in connection with your local tickets—your state and municipal tickets. The burden of taxation resting on the country today, and particularly the burden of local taxation, is back-breaking. You can only correct that evil by electing good men on your state and local tickets. The squandering of the public money in so-called improvements is a plan as old as the hills for building up political machines. The politicians do not pay the tax. They reap the benefit. You are compelled to pay an increased tax, year by year. How long will it be before you will demand, through your representatives, a scientific system of local taxation and equally a scientific system of spending the money? If you are willing to keep on paying these abnormal taxes year in and year out, then it is your own lookout. But if you would be rid of the tremendous burden involved at least to some extent you had better become a factor in the local political game.

Modernize Your Neighborhood With Concrete Streets

Many well-built districts need up-to-date streets. The most modern and economical pavement is portland cement concrete. It is especially designed for motor vehicle traffic—permanently smooth, hard, and safe.

Does your neighborhood need new pavements? There is something you can do about it! Ask us for information.

BIRTHDAY PARTY FRIDAY EVENING

Alice Usher Entertained Friends At Home of Parents

Miss Alice Usher entertained fourteen young girl friends at the home of her parents on Clinton street last Friday evening, October 5th, in honor of her 12th birthday anniversary.

The evening was spent in playing games, followed by refreshments. Each guest appeared in original costume, many being very cleverly designed. Miss Alice received numerous gifts from her friends.

BRADY SET INTERNATIONAL AL RECORD AT DETROIT

An article carried in the October number of Motor Boating revealed that three international records fell during the Harmsworth Trophy races at Detroit on Labor Day. One record, in the outboard class C, free-for-all, goes to C. U. Later, owned by M. Roy Brady of this city. Brady's entry averaged 33.554 statute miles per hour in her six one mile runs. The record was made in extremely rough water. The boat was built by the Brady Boat Co., Charlevoix, and was powered with an Evinrude motor.

YOUNG BULL MOOSE VISTS AMERICAN SOO

A young bull moose, just beginning to "feel his oats" visited the Sault Saturday morning scampered over the lock walls, took a run up and down the fourth lock embankment and returned to the Canadian wilderness with stories for his less fortunate moose brothers and sisters. The moose is believed to have come from Canada. He swam down the Edison Sault forebay and clambered up the bank. After surveying the situation the animal ran down the lock wall, within reach almost of John Chapitsky and John Slater. Satisfied with what he saw, the moose again took the water above the locks and swam back to Canada. —Cheboygnn Observer.

The M. E. ladies will serve a chicken supper in the church parlors, Wednesday, October 17, starting at 5:30 p. m., until all are served. —Adv. 4012.

Marriage Is Announced

The announcement has been made by Mrs. Pearl Horton Cooper of Petoskey of the marriage of her daughter, Edith Ray, to Lysle Benoudin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Benoudin of this city. The ceremony was performed June 13th, at Toledo, Ohio, and was kept a secret by the young people for a considerable time. Both young people are popular members of the younger social set of Charlevoix and Petoskey and have the best wishes of a large following of friends. They expect to leave the latter part of this month to spend the winter in California.

Gave Bridal Shower

Mrs. Clare Webster entertained a group of eight lady friends Monday evening at her home on Petoskey avenue at a bridal shower in honor of Miss Helen Newman, whose marriage to Albert Cook, it is understood, will be an event of this fall. A potluck supper was followed by bridge with Mrs. Helen Paddock winning the honors.

NORWOOD

Harold Stafford, of Lansing, arrived here last Friday, where he attended the Stafford public sale, returning to his home Sunday accompanied by his mother, Mrs. A. B. Stafford.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cox, who spent the summer months in Norwood, closed their cottage and left for Chicago last Friday. Floyd Wagner drove their auto through to Grand Rapids, returning to his home on Saturday.

A reception honoring the new minister, Rev. Stanford, wife, and family, was held at the town hall in Norwood on Tuesday evening with the four charges, Ellsworth, Barnard, Atwood and Norwood represented on the program. The room was prettily decorated with autumn leaves and garden flowers. After a very interesting program, a straw vote for the presidential election was conducted by the committee in charge, in which Hoover, for president, was unanimously elected. All Hoover voters were presented with colorful cups which they wore during the remainder of the evening. Refreshments were served and all present enjoyed a fine time.

MILK AND POTATOES

There is no need of discouragement about the prospects for potato prices. The outlook, we must admit, is not good. There are too many potatoes. No one can make a sound estimate of the potato price. Prospects are not good.

Potatoes are a gamble. Regard them that way. Raise some each year, sell them at different times and gamble. But the gentle bossy cow is a constant revenue producer at good prices. Stick by her.

CHECKS AND BALANCES

Business believes in wholesome competition, but competition is not primitive strife. Business knows that competition may become not the life of trade but in truth the death of the traders. Piracy masquerading as competition is piracy none the less. Ruthless and unbridled individual initiative must be curbed in the public interest, and such legitimate checks and curbs are a proper exercise of the function of government. But business insists that this function be so exercised as neither to become burdensome as to costs, nor to paralyze that construction initiative which is the mainspring of American business.—Edwin B. Parker, Chairman Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

A REVIEW OF PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

BOOST FOR LEGISLATORS WARRANTS INVESTIGATION

Inadequate Remuneration Might Be Inducement to Accept Gift to Make Up Deficit

Comparing the proposed amendments to the State constitution to be voted on Nov. 6th with the present constitution, we find that the amendment to Article 5 Sec. 3 regarding representation is changed only by adding the following clause, viz, "except that when a city is composed of territory in more than one county, it may be divided at the county line or lines; and provided, that in the case of cities hereafter organized or created or territory annexed to an existing city, the territory thereof shall remain in its present representative district until the next apportionment."

This sounds reasonable and probably everyone may as well vote "yes" and clear up these questions.

The amendment to Article 5, Sec. 9 as proposed, provides an increase in the salaries of members of the legislature. At present they receive $800.00 for the regular session and $5.00 per day for the first twenty days when convened in special session and nothing thereafter. They are also entitled to mileage of 10¢ per mile for one round trip each regular and special session by the usually travelled route.

In 1926 an amendment was submitted to raise the pay to $1,200.00 for the regular session and $10.00 per day for the first twenty days of the special session. This was lost.

The amendment now proposed provides that the compensation be $3.00 per day during the term for which they are elected and nothing further for special sessions. The term of office is two years of 730 days. At $3.00 per day means $2,190.00.

While the present compensation is inadequate, it is a question whether the people who refused to grant the slight increase in 1926 will vote "yes" for the present proposal, when they realize what it means. $3.00 a day doesn't sound like much but the legislature is in session only a small portion of the two year term and the pay comes the entire period.

If the salary is too small, some legislators may be inclined to accept pay on the side to augment it, while others will go home poorer than when they went. People generally will want more information before voting either yes or no.

The amendment proposed as Art. 13, Sec. 6, was proposed in virtually the same form two years ago. It provides that municipalities in adjoining land for widening streets and other improvements may condemn more than is actually required for the improvement and the bonds issued to pay for such excess land shall not be included in the limitation of bonded indebtedness of the municipality but shall be a lien on the excess property so acquired.

Many think this would be a wise provision, because after the improvement is made, this property may be resold at an increased value, thus making the improvement at least partially pay for itself.

Another view is that the amendment is an application of the Henry George single tax theory which has in the value of real estate which comes as the result of community growth should not be allowed to accrue to the individual property holder but should benefit the whole community.

Two years ago the Michigan Manufacturer and Financial Record came out flatly against this proposed amendment on the grounds stated in the last paragraph, claiming that it was an entering wedge for the application of the theory of taking away from the property owner either the principal or income of any advantage he may possess from having come into the neighborhood of progress and development.
